DR. ALBERT ANDERSON IS CLEARED OF ALL CHARGES

Judge Grady In Wake Superior Court Orders Verdict of Not Guilty

Orders Jury From Room. Lists to Motion From Mistrial and Grants It

DEFENSE DOES NOT OFFER A WITNESS

Jim Adams Farm Superintendent, Is Also Acquitted Of Charges

RALEIGH, June 25.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Anderson, superintendent of the North Carolina hospital for the insane, tonight stood cleared of all charges preferred against him in connection with an investigation of the state institution here.

The sudden termination this afternoon of the second trial of Dr. Anderson when Judge Henry A. Grady, presiding, directed a verdict of not guilty, brought to an end cases charging him with malfeasance in office and embezzlement. A conviction obtained in Wake superior court in the first trial was thrown out by the supreme court.

The directed verdict followed the state's resting of the case. The jury was sent from the courtroom while Judge Grady heard R. N. Simms of defense counsel move for a non-suit. After listening to the motion Judge Grady called in the jury and wiped the charges from the books by directing a verdict of acquittal.

The defense had not presented a one of 75 witnesses subpoenaed for the trial. About a dozen witnesses testified today.

In the trial today Dr. Anderson was accused jointly with Jim Adams, state hospital farm supervisor with having embezzled and turned to his own use certain quantities of lime, paint, vegetables, building materials etc.

When the charges against Dr. Anderson were cleared by the verdict Adams was also cleared.

CAMERON ASKS FOR CLEMENCY

Petition Heard by Judge Townsend But Ruling is Not Yet Decided

The News Bureau By M. R. DUNNIGAN

RALEIGH, June 25.—John A. Cameron, of Raeford, later of Alabama and since last fall an inmate of State's Prison, where he is serving on the 20-year sentence imposed in 1914 for murder of P. C. Oakes, Raeford policeman and from which he escaped a year after imprisonment, will not know the result of the hearing before Judge N. A. Townsend, executive council, held this morning until some time next week. Judge Townsend said he would take no action on the petition after he had conferred with Governor Gardner, who is away and will not be back in his office until next week.

Impassioned pleas for the man who, as J. B. Davis, had made a complete reformation and had become a wealthy and highly respected citizen of the community, were made by R. C. Lawrence, Lumberton attorney; James H. Fou, Sr., Raleigh; N. McN. Smith, Raeford; Attorney L. H. Ellis, Columbia, Ala., and by W. T. Bost, Raleigh newspaper correspondent. The father and three sons of the Raeford imprisoned man were present at the hearing, along with a group of citizens from many places in this state and some from Alabama.

The opposition to the pardon of Cameron had been withdrawn by the son and relatives of the slain man. Mr. Lawrence stating that Cameron had paid the family $10,000 since his return to North Carolina State's Prison. He had not sided the family before, he replied to Judge Townsend's question, because it had not been so he could.

Mr. Lawrence asked Judge Townsend to read again Victor Hugo's Les Miserables, his reference having been to that classic figure Jean Valjean, to which Cameron has been likened in his prison sentence. Reformation and the protection of society, two of the important reasons for imprisonment, are completely answered, in Cameron's conduct for 14 years, 3

Esq. Rhodes Holds Court in a Field

Sheriff Granger Rhodes of Mt. Olive yesterday held court in an open field on the edge of Wayne and Duplin counties, and ruled that Eddie Cox-Mt. Olive Negro, was guilty of the bastardy charge which Annie Ruth Rose, Duplin county Negress, had brought.

Esq. Rhodes accompanied officers and witnesses to where the Negress was chopping cotton on a Duplin county farm.

"Try the case right here," it was suggested.

"But this is in Duplin and I am a Wayne magistrate," Mr. Rhodes replied.

The Wayne line lay just across the nearby Northeast—or Goshean River.

"We'll cross over the river and try it there?" ruled Esq. Rhodes. A rowboat was procured. The judge and the witnesses were rowed across the Goshean, and court was in session, to end with the results mentioned above.

Stricken suddenly with paralysis while ill with pneumonia, R. P. Uzzell died at his home on East Walnut street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Funeral service will be conducted from the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Peter McIntyre, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. W. V. McRae, pastor of St. Paul Methodist church. Burial will be made in the Uzzell burying ground in New Hope Township.

Mr. Uzzell was up and about Sunday morning, taking a ride in his automobile, but that afternoon was ordered to his bed with pneumonia. His condition had not been considered alarming and yesterday he was thought to be slightly better. It was at 5 o'clock that he was seized with a sudden attack of paralysis and died a few minutes later.

43 Violators Traffic Laws At John-Walnut in 1 Hour

Editor's Note: We told Dan Powell to take a stand at Walnut and John street for one hour yesterday afternoon and to see if automobile violators violated traffic regulations at the point where the city's stop-and-go signal is installed. Pencil in hand he made a check of every car that passed. Here follows the story he wrote:

Forty-three persons violated traffic regulations at the corner of John and Walnut streets yesterday afternoon between three and four o'clock.

Only three negroes failed to obey the traffic control, and the remaining forty were whites. There were eight women violators.

Nine persons rode bicycles past the stop signal, and two ice wagons failed

FRIDAY TO BE "BASEBALL DAY" IN CITY

Missing Spanish Fliers

Many conflicting rumors have not helped in finding Major Franco, left, Major Luis De Aza, right, and Senior Madariaga, below, Spanish aviators, who started out from Cartagena, Spain, in the giant plane "Numancia" and have not been heard from since. They intended to fly to Fayal, Azores, and from there to New York. Portuguese gunboats dispatched to locate the plane when reported, missing have not found any trace of the amphibian.

Madrid ships and aeroplanes of our nations united today in the search for Major Raymon Franco, Spanish ace who with three companions left Cartagena on Friday for the Azores in the first leg of a round trip flight to New York.

Spain, Italy, England and Portugal mobilized searching parties of comb the area between the Portuguese coast and the Azores.

The Spanish government maintained its hopes that they would be found safely somewhere, either on land in some remote spot or aboard a small vessel provided with wireless. Nothing has been heard from them since Saturday when a message purporting to announce their landing in the Azores was picked up by a Portuguese ship. Spain hopes Major Franco might have attempted a non-stop flight from Spain to New York and been forced down beyond the Azores, but a few of the friends of the aviators cling to the hope that the Spanish aviators, had come down in some distant part of the Azores.

ROTARY SEATS NEW OFFICERS

Rev. E. C. Few Tells of Need of More Than Average Citizen

The installation of officers, an address by Rev. E. C. Few of Kinston and a number of delightful solos by Mrs. John Morris with Miss Laurinda Hooks at the piano occupied the Goldsboro Rotary club last evening at its regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Goldsboro.

George W. Waters, Jr., succeeded R. E. Stevens as president; Z. T. Brown succeeded Mr. Waters as vice-president, while Ray Armstrong and W. L. Rawlings are the new secretary and treasurer respectively, succeeding Henry Belk and Z. T. Brown.

Just prior to presenting the gavel to Mr. Waters, Bob Stevens, retiring president, appealed to the membership of the club to hold up the hands of the incoming officers, assuring the club of progress if this was carried out.

"If everyone will help the officers, and do what he is asked to do," declared Mr. Waters in receiving the gavel. "We are assured of a good year. It's not the officers who make the club what it is; it is the members."

The speaker of the evening, Mr. Few of Kinston, won the attentive consideration of the club to his discussion of the need for citizens who "are above the average." The citizen who is above the average, he declared, never attains to this position by following the herd instinct; he must place right above the crowd and follow it. Hugh Waldrop was in charge of the program for the evening and presented Mr. Few.

Expect to Move Sparrow To State Prison Friday

DUPLIN COUNTY OFFICIALS MAKE VISIT TO CONFER WITH LOCAL OFFICIALS IN CASE—BOOK FOUND SAID TO LIST SPARROW'S CUSTOMERS OVER STATE

E. D. Sparrow, Kinston run-runner, who shot and seriously wounded Murray Byrd, Calypso Deputy sheriff as the latter attempted to arrest him for transporting last night a week ago, will be removed probably Friday from the Goldsboro hospital to State Prison Raleigh, it was decided yesterday.

Sheriff Williamson of Duplin, Rivers D. Johnson, Duplin county attorney, and Dr. Strong, Duplin health officer, came yesterday to Goldsboro to confer with local authorities and surgeons relative to removing Sparrow to the State prison. At the latter place he can be maintained at a cost of about $1 per day for Duplin county, while at the hospital here his expenses include not only surgeons fees, hospital expenses but the cost of a watchman night and day.

The Duplin officers found, however, that Sparrow's hand, partially shot off by Deputy Byrd as he returned

CHICKEN THIEF IS OPERATING

Poultry Is Reported As Stolen From W. H. Bartlett and from Deems Pate

Members of the local police department are conducting a vigorous investigation into the activities of a chicken thief who sometime Monday night stole 18 Rhode Island Red chickens, each weighing more than five pounds, and 25 smaller chickens from the chicken house belonging to W. H. Bartlett, who lives near Belfast. It is believed by officers here that the thief is operating in the area of the town. According to information furnished The News, the chickens stolen from Mr. Pate must have smothered to death when placed in a bag by the chicken thief. They were found dead near the home the next morning, it was said.

The poultry stolen from Bartlett was located by Wilson officers in that city early yesterday morning. This was learned when local officers telephoned to the Wilson police at the request of the Belfast man. He had asked them to communicate with other surrounding towns, but this was found to be unnecessary. It was learned from Wilson that a Spudabaker touring car had been abandoned there, and that the chickens were safe. The driver of the car, described as being a small white man, escaped, however, when an officer started toward the car. The automobile was said to have stalled.

Efforts were being made yesterday to trace the ownership of the car through the state license bureau, but no report had been received here last evening. Mr. Bartlett went to Wilson yesterday morning to claim his property.

Neuse Defies Efforts Of Searchers for Boy's Body

With 36 hours having passed since Hugh Casey, 13 year old son of Ed. R. Casey of the Arrington bridge section, met death by drowning in the Neuse river 3 miles south of the bridge, the murky waters of that stream still held fast to the secret of the whereabouts of the body of the youth at 12 o'clock last night. Young Casey was drowned Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock while he was bathing in the river with his younger brother, Rex. An hour later an organized search for the body was underway, but at a late hour last night it had not been recovered.

Late yesterday afternoon members of the family of the drowned boy, and others who are assisting in the search, constructed a wire fence across the river about a mile below

FIFTH MURDER NEAR WALLACE

Jesse Graham, Negro, Fatally Wounded by His Rival Killer Escapes

The fifth murder in about as many weeks occurred Sunday in Wallace when Jesse Graham, Negro, was shot and killed by another Negro, according to Senator Reverend D. Johnson of Warsaw who was a visitor in Goldsboro yesterday.

"I have forgotten the name of the Negro who did the shooting," said Senator Johnson. "It seems there was an old grudge between the two about a woman. The one who did the shooting shot Graham first when he met him on a street and then chased him into the house of a white resident and shot him again. Then he got away."

HALF HOLIDAY TO BE GIVEN BY EMPLOYERS

Hope to Recoup "Precarious Finances" At Goldbug-Pirate Game Here

PRESIDENT GRIFFIN GIVES AN INTERVIEW

Will Circulate Agreement To Close Among Business Men Today

Friday is "baseball day" in Goldsboro, and the city is expected to take half holiday and spend the afternoon at Griffin Park enjoying a game between the manufacturers and Kinston Eagles.

"Baseball day" was decided on by the directors of the local club in an effort to recoup wavering finances, described as in a "precarious condition" by A. T. Griffin, Jr., secretary of the club. The directors also voted to ask all stores, manufacturing plants and offices to close for the afternoon, affording everyone an opportunity to take in the game.

"Everyone I have talked to so far, said A. T. Griffin, president of the club yesterday" has been most cordial in promising cooperation. Not a man I have discussed the proposition with but has promised to do his part in so far as is possible. I know, however, that there are some places in the city where it is impossible for the business to be closed for a half day; but these places can let off as many of their employees as possible, retaining the minimum needed to operate the business, and let the others go."

Mr. Griffin and a committee from the Baseball club will this morning pass a paper among the business and professional men of the city, asking them to signify their intentions of closing Friday afternoon.

"One thing we need badly," went on Mr. Griffin in an interview with The News" and that is the support of the ladies. You know we have had as low as twenty-five or fifty ladies at our regular home games. When ladies day comes, though, there is always a great crowd. The baseball club would appreciate it very much if more of them would attend the games regularly."

The following statement was issued by A. T. Griffin, Jr., secretary of the company which is operating the team:

"This season has been very hard on the local ball team and the club is now in a very precarious condition financially. This was brought about by the unfavorable weather, and the fact that the schedule was not well balanced. The attendance has been too poor to pay for the expenses of the team and the backers have had to borrow money in order to keep the team going. We are trying to stage a comeback in our finances and in order to do so we are asking the merchants of the city to cooperate with us by closing their places of business on Friday of this week. We are asking the papers of the city to come to our aid in this effort as we feel that they are anxious to keep the league ball in Goldsboro.
