Petition in Beakraptey.

Petition in Bentrupiey.

Mr. Robert F. Rankin contractor and builder, filed a petition in bankruptcy last Friday. The scheduled assets amount to $6,000 and liabilities to $7.250. The precipitating cause, we are informed by Mr. Rankin, was his investment in the large plant of the Granonia Brick Company. It cost more than was at first contemplated, and there was not ready sale for the products. Creditors pressed their claims and in justice to all Mr. Rankin felt impelled to take the steps indicated.

At the home of the bride's father, Mr. Frank Helland, a pretty marriage was celebrated at 3.30 this afternoon. It was the marriage of Miss Sole Helland to Mr. Lee Davis. The ceremony was performed in a happy but impressive manner by Rev. W. J. Boger, pastor of the Lutherno distret. The marriage is not without a remantic side that has interested for some years the immediate friends of the lowers. Mr. riage is not without a remarkle side that hes interested for some years the immediate friends of the lawers. Mr. Davis was a soldier buy in the regular army, and was long separated from his devoted sweetheart. He was sent to Cuba, where he was wounded, and in the hospital contracted fever. When he rejoined his company he was again separated from his lady fair, having been sent to the Philippines. There his health was almost emopletely broken. Would be ever again see his aweetheart? Destiny nowweed, yes. A year ago his teem of service expired and he was discharged, below a first sergeant at the time. He cams home and was spending the year in Gastonia and as the hospital in Charlotte. Through all these unxieties his pretty sweetheart was always true to her lover. We give them both our best wishes, hoping that the event of this afternoon will bring them much and lasting bappiness. PERSONAL MENTION.

Cotton Mill for Belmont.

Belmont is to have a 5,000 spindle collete will capitalized at $100,000. The anoney is all within reach and the site has peen purchased. Mr. Robert Stowe, of the firm of Stowe Bruthers, is the chief promoter and will be secretary and Treasurer. The entire community is interested, the stock having been subscribed in small amounts by many people. Outside of the $10,000 taken by the promoters, the largest subscription is $5,000; the remainder was taken in smaller amounts. The site was purchased from Mrs. A. Stowe and Dr. W. W. Davis. Work will begin at an early day, Good luck to the new enterprise; may it eyer be attended by the prosperity which now seems to await it.

Memrs. De Vieney and Langley, while left Gastrola on the wing two weeks ago, have alighted at shifter any and will open there a fancy good business and caler to the fada and fatters of the latter. We wish then all auccess in this reffects and commend them both nurses wedly to the fashionable trade of their city. Home weeks ago we noted in these columns that Mr. De. Vieney had greatly enjoyed at a Selisbury hotel a plum-pudding that was served set after—just blusting—and we surmise that this must have aroused the decided partiality which dixed him and his partner down at that place.

A falling tree killed a young man named W. U. Dellinger, near Triangle, last Thursday atternoon. He was a son of Lerry Dellinger and had a brother who was a carpenter at the Lerry. He was 23 years of age, and was to have been married this week. The tree he was chopping down lodged in mother. In attempting to dislodge it he was capable and killed, living it he was caught and killed, living only about an hour afterwards.
