USE BAYONETS TO BREAK UP LORAY STRIKE PARADE

Ellen Dawson Arrested As Demonstration Head And Placed Behind Bars

Beale, Another Textile Organizer, Charged With Enticing Woman to Leave Home

ONLY PARADE LEADERS TRIED IN CITY COURT

Miss Dawson Had Incited Strikers to Resume Their Demonstrations

GASTONIA, April 23.—(AP)—A solid phalanx of sheriffs' officers brandishing bayoneted rifles, pistols and night sticks this afternoon turned back a second parade of textile mill strikers here and arrested Miss Ellen Dawson, young communist who led the line of march.

Miss Dawson, who was released under bond from the Mecklenburg county jail in Charlotte last week, was held in the city jail here for a short time. With her behind the bars was Fred Erwin Beale, southern organizer for the National Textile Workers union, and reputed instigator of the Loray mill strike.

Beale was arrested in Charlotte today and brought here to answer a civil suit instituted by Troy Jones, husband of a woman he is charged with enticing from her home to New York to raise strike funds.

Miss Dawson was charged by police with inciting today's parade when she took the platform at a labor meeting and urged the workers to continue the demonstration started yesterday which resulted in a clash with deputies and the arrest of 9 women and 29 men.

No resistance was offered today by the paraders and the deputies met near the center of the business district. Between 200 and 300 men and women were scattered by the officers and only Miss Dawson was arrested.

Beale had been sought by the Gaston county authorities for several days under an arrest and bail warrant. He had made public appearances in Charlotte and Gastonia this week but was not disturbed by police until today.

Miss Dawson is under $2,000 bond on a Federal warrant charging violation of the naturalization laws issued by a U. S. Commissioner in Charlotte last week.

WILL OBSERVE THE PASSOVER

First Service at Oheb Shalom Temple at 6 o'clock This Evening

Commemorating the liberation of the Jewish people from ancient Egypt and the birth of the Jewish in all Jewish communities the Festival of Passover is observed, beginning Wednesday night, April 24. The ritual and observances of the festival are greatly based and reminiscent of the Biblical description of the Egyptian exodus as given in the Book of Exodus.

Particularly the home service, known as the "Seder," observed by the Jewish people at their homes on the first night. The home observance consists in a rehearsal and dramatization of the exodus event at which the members of the family seated around the family table and Passover Supper recite the ancient event, sing hymns and offer thanksgiving. The Festival continues for seven days, and with the traditional Jews for eight days, during which, aside of the special services, the Jewish people abstain from eating bread or any leavened food, and eat the traditional "unleavened bread" or Matzoth.

At Oheb Shalom services will be held this evening at 6 o'clock, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, this week, and again on Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning of next week. The choir will assist in the services with special music rehearsed for the occasion. Rabbi Isler L. Freund will officiate at the services.

RETURN FROM WATERWAY TRIP

Party Passes Through Goldsboro After Inspecting New Inland Routes

Hon. John H. Small, of Washington, former chairman of the congressional rivers and harbors committee, former Congressman and Mayor J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, Captain William E. Bernard, president of the Vessel Owners and Captains' association of the Delaware river, Acting Division Engineer Colonel Henry C. Jewett, of Norfolk, and Representative Charles L. Abernethy arrived here last night from an inspection trip of the inland waterways and port at Morehead City and Beaufort. They were returning to Washington.

Major W. A. Snow, of the Wilmington district, Lieutenant Curran and Engineer Harry T. Paterson had met the party at New Bern and arranged for the inspection of the approaches of the inspection of the approaches to the new cut from Beaufort to the Cape Fear river.

"Altogether about 1,500 miles of inland waterways along the Atlantic coast are available for safe navigation from New England to Florida," Mr. Moore stated. "No state is more favored in this respect than North Carolina. It has larger and more numerous water bodies than any other Atlantic state. Due to the activity of its representatives in congress and the ability of the engineers, many of these have been improved but the development takes time. The main trunk line from North to South has advanced through the state and is rendering splendid service but the interior of North Carolina should be more adequately connected up both with the intra-Coastal waterway and the sea."

Hence, the Alligator-Pungo river cut, which has been completed at a twelve-foot depth for 22 miles, and the new Goose creek-Bay river project which we came down to see, as well as the Dismal Swamp canal which the government has taken over and made free of tolls. All these and other projected improvements afford facilities for north and south traffic and help to bring in and take out North Carolina products."

Will Report Failure to Various Nations Represented at Conference

HOLD HOPES FOR A FUTURE SETTLEMENT

Sub-Committee Named to Draft Chief Points Still At Issue

PARIS, April 23.—(AP)—Reparations experts of seven nations in an official communique issued shortly after noon today announced their failure to reach an agreement on a settlement of what Germany owes to the allies.

A special committee composed of the chiefs of the various national delegations has been appointed to draft a report surveying the work which has been done and notifying the governments concerned of failure to reach an accord on the figures of a settlement. The door was not closed to further negotiations.

The communique said that while the sub-committee was drafting the report to their various governments other members of the delegations would work to see if agreement could not finally be reached where they had failed before. Observers regarded this as the slimmest of hopes, however.

The communique indicated unanimous decision to appoint the sub-committee to draw up a final report.

The communique said: "The committee on reparations has received an order to be filed the report of the sub-committee of last week (that of Lord Revelstoke) stating that an agreement on figures with the German delegation had not been reached."

"The committee in plenary session thereupon has unanimously decided upon the appointment of a sub-committee to be charged with the work of outlining the chief points to be embodied in a report."

"The chiefs of each national group were designated to act as such a committee. While this work is proceeding on points already agreed upon it is anticipated that efforts by all groups alike will be continued in order to arrive at an agreement upon points whereupon the accord has not been reached."

"It is expected that this general procedure will result in a saving of time and by defining the area of agreement, advance the final work of the committee. The next plenary session will be convened in due course at the call of the chairman."

CROWD GROWING AT ELM STREET

Crown of Thorns or a Crown of Glory" is Topic of Sermon

"The man or woman who is not better one year than he or she was the previous is not living up to his or her privilege," declared Rev. D. A. Petty last evening in continuing the series of revival services at the Elm Street Methodist church. Mr. Petty discussed the topic "A Race Redeemed by Moving Forward."

The topic for the service at 7:45 tonight is "A Crown of Thorns or a Crown of Glory". A service is also held at 9 o'clock each morning.

Last night's worship hour saw an increased congregation over the opening service on Monday night. Charlie Brown and Ed Pate gave several vocal selections and aiding in the instrumental music were Mr. James and B. P. Spence.

Mr. Petty's sermon last night was based on the experience of the people of Israel as they stood by the Red Sea and God address Moses telling them to go forward. In concluding the Rocky Mount pastor asked:

"How many times have you satisfied your fleshly appetite for food since you let your soul fill to overflowing with the blessed experience of the presence of God? How many times have you re-dressed your body with new clothing since you have been re-clothed with righteousness? How many times have you advanced socially since you made a stride forward in your religious experience? Have your services increased as your talents have developed?"
