Labor Day, (Monday) was observed in Gastonia by averybody working that Raleigh it to have another daily pa per. Mr. John Wilbur Jentins who has been connected with the Charlotte News for some time will have, charge of the editorial department.

The weather never gets too warm for Mayor Woodward of Atlanta to get on a spree. He makes his spola give and the council tries him again. This time be has handed in his resignstion to two of the councilmen and they can transmit it at their discretion. How long will Atlanta put up with this sort of thing ?

The platforms of both the political parties pay a tribute to labor. But hat the laboring man wants is not charity, nor compliments, nor favor, but alsoply justice.

Charity is benutifal but justice is no less so. If there was more of justice there would be less occasion for charity In this land of great resources.

In order to "keep the record" straight we wish to correct an error which appeared in the Charlotte Observer of Sept. 2. In an article headed "North Carolins Mills" the Baleigh adout gives a list by countier correspondent gives a list by counties of the various cotton mults in the State and gives Cleveland county the following mills which belong to Gaston coupty. King's Monatain Mfg. Co., Dilling Cotton Mills, Crowder's Mtn. Mills, Dallas Cotton Mills, Harden Cotton Mills and Stanley Cotton Mills, Several of the above are placed both in Cleveland and Gaston county

The Bouth Carolinians of the town, and by the way. there are quite a large number of them, took a great interest in the resent election in that State. see our exchanges to find out how things went in their different counties. Most of them would stay swhile and LDO SIL with us and give their reasons why they wanted to see Hoyt elected or why they though' Mooney ought to be re-elected. Being away from the scone of battle we could as the matter without partisanship. A South Carolinian dearly loves a political discussion and a close elec-tion. Even the pranchers down there can't keep out of the fight.

Correspondence of the Gasette. Raloigh N. C., Sept. 2.—The meet-ing here during the past week of the Outton States Association of State Commissioners of Agriculture was an interesting one. While only about a half-donen States were represented, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Wisson was present and the address wis delivered by bim, the State Commissioners and athers invited to do so (including President Wisston of the N. C. College of Agriculture and in-teresting.

A 9,000,000 BALE CROP OF COTTON.

A 9,000,000 BALE CROP OF COTTON. Probably the most important out-come of the meeting was the estimate, prepared and given out after careful anguiry and consideration, made of the size of the cotton crop for the year 1900 win. 9,354,800 bales. The crop of 1809, which was a short one itself, was estimated at 10,350,009 bales, so that the crop of 1900 will not be only one of the smallest of recent years but will be according to the esti-mate, nearly a million bales less than 1809, or to be exast, 883,000 bales less.

Morth Carolina is put down at 495,-2000 bulns which is considered a very liberal estimate for unless the bal-suce of the season is very propicious and the supply of labor (said to be short in many coonties) umple to pick 18, the grop this year will hardly reach those firmeres.

It, due grop this year will hirdly reach those figures. This short cropy means that our fur-ment eaght to and doubtless will re-ceive ten cents for all their cotton raised and marketed during the s-uson of 1900-1, and if the market does not of 1900-1, and if the market does not approach that figure at the start it will be good policy for every cotton grower who can do so to hold his cotton, and hold it as long as he cas. for the price is certain to reach ten cents before the meanon is far advanced. The foreign crop, especially in India on (account of the famine) is relatively even shorter than in the United States and of course the newler than usual. In addition to all these, and other be heavier than usual. In addition to all these, and other facts tending in the same direction, there has been an unprecedented growth in the cotton manufacturing business of this country particularly in the South, and hundreds of thousands of new spundle must be fed this year for the first time. So the increased price will largely compensate our far-mers for the damage done by the drought—I am very glad to be able to add.

SOUTH TO SET THE PRICE OF COTTON.

One of the most important and grat-One of the most important and grat-ifying points made by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and others was the declaration that the South now has more to do with setting the price of cotton than ever, and that it will eventually be in a position to do an ab-solutely, instead of having it set in Liverpool, Manchester and other Kog-lish manufacturing centers and in New York.

The change is being wrought largely The charge is being wrought largely through the rapid growth of cotton manufacturing in the South. The ca-timates of the growing crop each year should be made in the South also-at least the controlling one and this new Association of Cotton States Commis-Association of Cotion States Commis-sioners will largely figure in this here-after instead of having one man or firm in New York and one in New Orleans do it, with the chances of at-In the reseast election in that State. After puffing reflectively on his pipo for a moment or two he said half ques-tioningly: "I don't believe we've ever ran over anybody, Bill since you've been in the cab. "But it isn't the running over that mears you," he continued, though that is had enough. It's coming so all fired close to it and missing it that takes the tuck out of a man. After you once hit anything the worst thing you can do is to plow right along, but when can do is to plow right along, but when you see a man on the track and blow your whistle and shut off steam and put on the brakes and the man turns out to be deaf or drunk or something of the kind, then's the time you wish you were roaning a steamboat or a fire cogine.

"The closest shave I ever had was when I was pulling the president's special up to Albany. We were trying to make a record run. We had passed the Poughkeepsie bridge and were diing better than a mile a minute when I saw a man walking down the track toward us. MORTH CAROLINA MANUPACTURES ARROAD. North Carolina is certainly coming to the front rapidly, in the acquire-ment of a reputation with the outside world as a manufacturing State. Not only as the cotton manufacturing lead-er of the South, but along other lines. One new industry is especially attrac-ting attention at presents viz., the splen-did patent Electric Felt Mattrees man-ofactory of Mesura. Royall & Bordem at Goldsboro, whese claim of turning out the "most comfortable and best on the face of the certh," has just met with a great recognition at two of the greatest expositions of the year, one in New York State and mother is the West, and from other outside sources. The result is that these Felt mattrees-es (overy portion of the material as well as the beds themselves being made at Goldsboro) are now selling "like hot enkes" all over the country, and the manufactory, already a large concern, will acon develop into one of the big-gest is the country in order to supply the domand. All our home folks should proyide themselves with these splendid North Curolina bads, which are in the seach of sil, and if they with drog Messers.
