

LINDBERGH AND HIS BRIDE HAVE BEEN LOCATED

MOTOR YACHT WAS USED FOR HONEYMOONING

Skipper Tells of Helping Flying Colonel and His Lady Land Their Boat

NOW BELIEVED TO BE ENROUTE TO BOSTON

Lindbergh Told Skipper at Block Island They Had Crossed From Long Island

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 3.—(A.P.)—The honeymoon trail of Col. Charles Lindbergh is a path across the waters of Long Island Sound.

This was revealed today when Louis Rounds, skipper of a motor boat that plies between New London and Block Island and of helping the flying colonel dock a new motor yacht at Block Island to take on supplies Saturday.

Just at present it is believed the Mouette is off the tip of Long Island, heading leisurely for Boston.

On Saturday afternoon a new boat with a tall, light-haired young man at the wheel, put in at Block Island for gas and oil, and Captain Louis Rounds, of the motor boat Elizabeth Ann, gave him a helping hand to tie up. In the pilot house there was an exchange of seafaring and other talk.

The Mouette was supplied with necessities and after a short stay left for a cross sound trip which would have brought the craft to Montauk point.

The yachtsman told Captain Rounds and his mate, Raymond Abell, that he had crossed from Port Jefferson, L. I., which is about opposite Bridgeport, Conn., but the chart of the pilot house table showed the Mouette had crossed from a point close to the tip of Long Island where there are many inlets and small harbors in which a craft could anchor, and, at this season, be alone for days at a time.

When the Mouette put in at Block Island, Captain Rounds, according to his own statement, was surprised that the yachtsman was trying to dock unaided. The type of craft usually carries two or more men. Hence he gave a hand.

The curtains in the cabins were drawn. Colonel Lindbergh did not invite the others to look over his craft nor did they in turn make inquiries about the new boat.

Captain Rounds, who runs this port, today told of the incident saying that he thought the yachtsman was Lindbergh from his height and build, although the latter did not remove his dark colored glasses while they were together. After Captain Rounds had been told that his surmise was right Colonel Lindbergh also told Adrian Mitchell, a taxi driver, who was on the docket, of his identity and that he was on his way to Boston to take on a party of four.

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., June 3.—(A.P.)—Reports that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh stopped here Saturday afternoon in a yacht named Mouette were substantiated by Adrian Mitchell, a taxi driver. Mitchell said he saw the tall stranger wearing dark glasses and thought he saw a resemblance to the famous aviator.

School Tax Reduction 19 Cents For County Indicated

COMMISSIONERS APPROVE BUDGET PRESENTED BY EDUCATION BOARD—GENERAL TAX LEVY FOR SCHOOLS

$50,888 LESS THAN LAST YEAR—TWENTY FEWER TEACHERS THAN LAST YEAR

The levy in ninety percent of the rural sections of Wayne County for school purposes will be cut approximately 19 cents this year, the budget as presented yesterday by the Board of Education and adopted by the County Board of Commissioners indicated.

The total levy authorized by the commissioners in the budget approved yesterday for school purposes was $271,644. The county will receive a total of $96,634 from all sources other than tax levies to bring the total of the budget to $368,279. From the equalization fund of the state Wayne will receive $68,734.52 and funds from other sources will give the total of $96,634 which will not come through tax levy.

Last year the total school budget for the county was $370,000. Of this amount $322,532 was raised through the tax levy in the county. The amount to be raised through taxes in the county this year, it follows, is approximately $50,888 less than the amount raised last year.

The levy for county schools this year is expected to be approximately 55 cents on the $100 valuation of property as compared with 69 for the county school levy last year, a reduction of approximately 14 cents.

Taxes in the special school district will be reduced in the same proportion to the amount approved by the equalization board as ascertained by them through a re-valuation of the special tax districts which is not yet complete. It has been estimated that the reduction in special district will be from 5 to 10 cents on the $100 valuation.

Adding this reduction to the 11 cents anticipated in the general school levy, the total reduction in 90 percent of the county will be a minimum 19 cents.

The rural school budget as adopted yesterday by the Commissioners without question is set up on a basis of 20 teachers less than the budget of last year. The budget for this year calls for 193 teachers as compared with 213 for last year.

$10,000 CASE IS NON-SUITED

Judge Midyette Refuses to Allow Odum vs. A. C. L. to Go to Jury

One divorce action was granted and one case non-suited yesterday as Judge Midyette launched a week's term of Wayne County Superior Court for the trial of civil cases.

Dorthe Winn was given divorce from Hattie Winn on the grounds of separation.

The court's attention was given principally to listening to the evidence in the suit of Clarissa Odum for $10,000 against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. Judge Midyette ruled that evidence was insufficient to warrant claim for damages and he granted the action without permitting it to go to the jury.

The plaintiff had claimed damages as a result of injuries sustained in a fall at Pikeville. Evidence was that she had purchased a ticket and was walking along the right of way when she heard her train called and started to run to catch it, tripping over a wire placed by the company. She alleged that the wire had been concealed in grass and shrubbery, and alleged negligence on the part of the company.

Edwards Re-Elected As Superintendent

Over three other applicants for the position, R. H. Edwards was yesterday re-elected as County Superintendent of Public Welfare by the County Board of Education and the County Board of Commissioners. Mr. Edwards received six votes and Mrs. J. N. Johnson two, it was learned. Grover Tyson, who was superintendent of welfare here several years ago and Roscoe Johnson of Rosewood also applied for the position.

Those who had yesterday indicated their intention to Commandeer E. E. Griffin of being in attendance were: Col. Hop Coof, Rufus Hahn of Goldsboro; Mr. Honeycutt of Seven Springs and Ben Casey. The county, as has been the precedent, will pay the fare of all of the veterans who attend the re-union.

THREE MEMBERS ARE SELECTED

Highway Commission Committee to Visit Clinton to Hear Delegations

By M. R. DUNNAGAN RALEIGH, June 3.—Chairman R. A. Doughton and Commissioners F. C. Kugler, Washington, of the First district, and John Sprunt Hill, Durham, of the Fourth district, will form the committee from the State Highway Commission to go to Clinton, Sampson county, to make an inspection and hear delegations on the location of a road from Newton Grove, where Route 220 intersects Route 102, toward the south or southwest.

One delegation asks that the road be run from Newton Grove almost directly south to Clinton, in which case it would almost parallel Routes 60 and 102, and would probably result in abandoning the part of 102 between Newton Grove and Route 60. Another delegation asks that the road be run from Newton Grove to Roseboro, via Salenburgh, following 102 to Route 60 and build a new road from Route 60 to Roseboro, which would give a more direct road from Fayetteville to Goldsboro.

The committee will hear the delegation soon.

Mill Strikers Manage Somehow

The families of more than 200 strikers from the Loray cotton mills at Gastonia, N. C., have been dispossessed from the company's houses and have established a tent colony on the outskirts of the city. One of the evicted families is shown moving into its new tent home. Condition in the mills have not changed and the strikers refuse to return unless all their demands are granted.

Eureka Has Claim To Unusual Honor

Citizen of Eureka yesterday asked if their town didn't have a record which none other of the same size could equal. Instead of having a debt, Eureka has money in the bank at interest and has had for 10 these many years. In the days when incorporated municipalities were allowed to operate dispensaries for the sale of whiskey, half of the profits went to the school fund and half went to the town. Profits from the Eureka dispensary amounting to about $1,700 were left in the town treasury. And the town still owns this money.

URGES LEADERS BESTIR SELVES

Kiwanis Club Hears Judge Midyette: Decide on Meet at Crescent Lake

The need for the leadership of every community evening an active interest in all the affairs of the community was stressed last evening by Judge E. Y. Midyette in the course of a talk before the Goldsboro Kiwanis club at the Hotel Goldsboro. Col. George K. Freeman was in charge of the evening's program and presented Judge Midyette, who is presiding over the second week of Wayne County Superior Court.

Men such as make up the membership of the civic clubs were urged by Judge Midyette to bestir themselves to the end that they do not confine their leadership to their clubs or to their churches.

A delightful musical program was rendered by Mrs. J. R. Hooks, Jr. and by Mrs. John Morris.

The next meeting will be held at Crescent Lake, it was announced, when a chicken fry will be served with wives and sweethearts of club members present as guests of honor.

The club voted to accept the invitation of the Wilmington club for a joint meeting at Wrightsville Beach, June 26.

Plan To Construct Line For Electricity To Town Eureka

Electric light lines will be extended from Fremont to Eureka, northeast Wayne county town, in the near future if citizens of the thriving agricultural village have their say.

Two plans of extending this line from Fremont to Eureka are now under consideration. One is to have the town build the line from Fremont; the other is to contract with Harvey Whitely, Fremont telephone system owner, to erect the line and then to purchase electricity for the lighting of Eureka homes and business places from him.

The faction which desires that the municipality erect the line points out that while it would be necessary to use the town's credit to do the construction work, that while this would of necessity raise the tax rate, that in the end this system would be cheaper in that the rates for the elec-

Offer Home Late Sol Weil As Site For City Library

LIBRARY TRUSTEES VOTE TO ACCEPT "GRACIOUS GIFT" OF CHILDREN OF LATE SOL WEIL AS MEMORIAL TO PARENTS—WOULD ALSO GIVE $5,000 AND PRIVATE LIBRARY

The children of the late Solomon and Sarah Weil have offered the homeplace of their parents on Chestnut street as a permanent home for the Goldsboro Public Library. Judge D. H. Bland, chairman of the board of trustees of the library, reported to the board of aldermen at their regular first-Monday session last evening.

The trustees of the library recommended to the board of aldermen that the city accept the gift, and a committee composed of Aldermen Bridges, Robinson, Isaacs, Waters and Borden, was named to investigate the offer and to report back to the board at its next meeting.

Judge Bland read the offer, made in a letter under date of April 8, as made by Lionel Weil, Mrs. O. A. Oettinger and Mrs. Helene Strauss. In addition to offering the late homeplace of Solomon Weil, the family would also donate $5,000 to the library. Of the amount $3,500 would be available for making alterations in the residence to make it suitable for library purposes and the remaining $1,500 to be used for maintenance $500 a year for three years. The private library of the late Mr. and Mrs. Weil is also offered. This is a very valuable collection of books numbering about 1,000.

In case the site was ever abandoned by the city for library purposes it would revert to the family, but the city would be permitted to remove the present dwelling and to erect a building planned along lines of library architecture, if the growth of the city and of the library justified this action at any time in the future.

"The board of trustees of the library," said Judge Bland in transmitting the offer to the board of aldermen, "has voted unanimously to accept this gracious offer. We regard it as a step forward toward increasing the real worth of the library to the community."

The school where the extra farm teacher will be located will be decided by the board of education in cooperation with the State Department of Vocational Education. Agricultural teachers are at present employed at Grantham, Rosewood and Pikeville.

RECEIPTS ARE OFF SLIGHTLY

Postoffice Business, However, Better Than Any Year Except 1928

Receipts at the local postoffice for the month of May just passed show a slight slump from the receipts of May, 1928, but with the exception of last year, the local office had the best quarter, March, April and May of this year, in the history of the Goldsboro post office, Postmaster E. A. Simkins told The News yesterday.

Receipts for last month totaled $4,675.85, compared with $4,496.47 for May, 1928, a decrease of only $219.62. "Of course we hate to have a falling off of any kind, but we believe that our receipts show up as good if not better than other offices in this section in spite of the bad season and other conditions that naturally affect the receipts of a postoffice," local officials declared.

Receipts for the second annual quarter just ended Friday amount to $15,766.77, it was learned. The receipts for March, April and May of 1928 totaled $16,006.25. According to these figures a decrease of $239.48 was registered during the past three months, compared with the receipts for the same period of time last year.

QUERIES ABOUT AIR MAIL ROUTE

Chamber of Commerce Wants to Know What is Status Quo of Proposal

A request for information as to the outcome of the meeting of postal and air mail route officials in Washington on May 23 was made in a letter written to second assistant Postmaster General Glover by Walter C. Chamber, secretary of the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce, yesterday. The News learned, Mr. Chamber, who filed a brief, setting forth the advantages of Goldsboro as a tentative distributing point for air mail in the event another route is placed in operation through the south, declared that he had heard nothing at all from Washington since the meeting.

The brief from the Chamber of Commerce was sent to Congressman Charles L. Abernathy, of this district, who advised local officials interested in having the route established by way of Goldsboro that the brief would be more effective than a personal delegation.

Many local people think that Goldsboro has an excellent chance to be chosen as one of the distributing points on the proposed route through this section in the event it is established. The central location of the city in regards to Eastern North Carolina, and the fact that it has been chosen by many large concerns as distributing point for their wares, are some of the advantages pointed out.
