TOUR OF THE COTTON BELT.

Mass Meetings in All the Cotton States Will Hear President Jordan on His Investigations in Europe.

Special to The Gazette.

Atlanta, Ga., July 11.—President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, announced to-day that, beginning the latter part of July he would address mass meetings in every State of the cotton belt. President Jordan will discuss his investigations in Europe in regard to the baling, handling and marketing of American cotton.

He will urge on the farmers the necessity of as slow a movement of cotton as possible in order to maintain a high level of prices. In this connection, Mr. Jordan declared that the price of cotton next fall, he believed, would be the highest in twenty years.

The first of the mass meetings will be held in North and South Carolina. On July 19 he will speak at Garner, Wake county, N. C., and at Raleigh on July 20. Meetings will be held at Spartanburg, S. C., on July 30, Union on July 29, and Gaffney on July 31.

Leaving these two States, Mr. Jordan will go to Texas, and in that State he will speak at ten of the largest cotton concentrating points in the State. Leaving Texas he will go to Arkansas, thence to Louisiana, then to Mississippi and Alabama, and will finish his campaign in Georgia in the latter part of August.

Mr. Jordan will be accompanied on his tour by General Organizer E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, commonly known as the "Cyclone Orator" of the Southern Cotton Association. Mr. Jordan and Mr. Smith have the co-operation of all the State presidents and the members of the executive committee of the association.

Asked what he thought of the prospect for cotton next season, President Jordan said:

"It is fine. I believe we shall realize prices higher than we have received for twenty years. Every indication points to that fact, and I shall especially urge on the farmers in my speeches the necessity of a slow movement so as to maintain as high a level of prices as possible."

President Jordan said that he expected good attendances at the meetings. He asks the general co-operation of the press in this great farmers' movement.

President Jordan's observations on his European trip will be of more than usual interest to cotton growers. While abroad he took particular pains to study cotton conditions there as they affected the buying and manufacture of the staple.

He saw and compared the foreign cotton with American, and compared their methods of baling. He talked with manufacturers, and learned their needs. He also noted interesting things about European business methods as compared with American.

These observations he will embody in the series of speeches he proposes to make through the cotton belt. He will also observe crop conditions in the belt.

YORK AND YORKVILLE

What's Doing Among our Neighbors Just Across the Line.

Yorkville Inquirer, 9th.

The Victor Oil Co's ice sales ran over five tons last Saturday. It was the biggest day's sales of the season.

Misses Irene Loughridge and Essie Lindsay of Gastonia, and Miss Sallie Atkinson, of Lowryville, have been spending some days with the family of Mr. C. H. Smith.

Miss Rosa Lindsay has sold several hundred post cards of the Confederate monument and has quite a number on hand. They constitute a very nice advertisement for Yorkville and should be generally scattered.

The Carolina and North-Western railroad had more business than it could attend to in connection with its Fourth of July excursions. There were more applications for transportation than could be accommodated and all the trains ran late. There is a good deal of kicking up the road on account of the disappointment to which so many people were subjected.

The work on the addition to the Neely Manufacturing company's plant is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and will be two stories high, finished with concrete blocks, and will contain rooms for offices for the president, secretary and superintendent.

It is pretty generally conceded that the Fourth of July celebration under the auspices of the local camp of Woodmen of the World was one of the most successful that has been held in the Piedmont during a good many years past. Practically all the local business men, including those who for one reason or another did not participate actively, are agreed that the show was a much bigger thing than they had anticipated and everybody is not only proud of it, but generous enough to give the Woodmen committee, Messrs. Wray, Miller and Wilborn full credit for their splendid work. While altogether the town probably spent more than a thousand dollars on the day's entertainment it is a fact that the committee had only about $75 at its disposal. The subscriptions were not what they should have been; but the fact that so much was done with so little is all the more to the credit of the committee. It is too long off to say what will be done next July. The present idea, however, is that there will be another celebration then. A number of people have seen how the celebration of last Thursday could be many times enlarged with a little additional expense and the probability is that there will be a programme the next Fourth that will keep things in a hum all day.

Mr. R. L. Durham, Author.

The following from The Charlotte News of July 4 will be of interest to many of the Gazette's readers, as Mr. Durham was formerly a resident of Gastonia, having practiced law here a number of years:

"Mr. R. L. Durham has just returned from a trip to Boston, where he closed a contract with L. C. Page & Co. for the publication of a book of fiction which will make its appearance about Feb. 1st. The city editor of The News has had the pleasure of reading Mr. Durham's story in the manuscript, and is willing to risk his prophetic powers in the prediction that the story he has written will be a tremendous seller from the jump. The book will be a winner because of its clear and compelling style. No more may be said at the present until the book comes from the publisher's hand. It is a pleasure to see young men of the South, and especially so close to home developing in the field of literature."

WAR ON TRUSTS.

Government Takes Action Against Tobacco Monopolies.

An associated press dispatch of July 10 from New York says: The government to-day filed in the United States circuit court in this city a petition against the American Tobacco Company, the Imperial Tobacco Company, British American Tobacco Company, American Snuff Company, American Cigar Company, United Cigar Stores Company, American Stogie Company, MacAndrews and Forbes Company, Conley Cigar Company, and 56 other corporations and 29 individuals connected with the above named companies.

These corporations and individuals constitute what is generally known as the "tobacco trust" and the petition directed against them sets forth the purpose of the government to dissolve this trust by breaking up the agreements under which the consolidated concerns are working.

The State Board of Education has definitely decided that the new Eastern Training school shall be located at Greenville.
