and Edith Robinson and Rev. R. A. Miller, of Lowell, have been spending some time at Linville City. Mrs. Shuford and daughter and Miss Edith Robinson are expected to return home tomorrow.

—Advertising in The Gazette pays. Mr. W. C. Warlick advertised real estate near Aberdeen for sale, using 11 inches twice. He writes that he is well pleased with the results obtained and will use more space in our columns soon. With circulation of 1,700 The Gazette reaches more people in Gaston county than any other paper published. Try an ad and be convinced.

—Mr. W. F. Michael lost a bantam hen one day last week which had reached the ripe old age of fourteen years. She laid with more or less regularity up until about a year ago. It is probable that this fowl would have lived longer but for the fact that recently she broke one of her legs and never recovered from the injury. Mr. Michael prized this bantam very highly because of her age and faithfulness in laying.

—Mr. J. N. McNair, of Little Rock, Ark., who has been visiting relatives at Asheville and Black Mountain for some weeks, arrived in Gastonia Friday to spend a few days with his many relatives and friends in this county. Mr. McNair went from here to Buncombe county as a young man in 1875, and from there to the West in 1878. This is his second visit to this county since he moved. Mr. McNair has a large connection here, being related to the Pearsons, Falls, Ferguson and Pursley families.

—Mr. J. M. Sloan, Gaston county's champion maternelon grower, was in town Saturday with a load of his fine melons. They are not as large this year as usual and the explanation is that the section of the county in which Mr. Sloan lives has experienced a drought. His farm is at Sloan's ferry on the Catawba, a mile east of Belmont. There has been no rain to amount to anything there for ten weeks, says Mr. Sloan. A few light showers have fallen but were not sufficient to do much more than lay the dust. For the first time in a long while Mr. Sloan raised his melons this year on bottom land. His finest melons have heretofore been raised on the uplands.

—In the article in Friday's Gazette concerning the new passenger depot, the statement as to the amount of business Gastonia gives the Southern Railway may not have been clearly understood by some. According to our information the town gives the Southern between 300 and 400 passengers daily on an all-year average and the roads receipts here amount to $60,000 or more monthly.

—The Singers I sold nine years ago have had no repairs and still they sew. The same quality of material is used today, but the cabinet work is prettier, the old customers say. That's why I sell the improved Singer Sewing Machine. L. C. Small, Manager.

Miss Watson to Entertain.

Miss Jennie Lillian Watson will entertain tonight at a salmagundi party in honor of Miss Sarah Mellon, of Charlotte, who is her guest. The following invitations were issued:

Miss Jennie Lillian Watson at home Tuesday evening, August thirtieth eight-thirty 305 Main Street Miss Sarah Mellon R. S. V. P.

Mrs. Charles Davis Dead.

Mrs. Flora Ormand Davis, wife of Mr. Charles J. Davis, died at her home at Lando, S. C., Sunday night after an illness of a month or more. The body was brought to Bessemer City, where Mr. and Mrs. Davis formerly lived, yesterday, and the funeral services were conducted at Long Creek Presbyterian church this morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. J. F. Armstrong, assisted by Rev. J. J. Kennedy, of Gastonia, a former pastor of Mrs. Davis. Besides her husband and several children, Mrs. Davis is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Messrs. John J., Ragan and R. C. Ormand, of Bessemer City, Mr. B. F. Ormand, of Gastonia, Miss Lyda Ormand, of Bessemer City, Mrs. S. M. Stacy, of Clover, S. C., and Mrs. Lee Rameur, of Kings Mountain. Mr. B. F. Ormand and two sons went to Bessemer City today to attend the funeral.

In an effort to commit suicide at Memphis, Tenn., last Friday, Mrs. W. N. Kilpatrick, of Germantown, Tenn., cut her throat, stuck a knife in her breast, swallowed bits of glass and metal bottle tops and ate the heads of a box of matches. At last accounts she was still living.
