TUESDAY, MARCH, 26, 1907.

United States Senator James R. Burton, of Kansas, was released Saturday from the jail at Fronton, Mo., after serving a sentence of five months. He was tried and convicted of accepting fees for practicing before departments at Washington for clients. He arrived at his home town, Abilene, Kan., Saturday night and was accorded a royal welcome. After an informal reception at his home he and his wife drove to the theatre where he delivered a stirring address on "Why I Was Prosecuted." He lays the blame for his trial, conviction and imprisonment at the doors of President Roosevelt. He says that shortly after he was placed in prison he was offered a pardon but declined to accept it. It is stated that Senator Burton will edit a newspaper. He evidently intends to tell the world that he is a persecuted man. Judging from the cordial and friendly reception accorded him on his return home, it is to be taken for granted that his fellow citizens of Abilene have great confidence in him.

DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION.

An Immense Cow.

The Gazette welcomes to its advertising columns this week the North State Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Kinston, N. C., of which Mr. J. H. Terry is representative in this territory, being manager of the local branch. The cartoon which forms a part of their advertisement is a very striking one and tells a great story in itself. Look it up and read it.

Mr. and Mrs. Workman Bereaved.

Nancy May, the eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Workman, died this morning at 12.10 after a week's illness with peritonitis. The funeral exercises are being conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bereaved parents by Rev. R. C. Anderson and the little form will be laid to rest in Oakwood Cemetery. The pallbearers are Messrs W. Y. Warren, W. F. Michael, S. A. Robinson and J. H. Kennedy.

Peoples Meeting.

A large congregation was present at the initial service of the peoples meeting inaugurated at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Three united with the church at that time and one last night, when the church was again nearly filled with interested listeners. Services are being held each evening at 7.45 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend. Considerable interest is being manifested and much good will no doubt result. The pastor, Rev. R. C. Anderson, is doing the preaching.

$5,000 for Special Work.

At the conclusion of his lecture on Korea in the Main Street M. E. church Friday night, Rev. J. R. Moose, the Korean missionary who is at home on a year's leave, announced that he would begin to receive subscriptions for a new special work in Korea. Mr. Moose stated that he would require subscriptions of $25 or more for each name, and that of others I receive, since his relief came with last summer, appetite and digestion large amounts I am no longer constant in Korea and am gaining flesh. MILLINERY OPENINGS.

The Ladies' Hearts Made Glad by a Feast of Fashionable Headwear—The Easter Openings.

It is here—the Easter season, of course; and they are here—that is to say again the spring millinery openings, of course. This announcement will not cause a panic among the cold-blooded, unimaginative, unromantic, unsentimental members of the male population but it is of vital import to the fairer sex and this week, whatever else is left undone, it is safe to say that the Easter bonnets will receive their need of attention. The displays this season are unusually good—so the ladies say and we take their word for it implicitly. We could not prove it or disprove it to save our life because we just simply don't know anything about ladies' hats. They all look alike to us, or rather we intended to say we never saw two that looked alike. But they are all pretty.

J. M. Belk Co's.

A horseshoe stands for good luck; it always has and always will. The one entering the millinery department at the big stores of the J. M. Belk Company's walks under a horseshoe fashioned of violets and illuminated by an electric globe. It is an omen of good luck to the one who enters thereunder, for he or she is being ushered into a bower of loveliness, there to feast the eyes upon creations of headwear which are indeed most bewitching and beautiful. Lavender and green are the colors used in decorating these millinery parlors and well was the work done. Under the skilled hand of Miss Kreglow, now beginning her fourth season as head of the millinery department of these stores, everything has been arranged to a queen's taste and the hats, things of beauty within themselves, are displayed to the very best advantage. Assisting Miss Kreglow are Miss Bessie Johnston, Miss Lyda Adams, Miss Lois McAllister and Miss Willie Bradley, all young ladies who have experience in this line. The opening began this morning and continues through Thursday. The most popular styles of the season are the mushroom and little sailor effects. The leading shades are champagne and brown. This firm has a larger assortment of the Gage hats this season than ever before. The airship shape is also something new this season. Styles, shapes and shades are here in an endless variety; they must be seen to be appreciated.

Yeager-McLean Mfg. Co.

The annual Easter millinery opening at this store will take place tomorrow and Thursday. The showing of fashionable hats will be larger and more brilliant than ever before at this popular establishment. More about the new creations, the styles, colors etc. will appear in this column Friday.

Misses Ruddock.

The Misses Ruddock have long been identified with the millinery business in Gastonia and as usual they will have on display this season an extremely attractive line of the newest and prettiest creations in headwear. Their opening takes place tomorrow and Thursday, in their rooms over the Lucas Company's.

Holy Week.

This being Holy Week there will be evening prayer, litany and evening meditation at St. Mark's Episcopal church this evening and Wednesday evening at 5 o'clock. Similar services were held last evening. On Good Friday there will be morning prayer, litany and sermon at 10 o'clock. On Easter day there will be morning prayer and sermon at 11 a. m. and a children's service at 4 p. m. Quite an interesting program, consisting of Easter recitations, carols, etc., has been arranged for this occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend all of these services which will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hardin.

Agent at Lowell.

Mr. John Cloud, of Chester, S. C., has been appointed depot agent for the Southern at Lowell, succeeding Mr. J. R. Busch, who was recently sent there to take the place of C. C. Inman, resigned. He took charge yesterday. He has moved his family to Lowell and is occupying the house belonging to Miss Nellie Roseman. The force has also been increased, a clerk being added. Heretofore there have been two men on in day time, the agent and the operator, and one at night. Now there are three in day time, the agent, a clerk and an operator, and one at night, a combined agent and operator. Mr. Cloud is an experienced railroad man having been in the offices at Chester for several years.

$600 Wanted.

The management of the baseball team wants $600 this year in order to give Gastonia a good team. There will be no great expense connected with the team this year as the grounds will need very little attention, but the other running expenses will be much higher this year than before on account of the scarcity of good men. Already more than half of the above amount has been subscribed and the remainder will be forthcoming. Gastonia will have a good team. The Gazette expects to name a partial line-up next week.

Up Against It.

One of our rural free delivery route carriers going out from Gastonia is up against it. He wants someone to go over the route with him in order that he may have some assistance in cleaning out the wasp nests from the mail boxes he serves. On this particular route the owners of boxes have allowed these insects to build their nests in the boxes and every time the carrier deposits mail in them he has to fight it out with the miscreants, often getting the worst of the scrap. The carrier wants some one to go with him but, as the regulations don't allow another person to reverse the route with the carrier, he is up against it himself.

The Bennettsville "Shoofly" train on the Atlantic Coast Line was wrecked at Parkton Friday and several persons were more or less injured.

L. E. Davis, a former revenue officer, was convicted in Federal Court at Greensboro Friday and sentenced by Judge Boyd to serve one year and one day in the Federal prison at Atlanta.

A forest fire which started near Stuart's, Va., Friday swept over Patrick and portions of adjoining counties, destroying an immense amount of property and endangering many lives.

There is an apparently well founded rumor that Josiah William Bailey will retire as editor of The Biblical Recorder, the organ of the North Carolina Baptist Convention, and that Rev. C. W. Blanchard will succeed him. Mr. Bailey declines to say anything about the matter. There is much conjecture as to what Mr. Bailey will devote himself to. He is recognized as one of the most brilliant writers or speakers in the State.

—Mr. Lamar Pegram returned this morning from Charlotte where he has been assisting the management of the Charlotte National Bank by holding down the position of assistant cashier recently made vacant by the defection and disappearance of Francis H. Jones.

—Dr. J. G. Kennedy, of Allegheny, Pa., who has served the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church for the past seven weeks, leaves for his home to-day. Dr. Kennedy, who has been sojourning in Gastonia on account of his health, has greatly endeared himself to the people here and especially to the congregation which has heard his masterly sermons for the past several weeks. Dr. Kennedy can be assured of a hearty welcome when he desires to return to Gastonia.
