NEWS NOTES

State & General

Five men were killed Wednesday night by the explosion of an engine boiler at the LaBelle iron works at Steubenville, Ohio.

On November 17th the Southern Railway will begin running trains into its magnificent new depot at Washington, which was constructed at a cost of $20,000,000.

Ernest Sheppard, aged 31, an iron moulder, was fearfully burned Monday in the Arigelo Iron Foundry at Winston and it is thought that he will die.

Burglars entered three stores in Maysville, Jones county, Monday night and cracked the safes with dynamite, securing more than $500 in money and other valuables.

Having only one arm and being unable to swim, Randolph Dizer, a young white man of Newbern, was drowned in the Neuse river Wednesday. He fell into the water from a gasoline launch.

J. Wiley Shook, a well-known Republican politician and attorney died Tuesday evening at the State hospital at Morganton, where he had been taken for treatment about a year ago.

Because of a very apparent lack of interest on the part of the citizens of Forsyth the commissioners of that county decided Monday not to call for an election on the $300,000 bond issue for good roads.

Following the example of the banks in other cities of the State, the banks of Concord have agreed not to pay out more than $50 per week in currency to any one depositor.

Louis Oterson, the 16-year-old son of a Wilmington mail carrier, was instantly killed in an elevator accident in that city Monday. He was engaged as stock clerk and was taking a load of goods up when his head was in some way caught between the carriage and the floor.

A special from Raleigh to The Charlotte News of Wednesday reports the killing near the capital of a fine deer. It was discovered in a pasture with some cows, which were badly frightened because of its presence.

Frank Ferrell, aged 73, a well-to-do citizen of Spray, fell from a train between Statesville and Elmwood Monday night and was killed. In company with his wife and seven children he was en route to Oklahoma to live. It is presumed he fell while passing between the cars.

Frederick Webber, secretary general of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Masons, Southern Jurisdiction, died at his home in Washington Sunday night. He was a thirty-third degree Mason. His body was taken to Louisville, Ky., for burial.

A North Carolina Waterways Association was organized at Wilmington Tuesday, with James H. Chadborn, of Wilmington, as president. The object of the organization is to promote the development of the waterways of the State and secure legislation to that end.

The steamship Kron Prinzessin Cecilie arrived in New York Tuesday from Europe bearing $7,100,000 in gold to relieve the strained financial condition in New York. The Lusitania will follow closely with $10,000,000 and $14,000,000 is expected during the remainder of the week.

G. H. Mulkey, agent for the Southern Railway at Greys, S. C., was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with a shortage in his accounts. He was discharged from his position several days ago. The shortage is said to be less than a thousand dollars.

A wedding of State-wide interest was solemnized in the church of the Good Shepherd at Raleigh Wednesday afternoon when Miss Eliza Simmons, daughter of United States Senator F. M. Simmons, became the bride of Mr. Graham Andrews, a son of First Vice President A. B. Andrews, of the Southern Railway.

Mrs. J. Lindsay Patterson, of Winston-Salem, has been notified that North Carolina has been awarded one of the two silver medals given by the Jamestown Exposition for the best historical exhibits. The exhibit was largely arranged by the Daughters of the American Revolution of the State, Mrs. Patterson being chairman of the committee having the work in charge.

Keep Your Money Moving.

The patriotic as well as the reasonable thing to do under considerations like these is to pay your debts promptly, and with checks as far as possible, or with currency if you choose. Any currency not needed for actual use should be placed in bank, where its usefulness is multiplied. The hoarder of bank reserves in times like these cannot quite defend himself from the charge of being an undesirable citizen, for the disadvantages others without benefiting himself.

Now is the time to stand by your bank if you want your bank to stand by you in pleasant times. Keep up your balance, deposit your unnecessary currency and show yourself a good citizen. The velocity of bank circulation is almost as important as its volume, and no sensible man should in these times hobble a dollar in its movement.

SOCIAL

Cards reading as follows have been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. King will give in marriage their daughter, Sadie to Mr. Hugh Long on the evening of Tuesday, the twelfth of November. Nineteen hundred and seven at four o'clock, at their home. Elliott's, S. C. The honor of your presence is requested.

The bride-to-be was formerly a resident of Gastonia, having held a position as bookkeeper for quite a while with the Singer Sewing Machine Company. She will be welcomed back to Gastonia by the numerous friends she made while here. The groom-elect is the owner and editor of The Gastonia News and has resided here for a number of years. He is well known over the county and has a large circle of friends who join The Gazette in extending him all best wishes.

The following from the Wadesboro correspondence of The Charlotte Observer of Sunday will be read with interest by many Gastonians, Miss Little, the bride, having spent several years here:

"A beautiful white and gold wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride Wednesday afternoon, October 30th, where a host of friends and relatives witnessed the culmination of the marriage of Miss Madge Little, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Little, to Mr. J. Carl Sherrill, of Granite Falls. The large double parlors were tastefully decorated with ivy, ferns and yellow chrysanthemums, made beautiful with the mellow light of many candles.

"The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Burns, Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Mann, Mrs. M. H. Curry and Mrs. J. G. Boylin. Just as the clock struck three, Mrs. Eugene Little began the sweet strains of the wedding march, and the Wadesboro Book Club, of which the bride was a favorite member, with Mrs. W. C. Val, Mrs. W. Little, Mrs. L. D. Robinson and Mrs. Minnie Holland Curry, of Gastonia, formed a semi-circle around the improvised altar.

Mrs. John D. Leak sang "Love Me and the World is Mine," and Mrs. H. W. Little in dulcet tones answered, "Believe." Then came Miss Marion Little and Rev. Thomas R. Wolfe, of Granite Falls; the groom and best man, Mr. W. T. Whisnant, of Granite Falls. Leaning on the arm of Miss Lora Little, the maid of honor, came the bride becomingly gowned in crepe de chine over white satin with baby Irish lace trimmings and inlaid yoke of baby Irish roses; with veil of tulle and Venetian lace encircled by a crown of orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

"Rev. A. A. Smith pronounced the words and sealed them with a ring, that joined heart to heart, life to life, till these lower ties where pure hearts are united around the great Central Heart of all.

"Misses Marion and Lora Little were beautifully attired in dainty white French lawns, with lace trimmings, yellow girdles, gloves and slippers, carrying yellow chrysanthemums.

Immediately after the ceremony an elegant three-course luncheon was served.

"The esteem and popularity of the bride was demonstrated by numerous and valuable presents, among them a chest of silver, by the Little family, a silver bowl by the Book Club, and a set of china by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Burns.

"Amid showers of good wishes the happy couple left for points south—the bride never more beautiful and attractive than in a going-away suit of brown.

"The groom resides at Granite Falls and is a young business man of sterling worth, engaged in the manufacture of brick and lumber at Hickory and Granite Falls. The bride is one of Wadesboro's most popular and cultured daughters and was last year a member of the faculty of the Granite Falls graded school.

A GASTON GENIUS.

Dr. R. J. Morrison, of Cherryville, Invents Clever Post Card Slot Machine Which Will be Manufactured by Cherryville Concern.

Some weeks ago The Gazette chronicled the fact that Dr. R. J. Morrison, of Cherryville, had gone to Washington to look after securing a patent for a post card slot machine which he had invented. The following from this week's Cherryville Eagle regarding the matter will be read with interest by many:

"For the last few months our townsman and dentist, Dr. R. J. Morrison, has been busily planning and making a Post Card Slot Machine, and recently applied to the United States Patent Office at Washington, D. C., for a patent. He has visited the patent office with his attorney and thoroughly investigated this department of the patent office until they were confident that nothing ahead of his design had been applied for.

"Dr. is a natural born genius and is successful at anything he undertakes. A company will probably be organized here and machinery purchased to make the machines and turn them out by the hundreds, giving Dr. Morrison a royalty on all machines turned out.

"The machine is so perfectly constructed and arranged that the owner of the cards can give you any number of cards he chooses for 5 cents. All the purchaser has to do is to drop a nickel in the slot and out will come the cards.

"This is quite a novelty, it being the first of the kind ever invented in the world, and will sell rapidly when put on the market."

Medical Men Meet.

The Gaston County Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting for November in the city hall Wednesday afternoon. In addition to the transaction of routine business, Dr. D. A. Garrison, of Bessemer City, read a paper on "Medical Jurisprudence." At the next meeting, to be held the first Wednesday in December, the annual election of officers will take place. The out-of-town physicians present were Dr. D. A. Garrison, of Bessemer City; Dr. T. C. Quickle, of Stanley Creek; Dr. J. J. Stewart and Dr. R. E. Rhyne, of Mount Holly.

Mr. Templeton Here.

Postmaster R. S. Templeton, of Mooresville, is here this week investigating the particulars regarding the death of his son, Mr. O. K. Templeton, who was killed October 29th by coming in contact with a live wire on the Southern Power Company's line near Bessemer City. He came Tuesday and will return home to-day. While here he is the guest of Mr. John P. Davis Wednesday he spent at Bessemer City, where he saw and talked to persons who knew the particulars regarding the young man's tragic death. It is understood that Mr. Templeton intends to ask damages from the Southern Power Company, for whom his son was working.

A Carolina and North-Western freight train ran over and killed Lawson Phillips, a white man about 50 years old, at Treland Wednesday.

YOUNG MAN HAS NEW THEORY

Human Life Seems Centered In Stomach. All Else Is Secondary.

The immense success which has followed L. T. Cooper during the past year with his new preparation has excited anything of the kind ever before witnessed in most of the leading cities where the young man has introduced the medicine. Cooper has a novel theory. He believes that the human stomach is directly responsible for most disease. To quote his own words from an interview upon his arrival in an eastern city: "The average man or woman cannot be sick if the stomach is working properly. To be sure, there are diseases of a virulent nature, such as cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, etc., which are organic, and are not traceable to the stomach, but even fevers can, in nine cases out of ten, be traced to something taken into the stomach. All of this half-sick, nervous exhaustion that is now so common, is caused by the stomachic conditions, and it is because my remedy will and does regulate the stomach that I am meeting with such success.

"I am meeting with such success. I am doing its full duty, getting every particle of vitality out of all food by transferring it to the bowels in a perfectly digested state—this above all else brings health."

Mr. A. C. Brock, chef of the Brock Restaurant, Market District, Boston, Mass., who is a staunch believer in Mr. Cooper's theory and medicine, has this to say: "I had chronic indigestion for over three years. I suffered terribly, and lost about thirty pounds. I was a physical wreck when I started this Cooper medicine, a month or so ago. Today I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am no longer nervous, my food does not distress me in the least, and I have a splendid appetite. I am gaining flesh very rapidly—in fact, at the rate of a pound a day. I would not believe any medicine on earth could have done for me what this has done. It is a remarkable preparation, and Mr. Cooper deserves all his success."

We recommend the Cooper preparations as being remarkable medicines.

To Make Survey.

Lincoln County News.
Chairman of the Lincoln Board of County Commissioners T. F. Cline, and Mr. T. L. Bandy, will start out next Monday, November 11th, to make a second survey for the purpose of establishing the line between Lincoln and Gaston counties.

Died Suddenly.

Mr. Plato Sisk, an operative at the Loray mill, died at an early hour Wednesday morning at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. O. D. Stacey, as the result of a hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been regularly at work in the mill and his death was entirely unexpected. He was seized with the hemorrhage about five o'clock Wednesday morning and died before a physician could reach him. Mr. Sisk had suffered with lung trouble which resulted from a bad attack of la grippe last winter, but during the summer he had spent some time at his former home resting and had seemingly fully recovered his health. The deceased is survived by his widow, the daughter of Mr. O. D. Stacey, his parents, who reside near Cherryville, and three brothers who live at Lincolnton. The three brothers came to Gastonia Wednesday on being notified of his death and made arrangements for the body to be taken to his old home near Cherryville, where the funeral and burial took place. Mr. Sisk was a young man of about 24 years of age, and had only been married a little more than a year.
