Congressman Webb's Fine Record. Kings Mountain Herald.

Congressman Webb now that Congress has adjourned, will soon be face to face with his constituency. He brings back to the people of the Ninth District a record that any member of that body would be proud to carry in his portfolio as he camindorsement for faithful service with fruitful results. There are idle members in Congress of both parties but one has only to read the Daily House Journal to learn that E. Y. Webb is not one of them. He has but to investigate to ascertain that his record on committee work stands with the men who do things-and committees form the legislative department of that body. See the roll calls and you will find that Webb was on duty whenever important business was on the calendar. Does any one imagine that a North Carolina Congressional District would not even give such a Representative even a larger vote than he had at the previous election? Mr. Webb should

Fourth of July Picnic at Clover.

As was to have been expected, the picnic given at Clover yesterday under the auspices of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and Daughters of Liberty, was a big success. There was a large the Yorkville band, and abundance of dinner for everybody, and speeches by Messrs. Grady Hardin, J. E. Beamguard, James Cansler and C. W. Wallace. Mr. Wallace, a young man making his first effort as a public speaker, is said to have acquitted himself quite creditably. In the afternoon there was a game of baseball between Bessemer City and Clover, resulting in favor of Bessemer City by a score of 10 to 0.
