Borah Resolution Against Complete Revision of Tariff Defeated

HOUSE TO VOTE TODAY ON RECESS FOR SELF

Expected to Concur. Providing Return to Washington in September

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The senate voted overwhelmingly today to recess from Wednesday night until August 18 to await the tariff bill and the house will concur tomorrow, asking a vacation for itself until the middle of September.

Enactment of the $151,500,000 farm relief appropriation earlier in the day completed work on the extra session program of President Hoover except for the tariff measure now before the senate finance committee.

Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, proposed the recess. He waited, however, to make certain of the defeat of the Borah resolution proposing to restrict the finance committee to revision of the tariff measure to agricultural products only. He had declared no recess would be sanctioned if the resolution were adopted.

Senator Borah lost by only one vote 39 to 33.

The program brings the senate back in session in the midst of summer, but the Republican leaders insisted upon this after an agreement was not forthcoming fixing a definite time for a vote in the fall on the tariff.

House leaders have been threatening not to sanction the senate recess unless a date is set first for a vote on the tariff.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, urged that the recess extend until September 3, but his amendment lost 44 to 35.

In addition to the farm relief legislation the senate also put on the statute books at this extra session the bill authorizing the 1930 census and a reapportionment of the house on the basis of that census.

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to exclude aliens from the enumeration of population used as a basis for reapportionment of the house of representatives was introduced by Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico.

PENSION CHECKS RECEIVED HERE

Wayne Confederate Veterans and Widows to Get Checks Total $4,090

Pension checks for Confederate veterans and widows of Confederate soldiers, totalling $4,090, have been received in the office of the clerk of court, J. B. Hooks, and are now ready for distribution.

The pension checks are mailed out twice each year, on June 15 and on December 15.

The widows of dead Confederate soldiers receive a check from the government for $50 every six months or $100 each year.

SYRIANS FORM ASSOCIATION

Goldsboro Supplies President and Treasurer of New Organization

The Hamaana American Organization was perfected at the Memorial Community building here Sunday afternoon when some 200 natives of Syria from every part of North and South Carolina, with a few from New York, banded themselves together for fraternal and social purposes.

While the organization will have as its purpose the inculcation of true patriotism, and the fostering of social contacts among American Syrians, it has deeper purpose in that a contingent fund will be created and administered for the benefit of natives of Syria who through death in the family, misfortune or unforeseen circumstances may find themselves in need of a friend.

The following were named as officers: President, S. Baddour, Goldsboro; vice president, J. Y. Abeyonnis, Washington, N. C.; secretary, Charles Saleem, Laurinburg; treasurer, Neil Joseph, Goldsboro.

The meeting opened with prayer by Father O'Marr of the Episcopal Church, and the singing of the National Anthem.

Most of the 150 who joined the new organization are naturalized American citizens, and hold membership in many American orders and lodges.

Prayer by Father O'Marr and the singing of "America" ended the meeting Sunday.

Sunday School and Revival Serving Churches of Today

The Sunday school and the revival go hand in hand in increasing the membership of the Christian churches declared Mr. Gilbert T. Howe of Duke University in the course of a sermon which formally opened the new $60,000 Sunday school building of St. Paul Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Dr. Rowe said that the early rise and progress of Methodism had depended upon two things—the revival and the class meeting.

"As for the revival," said the speaker, "we need it, and I believe the church will have to have it until the end of time.

"A great mistake that has been made in Methodist and other churches is in trying to put on a child the religious experiences of the adult.

How Stowaway Told His Parents

Image of a ship with text: Lafayette Hotel 2nd Cottage June 18, 1929 Dear Parents, I am attempting to go across on the airship Green Flash...

This letter would have given any mother and father a shock. The call of adventure seized Arthur Schreiber and this note is the way he took of telling his parents of Portland, Me., he was soaring over the ocean in the "Yellow Bird," the first aerial stowaway.

Elaborate Funeral For General Booth

Halley Wood, Eng., June 17.—(AP)—Regardless of creed or religious convictions, all Britons tonight mourned the passing of General Bramwell Booth, former leader of the Salvation Army, who died Sunday at the age of 73.

In his death the Salvation Army, which was so nearly rent asunder during the last year of his life, was again cemented in the bonds of union by sorrow for the common loss.

The full honors of the army to which he devoted his long life will be accorded him by a funeral next Monday to be attended by notable representatives of churches, welfare organizations and others.

FUNERAL FOR C. A. SMITH

Prominent Citizen Died Sunday Afternoon of Pneumonia After Week's Illness

From the home near Crescent Lake yesterday afternoon was held funeral service for Charles A. Smith, 67, who died Sunday afternoon of pneumonia.

He was one of the county's most prominent citizens and a great crowd gathered to pay him final honor.

MURDER CHARGE FACES OFFICER

Constable Alleged to Have Killed Member of Auto Party

BUCHANAN, Ga., June 17.—(AP)—Constable Luke Ballenger of the Corinth district, five miles east of here, faced a charge of first degree murder tonight as a result of the killing Saturday night of Grady Phillips.

A. T. Griffin, who has been very active in the building had been needed during the entire 39 years during which he had been a member.

R. H. Stevens gave a financial report telling the cost of the building, the amount paid, the pledged and that still unprovided for.

S. F. Teague, officer of the First Baptist Sunday school, spoke in behalf of his denomination, of their good will toward the progress made by the Methodist church in their building, and said that it would be an inspiration to his people to go forward.

Phillips in the back seat of the car was shot through the head and died a short time later in a Cedartown hospital.

Phillips was shot through the head and died a short time later in a Cedartown hospital. A coroner's jury found that the young man was slain by a bullet fired by Ballenger and Coroner John W. Cole swore out a warrant for manslaughter. Later relatives of Phillips swore out the murder warrant which was not bailable.

ARE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Car Which Hits Auto of Straughn Honey and Arthur Pridden Does Not Stop

Straughn Honey and Arthur Pridden, young white men of this city, sustained severe bruises and cuts about the head and body when the Ford run-about in which they were returning to Goldsboro from the direction of Selma Sunday night about 11 o'clock was wrecked a short distance on this side of Pine Level.

Boney is in a Smithfield hospital where he was taken by a Mr. Parker, of Pine Level, immediately after the accident. It was at first thought that he was critically injured, but a more thorough examination yesterday was said to have revealed that no bones were broken.

Mr. Paisley Boney, prominent local business man and father of the injured youth, told The News last evening that his son seemed to be resting comfortably about 6:30 o'clock, and that it was thought he would probably be able to come home in a few more days.

Pridden, who was said to have been driving the Ford at the time of the accident occurred, is a son of B. D. Pridden, local merchant. He was brought to his home here Sunday night a short time after the accident.

QUESTION PROF. MORE CLOSELY

May Present Formal Charge in Death of Ohio State Co-ed Soon

COLUMBUS, O., June 17.—(AP)—Questioning of persons believed to have knowledge of the slaying of Theophrastus Ohio State co-ed, continued tonight as county prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., endeavored to coordinate evidence against Dr. James N. Snook, University professor, one of the two men held for investigation.

Prosecutor Chester declared during a recess in the questioning that he would have enough evidence to bring charges against Snook "if things kept going the way they had been."

Saulston Lad Takes Honors In National Essay Contest

(Special to The News) CHAPEL HILL, June 16.—(AP)—"Mark will out," they say, and the case of A. P. Smith, young Chapel Hill high school student, who has just won a four-year college scholarship in a national essay contest adds substantial proof to the old axiom.

Young Smith came here two years ago, at the age of 17, from Saulston, to attend the Chapel Hill high school. He did various jobs around the village to earn his own expenses.

The American Chemical society announced its annual chemistry essay contest. Young Smith decided to enter. He chose for his topic, "The Place of Chemistry in Modern Warfare."

GRIFFIN HEARD BY KIWANIS

Winner of Honors in This District Discusses Constitution

For the second time in recent weeks the Goldsboro Kiwanis club last evening listened to a discussion of the American Constitution. This time by Ezra Griffin, winner of the high school oratorical honors for this district in the contest held some months ago.

Young Griffin discussed the three phases of the American government as provided for under the constitution—executive, judicial and legislative—and got a big hand from the members of the club.

Bert Griffin won the attendance prize, a Piggly Wiggly dinner, and Mr. Minton gave the oral boost.

MOTHER AND BABES SLAIN

Hammer Used in Smashing Life Out of Mrs. Chebinski and Children

DETROIT, June 17.—(AP)—A mother and her two children were found dead at their River Rouge home their heads crushed by a hammer, a third child similarly attacked was near death tonight.

The body of the mother Mrs. ANNE CHEBINSKI was discovered near her home about noon by a neighbor boy. The bodies of the three children, Pauline 2, Margaret 5, and Josephine 10, were found inside the house.

Police said they believed the slaying occurred about 4 a. m. today. Mike Mazon, a milk wagon driver, told the police he heard an unusual noise from the house at about that time but did not investigate.

Police have started search for the slain woman's husband Paul, who left for Cleveland about 3 months ago.

ZEPP TRIP TO U. S. POSTPONED BERLIN, June 17.—(AP)—A special dispatch to the Telegraphen Union from Friedrichshafen today said that the transatlantic flight to America of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin had been postponed until 1930.

A flight around the world for the big airship was scheduled to start about July 15.

Aldermen Vote to Grant Owner Right to Install Filling Station There

NUMBER OF MATTERS ARE DECIDED BY ALDERMEN

George Street Residents Protest "Nuisance" Features of Bus Station

The board of aldermen in mid-month session last evening ran the gamut of aldermanic activities. They granted E. G. Thompson permission to erect a filling station at Center and Chestnut street where the old Arlington hotel building now stands.

Mr. Thompson's petition for a filling station at Chestnut and Center was granted by a vote of 5 to 4, and with the understanding that the old Arlington building is to be razed and a large and modern building for a fire service station erected.

Admiral Sherard's request that the city lay a sewer line on East Walnut street where he is now completing a building was granted, city manager Hollowell reporting that originally the street ran along a different route from what it follows now.

George street residents' strong protest presented a petition asking for an ordinance that would prohibit the bus station from operating a loud "music box" from washing or repairing automobiles or buses at the station between 6 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Hugh Humphrey and J. Pison Thomson presented the side of the petitioners, speaking at some length. They reported their complaints had in the past gone unnoted.

Motion of Alderman Isaacs that the city act as its own insurance company in carrying out the provisions of the workman's compensation act was adopted.

Action on a request of the Branch Banking and Trust company that it be made one of the depositories for city money was deferred.

A new ordinance to be provided will make it punishable by a fine of $50 a day to bring fishcrap into the city, except during the period of November 1, to April 1.

Alderman Smith raised the question of chasing run runners through the city, and his remarks drew support from Alderman Cole and from Hugh Humphrey.

The prize is a four-year scholarship in any approved American college or university. Young Smith probably hasn't heard the good news yet. He went to New York on finishing his high school course and is now working on the Leviathan in mid-ocean—seeing the world. It will be great news to the young man to learn he's to have the opportunities of a college education.
