

PROPOSE $100,000 ADDITION TO CITY HOSPITAL

Duke Endowment Will Give $50,000 If City Will Raise $50,000

Would Construct 24 Bedrooms For Patients and Nurses' Home

DUKE OFFER CONSIDERED A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

If Citizens Will Cooperate, Can Realize Plans of Long Standing

The Duke Endowment will give $50,000 toward the construction of a new $100,000 unit and nurses' home for the Goldsboro hospital, provided the remaining $50,000 is raised locally. This announcement is made in a prospectus issued yesterday by W. A. Dees, chairman of the board of trustees of the hospital.

"Please consider this matter. The need is great—the opportunity is extraordinary," concludes the prospectus issued by Mr. Dees.

"It is proposed to build about 24 rooms for patients and a nurses' home with sufficient bed rooms and other rooms and facilities as will make the hospital a convenient and modern plant," Mr. Dees' announcement explains. "Additional land will be needed for this expansion.

"Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the Duke Foundation, has tentatively approved the plans, and $50,000 will be contributed just as soon as a similar amount is raised locally."

The proposed addition would be joined to the rear of the present building and extended in the direction of Simmons street, with the nurses home a few feet west of the extension. Pictures made from an architect's drawing included with the prospectus show an attractive arrangement.

"Since the Goldsboro Hospital was established on its present location nearly eighteen years ago," declared Mr. Dees in commenting on the need for the addition, "there have been no additions and little or no alterations. Yet the number of patients and nurses has no increased that there are not at the present time, sufficient facilities for properly taking care of same.

"The sun parlors are being used for bed rooms of patients. There are no waiting rooms and no facilities for maternity cases, nor a department for pediatrics nor one for out-patients. The present kitchen is too small, the elevator obsolete, and the heating plant about worn out. Closet space has been given up for room that was needed for other purposes."

As to the opportunity which is presented, Mr. Dees, speaking for the board of trustees, said:

"The Trustees have hoped, even when hope seemed vain, that some opportunity would come to expand the institution and equip it to fill the ever increasing demands that are being made upon it. Now the opportunity has come. The Duke Endowment offers to bear one-half the expense of making additions costing $100,000. No such chance to meet a pressing community need has ever before been presented to our people.

The folder we have prepared will give a definite idea of the needs that can be supplied if our public-spirited citizens will enable the hospital to meet the terms of this generous offer. Seldom is one given the privilege of match dollars without outside sources in promoting the interests of a strictly local institution. The Trustees of the hospital do not believe that the substantial, generous-hearted citizens of our community will let this opportunity pass.

"Please consider this matter. The need is great—the opportunity is extraordinary."

Cameron Will Know His Fate This Week

RALEIGH, July 10.—John Cameron's fate will be known during the present week. Judge N. A. Townsend said today that he expected to take up the matter of the man who escaped from State's Prison some 14 years ago after serving less than a year of a 20-year sentence for killing Police Officer Oakes of Raeford. Judge Townsend heard pleas for clemency two weeks ago, and there was no opposition in evidence, Cameron having paid Oakes' family $10,000.

King to Die in Chair Sept. 20

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 10.—(AP)—Balked by legal barriers in their attempt to get Rafe Y. King in the state prison here, Chester county officials left Columbia late this afternoon to take their charge back to the Chester jail.

A South Carolina law specifying that a man under death sentence shall be brought to the penitentiary not more than 20 days and not less than 2 days before the date set for his execution was responsible for the dilemma Sheriff J. E. Howze and his deputies found themselves when they sought to rid themselves of the man who this morning was sentenced to die on September 20.

BRITT FUNERAL AT 5 O'CLOCK

Popular Young Man Died at 8 A. M. Yesterday of Pneumonia

Funeral services for Clarence Britt, 27, who died at the home of his father-in-law, A. A. Joseph, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, will be conducted from the Joseph residence at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. A. J. Smith will be in charge of the service and burial will be made in Willow Dale cemetery. The family has requested that no flowers be sent.

The following have been selected as pallbearers: William Aycock, Jesse Hunt and William Mordecai of Raleigh, William Jenkins of Wilmington, Spicer Holmes, Z. T. Brown, James Sutherland, Z. G. Hollowell, Col. George K. Freeman and Ben Witherington.

Mr. Britt was taken ill with pneumonia about ten days ago and had grown gradually worse. Monday he was in extremis, and physicians administered oxygen. He rallied under this treatment and for a time Monday evening it was believed that he would recover, but early yesterday there came a relapse that carried him away.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Britt, Sr., his widow, nee Viola Joseph, one daughter, Harriet; three brothers, William, Sam and Leslie Britt; and one sister, Mrs. Garland Yelverton.

Born and raised in Goldsboro, Mr. Britt possessed a personality that made friends of all whom he met. His death came as a great shock to the city.

Endurance Plane Sailing Smoothly After 200 Hours

CULVER CITY, Calif., July 10.—(AP)—The 200th hour in the air, much sought but never before obtained objective of endurance fliers, was passed by the aviators L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhardt in the Biplane Anzeleno at 3:29 p. m. today. Their ship was performing as smoothly as at any time in the flight.

The stubby-winged ship pounded away on a monotonous circle of the field tonight. Spectators came, stood in wonderment and departed.

As the 200th hour of the flight filled by a white machine was depicted scribbled across its grease-stained surface was a terse request for more gasoline.

British Sub Sinks in Collision; 21 Lives Lost

The ill-fated H-17, British submarine which sank in collision with another sub, the L-12, 55 miles off Fishguard, Wales. Lt. R. J. Gardner, commanding officer of the H-17, and a radio operator were the only ones saved of the 21 officers and crew. The H-17 had figured in a previous collision but did not sink. One of the L-12's crew was killed and another seriously injured in the collision but the vessel did not sink.

MASONS WILL PICNIC TODAY

Grand Master Phoenix Will Be Guest of Honor at Worrell's Mill

With Grand Master J. F. Phoenix, of Greensboro, Superintendent C. K. Proctor of the Oxford Orphanage, and District Deputy Grand Master J. W. E. Smithwick of LaGrange present as guests of honor, Masons of Goldsboro and Wayne Lodges will picnic at Worrell's mill in Grantham township late this afternoon.

A program had been planned to begin about 6:00 o'clock after which the barbecue and picnic will be served. A good time is in store for all.

"We are fortunate to have the invitation extended to us by Brother Worrell to have this event at his mill pond," said the secretary of Goldsboro Lodge yesterday. "He is giving us the special privilege of fishing, bathing and boating during the afternoon and we hope everyone will avail himself of this opportunity. We are still more fortunate in having with us our Grand Master and Superintendent of the Oxford Orphanage."

BUTLER AFTER CLAIMS PLACE

Clinton Man Desires Appointment to Court of Claims, Washington

The News Bureau
By M. E. DUNNAGAN
RALEIGH, July 10.—George E. Butler, Clinton attorney and brother of the well-known Marion Butler, is seeking a place as member of the United States Court of Claims in Washington, made vacant by the recent death of Judge McKenzie Moss. It became known here today.

Mr. Butler, an original Hoover supporter, was prominently mentioned as judge of the federal court for the eastern North Carolina district at the time Judge Isaac M. Meekins was appointed, and it is believed that he has a chance at the place soon to be filled by President Hoover.

More Typhoid Cases This Year Than Last

The number of cases of typhoid fever in Wayne county are greatly in excess of the number in the county at the same time last year, statistics issued at the health department yesterday show. Thus far in the year 21 cases have been reported, and at the same time last year only 13 had been reported. On death—a Mr. Sutton of Mt. Olive—was caused by the disease this week.

"While the disease is still far from the epidemic stage," said Dr. L. W. Corbett, "unless a great many of the folks of both rural and urban sections seek immunization through vaccination, August may be known as a typhoid month in the county."

JOKE WAS ON "BEE," ADMITS

Negro Barber Tells Story of How He Went on Hunt For "Spirits"

W. E. Ward, local colored barber, who holds down a chair position at the Guess Barber shop on Center street here, declares to friends that hereafter he's going to thoroughly investigate any gift offers before accepting them in spite of that old adage that tells one to "never look a gift horse in the mouth." Ward, who is known to his friends as "Busy Bee," went "spirits hunting" Monday night on the tip of a friend that he knew where a gallon of choice "refreshments" was located. "Busy Bee" returned from that trip minus the gallon, minus a large portion of his palm beach pants, and very badly frightened.

Ward, who told the story to The News representative yesterday, declared that that was one joke he'd never forget, even if it was on him. P. O. James, local white man, employed at the Wayne Laundry, has been having Ward do his barber work. "Busy Bee" has also been serving James' father, and the other day James told Ward that he appreciated the barber's interest he took in shaving his father, and that he was going to "up" him some day, Ward told The News.

"Monday morning Mr. James came in the shop and told me he knew a place where a still had just been moved from, but that some of the liquor had been left. He said he'd take me out and we'd get a gallon, and I told him that I would be off at eight o'clock, so we arranged to go at that time. At 8 o'clock he was at the shop and we started out, going out on Number 10 and then travelling down the Snow Hill road," the barber related.

"In a little while we turned off, and after driving a little further, Mr. James parked the car near a tobacco barn and we started walking through the woods. Finally Mr. James stopped and told me that a gallon was hid in a tree stump right near. We started looking around and finally he pulled the gallon jar out of a stump. About that time he asked me to strike

WILL OF B. F. GRADY FILED

Widow and Children Named Beneficiaries Under Will

The widow of the late B. F. Grady and his children are named beneficiaries under his will admitted to probate yesterday in the office of clerk of court J. B. Hooks. Mrs. Grady is to have the property during her life and at her death it is to go to the children, B. F. Grady, Jr., and a daughter, Ellen.

The property includes the store and its merchandise at 125 East Center, the residence on Park avenue, a house at 614 John street, and one on William street.

Mrs. Grady is named executor of the estate.

CAFES IMPROVE THEIR RATINGS

Eight Are Listed as Grade A and 7 Listed as Grade B in City

A new grading of Goldsboro eating places was announced yesterday by Charles C. Jordan, inspector with the city and county health department, and shows eight establishments listed as "A" grade, seven as "B" grade and eight as "C" grade.

"This is considerably better than the record of the month previous," said Mr. Jordan.

The following were graded as A: Tommie's Place, Busy Bee, Hotel Goldsboro, Central Lunch, Williams Cafe, Rick's Cafeteria, Mrs. Sprull's Dining Room, Sanford's Coffee Shop.

The following were graded B: Goldsboro Cafe, Pig and Whistle, Loyd's Cafe, Sanitary Cafe, Wayne Cafe, Crystal Cafe, Dew Drop Inn.

The eight places graded as C: Crip's Place, Daniel's Cafe, American Barbecue, Tabron Cafe, Lee Edwards Cafe, Hogan's Cafe, Howell's Hot Dog Stand, Clark's Cafe.

Warsaw Man Shot While Riding on Highway 40

Gordon Carleton, prominent citizen of Warsaw, who sustained a severe wound on the chin and a broken jaw as a result of having been struck by some stray missile, believed by Carleton to have been a pistol bullet, while he was riding on the highway from Warsaw to Faison Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, was reported yesterday by Goldsboro hospital officials as being much improved.

According to information furnished The News, Mr. Carleton, who is proprietor of the Chevrolet garage at Warsaw, was on his way to Faison to see a friend, and was driving a closed car of the type sold by his concern. He had almost reached Faison, it was said, when something struck him on the chin, inflicting a painful

ONE WOMAN SO INJURED THAT SHE MAY DIE

Truck on Diner Gave Way and Five Pullman Cars Overturned

TOPPLED CARS SLID DOWN A 6-FOOT BANK

Train Crew And Passengers Broke Windows to Remove Trapped People

Sam Jones, Goldsboro man, and K. O. Hollingsworth, of Mt. Olive, yesterday brought to Goldsboro details of the train wreck near Enfield yesterday morning in which 40 passengers were injured. Mr. Jones was in Rocky Mount at the time first news of the wreck came and drove to the scene of the accident. Mr. Hollingsworth visited the scene while enroute back to Mt. Olive with a shipment for Andrews and Knowles. These men described the wreck as one of the most terrible they had ever seen and wondered how it was that many passengers had escaped death. "They had broken open the windows of the Pullmans where they slid down a bank and were pulling out the passengers when I got there," Mr. Jones declared.

ROCKY MOUNT, July 10.—(AP)—Forty or more persons were injured, 14 of them seriously enough to require hospital treatment, when five cars on fast Florida-New York passenger train number 84 of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad were derailed near Enfield, near here today.

One woman was so badly hurt that she may die while several others are suffering from broken bones. A list of the more seriously injured given out late today by officials of the Atlantic Coast Line hospital here showed 11 women and three men in the hospital.

Railroad officials said they had been unable to check up on all of those injured and given first aid treatment before a relief train reached the scene.

The wreck occurred in what is known as Ruggles Swamp, 1.5 miles north of Enfield.

A truck under the dining car, gave way, W. B. Darrow, superintendent of transportation for the Rocky Mount division said this afternoon, causing the rear end of the diner to leave the rails.

Five Pullman cars left the rails and were dragged over the ties for 75 yards and then overturned into the swamp, sliding down a six foot embankment.

The locomotive, baggage car, coaches, and one pullman proceeded to Richmond, Va.

When the cars overturned all telegraph and telephone lines maintained by the railroad company along its lines were broken. As a result, railroad officers were unable to get any early information and for several hours little was known as to the number injured.

WIFE FEARFUL HE HAS GONE TO THE RIVER

Declared to Have Stated Evening Before Disappearance He Was Leaving

NOTHING HEARD OF HIM SINCE EARLY ON TUES.

Sickness, Lack of Work and Misfortune Had Worried Carpenter

A widespread search was begun yesterday for John G. Jinette, 51, carpenter of 711 South Slocumb street, who disappeared from his home at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. Nothing has been heard from Mr. Jinette and no one has been located who saw him since he left his home without eating breakfast.

"I am just afraid he has gone to the river and drowned himself," Mrs. Jinette, in a highly nervous state over the disappearance of her husband, told The News yesterday. "He has never been a man to go away from home without telling where he was going, not even at night. If he was going up town, he told me about it and was back before early bedtime. For a long time he had been out of work, and then it was just sickness after sickness in the family, and he was bothered about it a whole lot. Then on top of everything somebody stole all his tools while he was at work last week. That year into a house near the Fair Grounds where he was working and took everything he had and the tools of two others too."

"I heard him get up Tuesday morning. His steps on the back porch woke me up. I thought he was going to start a fire for me to get breakfast, and I got up almost as soon as I heard him. But there wasn't a fire when I got in the kitchen, and so I made one, thinking he was maybe in the garden picking some better beans. When he didn't come back I went up to Mrs. Jinette's, thinking maybe he was there, but he wasn't, and he wasn't in the garden. And we ain't heard anything from him since. I just know he has gone down to the river. He wouldn't go off anywhere in his old clothes like that, and he was a man who stayed at home anyway."

When he left, Mr. Jinette was wearing a pair of striped overalls, gray shirt and black hat with tan slippers. He was described as being very slender, dark haired with the hair just beginning to turn gray, blue-eyed, ruddy of complexion and with "most of his teeth gone." Mrs. Jinette said he would weigh about 140 pounds and was an average man in height.

Mrs. Jinette said that her husband had been drinking "just a little bit" the night before and that her daughter had upbraided him for this, telling him that she was going to leave home if he did not quit it. To this, Mrs. Jinette said her husband replied, "Well I'll leave."

WANT SOUTHERN MAN APPOINTED

Board of Agriculture of State to Wire President Hoover About Matter

RALEIGH, July 10.—(AP)—The North Carolina state board of agriculture at its July meeting today voted to send President Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, a telegram urging appointment of a Southern man in the Federal Board.

The board voted $8,000 for the purpose of cooperating with the bureau of agricultural economics in the grading of tobacco.

During the afternoon Governor addressed the board. He stated it was his purpose to cooperate fully with Commissioner Graham and said that because the department of agriculture is operated by funds collected for special benefit of the farmer, he expected the board of agriculture to exercise broader powers in controlling the finances in other departments of the executive budget.
