AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Hon. A. M. Stack heard at Methodist Church Sunday Night by Large Audience—Told of Religious Conditions in the East and the Remedy Therefor.

A large congregation was present Sunday night at Main Street Methodist church to hear an address on "Religious Conditions in the East and the Remedy for Them" by Hon. A. M. Stack, a well-known lawyer of the State and a prominent official of the Methodist church at Monroe, his home town. This address was one of a series on missionary subjects which the pastor, Rev. W. R. Ware, is giving his congregation during the present month.

Mr. Stack has traveled extensively and last year while making a tour of the Holy Land and other eastern countries wrote a valuable and interesting series of letters to a number of secular papers in this country which were extensively read. His address Sunday night showed him to be a keen observer and a man who is vitally interested in his subject. He was introduced in a brief but neat speech by Mr. L. L. Hardin.

The speaker devoted the evening to discussing conditions as he found them in Palestine, the land of the Turks, where Mohammedanism is prevalent. The Mohammedan, he said, was taught the Koran from infancy to manhood, this, their Bible, being the only book used in the native Turkish schools. Their religion teaches them to hate and wage war on all peoples of other religious beliefs. Hospitality it teaches them, also, and while under the roof of a Mohammedan a Christian is treated royally but as soon as he is outside he is a legitimate prey for his host who turns robber and persecutor. He related a number of humorous incidents to illustrate the absolute unreliability of the Mohammedans who have no regard for their word. He told of the manner in which the lower class is oppressed by the ruling class, the system being such that confiscation of property is general and hence all incentive to accumulate property by the lower class is killed. This results in a spirit of laziness and apathy on the part of the people which manifests itself in social conditions which are appalling. He told of the oppression of the women and the light regard in which they are held.

The remedy for these conditions, said the speaker, lies in the Christian religion and it falls to the Anglo-Saxon race to carry this religion to these benighted people. Some headway is being made along this line but it is a slow process and will require long and arduous labor.

Pastor Ware announced that next Sunday there would be addresses on some phase of missionary work by a prominent North Carolinian and a native of this State who has for many years resided at Antioch, in Syria.

A missionary deaconess in Liberia has edited in native dialect a book containing the Ten Commandments, the Apostles' Creed, the doxology and a number of the best known hymns. The book is not only the first book published in the dialect, but the first successful attempt to make it a written language.

SOCIAL.

Little Henry Franklin Glenn, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Glenn, celebrated his second birthday at his parents' home on the corner of Franklin avenue and Oakland street last Thursday afternoon. Several of his little friends were invited. The birthday cake, set with candles, was cut in the dining room, and each of the little guests was given a small photograph of the young host as a souvenir of the occasion.

Mr. Matthew Harper, of Atlanta, Ga., spent Saturday in Gastonia shaking hands with old friends, of whom he has a large number here. He spent Sunday in Charlotte with his family who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Durham. They returned to Atlanta on No. 39 yesterday morning. As Miss Val Sevier, Mrs. Harper is pleasantly remembered by many Gastonians. "Mat" as he is familiarly known to all his friends, was a welcome caller at the Gazette office where he "stuck" type years ago. He now has a position with the Orr Stationery Company at Atlanta.

Situation in New York Encouraging, Cleveland Star, Friday.

Clyde R. Hoey, Esq., returned Tuesday from New York City wither he and Mrs. Hoey went last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robertson. Mrs. Hoey did not return preferring the gaieties and pleasures of the metropolis for a season. Mr. Hoey reports the political situation in the Empire State as most encouraging for Democratic success. There is great confidence on the part of the leaders that Bryan will carry New York, and "as goes New York so goes the nation."

The American fleet of battleships sailed from Albany, Australia, on September 17th for Manila.

John W. Kern, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, made his first speech of the campaign in the East at Baltimore Saturday.
