AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS.

Mr. Jeff D. Harrelson Revisits Old Haunts After Long Absence—Vivian Mill Resumes Work—Variety of Cherryville Chat.

Correspondence of The Gazette.

CHERRYVILLE, July 4.—J. W.
Stroup, a promising young man of Waco, was in town this week.—
Messrs. W. C. Hicks and William J.
Allran, two of our brainy young men, are in attendance on the Gaston Teachers' Summer School at Linwood.—Mrs. H. T. Bess, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrow.— Deputy Sheriff L. G. Harrelson, of Cleveland county, was in town this week.—Mrs. J. M. Harrelson is suffering from an attack of catarrh of the stomach.—Darius Beam, of The Kings Mountain Herald, will spend to-morrow with relatives.—We are glad to note that Miss Cordia Harrelson is able to be out again after being confined to her room with a light attack of fever.

All our people are gone to Shelby and Bessemer City to-day. The majority of the young to Shelby as the desire to celebrate rather than hear politics discussed.

Nellie, the 8-year-old little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Harrelson, died yesterday from an attack of menses, and will be buried to-morrow at St. Paul's. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Cherryville and Melville Manufacturing Cos. gave their hands an ice cream supper at the Cherryville Mill Friday night.

Rev. C. L. Tew will fill his first appointment as pastor of the Baptist church Sunday. We hope quite a good crowd will greet him.

John W. Moss, of Waco, was on our streets one day this week.—Dr.
R. J. Morrison spent Thursday and Friday in Charlotte on business.

A fishing party consisting of S. S.
Mauney, Elbert Ford, Carl and Cone Mauney, William Winget, John Costner and David Mauney started for Buffalo Thursday evening to bring back a large haul of the finny tribe.

But luck was against them, they "lost their faith," or else the fish went farther down the stream.

Jeff D. Harrelson who has been absent from this section for the past eighteen years, is back again greeting acquaintances and friends.

The Vivian Mill will resume work again Monday morning.

C. C. Beam, a student of Rutherford College last year, was in town this week.

We are always glad to see the general and smiling Martin L. Rudisill, of Crouse, in town. In conversation with Mr. Rudisill Friday he said the farmers of his section were feeling good over the prospects of their crops.

ANECDOTES OF TAFT.

Little Stories Showing the Kindly Side of the Big Candidate.

Brooklyn Eagle.

Mr. Taft's habit of using plain language to subordinates occasionally got him into hot water when he was Governor of the Philippines.
One day he had occasion to take to task the officials of a province in which there had been considerable trouble. Shaking his finger at them he said angrily:

"If you cannot keep better order than you have been keeping, your heads will go off!"

The horrified Filipinos shrank back in alarm and felt nervously at their throats. Mr. Taft could not restrain himself at their horror-stricken countenances, and burst into a hearty laugh. Then he proceeded to explain that the term he had employed was only an Americanism, and that their official and not their physical heads were in danger.

The Republican nominee is very human, and not entirely averse to the wiles of flattery. A mother once called upon him to urge the granting of a commission for her son, asking him to waive a slight physical obstacle to the appointment.

"His mental qualifications are so high that I am inclined to do as you ask," replied Mr. Taft.

The mother, of course, was delighted. In her ecstasy she exclaimed: "Oh, Mr. Secretary, you're not half as fat as they say you are."

The Secretary smiled broadly.

"After that," he said, "your boy shall certainly have the commission." Taft's father, who was a judge of the Superior Court in Cincinnati, used to have a stock phrase about his boy, William Howard. It was "Mediocrity won't do for Willie."

He would reiterate this whenever opportunity presented. As there were three other sons, it would seem that some little jealousy might have been caused by the father's expression of preference, but as a matter of fact this was not the case. All the other boys were inclined to ac-agree with this view of "Willie," and one of them has spent thousands upon thousands of dollars to bring about his nomination.

LOWELL LOCALS.

Correspondence of The Gazette.

LOWELL, July 4.—The following persons attended the convention last week: Messrs. J. C. Rankin, S. M.
Robinson, J. W. Groves, Frank Huggins, M. A. Teague, Amos Teague, Rev. R. A. Miller, L. E. Rankin, A.
R. Leonhardt, Palmer Titman, Gilmer Leonhardt, P. T. Rankin, P. W.
Hand and Paul Titman.

Miss Cornwell, of Dallas, visited Miss Mabel Leonhardt last week.— Miss Violet Rankin, of Gastonia, is visiting Misses Edith and Kate Robinson this week.—Mrs. Merritt Hovis of Stanley, Mrs. Ralph Rankin, of Gastonia, and Mrs. Lloyd McConnell, of Charlotte, are visiting Mrs. T. B.
Rankin this week.—Miss Mabel Leonhardt is visiting her sister, Mrs.
E. B. Julian, of Greenville.—Mrs. E.
R. Leonhardt, Misses Ada and Bessie Cox were Gastonia shoppers one day last week.—Mrs. J. R. Hand, of Charlotte, visited her father last week.—Mrs. Nettie Roseman visited Mrs. R. E. Miller last Sunday.—Mr.
T. D. Phillips, Hall Mings and Gilmer Leonhardt went to the fish fry at Mountain Island last Tuesday.

Mr. Linwood Robinson gave a party last Tuesday night. Eleven couples were present and all report a delightful time.

Mr. J. E. McArthur, of Fayetteville, visited Mr. John Groves last week.—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Brown and little daughter, Alice Lee, of Chadbourne, visited Rev. and Mrs.
R. A. Miller, a few days last week.—
Mr. Leland Cox and Mr. Linwood Robinson leave to-day for Morehead City where they will spend several weeks.

The Lowell ball team crossed bats with the Ozark team and defeated them by a score of 3 to 2. It was a brilliant game from the beginning.

Mrs. Leon Potts and daughter Alice, of Charlotte, are visiting Mrs.
R. A. Miller this week.—Miss Louise Lineberger gave a tacky party last Thursday night which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

IF YOU HAVE A BOY.

Some Educational Problems For Parents to Consider.

In American secondary schools in the year 1908 there were 925,000 pupils—742,000 at the public high schools and only 183,000 at private schools of all kinds, says a writer in Lippincott's. Many thousands of these latter were in the preparatory departments of the numerous small colleges all over the land, but largely in the south and west. The majority were in the private schools in the large cities. The Catholic church is more energetic than any other denomination in the private education of the children of its membership.

In superior education (colleges and universities nominally for academic study, but largely given over to technical instruction) there were 51-000 in State institutions and 97,000 at other than State institutions. In professional schools (law, medicine, theology, engineering and the like, usually in connection with an academic institution) there were 11,000 students at State and 1,000 at other than State institutions. There were also 60,000 pupils at normal schools (all but 10,000 of them in State supported institutions), and there were about 400,000 attending art, music, business, industrial and trade schools, including those at Indian schools and those for the deaf, blind and other unfortunate.

It appears from these official figures that about 9 per cent of the primary scholars, under 20 per cent of the secondary scholars and over 70 per cent of university and professional all students are educated at private cost. Private education of children in primary schools is generally secured through preference, while superior education at private expense is a necessity except in those States where public universities are established, and at the latter only tuition is free, and other expenses about the same as at endowed institutions. At many non-State colleges and universities scholarships and other student aids are provided, so that for many the expense is no greater than at the State institutions.

Secondary education is in a different category from either of the other branches. In most rural districts it must be at private cost, and while in cities it is usually optional instruction at private cost is often desirable if the expense can be afforded. This sort of education comes at the crucial time in a boy's life—a time when pregnant idealism is his chief mental characteristic, and when he needs the most patient tender and intelligent care. Yet for some unknown reason this is the period when boys are likely to receive the least attention from their parents.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS DEAD.

Famous Author, Familiarly Known as "Uncle Remus" Passes Away at His Home in Atlanta—Editor and Proprietor of Uncle Remus Magazine.

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—Joel Chandler Harris, familiarly known as "Uncle Remus" and an author of note, died at his home in a suburb of this city to-night. Mr. Harris, whose health had not been good for some time, had only been confined to his bed for about ten days, suffering from cerebral of the liver. Complications set in and yesterday he grew rapidly worse and continued to sink until the end came at 8 o'clock tonight.

Joel Chandler Harris was born in Eatonton, Ga., December 9th, 1848.
He was married in 1873 to Miss Es-sela LaRose, of Canada, and in 1873 moved to Atlanta, joining the staff of The Atlanta Constitution. It was while he was connected with The Constitution, that his tales, "Storie by Uncle Remus" first attracted attention. In 1900 Mr. Harris retired from active journalism and until last year, when he became editor and proprietor of Uncle Remus Magazine, spent most of his time at his suburban home. He is survived by a widow, four sons and two daughters. Mr. Harris will be buried in Atlanta, but the funeral arrangements have not been completed.

The Rural Mail Carrier.

Atlanta Georgian.

One of the great factors in the advancement of this country is the rural mail carrier. He has placed the isolated country home in daily touch with the big world, and made less lonely life on the farm.

He has many good and deserved things said of him and his work, but none has expressed it more clearly or brilliantly than Mrs. Ellen Dorch Longstreet, of Gainesville, Ga., at the recent convention of rural mail carriers of the 19th congressional district.

"The work of the rural carrier of this country in bettering the farmer's condition is one of transcendent importance. By the result of his service the farmer becomes a wiser, happier, and more patriotic citizen, and the Government thereby gains in strength."

"You carriers should be inspired to more efficient effort by the knowledge that your work brings you in close touch with your Government, and into it you may put your strength of citizenship and your pride of country. The obligation is strong upon you to keep the service clean and above reproach. In taking up your great work as rural carriers, when you subscribed your names to the oath of allegiance to support the Constitution of your country and defend its principles, there was committed to your keeping the noblest heritage ever vouchsafed to free men. The honor of Old Glory became yours to uphold—Old Glory, token of human liberties wherever it waves on land or sea—may God keep it forever in the skies! You carriers have much to be proud of.
Proud that you are Americans and live in the happiest age of the world.
Proud that you are engaged in the rural service in its present high state of development. Proud that it has been your privilege to serve under the very greatest administration, in many respects, that has marked the progressive course of this nation.
Proud that you are in the service while the old flag has been placed higher in the heavens, symbol of peace and progress, by our bold, aggressive Yankee President, son of a Georgia woman, growing to the full stature of unafraid manhood on the broad plains of the West, and belonging more truly to the whole country than any President who has gone before him. Proud that you are in the service while the prince of 'square dealers' has placed the old flag higher in the heavens, pledge that the patriot's dream of liberty shall live, its white stripe breathing the brotherhood of man, and every star in the blue of its ground speaking the peace, prosperity and happiness of the greatest nation the sun has risen on since God said, 'Let there be light'—our Republic, glorious triumphant, unconquerable—may God save it in strength and splendor."

BRAIN THE SOURCE OF YOUTH.

Maintain Its Activity and Preserve Suppleness of the Body.
Scribner's Magazine.

Vital as is the physical side of conserving youth, however, its true fountain is in our brain. If we maintain activity of its cells it quickens the circulation of the blood, the vital organs, gives light to the eyes, preserves the suppleness of the body, removes to a distance illness, age, death itself.

Remember the lesson of the bicycle, how the laboring man and the busy housekeeper, ready to drop from the day's work, would go for a spin and return, after an hour's exercise of those same weary leg muscles, rested. Tody ache is often nothing but brain rust.

"He looks much older than he is," said Von Moltke of a fellow officer.
"He has used his body more than his mind." Age was to the French war man of the salons no excuse or illness. To the very last one must be pointed, animated, alert. He has an ageless come when ordinarily the crust of custom begins to incase our free spirits is exactly the reason for keeping them elastic.

One of the most remarkable things in the career of Dr. Richard Storrs was that by far the greatest portion of that career was after he had passed the age of fifty. The Duke of Marborough began his career as a great commander in 1702, when he was fifty-two years old. Lord Lynd-hurst on the eve of his eighty-ninth birthday made a brilliant speech in Parliament. Sophocles wrote his masterpiece at eighty. Goethe finished "Faust" in his eighty-second year, Alfieri began Greek at forty-seven, and at fifty-four mastered it.
Mrs. Piozzi preserved her fine faculties, imagination, and unexampled vivacity to the end. On her eighteth birthday she gave a great ball concert and supper in the public rooms at Bath to over 200 persons and opened the ball herself.

Old Lady Gray painted beautifully though she only began to be an artist when she was quite an old woman. She always went out sketching with thirty-nine articles, which one servant carried over at the door, another murmuring "Here" for each article, to make sure that nothing should be left behind.

Picnic at Long Creek.

There will be a Sunday school picnic at Long Creek Baptist church Saturday, July 18th. Following is the program for the occasion: 10 a. m., song and prayer service; 10-30 a. m., Sunday school address by Rev. Preston C. Stringfield, of Malden; 11 a. m., address by Mr. J.
Frank Flowers, of Fayetteville, his subject being "The Progress of Sunday Schools in North Carolina"; ad-dourn one hour for dinner; 1:30 p. m., Sunday school talks to the chilren by Revs. W. H. Reddish, and J.
L. Vipperman; 2 p. m., address "The Old People in the Sunday School and Their Influence," Mr. L. L. Jenkins.
The singing will be conducted by Mr.
H. L. Jenkins and Mr. Moses Rhyne.
Pastor J. A. Hoyle requests that everybody come and bring their baskets filled with eatables. Everybody is invited and a good time is guaranteed to all.
