MR. M. A. McALLISTER DEAD.

Aged Citizen of Union Neighborhood Succumbs to Fatal Illness—Served in Regiment of Tennessee Cavalry—Buried at Union Sunday Afternoon.

Following an illness of several months duration Mr. Mabe A. McAllister, an aged and highly respected citizen of the Union neighborhood, died Saturday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock. Funeral services over his remains were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Union Presbyterian church, of which he was a member. Rev. G. A. Sparrow, the pastor, officiating. Interment followed in the cemetery at that place. Deceased is survived by one son, Mr. John McAllister, and three daughters, Mrs. Felix Howe, of York county, S. C.; Mrs. W. C. West, who lives a short distance south of Gastonia, and Miss Lizzie McAllister, who lived with her father. His wife, who was a sister of Mr. Sam McArthur, of Gastonia, has been dead a number of years. Deceased was 75 years old.

A short time before the civil war Mr. McAllister, who was then living in this section, went West. When the war came on he enlisted in a Tennessee regiment of cavalry and did valiant service for the Confederacy during the four years of conflict. He took great interest in the annual reunions of the veterans of the county and was always present.

At the close of the war Mr. McAllister returned to Gaston, married and settled in the Union section where he continued to live up to the time of his death. For many years he had been a loyal member of Union Presbyterian church. He was one of the substantial citizens of his community and his death is the occasion for sorrow among many friends.

Enlarges Business.

Mr. Robert C. Warren, the well-known and popular blacksmith, is adding a second story to his shop in the rear of the Love building and near the new court house and jail. Mr. J. E. McAllister will do the brick work and Mr. R. L. Pite the woodwork. This enlargement is made to accommodate a new department for trimming and painting buggies, wagons and other vehicles which Mr. Warren is adding because of an insistent demand from his large number of patrons. He has secured the services of Mr. William Brlerly, an Englishman, who is an expert in this line of work and who was formerly with the Coffey Wagon Works. Mr. Warren has been in business in Gastonia for 20 years and his work is known all over the county. He is a Gaston county man and his hundreds of friends in this and adjoining counties will be pleased to note this growth in his business.

—Gastonia Chapter, No. 66, Royal Arch Masons, will hold regular communication tonight, and do work in the mark master's degree.

MR. JENKINS OUT?

Rumor Has It That Gastonia Banker is an Aspirant for Republican Nomination for Congress in This District—May be Mr. Webb's Opponent in Coming Contest.

With Mr. L. L. Jenkins a candidate for the nomination for Congress before the Republican congressional convention which meets at Shelby the last of May? The Charlotte Chronicle has heard it rumored that such will be the case and gave publicity to the rumor in its issue of last Friday. The Gazette is not able to give any further details or to confirm the rumor as Mr. Jenkins has been out of town for several days. He is expected to return to Gastonia today.

The Chronicle says: "There is another aspirant in the field for Congressman Webb's seat. If well-authenticated reports be true.

"The congressional race in the Ninth district, represented by Hon. E. Yates Webb, of Shelby, has already assumed proportions that make it one of the most important and crucial in the State, but with the latest development reported, the fight now promises to grow into something real sensational.

"Mr. L. L. Jenkins, of Gastonia, a prominent banker, and interested in cotton manufacturing, and for many years a staunch Republican, will be a candidate to be reckoned with when the Republicans come to choose a man to oppose Mr. Webb, so it is reported today. Mr. Jenkins, while in the city recently, is reported to have said to his friends that he was going into the race and was going to fight too.

"This certainly gives another complexion to affairs, and will immediately raise the question 'McNinch or Jenkins—which?'

"For the past month the entire district has been busy speculating on the probable decision of Charlotte's ex-mayor on the question of making the congressional race on the Republican ticket for Congress, and many of his friends have asserted that he would have a strong following and a fine chance of election.

"This of course held good so long as the Republican lists were open to one man alone, but with the entry of another strong and able candidate into the race, and that too just when some of the old-liners in the Republican party were calling for a life-long Republican, who is furnished in the person of Mr. Jenkins, the situation immediately assumes a different hue, and therefore something sensational is promised without doubt if Mr. Jenkins verifies reports and announces himself as a strict candidate on the G. O. P. ticket for Congress from the Ninth congressional district.

"There have been rumblings heard from the full-fledged Republican counties since the announcement that Mr. S. S. McNinch would run, to the effect that they wanted a man who would straddle the Republican platform to the last splinter thereof, or a man who had ridden the Republican elephant ever since he first saw the light, and there was some little political uneasiness in this section among the Republican leaders lest they should make an error in getting a man who not always held on to the Republican doctrine from start to finish. Of course Mr. McNinch was highly acceptable to Mecklenburg Republicans, and what is said is based on rumors and nothing more, than were heard from time to time, as to his candidacy, and yet no other names were suggested or mentioned to such an extent that they merited any special attention. Mr. McNinch has so far been the man of the hour for the race; it is only the latest report that Mr. L. L. Jenkins is going to make the race that tends to stir up and unsettle things, and there is no doubt whatever that his making the race, if he finally announces himself formally, will have immense influence on the situation.

"Of course this is all from a Republican standpoint of view. Mr. Webb, so far as anybody knows, will have a clean sweep of the field, and will get the undivided Democrat support, no opposition to him being looked for in the Democratic hosts.

"The interest now centers about Republican headquarters and with the near approach of the time when all these matters will have to be settled there is a feeling of tenseness about Republican headquarters that can be easily experienced by anyone visiting that locality.

"In the meantime, the unconquered and unconquerable, and doughty county chairman, Mr. Jake F. Newell, rests on his oars, and with one ear to the ground, listens to the numerous voices that suggest this and that, and assimilates what he considers worth while, and lets the rest go by.

"Friends of Mr. Jenkins think that he will set rumors at rest inside a few days by making a definite statement one way or the other as to his intentions."

Large Interest in Meeting.

Sunday was a great day in the revival at the First Baptist church, the auditorium being crowded to its capacity at both morning and night services. Rev. Dr. Vines preached two splendid sermons and there were a number of conversions. At night his subject was "The Return of the Prodigal Son." Though a subject used in revivals perhaps oftener than any other one theme it is one full of human interest and Dr. Vines' treatment of it was both interesting and helpful. At last night's service Dr. Vines preached to a crowded house on "Multitudes in the Valley of Decision." So far there have been about 45 conversions and 23 additions to the church. It is probable that the meeting will close tomorrow night though this is not certain and definite announcement will be made later. There will be services tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock as usual.

Commencement Exercises.

Saturday and Sunday, April 30th and May 1st, are the days announced for the commencement exercises of the Bessemer City graded schools. Prof. D. C. Johnson, the principal, has secured Rev. R. C. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, to preach the annual sermon before the school at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, the 1st. Saturday night at 8 o'clock the graduating exercises will take place. The program for the exercises includes recitation and declamation contests by members of the graduating class, the valedictory address and the presentation of diplomas and prizes. There are ten graduates this year, viz: Jess Carr Williams, Sedalia Laurie Gould, Ruth Virginia Wilson, Nannie Malissa Kennedy, Zoe Audrey Ormand, Paul Batteaux Scott, John Franklin Williams, Ernest Leon Carson, John Perry Fuller, Carl Alexandria Thornburg. The marshals for commencement are: W. Roy Wolfe, Chief; Milton F. Arrowood, John E. Gamble, John O. Durham and Harry W. Ormand. The year just drawing to a close has been a most successful one.

D. B. Hanna to Have Sale.

Mr. D. B. Hanna advertises in this issue of The Gazette that he will have a great ten-day cash sale at his store, 1205 Ozark street, near the Ozark Mill, beginning Friday of this week and continuing through Saturday, the 23rd. Mr. Hanna has been in business in East Gastonia for nearly five years and this is the first sale he has ever put on. He says he is overstocked and to get the goods
