W. F. MARSHALL, Editor and Proprietor.

$1.50 a Year In Advance

?````

VOL. XXVII.

Devoted to the Protection of Home and the Interests of the County. GASTONIA, N. C., TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1906.

"Portune's wheel turbs heat for him-If we but knew it— Who always puts, with all his vim. His shoulder to it."

And the main impetus of making the wheel of Fortune roll the way you want it is Saving. But there are ways and ways of saving. :: ::

Depositors Receive Every Consideration

CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK

with it.

-Cheering Turns to Screams and the upper stories of the as Wedding Cortege Was Re. buildings nearest were smattered turning From Church Amid Acciamations of the Multitude.

Charlotte Observer.

Madrid, May 31.-The public rejoicings over the marriage of King Alfonso and Princess Victoria had a terrible dramatic sequel at 2:30 this afternoon, when a bomb thrown from an upper window exploded with deadly effect near the coach occupied by the King and Queen. Providentially, King Alfonso and Queen Victoria escaped by an electric wire deflecting the bomb, but at least 16 persons, most of them being of the personal and mil-itary escort, and the others spec-tators, were killed. Many others were injured. The following are the killed:

Captain Barros, commanding part of the King's escort, Lieuten-ant Reysient, Lieutenant Prendergast, six soldiers, the Mar-quis of Colosa and daughter, Don Antonia Calvo and niece aged 6 years, Josa Sola, 70 years of age, Luis Ponseea, one royal groom who was leading a horse drawing the coach carrying the King and Queen.

Several of those killed were standing on the balcony of the house from which the bomb was throwu.

The explosion occurred just as the royal couple were about to enter the palace. The route boy who has been giving the auof the cortege had been diverted thorities so much trouble during from Arsenal street to Mayor the past few weeks, and who put street, owing to the popular desires. The possession had just passed through Mayor street and was about to turn into the esplane leading to the palace brought him in Tucsday afterwhen an explosion shook the noon and turned him over to that they were drawn by only building in the vicinity, stunning a large number of people It turned out as already sug- rule. inextricable confusion.

ENTERED ANOTHER COACH.

The royal coach was brought to a sudden stop by the shock, officers and soldiers of the escort falling to the ground about the equerry and horses that had been killed. The screams of the terrified multitude mingled with the groans of the dying. It was immediately seen that the royal coach was intact ex-cept as it had been damaged by flying splinters.

King Alfonso immediately alighted and essisted Queen Victoria out of the carriage. They then entered another coach and were driven swiftly to the palace.

DELIRIOUS OVATION GIVEN. All this happened so quickly time during the race; but after-that people away from the im-mediate vicinity were not aware of the tragedy that had been Sheriff Quinn was approaching chain their sovereigns. Soon, however, there appeared the empty royal coach with two horses missing and the others spattered with blood, several of on his pursuers and was only them bleeding from wounds, about one mile from the starting The grooms and drivers looked deathly pale in their spangled uniforms. Then came a boy shouting that the bomb had been thrown at the King. The appearance of the King and Queen in a cosch brought out delirious ovations as the fact eigns had been spared. In the meautime the scene of the tragedy presented a horrible spectacle, with dead men and horses lying about, literally torn to pleces. Intense excitement prevailed, the mob invading the streets while the forces of the streets while the forces of the grard sought to maintain. guard sought to maintain or-der and block the approach-ing streets. The bodies were wrapped up in blankets and removed on litters while the

was recognized that the sover-

BOMB AT YOUNG ROYAL PAIR. wounded were carred to hospi Wire Spoils Aim, But 16 Perish ment was covered with blood

> FIRND KOT YET KNOWN. The place from which the bomb was thrown is a boarding house. The chamber from which the missile was hurled was taken May 22d by a man from Barcelona, giving the name of Moral. When the police surrounded the house the man attempted to fice. but was captured. Another man escaped over the roofs of houses.

According to an official statement, it is not known whether one or more bombs were thrown. The statement continues that it is impossible to ascertain at present the author of the outrage, though it is known that a Catalonian named Manuel Duran took an apartment in the house from which the bomb was thrown May 22d, paying in advance with 500-peseta bill. He was well dressed, of elegant appearance and showed a fondness for Frederick W. Whitridge, the American special envoy, went to the Royal Palace, where he was assured that the King and Queen were reasonably tranquil, considering the circumstances.

Mr. Whitridge called at the Foreign Office and on behalf of the United States expressed profound sympathy with the Span-ish sovereigns and people.

Surrendered to the Law.

ously hurt as the result of the charges of bird shot that were fired at him by one of the officers seeking his arrest. He was considerably peppered about in spots, but owing to the distance and the small size of the pellets, he suffered but little inury. He was a little feverish Tuesday; but that passed away Tucsday night and now he is all right. Questioned as to why he ran from the officers, Frank asserted that be thought they wanted to kill him. He was not very talk-ative on Tuesday; but later, as he began to realize that he was not to be harmed, he showed a little more confidence and talked some about the race. He appeared to have been lost at one ward showed up again, and he said this was because Deputy Sheriff Quinn was approaching

The boy's father, George Wilsou, is a law-abiding negro; but he has had no control over Frank for some time. The boy has been tunning wild under the influence of some negroes of the neighborbood who live by selling liquor, gambling, and other forms of lawlessness. It is quite proba-ble that other arrests will be

Notice is hereby given that I have this day sold my interest in the mercantile business of J. W. Harrill & Co., at the Loray mill to J. II. Wood Company and have withdrawn from the firm. J. II. Wood & Company assume all indebtedness and will collect all accounts.

ROYAL WEDDING IN MADRID.

King Allease Weds Princess Ena and the Bride is Hailed With Glad Acclaim as the New Queen of Spain.

Madrid, May 31.—As King Alfonso and Princee Victoria were pronounced man and wife Cardinal Sancha in the church of San Jeronimo the news was signaled to the waiting crowds and all Madrid broke into frantic demonstrations of joy. while cannon boomed and church bells chimed.

Entering the royal coach, the King and Queen of Spain returned to the palace amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm, the througs shouting "Long live Queen Victoria." Princess Victoria came from fasted together in the blue salon of the ministry.

The wedding cortege started from the Royal Palace at 9:30 a. m. amid the ringing of church bells, the firing of artillery sa-lutes and the clamorous enthusiasm of the crowds massed along the route. Alread rode trumpeters in crimson velvet suits of the time of Philip III, sounding the approach of the royal party. Following them came the person-nel of the royal household.

SPANISH GRANDERS' COACHES. Next came a long line of gala coaches of the Spanish grandees, each of a distinctive color, with panels richly painted, gilded and jeweled, and drawn by magnifi-cent horses in silver harness, adorned with tall plumes matching the livery

But the brilliancy of this part of the cortege was far surpassed when the famous gala coaches came into view, each drawn by eight superb white horses with golden and silver harnesses and lofty colored plumage, looking like the coaches depicted on some illuminated page of a fairy book. They were drawn by teams of six and eight white horses, well matched and of the finest breeds.

About these glittering vehicles circled retinues of grooms, pages, heralds and others in the showy uniforms of Louis XIV.

DAZZLING ARRAY OF PRINCESS. The coaches of the Spanish grandess were hardly less remarkable than those of the royalty, the main difference being Pollowing the coaches of the ces, including the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Archduke and Archduchess Francis Ferdinand of Austria, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Vladimir of Russia, Prince Albrecht of Prussia, and Prince Alberr of Belgium and represntatives of all the royal houses of Europe.

THE ROYAL COUPLE.

Closing this dazzling array of Princes appeared a coach bearing the royal crown in which were seated King Alfonso, his witness, Prince Carlos, and the King's little nephew, Prince Alfonso, the actual heir to he throne of Spain.

His majesty could plainly be seen smiling and bowing to the popular greetings. He wore the uniform of a field marshal.

Immediately following the royal coach came the birde's party, forming another glittering array of gala coaches, bearing the lords and ladies in waiting and the Princes and Princesses of the House of Battenberg, and finally came the famed mahogany coach with the radiant bride, Princess Victoria, attended by her mother and Queen Maria Christius.

BRIDE FRANTICALLY CHEERED. The appearance of the Princese, who was about to become their Queen, aroused the people to the highest pitch of emotion, men and women cheered and shouted friendly salutations, while others from the balconies while others from the balconies of the houses along the route showered flowers on the Princeases, and let loose hundreds of pigeons carrying long bright streamers. The bride looked most charming and graciously acknowledged the continued ovations.

On reaching the Chamber of Deputies the cortege came in the palest pink and white sating foundard in a small design. Another beautiful visiting dress is of fine white Valenciennes lace and ivory-colored cleth. That's the way I always get off That's the way I alw sight of the church of St. Jeronimo el Real, which was maguificently adorned for the cere-mony. Over the entrance was suspended an immense cauppy of red and yellow velvet, em-broidered with Spanish escutcheons and supported on gold-tipped lances. Awaiting the bridal party stood lines of hal-berdiers and palace guards.

The massed bands played the Spanish national anthem as the bridal couple, with measured steps, passed within the church. The interior of the church presented a scene of rare beauty as the royal couple entered. Two richly gilded arm chairs of marvelous workmanship occupied the dais, on which also rested two soft silken cushious upon which the bridal couple kuelt. Immediately facing the throne were gilded divans, on which the Pardo Palace to Madrid carly in the morning, accompanied by her mother, Princess Henry of Battenberg, the Infantas, the Princes and Battenberg and ber ladies of the members of the Battenberg honor and escorted by a regi-ment of the Royal Guards. The side them were the foreign Prinbride's party was installed in the ces, Archdukes and Grand Dukes Ministry of Marine, which had in their richest court gowns, been sumptuously prepared for her. There the Princess put on wedding dress and Queen cls and with filmy white mantil-christina greeted the bride, las floating over the head and after which the ladies break-shoulders, mantillas being rigidly required. Mr. Whitridge, the American special envoy, who was in even-ing dress, sat among the other envoys, and Minister and Mrs. Collier were seated with the resident diplomats. The wife of the American minister, who was the only American woman present, wore a l'arisian court gown of white lace over white satin, embroidered with silver roses.

As the royal couple entered the assemblage arose and two hundred choristers intoned a processional hymn. The King looked calm, happy, and slightly pale, as usual.

A CHARMING BRIDE.

The bride entered with her mother, brother and Queen Christina, the silver embroidery of her wedding dress being re-flected by the myriad of lights until the bride seemed to be robed in jewels. Her veil, slightly drawn aside, revealed her clear, fine features with cheeks full of youthful color.

The King advanced to meet the bride and they stood together as the marriage service began. The ceremony was performed with all the impressiveness of the Roman ritual, Cardinal Sancha Archbishop of Tolcdo, robed in crimson silk, officiating, assisted by a special nuncio of the Pope and the highest dignitaries of the church, with scores of acolytes and inceuse-burners. The ceremony, which lasted nearly an hour, termi-nated with a nuncio pronouncing the Pope's benediction fou the newly married couple and the chauting of the Te Deum.

THE BRIDAL TROUSSRAU. Except the wedding dress, all Spanish Princes and Infantas the bridal troussean of robes, were those of the visiting Prin- cloaks, evening and tea guwns petticoats aud underlinen, was made in London, where many of the dresses have been on exhi-bition. Some of the articles of this queenly trousseau are described as follows: A dainty dress of white mousseline de soie flowered with miniature roses. A morning gown is of fine spotted lawn over palest blue, inset with Valenciennes laces. A beautiful princess robe is in spotted lawn made to wear over many different colored slips. A charming pale blue China silk empire morning robe is fastened in front with blue rosettes and ends. Another morning gown is of white lawn over pale blue, inserted at equal distances with Valenciennes lace. A smart morning gown is composed entirely of English embroidery in a very open work design. Among the simple gowns are many composed of linen. The bodices in many instances are made after the American blouse style, with touches of red and blue emstances are made after the American blouse style, with touches of red and blue em-broidery. One of the many broidery. One of the many dressing jackets is made of the palest blue and white zenaca edged with quaint silk embroidery. A bandsome day dress is composed of ivory crees de composed of ivory crepe de chine, the bodice arranged with the finest Guipure lace and tucked squares of crepe de chine, the centres of which are delicately embroidered with colored rosebuds and set togeth-er with insertions of Valencienbeautiful one of palest pink mousseline de soie made in the empire style. Another is a pale yellow empire gown veiled with lines de soie. The large bell sleeves are entirely of frills of lace, and round the short waist are pale yellow ribbons threaded through embroidery. There is a handsome evening coat of pale biscuit-colored faced cloth, with a loost composed of Vol. with a hood composed of Val-enciennes lace dyed to match the cloth. Among the evening gowns is a short-waisted one of pale maise mousseline. Auother empire evening gown is of white silk mousseline flowered all over with tiny clusters of pink roses. The underlinen is made of the finist ninon trimmed with real Valencienues lace and fine em-

all the garments. TIDE WEDDING PRESENTS.

broidery. The initials of the royal bride surmounted by the Spanish crown are worked on

The presents for King Alfonso and his bride are arriving from all quarters of the globe, from countries and their rulers, from provinces and cities, and even from school children of Spain who have contributed their mite to show their loyalty to the King Spain show their loyalty their mite to show their loyalty to the King. Some of these gifts are as follows:

The Queen Mother presents the King with her portrait painted by Moreno Carbonero. The city of Madrid gives an enduring present to the bride by establishing a workmen's quarter which is baptized in the name "Oncen Victoria Eugenia." name "Qucen Victoria Eugenia." The mayor of Madrid bas invited all the mayors of Spain to sign an artistic album expressing their homages to the young couple. The manufacturers of Barcelona have presented the bride with a diadem of diamonds valued at 150,000 peretas ($30,

The presents from royalty are notable usinly for their cleintrinsic worth, although some of them are of great value. The Emperor of Germany sends some splendid hunting trophies inade of the heads of wild boars and stags which Alfonso killed during his hunt in the imperial hunting preserves of Germany, France sends some of the finest productions of Sevres porcelain and the Gobelin tapeatry facto-ries. The Spaniards of Argen-tina cabled to the famous sculp-tor, Mariana Beulliur, ordering busts of Alfonso and the bride in marble or bronze, and transmitting 50,000 pesetas ($10,000). Queen Christina presents the bride with a priceless court mantle which belonged to Queen isabel II of dark red velvet wonderfully embroidered in gold. The bride's presents from the Spanish aristocracy include many historic jewels, fine old fans laces and porcelains. fans, laces and porcelains. The daughter of the Duke of Alba sent her a gold waist buckle set in rubles. The presents from sympathy with which they receive the foreign Princess. The school teachers throughout the country have subscribed a large amount for a sumptuous edition of Don Quixote, accompanied by a message of felicitation on

The friends of the King at Biarritz have united in making a truly royal gift of the Villa Mouriscot and its aplendid estate, where the royal court-ship began. The Ruglish resi-dents are vieing with the Span-iards in giving presents, the English colonies of the interior towns having raised $100,000 pesetas ($20,000) for a diamond and pearl necklace. Many of the presents from rulers and States are not yet announced.

A Habit With Him.

Kunnas City Times. There was a business man in a little western town who never time or another almost every in-habitant of the village had had a quarrel with him. One day the old lion tried to board a train which did not stop. He was thrown a great distance and tell in a beap on the track in the rear of the departing train. The group of villagers on the depot platform thought that their beat distance and the second track the second track the second track the second track reditary enemy had been killed before their eyes and were ready to drop all their bitter prejudices

SUMMER WEIGHT

Ready-Made Shirt Walsts

Large and complete line from Sir to $5.00.

Ready-Made Wash Suits

In great variety from $1.50 to $2.50.

Walking Skirts

In all kinds, weights, and qualities, $1.50 to $10.00.

Summer Dress and Wash Goods

These are delightful thin goods, light and cool, for summer wear, in light woolens and thin wash fabrics. A rich profusion from which to do your choosing

MIELINERY

JAMES F. YEAGER

Anybody can Keep a shoe store-

JNO. F. LOVE, Inc.

PROFITABLE PRINTING

Our printing is the kind that keeps old customers and grips new ones, to their own pleasure and profit.

THE GAZETTE PRINTING HOUSE is Printing of Every Description MAIN STREET, GASTONIA, M. C.

J. A. LILES

J. A. LILES, Gastonia, N. C Residence, Near West And Church

PITTSBURG

VISIBLE TYPEWRITER The Only Perfect Machine Mac Visible Writing; Strong Manifolder; Universal Key-board; Light Touch-Rapid Action.

PRICE $75

I REACHES HE DEMANDS OF BUSIN

Unexcelled for billing and tabulating

PI SBURG WRING MACHINE Co.

GAZETTE PRINTING HOUSE, LOCAL AGENCY.