Governor Gardner pointed out that Eastern North Carolina grows more tobacco, is near the top in cotton and sections of it lead the nation in production and of soy beans and peanuts...

With the increase in farms, he pointed out, is also an increase in farm tenancy, more than two-thirds of the Eastern North Carolina farms being operated by tenants...

GREEN PLEASES THE ROTARIANS

New Bern Citizen Entertains Them and Dr. Yoder Instructs Them

The Goldsboro Rotary club was last night entertained by C. Green of New Bern and instructed by Dr. Yoder of Sanatorium, Mr. Green, formerly of Goldsboro, started his program with a humorous song about the "Old Town Hall" and was off to a fifteen minute stream of wit, most it applied to some member of the Rotary Club.

"It was as good as any vaudeville I have heard recently," was the comment of one Rotarian after the meeting. The Goldsboro club recently sent Hugh Waldrop to put on a program in New Bern. President R. E. Stevens told Mr. Green for the club "and members of your club have told me that they enjoyed it thoroughly..."

The full beneficial effects of the tuberculosis clinics now being held in Wayne county schools will not be felt until ten or fifteen years later, declared Dr. Yoder in discussing the work he is doing in the county. Science has discovered, he declared, that it is exposure to the germs in childhood that brings down the young adult 10 to 15 years later with tuberculosis. The cure of the disease, he told the Rotarians, depends upon the stage at which treatment is begun. If discovered while in the incipient stage about 93 percent of the cases can be cured.

Jack Smith was the guest of Leslie Weir at the meeting. President Bob Stevens announced that the nominating committee would make its report at the next meeting and that the election of officers would be gone into at that time.

Hugh Waldrop, chairman of the one to Raleigh program, announced that the majority of the members of the club were planning to attend the district conference in Raleigh, April 25-26.

Mexican Rebels In Full Flight Before Federals

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 9.—(AP)—Apparently in full flight before the victorious Federal army of General Juan Almazan the Mexican revolutionary forces today seemed to be planning the evacuation of the entire state of Chihuahua in preparation for a final stand in the mountains of western Sonora, birthplace of the rebellion.

Reports received here said Federal forces had occupied Chihuahua city following its evacuation by the rebels. Backed against the wall, the international boundary of the U. S. the insurgent command apparently was pinning also to yield the city of Juarez to the Federal forces and moved westward across the mountain range to consolidate with rebel remnants in Sonora and there carry on the campaign to overthrow the government.

General Escobar, military dictator of the revolution, moved toward the west with the vanguard of his army of approximately 3,000 men facing a long trek on foot through the treacherous mountain canyons of Jalisco...

This Bomb Was Meant to Kill Roosevelt

This picture shows the bomb that was intended to explode in the office of Governor Roosevelt, but which was made a dud by the prompt action of a post office porter who stamped out the fuse which he set off when he struck the infernal machine while cleaning up. The bomb was so constructed that an immediate explosion would have resulted when the lid of the tin candy box in which it was packed was opened. Coincident with this discovery, word came that the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dall at Tarrytown, had been destroyed by fire of incendiary origin. Mrs. C. D. Dall is the former Eleanor Roosevelt, daughter of the Governor.

ALLEN PLEASED WITH RESPONSE

Says Brummitt Reply Clears Up Number of Questions As to School Act

(Special to The News) RALEIGH, April 9.—"All of the major problems and questions that have appeared in the new North Carolina school law have been cleared up by the answers to 17 questions, out of 200 or 300 questions submitted by county superintendents, by Attorney General Brummitt yesterday," said Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today.

Mr. Brummitt had asked the teachers to submit questions to him and a committee of superintendents, composed of Ray Funderburg, Fayetteville; W. H. Pittman, Tarboro; J. S. Edwards, Troy; J. T. Jerome, Goldsboro, and J. F. Webb, Oxford, was invited by State Superintendent Allen and worked with him in correlating and condensing the 200 or 300 questions asked, into 17 questions.

"One of the big questions was included in Section 13, which seemed to place the teachers in special tax districts on the same basis with teachers in other districts, both as to salaries and teacher-load, but Mr. Brummitt gave a very satisfactory explanation of that question," said Mr. Allen.

"Another question of importance to the teachers is contained in Sections 4 and 25, which Mr. Brummitt also answered satisfactorily. In fact, all of the major questions have been answered and we are now able to proceed on solid ground. I waited until this explanation to make any statement, for I wanted the opinion of the Attorney General as a basis before commenting," Mr. Allen said. "The question of how far the Board of Equalization will go in the examination of the law will be discussed at a later time."

Complete Evidence in Gulley Will Case Late on Yesterday

All evidence of both the caveators and the proponents in the Gulley will case, which has already occupied the first two days of the present term of Wayne Superior Court for the trial of civil cases, was introduced yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. When court adjourned, however, at 5:30 o'clock, only one argument had been submitted on either side, and with at least two more speeches and Judge Grady's charge to the jury yet to be made, it was the belief of attorneys that the case would not be given to the jury before noon today.

Mrs. George C. Snyder, of New York, and Mrs. C. T. Isley, of Asheville, proponents of the will of the late Ida Gulley, and sisters of James K. Gulley, local man who is one of the caveators, were on the stand during the morning session, and testified that they believed Mrs. Gulley to be of sound mind and perfectly capable of making her will at the time it was written.

A number of witnesses were introduced by attorneys for the caveators. Among these was Mrs. C. H. Moore, social woman, who testified that she had been with Mrs. Gulley a good deal prior to her death, and that she had noticed several things which might indicate that her mind might not be just right. According to Mrs. Moore's testimony, Mrs. Gulley thought someone wanted to poison her. Evidence (Continued on Page Eight)

TO REPORT ON FAIR CAMPAIGN

Only Two Days Left in Which to Complete Drive for Fair Deficit Funds

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Wayne county Fair Association, to be called here, Walter C. Denmark, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce will make a report of the returns from subscription cards, which were recently sent to 1,900 representative citizens of the county. These subscription cards were sent out for the purpose of soliciting funds for taking care of a fair deficit incurred last year, and the success of the drive will determine whether or not Wayne county will have a fair this year. The News was told last evening.

"We are very gratified at the number of subscriptions which are being mailed in, and if the good work keeps up we will be assured of a Wayne county fair for 1929," Denmark declared.

With only two more days left in which to complete the drive before the meeting Friday morning, workers and other citizens of the county interested in the maintenance of the county fair are being urged to do their best to help raise the quota necessary to go on with the fair plans.

Piggly Wiggly Franchise In Co. Bought by Mr. Minton

Exercising an option secured on January 15, W. W. Minton, one of the organizers of The News, yesterday morning took over the operation of the Piggly Wiggly grocery store at Center and Chestnut streets, northwest. Mr. Minton, manager of the Wayne Grocers, Inc., has secured the Piggly Wiggly franchise for Wayne county and contemplates the opening of additional stores.

Mr. Minton has purchased from Mrs. John Spleer the stock of goods at present on the shelves of the store and during this week will make additional stock purchases. He plans to inaugurate a number of new features in the grocery business in Goldsboro.

A native of Missouri, Mr. Minton came to Goldsboro in 1921 and it was largely through his efforts that the effort at organizing the Goldsboro News was a success. From the launching of the paper he served with it in an executive capacity, and it was he who stood by in the trying periods when the paper was about two years old, and through energy and enterprising brought it to its present success.

Mayor J. H. Hill Asks Voters to Exercise Duty and to Go to The Polls

WARDS TWO AND FOUR TO SEE HOT BATTLES

Five Men Seek the Three Places From Ward Two and Four Seek 2 places from Ward 4

With the rising of the sun this morning at 5:35 o'clock the regular bi-annual march to the four voting places in the city will get under way for the purpose of nominating the mayor of the city and nine members of the city board of aldermen. Local politicians are predicting a tight vote on account of the fact that there are no wards in which the candidates for a place on the board of aldermen will have no opponents, the only contests being in wards two and four. Mayor Jack Hill, who is candidate for re-election, will be unopposed. The polls will close this evening at sun-set, which is at 6:25 o'clock eastern Standard time.

In ward two, two members of the present board, U. M. Gillikin and Andrew Smith, are seeking re-election, while Sol Isaacs, W. Borden Cobb and J. M. Mitchell are the other three candidates from this ward.

A contest will also be waged in ward four with J. H. McClure and M. E. Robinson, present members of the board of aldermen, opposed by S. Ward and J. W. Cole.

Mayor Hill told the News representative last evening that while only one vote was necessary to re-nominate him because of the fact that he is unopposed, he hoped that one of the biggest votes in the history of the city would be polled. "Urges them to come out and vote. If the people will come out and cast their ballot for the candidates in their respective wards, the big vote thus secured will dispel the mistaken idea of some politicians that the Democratic party is broken. Of course there is nothing to this, and we want to go out to the polls tomorrow and show these folks that real democrats are loyal to their party," the Mayor said.

The election will be conducted at the regular polling places, and voters who are supposed to cast their ballots in these wards have been requested to vote at the polling place in their ward as early as possible today. The polls will be open today at the following places:

- First ward, S. and L. Tire company on North Center street. Second ward, County Court house. Third ward, Arlington Hotel. Fourth ward, W. D. Creech's store.

CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING CHECK

LaGrange Woman, Mother of Nine Children, Arrested Here Yesterday

Mrs. Lilly Bell Sutton, 40 year old LaGrange woman, who was arrested here yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock on a bad check charge by officer Chink Rhodes, of the local police force, was released under $100 bond for her appearance at the next session of county court.

Mrs. Sutton's arrest followed an attempt to have a check cashed at a local department store. The proprietor had heard that the LaGrange woman had already given several bad checks to local stores, and sent for an officer. When arrested, Mrs. Sutton was said to have told officers that her husband had a checking account in LaGrange. When asked about the checks that had turned out bad, she said that her husband must have been overdrawn, according to reports. The woman, who told police she was the mother of nine children, was said to have given worthless checks to several department stores, including Beck's, Efford's, Kannan's, Mansour's and Farfour's. The largest amount of any one check was said to have been one for $20, given at Belks. Most of the checks ranged in amounts of from two to five dollars, it was said.
