

CONFEDERATE VETERANS OPEN THEIR 39th REUNION

Make Valiant Effort Revive Rebel Yell As Many Reach Charlotte

Harrison Warns of Losing Southern Glories in Malestrom of Industrialism

HOLDS WAR FOUGHT FOR STATE'S RIGHTS

Praises Wonderful Record of South in Progress Since Civil War

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 4.—(AP)—The thirty-ninth reunion of the United Confederate veterans opened formally tonight amid a breeze of color, music and oratory and the valiant efforts of thousands of grey-clad patriots to resurrect the rebel yell.

Reunion officials estimated late this afternoon that 29,500 visitors were in the city with that number mounting hourly as a steady stream of pilgrims poured in by almost every known means of travel.

On the rostrum tonight at the Army auditorium erected especially for the occasion were Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Governor O. Max Gardner of North Carolina, Mayor George Wilson of Charlotte and former Mayor F. M. Ridd. A concert by the United States Marine band opened the first reunion program.

Senator Harrison, devoting his address largely to a defense of the Southern cause in the War Between the States, told the veterans that the principle for which they had fought was states rights and not slavery. He called for a re-baptism of the South for that principle and warned of a sacrifice of southern spirit to industrialism.

"We of the South must never permit Southern glories to be forgotten in the maelstrom of industrial strife," said the Senator. "We must not allow those principles for which our fathers sacrificed to be supplanted by yielding to the commercial exigencies of the hour.

"But at this juncture the men and women of the South joined battle with their own doubts and fears. They gathered for a last desperate charge upon the sombre battlements of despair. There was no beating of drums or display of colors there was no time or means for preparation.

"But with their faces to the foe and with the thought of surrender put forever behind them they hurled the forces of lawlessness, poverty and ignorance a defiant challenge and went to work.

"This story of the rebuking of the South forms one of the most glorious chapters of the history of the Anglo-Saxon race and our victory was essentially a victory of the spirit."

As a preliminary the Confederate Southern Memorial Association opened its 30th convention this afternoon with addresses by Mrs. Hesse Yates, C. S. M. A., hostess, and state president; Clyde R. Hoey, Shelby, N. C., attorney and brief greetings by Governor Gardner and others.

START CURING IN S. C. SOON

P. D. Wooten Says Acreage Cut 8 Percent But Prospects Good

Tobacco curing will begin in Horry county, South Carolina, in the next three weeks, with prospects for a fine crop, Paul D. Wooten, of Conway, S. C., told The News yesterday.

"Regarding acreage," he declared, "I would say that a decrease in this section of about 8 per cent would be fair to both farmer and trade.

"Curing will begin in from two to three weeks with many."

Finds Copy Election Returns for 1845

A copy of the official returns of an election held in Wayne county on August 7, 1845 was discovered yesterday by Emmett Powell in an old pocketbook which had belonged to his father. The matter of moving the courthouse from Waynesboro to Goldsboro was voted on at that time and lost by a vote of 930 to 117.

CHARLOTTE BANK WINS ITS SUIT

Judgment for $1,500 Against Person of Ed Godwin Given by Jury

Judgment of $1,500 against the person of Ed Godwin was granted the Charlotte National Bank and Susan Ham was given judgment against C. J. Kadis for $40 in suits settled yesterday before Judge Midyette in Wayne County Superior Court.

The suit of the Charlotte National Bank grew out of business relations at a time when the defendant was agent for the Willys-Knight Automobile in Goldsboro. The jury found yesterday that the bank was entitled to recover the full amount of damages asked—$3,500—and that judgment against the person was entitled for $1,500.

In the Ham vs. Kadis the amount asked was $130. The facts were that as given the jury were that the plaintiff had purchased a house and lot from the defendant; that there was a garage and pen for stock on the lot. After deed had passed, it was said, the previous tenant removed the garage and the pen for stock. For this the plaintiff wanted damages of $130. The jury decided that $40 was sufficient.

SERVED SELF SQUARE MEAL

Thief Enters Delicatessen Store on John Street and Makes Sandwiches

The thief or thieves who broke into the Delicatessen store on North John street sometime during the wee small hours of the night Monday left the scene of their raid with practically nothing except a fuller stomach than they carried in, examination of the stock by Mrs. C. Margolis, proprietor of the store, was said to have revealed a jar of relish, a bit of meat and a loaf of bread had been used by the marauders in manufacturing some sandwiches which were eaten on the spot.

The cash register was also broken open, but all money had been removed before the store was closed for business the day before so the rifling of the cash register yielded the robbers nothing.

Entrance to the store was gained through a rear door, according to the police. A pane in the door was broken out, permitting one of the thieves to reach in an arm and remove the iron bar used in securing the rear entrance during the night.

Police, who are investigating the robbery, are of the opinion that it was the work of young boys. The crudeness of the method used in gaining entrance, and the fact that nothing was taken or bothered excepting the sandwich materials was said to point to this theory.

$35,000,000 at Stake

Hints of huge sums of money being squandered to a personal staff of psycho-analysts are contained in Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick's, above, suit, instituted in Los Angeles courts to regain custody of her husband, Stanley McCormick of Chicago. She claims his affections are being alienated from herself by his physicians' treatments.

TO FIX BUDGET COUNTY BOARD

County Government Advisory Commission Planning Work For Year

The News Bureau, (By M. R. Dunnagan)

RALEIGH, June 4.—The County Government Advisory Commission will hold its first meeting since last fall in the office of the commission in the Revenue Building here on Thursday, June 6, Charles M. Johnson, executive secretary, announced today.

The principal business for the session will be the arrangement of the budget for the operation of the commission's activities for the next two years, in serving in an advisory capacity to county officials.

The members are D. E. C. Brooks, State College, chairman; Dr. A. C. McIntosh, Chapel Hill; D. W. Newsom, Durham, E. M. Lyda, Asheville, and A. E. Cline, Shelby, named to succeed J. E. Woodland, Morehead City, who died last summer. Mr. Lyda, one of the county commissioner members, of whom there are two, was not re-elected to the Buncombe county board last year. He is considered one of the most valuable members of the commission.

CHIEF MABRY GIVES REPORT

City's Fire Loss For Past Year Reached Total Of About $5,000

Fire loss in the city of Goldsboro during the month of May was estimated to be around $5,000 by Chief George Mabry, of the local fire department, yesterday. The exact figures of the losses sustained during the month have not been obtained, it was learned, because insurance adjusters have not yet completed their report on the two biggest fires occurring during the month.

Six alarms, one of them false, were answered by the local department, according to the report made by Chief Mabry. The largest fire losses were sustained when Mack Wiggin's dwelling house was destroyed, and when Joe Farfour's store was gutted by flames. Considerable damage was said to have been done by smoke and water at the latter conflagration.

WEATHER FORECAST North Carolina—Fair, tonight and Wednesday with slowly rising temperature; gentle to moderate north-east winds.

REMOVE BAR TO SETTLEMENT

Belgium Agrees to Proposals of Schacht for Settlement for Mark Controversy

PARIS, June 4.—(AP)—The last barrier to a complete agreement by the expert's committee on the reparations question was removed today and the long outstanding problem of Europe's post-war life may be considered officially settled.

The Belgians this afternoon accepted proposals presented by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht looking toward a solution of the most vexatious problem of the redemption of German marks in Belgium, a demand for 35 annuities of 25,000,000 marks (about $6,000,000).

With the acceptance by the Belgians of the German proposal approval of the expert's report embodying the reparations committee's suggestion by Owen D. Young, the chairman now becomes unanimous and the final report which must be submitted to the government's council for ratification will be issued before Friday or Saturday.

The Belgians accepted the procedure proposed in a letter presented by Dr. Schacht yesterday to Mr. Young. In this letter the German government stated that it had appointed Dr. Erwin Ritter, a ministerial director, as its special representative to handle the marks question and that he was prepared to open the discussion promptly. The Germans proposed to enter immediately into negotiations on a new basis looking to definite settlement of the marks controversy.

While accepting the procedure, the Belgians made the express condition that no territorial considerations would enter into the conversations. This disposed of reports that Belgium would cede back Eupen and Malmedy to Germany, both of which districts she obtained by the treaty of Versailles.

It was understood, however, that the expert's committee report would not become effective until the marks question was settled.

The agreement, as will be notified to the reparations commission and the governments concerned, reduces Germany's reparations debt from about $32,000,000,000 present value of $9,000,000,000.

It will eventually give France between 40,000,000,000 and 50,000,000,000 Francs (between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000) to reduce her interior debt relieving the budget of from 2,000,000,000 to 2,500,000,000 Francs.

The accord incidentally is expected to facilitate ratification of the allied war debts toward the United States since the settlement provides that annuities are to run throughout the period of the debt payments to amounts sufficient to meet them.

It will also lead to evacuation of the Rhineland by the allied armies of occupation within the space of time required for necessary negotiations and material arrangements to withdraw the forces now there.

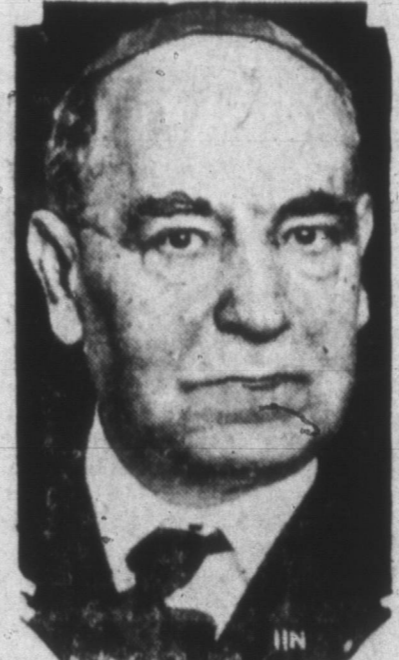

The experts' report will make the main recommendation that the annuities proposed by Mr. Young, the American financier, be adopted. These annuities call for the payment of 2,050,000,000 marks (approximately $492,000,000) over a period of 37 years; 1,700,000,000 marks (approximately $408,000,000) over a period of 21 years and 900,000,000 marks (approximately $216,000,000) for one year.

PARIS, June 4.—(AP)—Gwen D. Young, chairman of the reparations committee, announced upon leaving a plenary session of the experts this evening that a full agreement had been reached by the reparations conference.

SUED CAROLINA FOR $100,000

Special Feature Article Contains Interesting Bit of Wayne History

That Kirby Smith, a Wayne county student once sued the University of North Carolina in Wayne Superior Court for $100,000 is told by Dick McGlojryn in a special feature story in which he compares University commencement of other days with commencements of today.

"A student Kirby Smith," he writes, "was charged with painting Caldwell Monument red all over at commencement time. He denied the charge and filed in Wayne county Superior Court a libel suit for $100,000 against Dr. Battle, president of the University, Dr. Manning, head of the law school and Paul Cameron, chairman of the board of trustees and the richest man in the State at that time. The case was tried in Smith's home county, Wayne, and lasted two weeks, drawing people from all over the State, among them Governors Aycock and Kitchin and other notables. The jury ordered a mistrial, saying there was no probable cause for Smith's arrest but that the University had not acted maliciously and viciously in the investigation. The case was thrown out and later compromised by the University's paying the court cost."

BOOZE PLANTS ARE DESTROYED

Deputies Raid Still in Operation in Fork Township and Get 2 Gallons

ed a still in operation in Fork township and destroyed a site in Brogden. "A Negro was just leaving the Fork township plant to get more water for his boiler when the officers have into view over the hill. He stayed not on the order of his going and the deputies were outclashed in the speed race. Two gallons of whiskey had been manufactured and the plant was going full tilt. Three barrels of beer intended for the run were destroyed, and the plant—a fifty gallon capacity one—was brought to the courthouse.

Later in the afternoon four barrels of beer were destroyed on the agn once used by the Kentucky Horse and Mule Company in Brogden. The barrels had from appearance just been refilled to "hipped" for another run.

Deputies J. C. Kornegay and George Coker made yesterday's raids. They bring the successes of Wayne deputies in anti-booze war to five in the last four days.

Mrs. Frank Patty Apparently Beaten to Death With Hammer; Man is Held

USED SKIRT TO HANG BODY ON CLOSET HOOK

William Tallman, Radio Operator, Denies All Knowledge Of Crime

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Frank Patty, banker's wife was found beaten to death here today. Police ordered the arrest of William C. Tallman, former employee of the Radio Broadcasting Company in San Francisco.

Mrs. Patty's body was found hanging in a closet in an apartment. She apparently had been beaten with a hammer. Her skirt had been used to hang the body to a hook in the closet.

Mrs. E. Lowell, manager of the apartment house, said a man about 25 years of age, slender and of light complexion had recently rented the apartment under the name of W. C. Johnson. Mrs. Lowell knew nothing about the woman and the discovery of the body was the first intimation a woman had been in the apartment.

Mr. Patty, connected with a Portland, Oregon, bank, said he had lived here with his wife three years. He returned yesterday from a trip North and falling to find his wife set out to hunt her this morning. He collapsed when told of her death. Mrs. Patty was described as "young and red haired." The bruised condition of her hands indicated she had fought her assailant desperately.

In San Francisco the former employee of Tallman said he was employed as a radio operator until last January. Officials said he was of a reticent nature and had few acquaintances.

Tallman denied all knowledge of the slaying. His father, Harry Tallman, said his son had told him that he intended to marry the young woman.

SHRINE STARTS ITS CONVENTION

Los Angeles Transformed to Modern Arabian City For Festivities

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—(AP)—Six thousand Shriners garbed in all colors of the rainbow surged through sunlit streets in a majestic parade today to the cloiseum to open the 55th annual convention of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

In columns extending 30 blocks the fun-maker of free Masonry with banners flying thrilled the throngs of spectators who banked the avenue of March ten row deep.

A modern Arabia in all its glory had been transplanted into the heart of this Southern California metropolis and the thousands who came to watch roared the visitors a great welcome.

Forty American flags born by the Shrine color guard preceded most of the marching delegation with their band chapters patrolled and mounted "desert Arabs" astride bay, white and sorrel horses.

In the midst of the parade members of the Councils, governing body of the Shrine, rode behind Imperial Potentate Frank C. Jones of Houston, Texas, master of the 75,000 Shriners here.

WATERS TELLS OF CONVENTION

Members of Rotary Club Has Varied Program at Regular Meeting

One of the most inspiring features of the International Convention in Dallas, George W. Waters, Jr., told the Goldsboro Rotary club last evening, was the spirit of friendship manifest among the delegates from forty-odd nations of the world as they brought greetings from their countries. Mr. Waters represented the Goldsboro club at the convention and his report of the meeting, together with musical and dance numbers supplied by children of Rotarians who were guests of their dads at the meeting, made up the club program.

North Carolina played an important part in the Convention, Mr. Waters said, in that Eugene Newsoms of Durham was selected as international president and in that David Clark, of Charlotte, was named to the board of directors. "There was even some feeling," said Mr. Waters "that North Carolina probably got more than her share of the offices of the club."

"I was rather fortunate," he continued "in the room which was assigned to me at the Hotel. I got a real meaning of what Rotary is when I found that most of those in adjoining rooms were Rotarians from over the seas. I couldn't talk to many of them, but there were a good many interpreters about and I made use of them."

Delegates from English clubs, Mr. Waters reported, made a strenuous effort to have the latter part of the Rotary motto "Service above self—be profits most who serves best" stricken out. The contention of the British delegates, he explained, was that the latter part of the slogan was often misunderstood. The effort on the part of the Englishmen, he reported, was unsuccessful.

Scout Executive W. W. Rivers reported that the report of the State health department laboratory had been received yesterday relative to the water supply for the new Tuscarora Scout Council and that the well was producing water "as pure as could be found anywhere in Eastern North Carolina."

While the Rotarians had listened with pleasure to Mr. Waters and to Mr. Rivers they began to sit up and take notice when the children assumed the boards. Little Virginia James did a graceful dance; Priscilla Hartshorn rendered a difficult piano solo; and then Charles Dewey showed the club how a real catcher goes about it. His demonstration would have made Byers ashamed of himself.

There followed a beautiful dance by Annie Holmes, a piano trio by Annie Brown Jerome, Janie Robertson and Humphrey Brown, a piano solo by Annie Brown Jerome and an exhibition of acrobatic dancing by Mildred Rawlings and Esther Waters, all of which drew merited applause.

MYSTERY ABOUT SHOOTING HERE

A. W. O. L. Navy Lad Says Negro Shot Him Through Arm Early Yesterday

Mystery surrounds the shooting through the arm early yesterday morning of Winfred Frederick, 19 year old sailor, at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Henry McMillan, on William street.

"According to the story told to officers by Frederick, a negro entered the McMillan home about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and poked a pistol into his face. The negro fired when Frederick made a sudden turn, the bullet striking his left arm, the sailor told officers who were called to the McMillan home.

The officers found, however, a pistol in Frederick's room. Two chambers of the weapon had been exploded and bullets were found on the floor. These bullets correspond in calibre to the size of the hole in the young man's arm.

Writing navy officers in Norfolk, the police learned that Frederick was a member of the crew of United States tug Bob O Link and had been absent without leave for thirteen days. He was taken into custody for a few hours, but released yesterday afternoon with instruction to take the train this morning for Norfolk.
