LOCAL AFFAIRS.

It is likely that our next issue will announce adjournment of the Legislature.

Services were conducted at the Methodist church last Sunday morning at night by Presiding Elder Ware.

A very good picture of Representative Houser adorned the pages of last Thursday's Charlotte Observer.

Big crowd at court to-day. People have been passing all the morning on their way to attend the trial of Phons Rhyme.

A bad feller that gets no better has been torturing Mr. Monroe Jones for two or three weeks. He stuck a piece of sharp glass in it.

The roads are a little better but are still terrible in spots. The Bradley hill and the Whitesides hill are reported to be in especially bad condition.

The white dry horses in charge of Mr. Emmott Floyd got on a tear Tuesday afternoon and wrecked a lamp post at Morris Brothers' corner. They were frightened by a loose horse cavorting about the streets.

The trial of Phons Rhyme for the murder of Mr. T. G. Falls has been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rhyme was brought into court yesterday morning from Raleigh by way of Stanley Creek.

The Chester Ladies says it will be necessary to have three more snows for each of the seven foggy mornings in August. You are courting unpopularity, Bud. Don't let's have any talk of three more snows.

A constituent of the Chester, S. C., Lancers has examined the peach buds and says they are dead. There will be no bloom, he says, except a few scattering ones. We don't believe this applies up here in North Carolina.

The Gastonia telephone company completed connections yesterday with Yorkville, having now a direct line with no other phones on it. By next week the company will be prepared to give its patrons facilities for private conversation.

The "5 and 10 cent store" celebrated its opening yesterday in a beautiful display of five and ten cent goods. Nothing is sold for less than five or more than ten cents, and it is surprising what a quantity and variety of goods both useful and ornamental can be shown within these limits.

Wood is wanted at this office. We got out during the freeze, and it looked as if THE GAZETTE would have to suspend operation until Mr. Edgar Love came to the rescue with half a cord of pine. We are nearly out again. Bring it along, good pine or oak, good measure, and get market price.

The ooca-cola man was in town Saturday selling his syrup by the barrel to the fountain people and giving away drink tickets to other people. He was a breezy fellow named J. M. Cochran and gave away, he said, 375 tickets in Gastonia. The company has a magnificent new building in Atlanta built, we suppose, with the profits on five cent drinks.

The State Convention at Durham on March 9-11 of the Young Men's Christian Association is expected to attract a large attendance this year. The president of the Gastonia Association requests a full attendance at the meeting at 4 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, when the matter of selecting delegates will be attended to along with other important business.

The GAZETTE has added to its job department a wire stitchee that is daily. It is somewhat like a sewing machine that uses wire for thread. It takes the wire from the spool, passes it through the pamphlet without a needle, cuts it off, and clinches it on the under side before you can say Jack Robinson. By the way, our job department has all the work it can do, but we shall want more when this is done. Get our prices on anything you need in our line, whether it is a visiting card, a newspaper, a catalogue, a calendar, note or check book, note or letter heads or envelopes, whether you want 500 or 250 thousand.

Mr. Thomas R. Hendrix died about 8 o'clock last night at his home near the Trenton. He had been sick just a few days with grippe and pneumonia. Burial at the cemetery this afternoon.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Julia Abernethy returned Monday from a visit of two months in South Carolina.

Rev. F. W. Bradley's family moved to Gold Hill last week to be with him in his work there.

Miss Maggie Adams leaves Monday for her home in Charlotte to spend a short vacation before going North to purchase new spring millinery.

Mr. David Jenkins and little daughter, of Charlotte, spent Monday afternoon and night in Gastonia, guest of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Hoffman.

Mrs. B. F. Dixon, of Shelby, lectured before the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church Monday afternoon. She is spending sometime with her son, Capt. H. L. Darlman.

Mr. C. W. Spencer has gone to McCall, S. C., where he has made contracts for the erection of several buildings, including a large mill. Mrs. Spencer leaves Friday to join her husband.

Capt. and Mrs. R. C. G. Love and Miss Mamie returned yesterday morning from Brunswick. Capt. Love did not go to Cuba. Going as far as Tampa. He found it so hot like summer time that he didn't care to try the climate any further South.

Mr. W. J. DeVinney is a foreign traveler once more. His mother, Mrs. S. E. DeVinney, and his cousin, Miss Kate Smith, after a year's sojourn with him have returned to Yorkville. Mr. DeVinney left last night for a buying trip north for Gray & Love's millinery department.

Mr. C. M. Nolen moved this week to his residence on South street, going in after Mr. J. W. Abernethy, who now occupies the rooms over J. E. Curry & Company's drug store. To-night the family of Rev. W. F. Watson will arrive, and they will occupy the residence on Main street just vacated by Mr. Nolen.

Telephone Booth. The Bell Telephone Company has put in a pretty booth at this end of their line in J. E. Curry & Company's drug store. It is finished in oak and has double walls so that the sound of one's voice on the inside is effectually muffled. It is now possible for the patrons of the line to have what they have long wanted—a strictly private conversation.

Mrs. Sarah Huffstetter Dead. Mrs. Sarah Huffstetter died at her home near Pleasanton at half past four o'clock on Thursday Feb. 9, at the age of 73 years. She was buried on Friday at Olney, of which church she had been a member for many years. The pastor, Rev. G. A. Sparrow, preached the funeral. Mrs. Huffstetter belonged to a large and long-lived family. Two sisters survive her—Mrs. Roxana McCready, younger than the deceased, and Mrs. Catherine Fronberger now about 82 years old.

Jim Crow Waiting Rooms. "I bear much" remarked one of our citizens the other day about Jim-Crow cars, but I don't hear a thing about Jim-Crow waiting rooms. "The Jim-Crow waiting rooms are just as important as the cars," he remarked in a way to indicate that he was in dead earnest. "I have just had an experience in Charlotte" he continued "which makes me say this and I wish you would call public attention to it in your paper." It is true that separate waiting rooms are just as important as separate cars and it will be a mistake not to provide them.

Narrow Gauge Agent. "Who will be your new agent at Gastonia?" asked THE GAZETTE Monday night of President Harper of the Carolina and North Western R.R. "Have you made the selection yet?" "No," answered the President readily, "we have done nothing at all in the matter." "Is it likely that you will get an outside man or promote one now with you?" we asked. "We prefer to promote one of our own men, whenever we can make it suitable to do so." The bad weather has greatly retarded their work, but the company hopes to get into the new depots by the opening of spring.

See it From Tomorrow. Mr. John Frank Jackson is back again from Tennessee where the cold weather caught him and almost took him with it. He went out there to the mountains of Tennessee on the warm Saturday expecting to stay a day or two, and was kept two weeks. His business was to buy a car-load of mules, horses and young hogs, for private sale. He attended to this all right and had a mighty good time besides. His stock arrived in Gastonia yesterday. The horses and mules were taken along home, but the hogs were placed in Mr. John Hanna's pasture awaiting better condition of the roads for driving them.

Pointe Blanche Prospecting. We fear that Mr. Oliver Davis's remedy of hanging a thermometer on the clothes-line to kill out the potato bugs will fail this year. In times past we have read of the forwardness of these voracious pests in sitting on the clouds and watching for the potatoes to come up, but this year they are reported to be ahead of that. A gentleman told us in Dallas Monday that when he went to the store to get his seed potatoes the bugs were there looking over the merchant's books to see who had bought. Speaking of remedies, we hit upon one last year which proved better than any we ever tried before, so that we were not troubled at all by the bugs. Every year we wonder they had been destroying our potatoes so totally, but last year we concluded not to plant any and they never touched a leaf of ours.

Having heard Ralph Bingham in one of his delightful evenings, I take great pleasure in endorsing all the press notices and testimonials contained in his announcement sheet. I candidly regard him as a genius in his line. As a personator, he is real and not overstrained; as a delineator he evinces the real genius of the student of character and nature, while as an entertainer he combines the happy arts of the technician and the pleasing. I congratulate the people of Gastonia in that they have so rare a treat to store for them. Yours very truly, J. H. SWARTZ.

Through the enterprise of Mr. J. H. Kennedy, the people of our town and section have the rare opportunity of seeing on Thursday night Ralph Bingham who was noted in his childhood as "the boy orator," but who now on the shady side of 27 is the gifted monologue entertainer in eloquence, impersonating and music. It is a tribute to his gifts that he has filled 129 engagements in his own city, Philadelphia, and 2000 in the states of Pennsylvania and New York. Elsewhere will be found testimonials of his merit from Rev. McGo, Shields, Prof. J. H. Sparks, and Rev. W. F. Watson, all of whom have heard him. To these we add that of Rev. W. D. Williams of Vineyard Haven, Mass. Says he: "The finest entertainer I ever heard. Others are possibly as good in some respects, but must have aid from other sources to make the evening complete, while Ralph, with no other assistance than his wit and his own wonderful self, is complete."

Having heard Ralph Bingham recently on three different occasions, Rev. W. F. Watson says the following: "This is a rare and unique entertainer; a delineator and a dramatic actor, and Ralph Bingham has not been exceeded, if equalled, on the American platform. There is not a dull moment from start to finish. Gastonia people will seize a rare opportunity if they fail to greet him with a full house on March 2nd."

Caught at Court. The Lowell tract sold by W. E. Bell, commissioner, was bought by Julia Jenkins.

The valuable lands known as the old Henry Setzer home place were sold Monday by J. L. Thornburg commissioner, and bought by Mr. Will Little.

The sale of the old Dickey mill place took place, as advertised, on last Saturday. The property was bought by Messrs. Alex and John Crawford at $1200.

The elder and apple man wasn't on hand and was missed. But the medicine man with his blood purifier and grease-spot eradicator held the crowd spell-bound with his eloquent words and wonderful magic.

Mr. J. H. Rutledge, the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance man has been working Ducombs, Yacoby, Madison and McDowell counties. "Woro you up there in all that cold weather?" he was asked. "No," he answered, "I came home just before the blizzard and regard it as the smartest thing I ever did in my life."

Nearly everybody who visits Dallas much gets acquainted sooner or later with Mr. William Jenkins. Though he is going on 84 years of age, he is still feeling pretty well thank you, and when help was about at the mill the other day he took the 3/4 bushel sacks of wheat from the wagon and toted them into the mill just like the other boys.

The canning business has attracted the enterprising attention of Mr. J. X. Nantz of Stanley. He put up last year 8700 three-pound cans. About 1,000 of these were tomatoes, the rest mainly apples. He buys his cans and labels in Baltimore and raises his own tomatoes. This year he will plant large quantities of the Paragon or Queen tomato, recommended by the seedsmen as the best for canning purposes.

There are lots of people who would not go on the stand and swear that their late winter snap was the coldest that they ever saw. The Catwabs didn't freeze over this time, whereas in 1896 or '97, according to Mr. J. F. Hooper, of McAdeville, the Catwabs froze entirely over, the ice being 19 inches thick in places. He says that in that freeze "Old Bill Sams skated on his skates" down the river all the way from Armstrong's Ford to the Stowersville Mill pond—a distance of a mile and a half—and that he whirled Dr. Hanna's wife all about the mill pond on a chair. Col. R. N. Wilson says that was in '55 and that there was snow on the ground for 8 weeks.

The following is a list of principal cases disposed of on the State docket: Pink Friday, Assault, $5 and costs. C. C. Johnson, Assault with deadly weapon, 3 months on the roads. J. X. Nantz, Judgment suspended on payment of cost. Jap Carpenter and Ed Turner, Disturbing worship, $5 and cost. Ed Good, Assault, 3 months on the roads. Casey McLean, Larceny, One year on the roads. Jon Erwin, Assault, 8 months on the roads. Perry Williams and Mece Williams, (col.) Assault, 6 weeks on the roads. C. L. Rhyne, Retailing, Judgment suspended on payment cost. Joe Lineberger, Assault, Month on the roads. Ed Greenwood, Larceny, 6 months on the roads.

The grand jury found no true bill against Marion Gardner for stealing a dog and on the charge of cruelty to animals he was released on his own recognizance until next court. The complaint of J. L. Falls and M. A. Thompson was filed at this term in their suit against Sheriff Love for reward offered for capture of Phons Rhyme. The Sheriff will make answer next court when the case is expected to come up for trial.

Had it not been for Mr. Lucius Holland, THE GAZETTE's right arm at Dallas, our court reports would have been scant indeed this week. The editor attended Monday but was taken sick and got too far behind with office work to return. The grip surely has the right name in our case. It holds right on, and every time we stop looking it gets us down again.

Notice of New Advertisements. Lady's black glove lost. See business locals. J. M. Wilson, McAdeville, N. C., (see business locals) will sell you a $30 Odell typewriter for $8.

J. Robert Craig, Manager, announces in business locals 'phone connection with Yorkville direct. No other 'phones on line. Jackson and Campbell, Bowling Green S. C., have a car-load of Tennessee horses and mules, shoats and pigs, for private sale.

Love's Grocery ad this week will help to ease the mind that gets broken up every time the cook breaks up the grocery. Replace the ugly broken pieces with pretty new patterns such as you find at Ed Love's. Several hogsheads of brand-new ware just getting in. Those pretty jardiniere will not be on the counters long—they go.

County Correspondence.

Mount Holly. Mr. John Hanzell, whose serious illness we noted some time since, died last Thursday and was buried at Stanley Creek on Saturday.

Mr. Horace Sims, of Columbus, S. C., who has been spending the winter with his nephew, Mr. Luther Sims, in we are sorry to note, in very feeble health.

Mr. Hugh T. Rhyne, of Mecklenburg whose sudden death a few weeks since cast a gloom over the people of his community, was born in Gaston Co. city, in 1838, and leaves a host of friends in Gaston, who are sorry to hear of his death. Mr. Rhyne was one of those men who served his God, his country, and his fellow man to the very best of his knowledge. He never failed to help the poor and needy. The places of such men are hard to fill.

The heavy force of the ice caused the ferry boat to break loose last Thursday. It lodged on the Tuckasee dam and will be placed in position as soon as the water falls.

The Roller Mills were shut down several days last week on account of the heater freezing up and burning.

The Mt. Holly landing society meets promptly every morning at 7 a. m. sharp, and each member seems to enjoy himself to the fullest extent by sitting around in other people's way, roasting his burdened carcass by a comfortable stove, also smoking and giving reasons for the general half time devotion of the society to the relief of down-trodden humanity; with possibly some of their party waxes at home making fires and carrying water. This of course is plain talk but it is nevertheless true to a large extent and shamefully so, too, and you need not leave Mt. Holly but a couple of miles to find some of this class of people.

Mr. J. E. Dunn is visiting at his father's J. F. Dunn's this week.

Supt. Babington, of the Methodist Sunday School, is rapidly increasing the number of scholars in his school. Mr. Babington is one of our strongest levers in the uplifting of the morals of our community.

Mr. Leek Harris of the Tuckasee Mfg. Co. is off on a few days visit to friends and relatives at Lancaster S. C.

Mr. G. R. Garner, book-keeper for the Mt. Island Co., was a welcome visitor on our streets last Sunday.

McAdenville. Mr. H. M. McAden has just returned from New York city. He spent Sunday and Monday in McAdeville and left Tuesday evening for Charlotte to assume his duties with the Piedmont Insurance Co.

Presiding Elder W. R. Ware will preach in the Methodist church here next Sunday night. The second quarterly meeting for McAdeville circuit for 1899 will convene at South Point next Saturday evening.

Mr. C. F. Hishop, of Byram, N. C., is visiting relatives in McAdeville.

Mr. John O. Hankin has recovered from his recent illness and is at his post again with A. L. Baker & Co.

Mr. I. W. Shields is quite sick with grip. He has been confined to his room for several days.

The infant child of Mr. Jacob Hendricks was found dead in bed last Sunday morning, cause of death not known. It was buried Monday at Goshen. Many friends and relatives sympathize with the sorrowing father and mother.

Two weddings have taken place in McAdeville since our last letter. Mr. Frank Gore and Miss Ida Carter were married Thursday night, and Mr. Geo. Medlock and Miss Jennie Bingham were married Sunday morning.

Mr. J. B. Reid is now a resident of Gaffney, S. C. He has accepted a position with the Gaffney Cotton Mills.

Mr. W. M. Phillips, Brainer in McAdeville has returned to Fort Mill, S. C.

Dots From Dallas. Senator O. P. Mason came home Sunday to attend court. He will remain most of the week, and then return to Raleigh.

Mr. J. C. Poett, who has been quite ill for some time, has been dismissed by his physicians, and 'tis hoped by his friends that he will soon be out again.

Mr. John Holland, dispatcher for the S. A. L. E. Y. at Charlotte, is spending a few days with friends and relatives.

Court convened Monday, His Honor Judge Cobb, presiding. Solicitor Webb is the able prosecuting attorney. The following visiting attorneys are attending court: Col. H. C. Jones, D. W. Robinson, S. G. Finley, A. I. Quikie, Capt. G. F. Bacon, A. G. Mansum, W. H. Lewis, B. L. Durham, E. T. Canaler, E. L. Campbell, and B. Butler, of Gaffney, S. C.

Phons Rhyme, the murderer of T. G. Falls, was arraigned this morning, and made the plea of not guilty. The defendant having no counsel the court assigned Mr. D. W. Robinson, and Capt. G. F. Bacon, to defend him. Col. H. C. Jones and Senator O. P. Mason have been employed to assist Solicitor Webb in the prosecution.

Mr. B. Butler, of Gaffney S. C., who is to assist in the prosecution of Perry Williams, has been attending court this week. On account of the absence of Mr. Osborne, one of Williams' lawyers, this case has been continued till next term of the court, to be tried on the Thursday of the first week.

A. G. Bries and Supr. Nichols, of the C. & N. W. spent yesterday in town.

Mrs. Jacob Hamour, of Lincoln is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Hoffman.

Ex-Clerk G. H. Davis is assisting Clerk Cornwell this week.

Major E. P. McKissick, Battery Park Hotel, Asheville N. C., says: "Speaker Thomas B. Reed told me that he never in his whole life enjoyed anything in the shape of a story as he did Ralph Bingham's 'Tiresome Story' written at the Gridiron dinner, Washington, D. C. I thought I'd tell you, D. D. W. Reed and a lot of these big wigs would laugh themselves to death."

Old Furnace. On the first Saturday night in this month an out-house belonging to Mr. M. F. Pasour was burned. It was about fifty bushels of corn and 800 bundles of fodder belonging to Mr. Pasour. The building was insured with the Farmers' Mutual for forty dollars.

Rev. J. H. Millard, of Chester, S. C., will preach at Long Creek next Sunday.

Mr. B. M. Ormand, of the Southern, has been spending a day or two at his father's.

Little Salem school, D. F. Dellinger teacher, closed on Friday, and Turkey Hill, N. L. Houser, teacher, on Saturday last week. Miss Ella Torrence's school at Sunny Side closed on Wednesday of this week.

We were pleased to see a "cut" of Hon. L. E. J. Houser in the semi-weekly Observer of last Friday.

Deputy-Collector Loftis came up last Friday to "start up" W. T. Robinson.

We are pleased to note that Mr. M. S. Clemmer, formerly in the employ of the Morrow Mills at Gastonia, is succeeding with the Double Bronze Roller Mills much to the pleasure of the patrons and operators.

We hear that some of the "outside" boys did not behave very pretty at the last day of the Turkey Hill school.

Miss Sarah Byers, who has been staying at Mrs. M. A. White's for some time has gone to Mt. Holly.

Mrs. A. H. Rambeau's condition does not improve very much; she has about lost the use of one hand.

Rev. Mr. R. H. H. has an appointment to preach at Snyrna next Sunday at 11 a. m.

Messrs. J. B. and Miles Shannon came up through the mud on business one day last week.

A Novel Point of Law. A novel question was raised in the court of general sessions in Berkeley county last Friday, says a correspondent of the News and Courier. It was in the case of the State against Mary Childs, charged with arson. The defendant, an old colored woman, was prosecuted by her husband for burning his barn, adjacent to his dwelling. The testimony was entirely circumstantial, but strong. These old people had a disagreement, which resulted in the old woman leaving home and going to live with her son, about half a mile away. On the night of the fire parties going to the scene met the old woman coming away, who told them she was unable to cross the branch and was going to her son's house. The old man testified that he found tracks around the place next morning which he recognized as his wife's. At the conclusion of the testimony Messrs. Dennis & Dennis, representing the defense, called the court to charge the jury as follows: "If the jury believe from the evidence that the relationship of husband and wife existed between the defendant and the prosecutor, the owner of the barn alleged to have been burned, then, although it be proven that the defendant did burn the barn as is alleged, she must be acquitted, if it is not arson for either husband or wife to burn the house of the other, since in legal contemplation they are one person." The judge stated that this was good law, and a verdict was promptly rendered acquitting the defendant.

The Separate Car Law. Henderson Gold Leaf. This law will prove disappointing to the general public. There are some features about it. There are some no exception should be made of freight trains carrying passenger coaches. The mixing of the races on freight trains is really a source of greater trouble than while people and negroes riding together on regular passenger trains. Nor should any exception be made in the case of colored servants. This very thing of allowing "uppish negro servants to ride in the white folks' car, with their uppish employers"—to quote the language of the Gastonia GAZETTE, has done more to set the pace for negroes generally to intrude themselves than anything else. Let all the negroes go together and let people who have servants do like those who have none—wait on themselves and look after their children when traveling or else—don't travel.

How's Snow Dropped Off. Asheville Citizen. The cold weather during the past week, throughout the whole country, has rarely if ever been surpassed in severity. One of the unusual manifestations of the extreme cold was the dropping off of the ears of hogs in cars as they were being shipped alive from the West to the East.

The Chester Cotton Mills were sold last Monday for $22,500, the buyer being O. P. Heath of Charlotte. This is the third time, says the Lancers, that the property has been offered for public sale. First on November 17th, at an upset price of 500,000. Second on 30th of January, upset price of $42,500. The last upset price was $22,000. It is the intention of the new owners to start the machinery within 90 days, also to build a 10,000 spindle mill to spin their yarns.

I heard Ralph Bingham when he was 15 years old. At that time I had heard but one man who rivaled him as an elocutionist and dramatic reciter. That man is not now living. Since then Ralph has had seven years of experience and development, and if his powers were marvelous then they must be more so now. He is regarded by competent judges as without a rival in his line on the American platform. M. McG. SMITH, D.

Breakable!

In spite of all your warnings, the cook persists in breaking up your crockery. Of course this is provoking, but your mind is eased when you recollect that you can replace those ugly broken pieces with nice new patterns at a very small cost by calling on Ed Love. To-day we are opening up several hogsheads of brand-new ware; stock-patterns and fancy pieces—all of the very best make.

JARDINIÈRES

Some more of those pretty ones; assorted sizes. We know, and you know, from experience that these don't tarry long on our counters; so if you want one, don't be always in saying so. They are at
