Captured Ketch.

Chief oflice Wiley Carroll went to Salisbury Wednesday and brought back an escaped negro coast named Tom Brown, who has been at liberty several months, but whom the Salisbury officers had apprehended. On his return on No. 35 Wednesday night his suspicions were aroused by two negroes who went out on the platform carrying what seemed to be a keg of liquor. Just before the train reached Lowell he went out on the platform and found the negroes, but no keg. They had evidently thrown it off the train. After making some investigation when the train came within the Gastonia city limits the chief arrested one of the negroes, Dan Long. On searching his pistol was found on his person and he was locked up on a double charge. Chief Carroll and Capt. Eddleman drove back to Lowell and found the keg of liquor about a mile below the spot where it had been thrown off. Long was brought before the mayor and bound over to court under a bond of $200. Failing to give bond, he was sent to jail.

Will's Comedy Co.

The Georgians, S. C., Daily Item says:

Will's Musical Comedy Co., presented "Atlantic City" to a packed house last evening. The play is well mounted in three acts and the musical numbers which Mr. Will has selected are of a rollicking variety—extremely lively and catchy. All the lines and situations were highly entertaining to those who enjoy comedy; the entire cast of the Company being admirably fitted to the various roles involved, particularly so, was the character part of the bell boy, who kept the audience in a continued roar of laughter. To fight the company will present "Two Old Cronies," a far from what have learned through the daily papers, where this company has played, it is safe to say that those who attend will be highly pleased.

The house was situated on a hill to the rear of the Hoffman. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Poteet saved a portion of his household goods.

Fourth Anniversary.

Sunday Rev. W. H. Reddish will celebrate his fourth anniversary as pastor of the First Baptist church of Gastonia. In honor of the occasion he will preach a special sermon Sunday morning reviewing the work done by the church under his pastorate. Mr. Reddish came to Gastonia from Morganton and has, during these four years, greatly endeared himself to his congregation and to the town as well.

Cartailing.

In accordance with the action of the Gaston County Textile Manufacturers Association some weeks ago, the yarn mills of the county belonging to the association—and this includes practically all of them—begin to-day to curtail their product one-third. This schedule is effective until January first. Several of the mills have already begun to curtail, this privilege having been given at the last meeting of the association. Similar action was taken by the Southern Hard Yarn Spinners Association and by other associations of spinners in the South.

At the Old Stand.

Mr. J. R. Reid, who has for the past year been a member of the Gastonia Furniture Company, has sold his interest in this business and will return to Albemarle, near McAdenville, to resume personal charge of his general merchandise business there. Since he severed his connection with the furniture business Mr. Reid has been with the Lucas Company. He expects to go to Albemarle the first of next week and will be followed by his family. They will occupy Mr. Reid's residence at Lowell. Mr. Reid and his family have made many friends in Gastonia who will regret to see them from the town.
