NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We are mailing out statement this week to all subscribers who are in arrears and notices to all whose subscriptions expire during the month. To these we shall hope to receive a ready response. We do not make a practice of "dunning" our subscribers through the columns of The Gazette, but our pressing financial obligations make it necessary for us to take this method of bringing the matter to the attention of those concerned. The amounts separately are small, but in the aggregate they make a sum that is of much importance in conducting the

A matter of great importance to the citizens of Gastonia at this particular season of the year is the keeping of their premises clean. This is a health precaution and is a matter of vital import to every man, woman and child in the town. If every property owner would see to it personally that his premises were kept absolutely clean of all refuse and decayed matter there would be fewer files and mosquitos and less sickness also.

That was a sad message the daily papers of Saturday carried to milns of homes announcing the death at his home in a suburb of Atlanta of Joel Chandler Harris, who was familiarly known to hundreds of thousands of children in America, and grown-ups too, as "Uncle Remus".
As the author of many dialect storles dealing mainly with "Brer Fox" and "Brer Rabbit" and others of the animal kingdom he had found a place in the hearts of the children of the United States, not only in the South but in all sections of this great country, which any man might justly envy. A year or two ago he established Uncle Remus's Magazine at Atlanta and in its belef history it has grown immensely popular. His editorials in the shape of bits of philosophical dissertations dealt out by the head of the "Snap-Bean Farm" were widely read and dealt in a semi-humorous and at the same time most practical way with topics affecting our present-day life. Mr. Harris held a high place among the literary lights of the present generation and his death at an age not considered old among people of literary attainments brings sorrow to a great number of people. His work we believe, is not ephemeral as is the bulk of present-day literature, for his "Uncle Remus" stories will live and make glad the hearts of tor, and a brave Confederate soldier young people when its author, as a He had been a teacher since early man, has long ago been forgotten, manhood and was recognized as of His writings contain that merit which insures life and popularity. The literature of the present century is richer because he lived and in his death the South, the Nation, the world loses a man who added much to the sum total of human happiness. Peace to his ashes.

Col. C. L. Harris Dead.

Col. Ceburn Lemuel Harris, aged 6, a prominent citizen of Raleigh died at his home in that city Friday He served two terms in the State Senate many years ago from the district then composed of Cleveland, Rutherford and Polk counties. He was a member of the constitutional convention and under the reconstruction acts was elected superintendent of public works

In Cleveland's Memory.

The memory of the late ex-President Grover Cleveland was honored at Greensboro Sunday when a meeting, attended by many people, was held in the First Presbyterian church of that city. Eulogies on the great dead man were pronounced by Rev. Melton Clarke and Rev. Dr. G. H. Detwiler, formerly of Gastonia. The services were held under the auspices of the Ministers Association of Greensboro.

Col. L. D. Andrews Dead. Maj. L. D. Andrews dropped dead of heart disease in the garden of his residence at Monroe last Monday night. He was a well-known educagreat ability in his profession. He was 78 years old and a life-long mem ber of the Methodist church. He was a gentleman of the old school. full of honor and courtesy, and his passing away is felt as a personal loss to every one in Monroe.

Gift of Silver Service.

Friday was a great day at Beau fort the occasion being the presentation by the State of North Carolina of a handsome silver service to the new armored cruiser North Carolina. The service cost the State $6,000. The presentation exercises were very elaborate and were witnessed by several hundred North Carolinians from all sections of the State. Lieutenant Governor Winston was master of ceremonies and made the speech of presentation. Capt. Marshall of the cruiser accepted the gift in a neat speech

To Oppose Kitchin.

There is much discussion in the Republican papers of the State as to who will be chosen by the Republican State convention to oppose Mr. Kitchin for the governorship. Among the number already mentioned possibilities are Mr. H. E. Fries, of Winston-Salem; Dr. Cyrus Thomp son, ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Mr. Z. V. Walser, and Mr. Thomas Settle. From the interest already aroused it certainly looks as if there will be no dearth of candidates for the honor. Judge J. C. Pritchard has also been mentioned but there is hardly a possibility that he would accept as it would mean the relinquishment of his position as a Federal judge.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

Description of The Daily Routing Which Prevails at Linwood-Work is Interspersed With Play-The Instructors.

Correspondence of The Gazette.

LINWOOD COLLEGE, July 6 .-Now that the children of Gaston county have laid away their books, tablets and pencils and are spending the long summer days in play, the situation is reversed, and their teach ers have been called on "to go to school" for two weeks at the Summer School now in session at Linwood College.

Doubtless, it would afford these youngsters and their parents, too, infinite amusement to see all of these grave and dignified instructors in the daily school work at Linwood. But, as all of the visitors to the Summer School seem to be of one kind, and as each of these visitors appears to be interested in the progress of one teacher alone, it might be interesting to the non-visiting public generally to know what is being accomplished, a description will be given of one day's work, the program of which is the same everyday; Sunday of course, excepted:

At 6:30 the rising bell warns the sleepers that in exactly one hour breakfast will be ready. As every one seems to possess a very good appetite meal times are usually looked forward to with interest. There is no need of any tonics here, and the waiters are kept busy re-illing empty dishes and biscuit and bread plates. Chapel bell rings at 8 o'clock. The exercises are conducted every morning by a different teach er and in exactly the same way as they are conducted in the various schools of the county. The classes would be too large if the entire force of 103 teachers should recite in one ass. They are therefore divided into two sections, a and b. The inptructors and the subjects taught are as follows:

Arithmetic-Prof. J. S. Wray, Supt. Gastonia graded schools. History-Prof. J. B. Henson

Eupt. Mt. Holly graded School. English-Prof. S. G. Lindsay Supt. Dallas graded school.

Geography-Prof. F. P. Rockett Supt Bessemer City graded school. School Music—Prof. S. A. Wolff, former Pres. of Gaston College. First Grade Work-Miss Lella B Young, South graded school, Charlotte. Special stress is being placed by Prof. Hall upon this First Grade Work, as the Ward Rational method of teaching reading is to be adopted this year in the first grade of every school in the county.

Miss young is a thoroughly competent and most entertaining teacher and her classes are very popular. During the lecitation every teacher must become a little child, and receive the same instruction which they in turn are expected to impart to the beginners when the schools re-open in the fall.

Part of each period is devoted by Miss Young to the teaching of new motion scngs and games. These games afford amusement to the onlookers when acted out by a number of the teachers. After dinner there are no recitations, but the next day's lessons must be prepared, sometimes there is a singing lesson in the chapel, and one afternoon the teachers were all interested in the reading of one of Kipling's latest works, "They," which was read aloud to them by Prof. J. S. Wray.

After an early supper comes the great frolic of the day. Games are played in the hall or in the big porches. To some lively music all "Tirist," "Steal 'Partners," "March to Jerusaleza," or play "Bingo," As everyone knows that Jack and Jill are made dull by all work and no play, dignity and all such things are put in the background for awhile and the teachers enjoy this hour of relaxation.

Entertaining and instructive lec tures have been delivered by Prof. E. C. Brooks, Chair of Pedagogy Trinity College; Hon, S. J. Durham, Bessemer City, and Prof. J. H. Separk, Gastonia. These lectures were all of an unusually high order of merit and in the numerous up-lifting thoughts the teachers were given higher ideals and new inspirations for doing better work in their school rooms in the future. As there was no lecture on the evening of the 4th the teachers determined to celebrate the day by giving an entertainment in the chapel. The program was varied because the time was too short to prepare anything especially for the occasion. The audience, however, was most indulgent and most extremely appreciative, every performer receiving a hearty en core. The following is the program:

Opening Chorus-America. Address and reading of Declaration of Independence, Prof. Wray. Recitation-The School Marm's

Courtin', Miss Janie Morris. Music-Plano Solo, Mrs. Henderson.

Reading-Prof. S. G. Lindsay. Piano Duett-Misses Mabel and Muriel Bulwinkle. Recitation-The Little News Boy Miss Helen Durham.

Reading-Miss Lella You

Plano Solo-Miss Maggie Duet-Piano and Viblin Carrie and Janie Morris

- Recitation-"Lasca." Miss Stroi Medley of Patriotic Songs. Sunday morning at 9 o'clock s day school was conducted h Chapel by Prof. Wray.

At 4 o'clock service was coned by Rev. W. R. Ware, of Gast Mr. Ware's sermon was liste ed to throughout with the closest tion by all who were so fortunate as to hear him.

The school will close Friday when the examinations will be held by Prof. Hall.

Any county is fiely fortunate in having so many opportunates for improvement given its teachers as those given to the teachers of Gaston county through the efforts of its superintendent, Prof. F. P. Hall.

In the monthly meetings of the Teachers' Association much good is done. And now in the Summer School there is not only the benefit to be derived from study, but still more the improvement every teacher must gain from the broadening influences of mingling with each other and enjoying the kindly care, consideration, and the delightful times afforded them by both Prof. and Mrs. F. P. Hall.

A Card From Rev. J. H. Vipperman To the Editor of The Gazette.

My recent coming to McAdenville and Lowell as pastor of the Baptist church at each of the aforesaid places and the very great kindness of the people towards me since coming moves me to say a word which will be expressive and illustrative of my appreciation of the kindness shown. If will be called to mind at once that am the father of Pastor J. L. Vipperman, of Dallas, who has served the people of this county faithfully for the past ten years. Being moved, as I believe, by the spirit of God, I accepted the very generous and unanimous call extended by the church here and at Lowell some few weeks ago. I am now upon the field and have entered upon my regular duties as pastor. I have never seen a more loyal and consecrated people, and the outlook is one of hope and delight.

On the night following our arrival here the brethren and sisters came with many good things (too numerous to mention), and filled our pantry. The pounding was so severe that we shall feel it a long time, and in memory we shall never forget it. This note is my public recognition and return of thanks for their generosity and the hospitality with which we have been received. I have been identified with the work of our State for thirty-five years, which constitutes the time spent in the ministry. I take up my work here under the most pleasant conditions possible, and I can but believe that God has given us a great work to do in His name. With salutations to the brotherhood,

I am truly, J. H. VIPPERMAN. Pastor McAdenville Baptist Church McAdenville, July 6, 1908.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Margaret Ann Henderson Died, at her home near Pleasant Ridge, Gaston county, N C., on Sunday, the 28th day of June, 1908, s Margaret Ann Henderson, aged 71 years and ten months. Surviv ing her in the immediate family is one sister. Miss Abbie Henderson, with whom the deceased lived at the old homestead for many many years. They were devoted sisters and true friends and neighbors. The deceased united with Olney church (of family had long been members) in early life and was a devoted and consistent member of that church up to the time of her death. Her faith was always bright and sustained her in all trials and troubles and especially during her last filness.

She was buried at Olney church on Monday, the 29th of June, Rev. G. A. Sparrow, who had been her pas tor for fifteen years, conducting the services, taking as a subject for his remarks the text, "In thy ppesence is fullnes of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore." A good plous woman has gone from earth but, as we believe, to enter into that fullness of joy found at God's right hand and pleasures that are unalloyed and which are eternal. G. A. S.

Fourth at Shelby. Faturday was a great day in Shelby. In addition to being the Fourth of July it was the day set apart for the dedication of Cleveland county's handsome new $75,000 court house described as the finest temple of justice in North Carolina. The address of welcome was delivered by that brilliant young orator, Mr. Clyde R. Hoey, and the dedicatory address was delivered by Judge James L Webb who reviewed the history of the county from its organization to the present time. Several thousand people were on hand and, although copious rains fell, they enjoyed the day immensely.

Young Woman Suicides.

Miss Maude Stewart, aged 26, daughter of C. W. Stewart, a prominent Davie county farmer, committed suicide Saturday night by taking a dose of strychnine. She left a note saying that Christ had called her and she wanted to join her broth er who ended his life in a similar 18 months ago.

Hardin, prelate; Mason Stevenson, K, of R. and S.: L. C. Pegram, M. E.: J. W. Culp, M. F.; J. H. Workman, M. W.; Marsh Morrow, M. at A.; R. S. Aiken, inner guard; W. L. Head, outer guard. Mr. J. W. Kirkpatrick, act- North Carolina, within legal hours, ing as deputy grand chancellor inducted the new men into office. Mr. S. A. Robinson is the deputy grand chancellor for the ensuing term. The Gastonia Lodge has at present a membership of about ninety and is one of the best equipped lodges in the State. The semi-annual term which her father and mother and just closed has been one of the most satisfactory and successful since the institution of the lodge. The new set of officers hope to make the ensuing term one of the best in the history of the lodge. Immediately after the installation services each of the newly installed officers was called on for a speech and each responded in a most gracious manner. Altogether the ocasion was a most enjoyable one for all present.

Casuality Statistics of the Fourth. Since 1902 the Journal of the American Medical Association has made an effort to tabulate statistics setting forth what the celebration of the Fourth costs in life and human usefulness: and although these are not given in full or comprehensivecompiled, as they are almost entirely from newspaper reports instead of from records of hospitals, dispensaries, and physicians-they form a very serious indictment of a national folly.

They show that during the celebra tion of five national birthdays, from 1903 to 1907, inclusive, 1,153 perons were killed and 22,520 injured! Of the injured, 80 suffered total, and 389 partial, blindness; 380 persons lost arms, legs and hands, and 1, 670 lost one or more fingers,
