YORK AND YORKVILLE

What's Doing Among our Neighbors Just Across the Line.
Yorkville Recorder, 10th.
Misses Lillie and Mary Love, of Rock Hill, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Sadler. Mrs. R. Ernest Heath and children are visiting relatives and friends in Charlotte and Monroe, N. C.—Miss Grace Whisnant, of Wilkesville, spent last night in Yorkville with the family of Mr. J. P. White on her way to Lancaster, where she is teaching in the graded schools.—Mrs. Thos. P. Moore and family returned to Yorkville Tuesday evening, after spending the summer at Morganton, N. C.—Mrs. W. R. Carroll and children left on yesterday for a visit to the family of Mr. A. H. Barnette in Bethel. Before returning home they will visit the family of Mr. Joseph Hill and other relatives in Gaston county, N. C.—Mrs. W. H. Castles, of Mayhew, Miss., is stopping in Yorkville for a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. D. Grist, on a visit to the Jamestown exposition and relatives in Baltimore, Md.—Miss Annette Dobson left yesterday morning for a short visit to her sister, Mrs. T. A. Sawyer at Sallays, S. C., and from there she will go to North, at which place she has a position in the graded school.
A lady who came down on the Southern train from Marion last night, told of quite an exciting time that the conductor had with a refractory passenger. The passenger was a white man and was dressed in the working costume of a civil engineer or miner, the lady was unable to make out which. She was uncertain also that the trouble was except that the man, who was evidently drinking, seemed to think that he had a right to ride without a ticket. The conductor had a round with him just after the train left Marion, and later the man was put off the train. He fought and swore; but was overpowered and had to give in. Pistols were in evidence; but no shots were fired.
Quite a severe electrical storm played over the farm of Mr. D. M. Benfield in the Delphos neighborhood last Tuesday afternoon, and when it was over Mr. Benfield found himself the poorer by a $250 mule and a fine pig. It was about 4 o'clock. Mr. Benfield and his son James had just returned from Yorkville and finished putting up their stock as the storm broke. As they were leaving the barn, there was a loud crash, and Mr. James Benfield, who was some little distance behind his father, fell to his knees badly shocked. Mr. Benfield first looked to his son and then made an examination of the barn and stable. In the stable was a dying mule, one of the animals that had just been unhitched. It was not badly mutilated. The bolt had struck it in the head, gone into the brain, and presumably come out of its mouth to the ground. Its jawbone was broken. A few shingles were torn off the roof of the building and also a plank or two; but no other damage was done. A few minutes before or afterwards, a different bolt struck a tree some distance away from the barn and went into the ground at a point where three pigs were lying. One of the pigs was killed, another was badly injured and the third escaped unhurt. All three of the pigs were lying huddled up together. Mr. James Benfield was still feeling a little dazed on Wednesday morning; but has since entirely recovered from the shock.

ANOTHER YARN MILL.

To Be Located Either at Rock Hill or Fort Lawn, S. C.
Rock Hill Herald, 4th.
News leaked out Monday morning that Rock Hill would probably have another cotton mill. As soon as we heard the report we commenced investigating the matter and each place we visited we learned a little more until we reached the proper person yesterday morning when the report was verified.
The mill will either be located at Rock Hill or Fort Lawn, but no site has yet been selected. The Southern Power company is behind the new project, together with Messrs. Webb Moore and J. B. Johnson of this city.
The new mill will be capitalized at between $100,000 and $150,000 and will consist of 5,000 spindles. In speaking of the new mill yesterday Mr. Johnson said that this mill is just a forerunner of what might be expected in the future. The company, he said, intends adding to the mill from time to time and there is no telling how large the mill may finally be. Mr. W. W. Moore will be president and manager of the mill; Mr. Sims Wylie, son of Dr. W. Gill Wylie, secretary and Dr. J. B. Johnson, active vice president.
REUNION AFTER 25 YEARS.
Brothers Meet in Hospital, Where Each Went With an Injury.
Associated Press.
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—Separated for 25 years, during which time they had not even seen a picture of each other, two brothers, both seeking treatment at St. Mary's Hospital, had an affectionate reunion. William Reuter, who is 52 years old and lives at Hope and Dauphin streets, sustained an injury to his hand while at work in a machine shop a few days ago, and when his sufferings did not cease he went to the hospital for treatment. As his hand was being dressed, a man who gave his name as Samuel Reuter, 39 years old, of New York, entered the hospital and asked to have his foot, which he injured in stepping from a Girard avenue car, receive the attention of the surgeon.
"That man over there must be a relative. His name is the same," suggested an orderly to the New Yorker. Samuel Reuter recognized in William Reuter, who so strongly resembled his father, his long-lost brother. They went home together to William Reuter's house for the celebration of the reunion.
According to the stories told by the two men they had lived in Boston, and the younger left home to travel with a circus, visiting principal cities in this and other countries. The family removed to this city and were never reunited. Samuel came to this city last week to play an engagement with a stock company at a Kensington playhouse, not knowing his brother lived in this city.

LINCOLN LOCALS

Lincoln County News, 6th.
Mrs. W. A. Fair and Miss Francis Fair have gone to Morganton to visit relatives for several days.—Mr. R. L. Ryburn, of Shelby, is here attending court.—Mr. Robert Rhyne, of Mt. Holly, spent Sunday in the city.—Mr. W. J. Reid, of Shelby, was here Wednesday on business.—Messrs. Kemp B. Nixon and L. E. Rudisill, of this county, have successfully passed their examinations before the Supreme Court and are now full fledged attorneys.—Mr. J. G. Carpenter, of Dallas, spent Monday in the city on legal business.—Mrs. B. C. Beam, of Shelby, is visiting her brother, Mr. Chas. H. Shull.—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Blanton, of Shelby, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lineberger this week.—Mr. A. L. Bulwinkle, a prominent attorney of Dallas, was here Tuesday on legal business.
The News learned this week of a party who had to go to Gastonia to get a sack of cement, none being obtainable in town for love nor money. If some enterprising citizen would start a coal and wood yard, and handle cement, lime, plaster and brick we think it could be made a paying business. We were told that the manufacture of wood-fiber plaster is paying well in Gastonia.

Gold on Farms.

Southern Farm Magazine, September.
There is much actual gold still to be discovered in the South, but the cotton grown annually by that section is worth far more than all the gold and silver produced in the world in the same time. Between 1901 and 1906, for instance, the total value of the world's gold and silver output was $2,606,686,400, and the total value of the cotton including seed, in the same period, was $3,669,000,000, a difference in favor of cotton in the six years of $1,062,313,600. The total value of corn, wheat and oats raised in the South in the 10 years from 1897 to 1906 was more than $3,680,000,000. These figures indicate that the men who are raising the cotton to clothe and the corn to feed the gold and silver miners have the advantage over the latter. Plowing for gold is still much more profitable than digging for gold.

Oldest Town in America.

Exchange.
Taos, the ancient Indian village of New Mexico, is probably the oldest town in America. There are two great pyramid houses one five and the other seven stories high, occupied by the entire tribe, numbering about 400 persons. These buildings are considered the most perfect examples of early Indian architecture in existence, for, while they were built considerably more than 500 years ago, and have been continuously occupied, there is not the slightest sign of decay. Indeed, they are in a state of perfect preservation. The Indians who have lived in this quaint village for so many generations are simple, quiet and peaceable. They are mostly tillers of the soil. The governor of the village is elected for a year at a time, and the method of making a choice is exceedingly odd. The occupants of each house choose a runner to represent them in a foot race. The occupants of the house whose sprinter has won the race choose the governor. The Taos girls are considered the most graceful in the world.

Items of Interest From an Adjoining County.

Cleveland Star, 6th.
Robert L. Ryburn, Esq., went to Lincolnton Tuesday afternoon to attend Superior Court.—Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Campbell visited relatives in Hickory this week.—Mrs. Edgar Blanton left Monday for Lincolnton, where she will visit Mrs. J. L. Lineberger.—Mr. Lander Lawing, a popular young business man of Lincolnton, spent Sunday here with friends.—Mr. S. P. Stewart, a good citizen of Lattimore number one, was in town Tuesday.—He is just recovering from a serious illness.—Mrs. A. A. Kendall and Miss Annie Davidson, of Spartanburg, are welcome guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. Kendall.—Mrs. Ed Laughridge and children, who have been visiting in the mountains of Western Carolina, have returned to the city.—Mr. Oscar B. Carpenter, a popular druggist of Stanley Creek, has charge of the prescription department of the Cleveland Drug Co., during the absence of manager R. E. Carpenter at the Jamestown Exposition.—Mr. W. A. Graham, Jr., of Lincolnton, spent a few hours here Wednesday returning from a business trip throughout Western N. C.
Rev. Harry M. North, who now occupies the responsible position of Head Master of Trinity Park School, preached two splendid sermons to large and appreciative congregations in the Shelby Methodist Church Sunday morning and evening.
Rev. G. M. Webb, of Athens, who is spending the summer here with his distinguished sons, Judge James L. Webb and Congressman E. Yates Webb, had the ill-luck to lose his pocket book somewhere on the streets Tuesday last. It contained one $10 bill and two fives. As yet no trace of it has been found.
The many friends of Mr. W. F. Lattimore will learn with regret of the heavy loss sustained by the total destruction of the Alexander Lumber Co., of Lenoirville, which he was one of the active partners. The plant was burned to the ground Saturday morning and was valued at about $10,000. It was the largest lumber plant in Anson county, and was owned and controlled by ex-Senator J. F. Alexander, of Forest City and Mr. W. F. Lattimore of Lattimore. From best information there was little if any insurance. It is not stated how the fire originated.

The Play is Ended.

Richard Mansfield's death removes from the American stage its brightest light. There is none left who can be compared with him in dramatic genius. His temper was not always even, but his art was perfect, and his variety infinite. Whether playing in comic opera, or light comedy or high tragedy, he was always master of his part. He made "Beau Brummel" just as Joseph Jefferson created "Rip Van Winkle," his interpretation of Shylock was thoroughly artistic, and there was nothing better on the stage of his time than his "Richard III." He did everything well. There was much adverse criticism of him because of his bearing towards those who played with him, and he was severely censured by the press at times for his rough manners, but his exhibitions of bad temper were doubtless caused by overstrung nerves, and so great was his art that he never failed to play to crowded houses. The pity of it is that he will never play again; but his name will be remembered in the histrionic world, which is all the richer because he lived and had his day.
