FROM OLD FURRACE.

Old Furnace, Oct. 6.—We are aving fine weather for gather-ig cotton and peas.

do not know.

East Gaston is a hustling section, and every body is hard at work. No losiers to be found.

Moze McCowan, of Durham, has been turned out of jail for hitting a judge and the men of liast Gaston that have been at war with words for a week have calined down. Now all of them are about in their normal state. Very good, boys. Stay that way. It is not generally known that Gaston county has a splendid ing cotton and peas.

Mrs. D. R. Hawkins died Sept. 25th. She was the daughter of Mr. J. J. Boon. She was about 30 years old and had 2 children. Mrs. Hawkins had been confined to her bed for nine months. She was buried in the Kings Mountain cemetery. Rev. Penley preached the funeral sermon. A good mother, faithful wife and a true Christian is gone. She will be missed. All the neighbors went in and helped Messrs. Boon and Hawkins pick cotton last Wednesday. They picked two bales for them. of which are very good. Dogs eat up taxes like men that draw their salaries and do nothing.

Cavalry of Ozen.

Madagascar has a unique cayalry force in its army. The soldiers are mounted on long horned oxen instead of horses.
The oxen are trained to charge with heads lowered, and they have a formidable appearance as they go dashing forward with their long horns leveled at the party attacked. The oxen are easily trained, show little fear and have great power of endurance. M. Glea Fling in The Technical World Magazine
gives the following account of a practice drill of this cavalry which he witnessed: the Catawba river at one or more places in preference to building the road. But the Coloniel says all is well that ends well and that we will get the bridges and have the roads, too.

Mr. Flowers, of Mountain Island, has made several attempts to get what he claims to be his dog from Capt. Todd, who has refused to let him have it. Whereupon Mr. Flowers who has refused to let him have it. Whereupon Mr. Flowers says he is going to have him if it costs twenty-five dollars. Whoop 'em up boys! A dog fuss is a fuss right. We don't want to be in it; rather stand off and see the fur ity.

Mice Resie, the handsome

which he witnessed:
Charging with heads lowered is part of the drill, and an exciting part too for the onlooker. The mounted natives mounted on their oxen stand at attention some hundred feet apart from thirty more natives similarly mounted. At the given signal they rush at each other, the oxen with their heads lowered ready to strike, the natives with their spears grasped firmly and pears grasped firmly and fixed on the oncoming They come to a sudden about three feet apart, it right-about-face and a ready for the second

To one watching it seems as though the two corps must of a certainty go crashing into each other, and this is what sometimes does happen in the early drills. These accidents never critis. These accidents never result in serious misbaps, however, and amid great yelling or natives, sounding of bugles, snorting and stamping of oxen the cavalry is always brought back into position and order is once more wrought out of chaos.

The oxen are neither slow to seasily frightened, and they have proved most intelligent, learning their part of army life with remarkable rapidity and taking to it as naturally as a regular veteran charger. They are powerful beasts and possess great fortitude and endurance. Lacking fear is battle and advancing with great speed upon an opposing army, their horns Gazerre and see what we have The oxen are neither slow pointing forward, they would create great havoc among horse

The Catawba County News says: The Carolina and North-western south-bound passenger killed a fine Jersey cow belong-ing to Mrs. Gaul at Maiden Sat-urday afternoon. The ay afternoon. The train pulling into the station on the cow got on the track.

Boney Nelson, of Asheville, was run over and instantly killed by a freight train on the Southern Railway near Waynesville Saturday night. Nelson h a d been drinking, it is stated, and had gone to sleep lying on the railway track.

COSTLY COAL

"The civil war led to the establishment of a lot of little private coaling stations all over the world by thrifty persons who hoped that Uncle Sam's ships might come that way about the time that they needed coal real bad," said an old naval official. "The old Vanderbilt in 1868 had an experience of that eart. She was looking for the of that sort. She was looking for the Alabama like a good many more of the Federal ships, and she came to St. Helena just about the time that she was out of coal. The officers were de lighted to see a red headed Scotchmur itting on a coal pile on the deck, and they at once opened up negotiations with him. He demanded $30 a ton gold, and as the rate of exchange was then $2.85 this made the price $90 a ton of Uncle State's money.

"The officers protested and refused to take the coal. They put to sea, hoping to reach another port before their stock gave out, but after a run of a GAZETTE and see what we have to say about their country.

ericable British Tribute to th Ability of Relson.

The time has come when we can specially do honor to Kelaon'n memory without wounding the facilings of other nations. The first thing to be noted concerning him is that he is the only man who has ever fived who by universal consent is without a puer. In every walk of life except that which Nelson choice as his own you will find should be our farmers alogan.

Mr. Wilson, the sportsman of the chain gang force, has partly quit the boys and gone to picking cotton. Good for Jack; he is a hustler any way and we think will make his living about as easy one way as the other.

Some of our farmers are getting in their corn especially from low lands. The pea crop is good but not many picked. reval consent is without a pace. In every walk of life except that which Nesteno chose as his own you will find soveral competitors for the first place, each one of whom will have many experimen. Alexander of Macedon, Hammiliai, Caesar, Mariborough, Prederick the Great and Napoleon have been exceptly put forward for the pains of generality put forward for the pains of generality. To those who week account Richellen as the first of extremen obsers would oppose Chatham or William Fitt or Cavour or Bismarck or Marquis Inc. Who was the first of emission of hist of posts? Whe the first of painters? Who the first of posts? In every case there is a great difference of opinion. Asi, however, who was the first of naturals, and the manisons reply will still be.
