NOW IN FULL SWING.

Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition Complete in All Details.
BEAUTIFUL COLONIAL CITY.
A Veritable Dreamland to the Visitor. In the Matter of Interesting Features Jamestown Leads All Other Expositions—Army and Navy Display.
Never before in the history of the country has there been held an exposition with so many attractive features as the Jamestown Tercentennial, now in full swing on the historic waters of Hampton Roads. The Tercentennial is now complete in all of its details and presents to the visitor a veritable dreamland. The immense exhibit palaces, state and government buildings, all of a permanent or semi-permanent construction, set off with the most luxuriant trees and foliage, give to this exposition an appearance distinct from all of its predecessors.
Within an hour's ride by either boat or train are such places as Yorktown, where Cornwallis surrendered to the Continental army, and Jamestown Island, the "cradle of America," where now remain only the old ruins of the first church in America. Just across the waters of Hampton Roads are located Old Point Comfort and Fort Monroe, the strongest and most important military station on the Atlantic coast, whose grim walls and winding moat make it one of the most picturesque spots in the country. These and many other places of historic interest give an appropriate setting to the Jamestown exposition, which commemorates the three hundredth anniversary of the first permanent English speaking settlement in America, the most important event in the history of modern times.
Owing to the fact that the Jamestown Tercentennial is the first celebration ever held on deep water in this country, there has been going on almost continually a grand naval spectacle of a kind such as America has never seen before. The entire North Atlantic fleet, under the command of Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, squadron by squadron, will rendezvous in Hampton Roads from time to time, giving the visitor to the exposition ample opportunity to see the strongest fleet of battleships in the world. There will be at all times during the summer be at least six men-of-war in the roads.
The army as well as the navy is well represented at the Tercentennial, and daily parades by crack regiments of United States troops are to be seen on Lee's Parade, one of the largest and best equipped drill plains in the country. Stationed at the exposition grounds at present are the entire Twenty-third regiment of United States Infantry, the Second squadron of the Twelfth United States cavalry and D battery of the Third field artillery. Several regiments of the national guard of various states, besides numerous military and semimilitary organizations, are encamped at the exposition from time to time. Each of these military organizations brings its own band, which, together with the exposition orchestras and various musical programmes.
The government exhibits, housed in four handsome structures on the water front of the exposition, comprise one of the most complete and comprehensive displays of the work of the various departments of the government ever assembled. The individual states have also come forward at this exposition with their heartiest support and co-operation, and twenty of them have erected buildings to represent them at the Tercentennial, while practically every state is represented in exhibits historical, educational or industrial. These state buildings are located on Willoughby Boulevard, a grand avenue paralleling the water front, and from the broad piazzas of the state structures visitors may rest and view the magnificent and historical harbor whereon the vessels of the world might rest at anchor. In the immediate front appear the great white men-of-war of our own and ofttimes a foreign nation's, and yachts, sloops, schooners and merchant vessels of every kind. Beyond are the frowning walls of Fort Monroe and the beautiful social retreat of the coast, Old Point Comfort. To the left may be seen the noted industrial school at Hampton, and still farther up the roads, toward where the mighty James mingles its waters with the salt tide of the sea, may be seen the city of Newport News, with the greatest shipyards in the world. To the right appears the broadening channel from roads to bay and from bay to broad and mighty Atlantic ocean between the capes of Charles and Henry.
The illumination at night is a scene in itself worthy a journey of a thousand miles to witness, and, with all the outlines of the buildings aglow, the paths of the Canoe Trail and Lovers' Lane twinkling with the myriads of little lights, the War Path a blaze of electricity, the many powerful searchlights playing the heavens with their mysterious messages and fifty miles of shore lines dotted with the lights of a dozen cities and nesting towns, what spectacle more sublime or beautiful could be imagined?
On the amusement section of the exposition, called the War Path, there is every conceivable amusement and diversion, while the visitor to the exposition, after a long day of sightseeing, can relax and let himself drift with the pleasure seeking from one amusement to the next on this "Great White Way," where the lights ever twinkle and the noise of the oriental music is ever in the air.

What's Doing Among our Neighbors Just Across the Line.
Yorkville Enquirer, 13th.
—Miss Gussie Beattie of the Thomson company is visiting in King's Mountain, N. C.—Mr. C. E. Spencer and family left on Saturday for a month's stay at Blowing Rock, N. C.—Mrs. Thomas Covington and children, of Lincolnton, N. C., are visiting Mrs. Covington's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rose.—The Piedmont Telephone company has about completed its metallic circuit from Yorkville to Blacksburg and Gaffney.—Mr. Charles R. Simmons and little daughter, Rose, of Lincolnton, N. C., spent Sunday with the family of Mr. J. J. Hunter.—Rev. Neal Anderson, D. D. of Montgomery, Ala., who is on his way to Asheville, N. C., spent yesterday with Rev. E. E. Gillespie.—Mr. R. B. Babington, of Gastonia, has been in Yorkville for the past few days on business in connection with the Piedmont Telegraph and Telephone company.—The Bowling Green knitting mill has closed down in accordance with a resolution of the stockholders, to discontinue business and the property is being advertised for sale.
In selecting Mr. G. H. O'Leary, of Yorkville, to succeed Mr. G. L. Riddle, deceased, as president, the directors of the Clover Cotton Manufacturing company have only given another exhibition of that splendid good sense that has all along characterized the management of their most successful property. Mr. O'Leary stands for fair and open dealing and uncompromising integrity of purpose in all his conduct, and is just the man this strong and prosperous company needs for the place.
The equipment of the Yorkville New Era is being advertised for sale under foreclosure of chattel mortgages held by W. Brown Wylie and H. E. Neil. The equipment consists of a newspaper press, job press, type cases, type and other things necessary for a job printing and newspaper plant. Most of the equipment is included in that originally purchased for the York Enterprise, and which was subsequently owned by the Drakeford Newspaper company. The first mortgage on the outfit is held by Mr. Wylie. Mr. Neil holds a second mortgage.

Gunter Hearing.
Mac Gunter was given a preliminary hearing before the mayor Wednesday morning. Hon. O. F. Mason represented the State and in the absence of the defendant's lawyer, F. P. Griffin, examination was waived. The State's evidence was heard and Gunter was required to give bond in the sum of $500. Of this amount $400 was in the case of the State vs Mac Gunter for an assault with a deadly weapon upon the person of Robert Hoffman. The remaining $100 was in the case against Gunter for carrying a concealed weapon.

NEWS FROM LUCIA.
Correspondence of The Gazette.
Miss Eliza Pryor, the last one of the three Misses Pryor, died Saturday night at 10 o'clock. The remains were laid to rest in Salem Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She was much loved by all who knew her.
The big annual camp-meeting at Rock Springs broke up to-day. From all reports, it was the best camp-meeting they have had for many years. The behavior was very good.
Messrs C. M. Henkle and J. L. Allen, rural mail carriers from this place, leave to-day for the Jamestown Exposition to give about ten days. We wish them a pleasant trip. Mrs. Henkle and children will visit her mother, Mrs. McIntosh, near Lowville, while Mr. Henkle is gone.
A fine boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pryor Saturday night.
Mrs. A. U. Stroupe and family were over to see his father, Mr. B. Stroupe, near Alexis Sunday and found him in his usual health, though his health has been very poor for several years.
Mr. J. R. Rodgers, our deputy sheriff, is the finest melon grower in this section. He took the nicest load to Nimsville for market to-day we've seen this season.
Mrs. A. A. Loftin and children, of Spencer, are here this week visiting her mother, Mrs. R. M. Nanty.
The protracted meeting at Hebron Baptist church closed Saturday night. Six were baptized Sunday.
Crops are looking fine though cotton is shedding some.

—Rev. J. M. Forbis, of Kings Mountain, was among the visitors here Wednesday.
—Messrs John and James Best, formerly of Gastonia but now of Concord, are visiting their Gastonia friends this week.
—Mr. J. D. Hall, of Belmont, was among the visitors in the city Tuesday afternoon.

YORK AND YORKVILLE

Historic North Carolina.
The North Carolina state historical exhibit, but recently installed in the History building at the Jamestown exposition, forms one of the most interesting and valuable collections of its kind at the Tercentennial and reflects great credit upon the state and those individuals who are responsible for its presence. The exhibit, which is partly under the auspices of the Wachovia Historic society, a Moravian organization of Winston-Salem, N. C., is under the direction of Miss Lindsay Patterson, chairman of the committee; Miss Schenck of Greensboro, Miss Mary Hinton of Raleigh and J. A. Linback of the Wachovia Historic society.
The Moravian exhibit is a most interesting collection of the handicraft and genius of the people of that denomination who settled in North Carolina in the early part of the eighteenth century and demonstrates their wonderful ingenuity. Among the relics of this exhibit is the first fire engine imported in this country; also one of the first printing presses, which was captured later by Cornwallis and used in the printing of his orders. Pottery, beadwork and pewter ware form an important part of the collection, which is exhibited for the first time outside of the city of Winston-Salem.
The state exhibit, which covers the entire early history of North Carolina from its beginning through the war of 1812, is replete with portraits of presidents, governors and statesmen who have been produced from within her borders; also famous documents, letters and silverware from many of the old families of the state.
Relics from the famous battles of Guilford Court House and Morse Creek bridge also form part of the exhibit. The portraits are among the most interesting of the exhibit, consisting of the noted John White collection of Indian pictures presented by Colonel B. H. Cameron, the portraits of President Jackson, Pope and Johnson, two of Reynolds' portraits and a famous portrait of Theodosia Burr by an unknown artist.
The portrait of Theodosia Burr, daughter of Aaron Burr, the saddest and most romantic character in American history, has a history too remarkable to pass over without some mention. Theodosia Burr (Mrs. Alston, wife of Governor Alston of North Carolina) set sail from Georgetown, N. C., to meet her father, Aaron Burr, in New York upon his arrival from Europe. The ship she sailed in was lost at sea, and nothing was ever known of the fate of this beautiful woman until recently, when the picture which now forms part of the history exhibit at the exposition was found in the possession of an old woman whose remarkable story proves without a doubt that Theodosia came to her death at the hands of pirates. The portrait was found in the shanty of a very old woman at Nags Head, N. C., who told the story of how a piratical crew lured ships on to the shallows by false lights, benefiting by the resulting wrecks. The paintings found in her possession was given her by one of the pirates as his share of the booty taken from a ship that was without a doubt the one on which Theodosia Burr set sail never to be heard of again.
The collection of silver services presented by some of the most noted families of the state also adds greatly to the value of the collection. The exhibit in its entirety is one of the handsomest and best chosen which have been installed at the exposition and must be seen to be appreciated.

North Carolina Negro Exhibit.
North Carolina has contributed to the Jamestown exposition a most interesting negro exhibit, housed in the Negro building at the Tercentennial. Under the charge of the Rev. C. H. Williamson, commissioner general of the North Carolina negro exhibit, this display represents the work of every educational, industrial and religious institution in the state.
Most wonderful of all is the work done by the school for the colored deaf, dumb and blind, located at Raleigh. The needle and fancy work of the workmen and other handicraft work of the unfortunate students of this institution have attracted the attention of the entire country.
The colleges and schools represented in the negro exhibit of North Carolina are as follows: School For the Colored Deaf, Dumb and Blind, Raleigh; Asheville graded school, Asheville; High Point Normal school, High Point; State Normal school, Elizabeth City; Roanoke Institute, Elizabeth City; Whitford graded school, Durham; St. Augustine's school, Raleigh; A. and M. college, Greensboro; Joseph K. Brite school, Enfield; Henderson Normal Institute and Shaw university, Raleigh.
Among the most interesting exhibits in the general display of North Carolina negro development is a collection of negro publications. The exhibit of African curios is also most interesting and unique.

Exposition Rates Reasonable.
District Passenger Agent J. H. Wood of the Southern Railway company at Asheville has returned from a several days' trip to the Jamestown exposition and declares that he was favorably impressed with the excellence of the exposition. He said that there was no reason for complaint; that the transportation facilities were entirely adequate; that hotel facilities were ample and that rates were reasonable. The exposition itself, Mr. Wood said, was interesting and instructive and sight-seers could very pleasantly and profitably spend several days in and around Norfolk and the exposition grounds—Citizen, Asheville, N. C.
—Mr. Gus McLean, of Gastonia, is spending a few days in the city with Dr. Sims.—Rock Hill Herald.
—Mr. Joe Shuford and daughter, Miss Camille Shuford, arrived at Kings Mountain Monday from Dallas, Texas, their home, to visit relatives and friends in this section for a few weeks. Mr. Shuford is a brother of our townsman, ex-Sheriff M. H. Shuford, and will visit him while in Gastonia. It has been six years since Mr. Shuford last visited his native county and good old Gastonia has witnessed many changes in that period. His many friends scattered over the county will be glad to know that he is here again and will be glad to see him.
