NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We have been sending out our regular quarterly notices this week to all our subscribers who are in arrears. To these we shall hope to have ready response. The heaviest expense of a newspaper office, the payroll, has to be met weekly in cash, all other expenses fall due monthly, and it is impossible for us to meet our obligations promptly and give our patrons satisfactory service in all respects unless our subscribers remit for the paper in advance. The date following your name shows when your subscription expires. If you are in arrears, we would appreciate the favor of your sending in your subscription promptly.

Kermit and the other little Roosevelts will have no show in the yellows now until the big Roosevelt gets back home from the canebrakes of Louisiana.

In closing an editorial on the humiliating exposure at Raleigh involving an admission from State Senator John C. Drewery that The Raleigh Times, of which he is the head, received largess of money, presumably for advertising but out of all proportion to the space used. The Progressive Farmer uses this strong language which has the hearty endorsement, we believe, of the majority of North Carolinians: "In the cold clear light of this humiliating revelation, we can only say that unless this professed representative of the people can make some more satisfactory explanation than now appears reasonably probable, his impeachment by an outraged people would teach a highly valuable moral lesson and help to keep our public servants of the future from the too easy paths of bribery and corruption."

During the summer The Gazette has been handicapped in the matter of getting out a good paper. Between our big Jamestown voting contest—which created more interest than anything of its kind ever held in the county—and getting out our industrial edition we have been hard put to it since the first of May. Both of these are out of the way now and from now on it is our intention to put all our energies to work to improve The Gazette in every way possible. A steadily increasing subscription list gives us assurance that our efforts along this line are appreciated. The personal expressions of pleasure which come to us daily from subscribers and others whose interest and goodwill in the paper are voiced in terms complimentary of our industrial edition, together with the nice things said about it by the State press, are greatly appreciated by this paper.

Morganton has joined the growing list of towns in the State that are putting the clamps on the dead beat. The businessmen of that town met last week and organized a merchants' collection association. Its object is to collect long-standing accounts due its members and in the meantime to protect themselves against the future impositions of those who make debts and do not pay them. Reference has been made in these columns to the good work being done at Statesville and perhaps other points in the State by the bad debt collection agencies. This latest organization has the added advantage that the collecting of bad debts is to be done by the creditors themselves through an attorney whom they have chosen for this work. Verily, it seems that the days of the dead beat are numbered in the Old North State. We can only add that the sooner the dead beats, one and all, reach the ends of their rows and come to the root-hog-or-die point this neck of the woods will be infinitely better off.

The metropolitan newspapers are heralding the fact that James B. Duke, the millionaire head of the American Tobacco Company, has just presented to Mrs. Duke, who was formerly Mrs. William Inman, of Atlanta, Ga., a string of pearls which cost him $200,000 and which were secured only after he had scoured the cities of America and Europe in order to find a necklace of flawless pearls. It is added that Mrs. Duke will exhibit her pearls for the first time at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera House for the season in New York. Of course these announcements are accompanied by cuts of Mr. and Mrs. Duke. On such notoriety do the rich live; it's a large part of their existence, their daily meat and bread. Duke, like the other millionaires, manages to keep in the limelight by hook or crook. If he can't spring a divorce suit he can do something else that will cause the papers to talk about him.

Consumers should be on their guard against food articles that are made by ignorant persons in a haphazard manner, as they are likely to prove deleterious to health.

Dr. and Mrs. Rowland, who have been on trial for some days in Wake Superior Court at Raleigh, were found not guilty Sunday and released. The case was given to the jury at midnight Saturday night and the verdict was rendered at 9:30 Sunday morning. When the verdict was announced there was a wild demonstration of joy and Judge Long rebuked the assembled crowd for its outrageous conduct. The defendants were charged with the murder of Engineer Strange. Mrs. Rowland's first husband, the case had attracted widespread attention and there was a diversity of opinion as to their guilt.

—Yesterday's Charlotte Observer contained an article which was reprinted from The Greenville (S. C.) News, having an Easley, S. C., date line stating that "Dr." Millard, a Baptist preacher, had been run out of that town by irate citizens. Millard was charged with being a bigamist and an imposter. It is stated that he deserted his wife and family in the West and is now living with another woman he claims to be his wife. This same "Dr." Millard, it will be recalled, operated in Gaston county for two or three months last spring. He held meetings at McAdenville and other points in the county and made more than one effort to secure a call to the pastorate of some Baptist church in the county. He was unsuccessful in his attempts, however. He succeeded in gaining the confidence of only a very few people.

BEST OF PROOF.

That Hyomei Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousands, many of them from Gastonia and nearby towns, that Hyomei is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, but the best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that J. H. Kennedy & Co. give with every outfit that they sell, "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by serial No. 1418.

By breathing Hyomei, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfects and heals. To be convinced of this you have only to give it a trial, remembering that if it does not cure, J. H. Kennedy & Co. will refund your money.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the disease, making it not only a scientific treatment but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit to day from J. H. Kennedy & Co. if you have any catarrh.
