LOCAL AFFAIRS

Carnival of the seasons next Friday night. Hours 6 to 11.
A large number of visitors from Gastonia attended and enjoyed the Easter services at St. Mary's Sunday.
A note from Mr. N. F. Furr, in California, dated the 8th, says, "I am greatly improved and we leave here in a few days for the coast country."
We are glad to be able to print the centennial address of Rev. J. J. Kennedy at New Hope. Our readers will find it on the first page.
Make the carnival of the seasons a success next Friday night. It is given by the Daughters of the Confederacy and will help them in their laudable undertaking of honoring the old soldiers.
The local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. T. L. Craig. The meeting is an important one and every member should be present.
Some unknown friend at Long Shoals sent THE GAZETTE an Easter egg in last night's mail. The egg seemed to have a patch on it as if it had been repaired at some stage of its growth and was something of a curiosity in the office. We believe it is the first time we ever knew an egg to be sent by mail.
Fifty-seven years ago Sunday, Capt. W. I. Stowe had a good cry in Yorkville. He says he was a little boy in school then, ten years old. He had intended to go to Bethel communion on the 3rd Sunday in April, 1849, but when the morning came, behold, the ground was covered with snow. And his disappointment found more relief in tears than in snow balls.
Called to Leesville, S. C.
An invitation to the fifteenth commencement of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Chicago has just been received from Rev. Brady L. Stroup, and we tender our thanks for his kind remembrance. He is among the graduates, and on next Wednesday evening will deliver his graduating address on the "Nature and Necessity of Pastoral Visitation." He has accepted a charge at Leesville, S. C., upon which field of labor he will enter after graduation.

Under $200 Bond.
Vide Vitch, a young white boy who drives for Davis & Son was tried before Esquire C. W. Nipper at Lowell Saturday for the burning of Spencer Mountain and was placed under a $200 bond for his appearance at the next term of court. According to the facts, as we are able to learn, Vitch took several ladies to Spencer Mountain Friday afternoon and on his return threw away the but of a lighted cigarette which set fire to the leaves causing the fire.

League Meeting.
The regular literary and business meeting of the Epworth League of the Main Street M. E. church will be held in the League room Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject for the literary program is Tennyson's "Idyls of the King." There will be short addresses on the "Round Table" and Idyls of King and a sketch of the life of Tennyson together with selections from the Idyls. Special music will be rendered. Everybody old and young cordially invited to attend.

WE ARE SHOWING A BEAUTIFUL LINE OF SPRING TROUSERS FROM $3 TO $5 PER PAIR. COME TAKE A LOOK. J. M. Belk Comp'y

They are Coming.

"Whoop up the 4th of July celebration," writes a Gastonite in one of the central western states, "I hope to be with you on that occasion."

Communion Day Changed.

We are requested by Rev. W. A. Deaton to say that communion services at Antioch Lutheran church have been changed from the first Sunday in May to the 5th Sunday in April.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. R. C. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Adams and family deeply appreciate the kindness of their friends in their recent affliction, and return their grateful thanks for the many tokens of remembrance and Christian sympathy which helped them so much in the trying hours of deepest grief.

GASTONIA-RALEIGH WEDDING.

Mr. James D. Moore Will Wed Miss Redford, of Raleigh, Thursday, the 26th.

Cards for the marriage of Mr. James D. Moore, of Gastonia, and Miss Lydia L. Redford, of Raleigh, have been received in Gastonia. They read as follows: Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Lydia Lane.

Interest in this marriage is by no means confined to the home towns of the principal figures in it, for both are widely known and popular. The bride and the groom belong to prominent families, and have admiring acquaintances in many parts of the State, whose good wishes attend these two happy lovers.

The groom will be accompanied from Gastonia by his brother, Charles M. Moore, who will be his best man, and also by his sister, Mrs. Mary Morrow, and Misses Nell Smyre and Ethel Gray, with the following ushers: F. J. Smyre and L. C. Pegram, who will be joined at Charlotte by Mr. J. Oates Sprinkle. Mr. Clarence A. Johnson, of Raleigh, will also be an usher. Miss Josephine Brown, of Raleigh, will be maid of honor, and Mrs. W. G. Separk, of Raleigh, the dame of honor.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Moore and his bride will leave Raleigh for a week's trip to Richmond and Washington. When they return to Gastonia, they will make their home with the groom's mother, Mrs. J. D. Moore.

EASTER DINNER AT FALLS HOUSE.

Number of Invited Guests Enjoy the Elaborate Menu. The happy guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woodburn enjoyed a fine Easter dinner at the Falls House Sunday. The day was an ideal one. It was on the golden borderland between fading winter and flushing spring time, but with its face toward the sunshine, the song birds, and the flowers.

Iris and violets supplied the table decorations, the favors being boutonnières of violets. The following invited visitors were present:

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Sloan, Dr. R. M. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Marshall, Roger Marshall, Messrs. Jno. I. Bryan, Charles Ford, W. B. Morris, L. L. Todd, W. D. Lesley, Miss Jolia Marino, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Shivar of Columbia and Mr. E. A. Coffey, of Cincinnati.

- Following is the MENU.
Olives
Celery
Pickles
Cream of Fowl
Consomme
Sliced Tomatoes
Lettuce Hearts
Broiled Head with Potatoes
Roast Ribs of Beef
Roast Turkey with Dressing
Scalloped Oysters au Gratin
New String Beans
Steamed Rice
Asparagus
Cranberry Sauce
Stuffed Potatoes
Candied Yams
Stuffed Shell Peppers
Scalloped Wine
Salmon Salad
Pumpkin
Lemon Sherbet Cake
Nuts and Raisins
American Cheeses and Crackers

It was a delightfully satisfying menu and elegantly served. It was a good dinner, spread by a management that sets much store by good things to eat all the time, and was enjoyed to the utmost by everyone so fortunate as to be an Easter guest of Mr. and Mrs. Woodburn on this occasion.

One More.

We have been requested to add the name of Mr. Wm. Arrowood, of Bessemer City, to the list of living parents who had sons in the Confederate army. We do so with pleasure. Are there others?

Moved to Lowell.

Mr. J. B. Lutz, of Stanley, has moved to Lowell. He bought out the livery business of Mr. Dave Mitchem last week and went right into hustling. We hope Mr. Lutz will do a driving business and prosper in his new home.

The Last Roll-Call.

One by one the old soldiers are crossing over the river. Last Tuesday morning the summons came for Mr. Romulus Rollins, an aged soldier at Bessemer City. He was buried at Bessemer next day, amid many manifestations of deep sorrow. He leaves a widow and several sons.

Let us Forget.

Don't forget the carnival of the season, to be given next Friday night by the Daughters of the Confederacy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Craig. The Daughters are engaged in the worthy cause of honoring the old soldiers and of keeping alive memories of the cause they fought for. The admission fee of fifty cents allows entrance at all the doors of the four seasons where refreshment will be served to all who come. The hours are 6 to 11. A cordial welcome and a happy evening await you.

F. J. AND J. P.

They Hold Council of War Against the Dog That Killed the Turkey.

Seated in easy chairs in a shady corner of "Loufers Retreat" the other day, THE GAZETTE's representative spied F. J. and the J. P. in a low but very earnest conversation, and slipped into a seat nearby. The conversation subsided for a while, but was soon begun again in all earnestness. From what we were able to catch on the wing, it seems that somebody's dog had brutally murdered two of P. J.'s fine turkeys and he was seeking advice from the J. P. as to proper procedure for obtaining the necessary revenge.

By close attention the following conversation was heard:
"It's murder in the first degree," demanded P. J.
"No, it's a case of turkeycide," corrected the J. P.
"It's forcible trespass, too," added P. J.
"Then get a search warrant," said the J. P.
"It's destruction to private property," continued P. J.
"Then sue for damages," suggested the P. J.
"There's too much damage now," answered P. J.
And it was finally decided to get a shot-gun warrant. The J. P. deputized P. J. to serve it, and if this does not cover the case a trial suit will be made with chemicals and crushed glass.

Real Estate.

The Gastonia Insurance and Realty Company has purchased a tract of land on Franklin Avenue in the rear of the Avon Mill from Mr. Sherman Robinson. The tract will be graded and divided into ten residence lots which will be offered for sale on easy terms to prospective builders.
