Virowoyka Problem in Sintenville.

The only wise course that can be pursued toward the dreworks business has been fellowed by Statesville. The Landmark says; "The board of aldermen have decided that the ordinance prohibiting the firing of crackers, etc., on the streets shall be strictly enforced during the holidays, and interested parties are notified that the mayor and police will see to it that the order of parties are notified that the mayor and police will see to it that the order of the board is carried into effect. This is the only wise course to pursue. For several years the ordinance was suspended during the holiday season and the result was fires, fights and in one case nearly a riot. This led to the enforcement of this ordinance with good results. Those who want to indege in such aport can go entside the corporate limits."

How to Kill a Prayer Rooting.

If you go to your church prayer-meeting at all go with a cold seifau heart. Think of yourself and your business all the week. Don't take business all the week. Don't take time to pray in secret or read your Rible before hand. You will likely be in a criticizing mood so that bothing that is said or done will please you. Even the Lord himself would not please you. Stay away from the prayer meeting the most of your time. Let your health or the weather be your excuse for not attending. Go to places of pleasure—such as weddings, partles, lectures, shows, etc. and even visit stores after night to make purchases or see. Go to other prayer meetings but stay away from your own. Your paster will hardly find it out. Ferhaps the Lord himself will take no notice of your inconsistency.

pastor will hardly find it out. Perhaps the Lord himself will take no notice of your inconsistency.

Jon't help your church any more than you can help so as to maintain your respectability before men. I do wonder if some church members are respectable before the Lord. Spend money freely on yourself but don't spend much an your church or pastor. Grumble a little when the Lord's cause makes a demand on your time or pocket-book. When you do go to your prayer meeting take no part except that which any worldling could take.

Now, I think if the above roles are are closely observed any good prayer meeting will die and the Jord himself will go somewhere else to work.

I will add another injunction. When you have an opportunity criticize the pastor of your church and all the workers. Don't do it boldly or you may get caught; but whisper slyly that things don't suit you and things are so much nicer at some other place or that some other people do so much better; but don't you have the grace or courage to improve the work in your church. Don't ask anybody to go to prayer meeting. Don't speak of your prayer meeting only to find fault. Don't talk religion to anybody. Talk business and dress and pleasarsa. Keep your heart as cold and icy as you possibly can.

If you are a young man and a member of a church, when the night of your prayer meeting comes go uptown and hang around the stores and snap jokes and listen to smutty tales if you should happen to go to your prayer meeting, sit away back in the house, be as stiff and cold as possible. Don't take any part. Ihuo't even sing. But you know you are not stiff and cold when you snap your ragged jokes with others. Then when another evangelist comes along and you feel

The way to get money into circulation is to put it into circulation. The Goldsboro Headlight looks at it this way: "This is the time of year when it is well to post the books and see how the audit stands. There are two kinds of settlement that seem appropriate, so that a moral as well as well as material trial balance can be struck. The dealings with one's own conscience are an entirely private affair; but we are all traders, and our trade methods are objects of legitimate interest to others. There is nothing quite so essential to happiness at this season as the possession of a little spare pocket money. There is no way so effectual to supply this particular craving as to pay amail bills. The debtor who shall fail before Christmas day to discharge his small debts will fail most largentably in his duty to his kind. Every dollar put into circulation at this kindly season gets fairly hot in the swiftness with which it passes from hand to hand on its errand of Christmas liquidation." ay Your Small Bills.

Ware's Flouring Mills Barood-Origin of Fire Not Known. Charlotte News.

King's Mountain, Dec. 20.—Last night at 8:15 the alarm of fire was heard in our little city and soon it was discovered that the fine roller mill of W. O. Ware & Sons was on fire. Despite the strenuous efforts of the large force which soon gathered at the scene, the fixes were soon beyond control, and the men turned their efforts to keep the fire from spreading. Owing to the advantage of the incessant rain which was failing this was sone.

The entire mill machinery, house and contents, which consisted of about 4,000 pounds of flour and a good lot of corn were destroyed but the cotton gionery, saw mill, plaining machine, two boilers and engine were saved. The loss is estimated at between $6,000 and $2,000 insurance.

The origin of the fire is not known and various conjectures are made. There was no fire about the mill yesterday, and the boilet was fired uponly a short while in the morning.

This makes a second mill that Mr. Ware has lost by fire, his mill on Persimono creek at his plantation having been burned just before be moved to this town and built this one. KING'S MOUNTAIN, Dec. 20.-Last Mine Disnater to Chatham.

Explosion of gas in the Cumnock (Egypt) coal mines in Chatham county STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE (Egypt) coal mines in Chatham consty isst Thursday morning resulted in 39 deaths. Fire damp followed and some who were not killed by the explosion were smothered to death. The sound was heard 14 miles away. Women and little children gathered around the mines' month and begged piteously for men to go down and rescue their loved ones. With greatest difficulty could the foreman induce any of the men who escaped to go down. Three or four finally went. The bodies were inactioned and rousted. It was a sad and terrible sight to see the dead bydies in a row in the engine room. Most of them were natives and so many were the funerals that followed next day, that in some cases the fineeral attendants consisted only of the widowed wife and a little child or two weeping after their dead.
