HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA.

Approach of the Season When Disease is Prevalent.

A sudden and startling increase both in this city and New York of deaths from pneumonia, and the appropriation in the latter city of $10,000 for the study of the disease, draws attention to the approach of the season when pneumonia is most prevalent. For the week ending the 17th instant the number of deaths in Chicago from "the new captain of the men of death" was 80 per cent. greater than for the corresponding week a year ago.

Pneumonia is the despair of the medical profession. While the death rate from many other diseases has been reduced, that of pneumonia has steadily increased. While in 1860 pneumonia claimed four out of every 10,000 Chicagoans and consumption twenty-five in 1900 twenty lives were lost to pneumonia for every fifteen to consumption.

Not only is there no specific for pneumonia, but many people are to an extent in the incipient stages of the disease without knowing it. This is due to the fact that the bacterium of pneumonia exists so commonly in the saliva of many healthy persons that it is considered "almost a normal inhabitant of the upper part of the digestive tract."

During the six months of the coming winter more than 2,190 persons in this city will become victims of pneumonia. Nobody will be immune from the annals of the death captain. It will be served upon the strong as well as upon the weak.

But there are certain rules of living which will reduce one's liability to the disease. From the bulletins of the health department and from other authoritative sources the following rules may be set down for observance:

Do not overheat the house. Most people habitually dwell in apartments the temperature of which is from 3 to 10 degrees too high.

Wear light underwear and heavy overcoats rather than heavy underwear and light overcoats.

Avoid mingling with crowds when extremely tired or when food has not been taken for a longer interval than usual.

Avoid becoming chilled when over-tired.

Admit into all rooms where you live and work plenty of sunlight and fresh air.

Keep warm when indoors, even if it is necessary to build fires in seasons when it is unusual to do so. Avoid indoor chill and dampness as much as possible.

For this reason be careful to remove the chill before moving into apartments freshly papered or calcimined.

Be careful during variable weather. Where there is continual cold or constant warmth the disease is little known.

If you have an attack of the grippe be unusually careful about your diet and about exposing yourself to the weather.

Neglected colds develop into pneumonia with startling rapidity.

Take plenty of exercise in the sunlight and fresh air. As good nursing is practically the only cure for pneumonia, so good living is practically the only preventive.

CARD OF THANKS.

My sense of gratitude prompts me make public expression of thanks to my neighbors for their kindness during the trials and afflictions through which myself and my children have been called to pass. The goodness of my friends and neighbors and their sympathy with us in our sorrow will always be a precious memory. God bless all of you who were so ready to help and comfort the sorrowing.

PRETTY AUTUMN WEDDING.

Mr. Kirkpatrick and Miss McLaughen Married Tuesday Afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Miss Kate McLaughen and Mr. John Watt Kirkpatrick were married at the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock. Their wedding was a social event of interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends. The church was thronged with spectators long before the hour for the ceremony arrived.

The decorations were as beautiful as they were simple. The pulpit, rostrum and recess beyond was a solid mass of green. The rostrum and floor were covered by evergreens, while from floor to ceiling beautiful ferns were banked in profusion, after the likeness of a steep knoll in some romantic spot decorated by the fingers of nature herself.

"Hearts and Flowers" was sweetly sung by Mrs. H. B. Moore while the throng was gathering. At the sound of the wedding march rendered with spirit by Miss Carrie Morris, Messrs. Mott Brown and James Holland entered the right aisle and Messrs. Laurence Miller and Roe McLaughen the left. When they had taken positions, the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Bess Gallant, entered the right aisle and were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. T. L. Kirkpatrick who, followed by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Reddish, had entered from the side door near the rostrum.

The two lovers stood before the minister and after a few impressive words by him upon the sacredness of the marriage tie, they spoke the vows which made them husband and wife.

The groom never looked happier or handsomer or bore himself with more ease and grace.

The bride, bright and winsome, wore a handsome tailor made suit of dark brown cloth, with hat to match, and carried bride roses and ferns.

The maid of honor was fair and pretty in a gown of cream voile, with black lace hat, and carried brides-maid roses.

After the ceremony the wedded lovers received the congratulations of their friends and left immediately, by way of Charlotte and Columbia, for Due West where they will spend a part of their honeymoon with the groom's mother, Mrs. A. G. Kirkpatrick.

The popularity of these well known young people was abundantly attested by the large number of friends who attended the wedding ceremony and by the numerous costly and very beautiful wedding presents they received.

Glenn a Favorite in Cleveland.

Cleveland Star.

Everybody likes "Bob" Glenn. The people who heard him speak in Shelby last week ate his enthusiastic friends. Some of our oldest citizens were here—many of them came upon the special invitation of the Democratic county chairman—and their presence was an inspiration to all, and Governor Glenn was delighted to see them. He is a fine campaigner, a born orator, and a man whose great heart beats in unison with the people of the State. His speech enthused everybody. Old men gloried in it; young men were inspired by it; the mothers cried over it and the young women were charmed by it. Oh, Glenn is a great and a popular favorite in Cleveland.

A Tribute to the Southerner.

As I grow older I have learned not only to respect and esteem, but to love the great qualities which belong to my fellow-citizens of the Southern States. They are a noble race. We may well take a pattern from them in some of the great virtues which make up the strength as they make up the glories of the free States. Their love of home, their chivalrous respect for women, their courage, their delicate sense of honor, their constancy which can abide by an opinion or purpose or an interest for their States through adversity and through prosperity, through the years and through the generations, are things by which the people of the more merciful North may take a lesson. And there is another thing—covetousness, corruption, the low temptation of money, have not yet found any place in our Southern politics.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK.

Dr. Hart's Fortunate Experience of Special Interest to Many in Gastonia.

The happiest man in New England to-day and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends is Dr. Philip Z. Hart, of Laconia, N. H.

For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form. Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river, for I grew worse and worse. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night, and had a dropping in the throat which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei." J. H. Kennedy & Co. are the local agents for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief.

The Political Apathy May not be Bad After All.

Charlotte Chronicle.

The lack of interest in political matters on the part of the general public this year is a matter of comment. Usually a presidential election year, above all others, brings out the people and arouses their enthusiasm to a high pitch, but this year apathy is the word all along the line. In speaking of the matter to-day, an observant gentleman said:

"I am not at all distressed over the failure of the people to become excited over politics this year. That shows that they have something else on their minds, and it is a good sign. It is not necessary for people to go wild over politics in order to 'save the country,' and when the country is in such condition that the people are too busy to attend all the political meetings it is safe to say that things are in pretty good shape. I am interested in politics, as all good citizens should be, but I have learned that political activity should not be a pre dominating characteristic of a plain citizen."

Passing of The Negro Steambottom.

Raleigh Post, 13th.

New Orleans, Oct. 12.—The passing of the negro as a "steambottom," marking an epoch in steambottoming on the Mississippi, was witnessed by a large crowd of people, who today saw sixty white men, sent here from western and northern cities, go to work at the steambottom landing in place of the colored men.

For years the steambottom men have suffered from the strikes of negro "rousters," who have been in the habit of waiting until a steambottom was loaded and ready to leave, and then refusing to ship unless their wages were raised.

The steambottom interests recently decided to try the experiment of doing away with negro labor and hiring white men, and the first contingent went to work today. A crowd of negroes appeared in the levee, but no attempt to molest the strangers was made. Precautions have been taken to send police to the river front in case of violence.
