TROOPS ORDERED BACK TO MARION MILL VILLAGE

Rioting And Disorder In Two Mills Causes Townsend Take Action

Strikers Enter Home of Non-Union Worker and Destroy Furniture

SEVERAL OF STRIKERS ARRESTED BY DEPUTIES

Disturbances Attack Officers With Clubs and Rocks: None Badly Hurt

MARION, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Rioting in the mill village of the Clinchfield Manufacturing company and in the Marion Manufacturing company late today, caused troops which had been held in the city to be moved to the village. Strikes, led by the United Textile Association workers, are in progress in both mills.

The troops here, National Guardsmen from Asheville and Morganton, first came to Marion two weeks ago when the Clinchfield mill opened with non-union workers after being closed down for two weeks by the strike.

Additional troops from Lincoln and Statesville were ordered to the scene of the disturbances tonight, and companies at Andrews, Canton and Lexington have been instructed to be ready for duty.

Several of the strikers were arrested late today on charges of being disorderly, of resisting an officer and destroying property. The trouble began when the strikers went into the house of a man employed by the Clinchfield mill to take the place of a striker, and threw his furniture into the streets. Sheriff's officers attempted to prevent the destruction of the furniture and were attacked with rocks and clubs. None were reported to have been seriously injured.

The troops were ordered to the mill village from Marion by Judge N. A. Townsend, executive councillor for Governor O. Max Gardner. Townsend came to Marion ten days ago at Governor Gardner's request to attempt an arbitration of the strike. Arbitration negotiations have failed.

MARION, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The "opening room" in the Clinchfield cotton mill here was wrecked by an explosion of dynamite early today. Deputy sheriffs on guard at the mill, where a strike is in progress, failed to catch the dynamiters.

Today's dynamiting was the latest of a series of explosions and attempted dynamitings in connection with the walkout. No one was hurt. The "opening room" is the room in which the raw cotton bales are opened.

Three strikers are under arrest, charged with attempting to dynamite the home of the Rev. J. N. Wise, a Methodist Episcopal church south minister. They are Bruce Stacy, Robert Perkins and George Stiles. A trial for their trial has not been set.

Efforts at arbitration of the difficulties between officials of the mill workers' union were being continued today by N. A. Townsend, executive counsel to Governor O. Max Gardner. B. M. Hart, superintendent of the mill, on Tuesday refused to proceed further with a tentative agreement to end the strike because he said that Alfred Hoffman, a national union official, was dominating the strikers, and he refused to deal with any but employees.

Troops called out ten days ago, when the strikers and sympathizers refused to permit the mills to open with non-union workers have been withdrawn and deputy sheriffs put on guard in their place.

Shrine Ceremonial To Start Sept. 19

GREENSBORO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—It has been decided to start the Shrine ceremonial here, originally scheduled for only the one day September 20, on the night of September 19 so that the nobles of Oasis temple and their ladies may have more recreation dropped in with business. The patrol and band of the Sudan temple has also been invited to participate.

Commissioners To Meet Here Monday

The Wayne county Board of Commissioners will meet in regular session here Monday morning. Among the matters that will probably come up before the board for consideration at this meeting will be the recommendation of the Grand Jury at the recent term of Wayne Superior criminal court. This recommendation was to the effect that the court yard in the rear of the court house should be graded down in order to make the surface of the yard more level.

MANY ATTEND BIG REUNION

Descendants of Jerry Williams Enjoy Entire Day Together

The children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of the late Jerry Williams, met at the home of his oldest son, Skeddia Williams, near Snow Hill, and enjoyed the day together in a family reunion. Most of the morning was spent in exchanging family reminiscences, and going over "the old times" together.

Dinner was served at about noon on a long table which had been prepared in the yard for the occasion. A sumptuous repast, including chicken, ham, cakes, pies, and all the other goodies including lemonade, was spread. After dinner every one gathered in the parlor where a sacred program was rendered. The program consisted of music by Miss Vivian Harris of Kinston, at the piano, a quartette, recitations, readings and prayer.

Those attending the re-union was Skeddia Williams, and family of Snow Hill; D. H. Williams and family, Mrs. J. S. Robinson and M. Davis, of Goldsboro; F. S. Harris and family of Dover; C. S. Langston and family of Farmville; M. W. Carleton and family of Durham; W. A. Fulford and family, Mrs. S. D. Messic of New Bern; J. E. Harris and family, D. C. Wade and family, R. A. Sanderson and family, Kenneth Taylor and family, E. B. Jackson and family, Jack Evans and family, Tshmae and J. P. Conway, Mrs. Sutton and children and W. T. Turner, all of Kinston. Every one had a good time.

ARABS ATTACK COLONY

JERUSALEM, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Arabs again attacked the Jewish colony in Telphoth, between Jerusalem and Bethlehem today. They were repulsed by a platoon of British troops, accompanied by a police commandant.

Wayne Is Third In Poultry Shipping In North Carolina

Only two other counties in the state shipped more poultry from January 1 to July 1, 1929, than Wayne county, according to a complete report just issued by the division of markets of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture. Wilkes county led the entire state for the six months period with total shipments of 800,000 pounds, while Surry county came next with 475,000 pounds. Wayne county poultry shipments for the period totaled 220,000 pounds, and Catawba came fourth with 192,000 pounds.

Poultry shipments from Wayne have almost double every year since 1925, with the exception of 1926, when shipments in practically every county in the state showed a marked decrease. In 1925 40,298 pounds of poultry

CARL CAPTURES SPEEDING FOUR

Four Oaks Men are Lodged In Jail Here Following 30 Mile Chase

A quartette of Four Oaks white men were captured near the Cole's Hill section of the city yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock by deputy Carl Smith, of the Wayne sheriff's department, following a chase that lasted more than an hour and covered 30 miles. The four men were locked up in the county jail, and will be given a hearing before Judge Bland in county court Monday.

A man by the name of Lasgiter driver of the Ford roadster in which they were riding, will face a hit and run charge, in addition to charges of driving an automobile while under the influence of whiskey. A man named King and two Allen boys, will face charges of aiding and abetting.

Deputy Smith started chasing the car occupied by the four men when they passed him on the Kinston highway while speeding at a rapid rate. The car turned off the highway at the old dirt road leading off to Seven Springs, and with the Wayne officer in hot pursuit, went on to White Hall. Passing through that town, the driver of the Ford came back toward Goldsboro on the Broadhurst bridge road and sped into Goldsboro, and after whizzing around several street corners, was finally captured near Cole's Hill.

When the car first turned off the highway on the old Seven Springs road, the front part of the vehicle struck a mowing machine attached to a state highway truck, which happened to be standing on the side of the road. The mowing machine was practically demolished, and the front fenders of the Ford were badly damaged, deputy Smith told The News last night.

OBSTACLES TO U. S. AND BRITISH NAVAL ACCORD REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Obstacles to an accord between the United States and Great Britain on complete naval equality apparently have been reduced to certain aspects of the complex cruiser problem, which caused the failure of the tripartite conference of 1927.

Each government has placed its viewpoint on this question before the other in detail, however, and while further discussion will be necessary Washington officials are hopeful that the remaining differences, which are few, can be eliminated and an agreement announced in a few days.

The preparation and presentation of the American viewpoint for Prime Minister MacDonald's consideration is the task which has kept President Hoover, Secretaries Stimson and Adams and Undersecretary Cotton working over time recently and filling many pages of correspondence to Ambassador Waxes.

Tiny Fremont Negro Thief Is Captured

Johnny Woodard, 10 year old Fremont negro, was about to get an early start in a career of crime, but his evident ambition was nipped in the bud by Chief of Police, N. S. Stevens, of Fremont. The youthful negro was brought to Goldsboro by Chief Stevens yesterday afternoon and turned over to local welfare authorities. Welfare officer, R. H. Edwards was out of town at the time, so Woodard was lodged in the county jail. Disposal of his case will probably be made sometime today.

The little negro was arrested by the Fremont officer yesterday morning for the second time in about 10 days on a charge of storebreaking and larceny. According to Chief Stevens, Charlie Vick's store at Fremont was broken into Wednesday night, and 150 pennies were stolen from a cash drawer. Then on Thursday night, Munford's filling station was entered and several articles taken, including a pistol holster that the proprietor had left on a desk when he closed up for the night.

Yesterday morning, Chief Stevens was approached by another negro boy, who asked the officer if he wanted to buy a pistol holster. The chief purchased the article, and then by skilful questioning, obtained the name of the person who had sent him to sell the holster.

Woodard was said to have admitted entering the Vick store. According to the Fremont police chief, the negro boy has entered a number of prominent places of business recently. He will walk up to a car, and if the keys are left in the vehicle, will steal them. One or two places have been entered by using these keys, Mr. Stevens told The News.

"He's a slick customer to be so young," Chief Stevens added, and Woodard grinned.

MRS. ALDREDGE TALKS AT MEET

Lenoir County Woman Principal Speaker at Poultry Dairy Meet

Mrs. H. Aldredge, who owns and operates a large farm near Kinston, was the principal speaker at a joint meeting and picnic dinner held by the members of the Wayne county Poultry and Dairy Association at Crescent Lake yesterday. Approximately 50 members of the two organizations were present to enjoy the event.

Among the other speakers, who made brief talks during the course of the meeting, were L. C. Salter, of the North Carolina Department of Agricultural, livestock and poultry division, J. P. Smith, C. M. Brickhouse, county agent, and T. T. Brown, Wayne poultry agent. Mr. Brown urged the poultry producers to grow green feed for their flock for the winter months.

Mrs. Aldredge in her talk, told her audience that she had changed from cotton and tobacco to poultry and dairy products on account of the rain and low prices this year. She said that records kept had shown that hens would pay a profit in summer. Eggs increased from 50 to 60 per day from 200 hens after putting them in a good house, Mrs. Aldredge declared. Forty of her hens were sold, and there was only a decrease of ten eggs indicating that 30 of the hens were not good layers, the speaker told her audience.

Mrs. Aldredge said that her experience had shown that she would obtain more profit from her dairy herd than from the chickens. She spoke of a profit of $200 in 1927, and a profit of $200 in 1928 from eight cows. "The family does all the work and we use all the milk and cream we need," she stated.

Aids Eaker in Perilous Flight

When Captain Eaker brought his non-stop trans-continental "Shuttle" plane over Michel Field, Long Island, twenty minutes ahead of time after a fast dash from the west coast, he caught the field crew napping. Lieutenant Elwood R. Quesado, chief of refueling operations at the field, hopped into his own plane and succeeded in making a perilous contact with West-bound mail thus enabling Eaker to continue on his way without losing time.

Mrs. Bowden Awarded $5,000 Verdict Against S. H. Kress

After deliberating for about eight hours, the jury in the Bowden vs. S. H. Kress company, came out of retirement last evening at 6 o'clock and awarded Mrs. Mamie Carr Bowden, plaintiff in the action, a verdict of $5,000. Mrs. Bowden had brought suit against the chain store company for a much larger amount, $50,000, alleging that she had sustained a broken hip in which had permanently crippled her on account of the negligence of the defendant.

After court convened yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Judge Clayton Moore, charged the jury in the case, and it was in the hands of that body at 10:30 o'clock. The jury remained out for the remainder of the morning and practically all the afternoon, and it was thought for a time that a deadlock had been reached.

During the trial of the case, attorneys for the plaintiff introduced evidence to show that the floors of the local Kress store had been oiled at the time Mrs. Bowden was alleged to have slipped and fell. Attorneys for the defense, on the other hand, introduced testimony indicating that practically all department store floors are oiled, and that the oil used on the floor in question was of the very best and safest obtainable. The plaintiff had been known to faint on occasions, the defense pointed out, and advanced the theory that a fainting spell had probably caused her to fall on this occasion.

Several other cases of comparative minor importance were disposed of at leisure moments during the day. In the case of Susan Coor vs. William Coor and Thomas L. Best, the plaintiff was awarded possession of two tracts of land under dispute. Susan Coor was also given a divorce from her husband in another action.

In the east of K. D. Perkins and wife against Julian Price, trustee, and the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company, the plaintiffs voluntarily took non-suit and the action was dismissed.

A compromise was reached in the case of Charles F. Herring Sr. against the Virginia Box and Lumber Co.

Counties To Get Payment School Fund September 5

The News Bureau By M. R. BUNNAGAN

RALEIGH, Aug. 30.—First payment to the counties of an installment of the State Equalization Fund for the schools will be ready for distribution by September 5, approximating $700,000, which will go to the schools which started earlier than the normal date, while the first payment to all of the schools will be made in October, according to Dr. A. T. Allen, State superintendent of public instruction.

The information is contained in a letter to Charles M. Johnson, Secretary to the County Government Advisory Commission, who asked in an open letter this morning why this fund could not be distributed to the counties in order to abviate the necessity of the counties borrowing funds to operate the schools until the taxes come in, largely in October, November and December.

Dr. Allen states that he has conferred with Captain Nathan O'Berry, State Treasurer, who informs him that the first payment will be ready by next Thursday and that the second probably of $1,500,000, going to all of the participating counties, will be ready probably by the middle of October. The second part of the fund for the counties opening their schools earlier will be distributed in November, amounting to probably $600,000, while the third payment to all participating schools will be made in December, probably amounting to $1,250,000, the latter two payments (Continued on page 4)

70 PASSENGERS OF SAN JUAN BELIEVED DEAD

Captain of "Death Ship" Also Went Down to a Watery Grave

CAPTAIN OF TANKER DODD TELLS HOW CRASH CAME

Mate on San Juan Describes Horror of Sinking Of Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Seventy of the 110 passengers of the San Francisco-Los Angeles line "San Juan" probably met death early today in the fog which covered the waters off Santa Cruz after a collision between the San Juan and the Standard Oil tanker S. C. T. Dodd.

The tanker with its two bow plates dented and ripped, reached here under its own power, bringing 50 of the survivors of the tragedy 11 of whom were passengers. Three of the passengers and three of the San Juan crew were rushed to the hospital, suffering from injuries and exposure.

Explanation of the horrible collision awaited official investigation. The disaster occurred about 25 miles south of San Francisco. The United States Cutter Shawhee maintained a day long vigil at the scene of the wreck, saving additional survivors of the "San Juan" and recovering the bodies of two women. The Shawhee had 11 survivors aboard.

The San Juan took 60 passengers and carried a crew of 40 which also sailed last night for Los Angeles. Fog kept the visibility down but the weather was said to have been clearing as the swung down the coast.

Captain H. O. Dodson, of the Dodd, declared he was proceeding north from San Francisco on his regular course when he sighted the San Juan lights. He reported the weather reasonably clear. "The vessels were proceeding on a passing course when the San Juan apparently changed its course. I then ordered full speed astern in the hope that the San Juan would maintain its speed and accident be averted."

"The regular signals were given by the Dodd as to the nature of her maneuver but for some reason the San Juan, gave no clue as to and defeated our object."

Captain Adolph F. Altius, master of the San Juan in the absence of the regular commander, who was away on his vacation, went down with his ship. R. Tattenfuss, third officer of the San Juan, gave no clue as to the cause of the wreck, but told how the 47 year old ship went down in five minutes.

"We didn't have a chance. Orders were given to man the boats the instant the crash came but the ship went down before we could launch even one boat. The situation was terrible. Men, women and children jumped overboard in efforts to save themselves. All of the survivors were sick and were dragged with clothes. Many failed to save their clothes."

4-H Members Leave For Camp Tuesday

Wayne county 4-H club girls and boys from 15 school communities will leave the Wayne county court house Tuesday afternoon, September 3 for a three days encampment at White Lake. Mrs. R. H. Shine, Home Demonstration agent, and A. K. Robertson, county agent, will have charge of the encampment assisted by state club leader, L. R. Harrell, of Raleigh.

About 60 or 70 club members have already signified their intention of attending the camp.

FIVE JEWS KILLED

JERUSALEM, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Five Jews were killed last night and twenty wounded, when Arabs attacked houses of the Jewish community in the sabbet town of Sifted. Arabs set fire to buildings in the main Jewish street, where oil was stored.
