—Mr. W. L. Balthis received a telegram Wednesday bearing the sad news of the death of his mother, Mrs. W. L. Balthis, Sr., which occurred Wednesday morning at her home in Baltimore. Mr. Balthis left Wednesday afternoon for Baltimore to attend the funeral.

—Rev. J. B. Cochran, former pastor of New Hope Presbyterian church, this county, and who went some months ago to Concord to become pastor of McKinon Presbyterian church, has resigned that pastorate to accept a call to Parkton in the eastern part of the State.

—Mr. A. J. Kirby, of the firm of A. J. Kirby & Co., piano and organ dealers, is building a modern six-room residence at the corner of South street and Fourth avenue. Mr. H. F. Oakley has the contract. When completed Mr. Kirby will occupy it. This will be an attractive residence, modernly equipped with conveniences, and will be quite an addition to that growing section of Gastonia.

Loray Sluggers Doing Good Work—Worthy of Assistance.

To the Editor of The Gazette.
The Loray Sluggers baseball team has been doing excellent work since the Loray Tigers disbanded. I want to say that they have had no help from outside the team. I have nothing to do with the team in any way, but I think we ought to come across and help them out. Any assistance would be gladly received by the manager. Gastonia ought to have a good team. Why not help the Sluggers? They have played the best teams in Gaston county and have lost only four games out of 20.

Trinity College opened Wednesday with the largest enrollment in its history. There are 250 old students and 165 new ones, making a total of 415. The opening exercises were conducted in Craven Memorial Hall Wednesday morning.

A dispatch from Fort Monroe, Va., dated the 8th, yesterday, and appearing in this morning's papers, states that three men were killed and a number injured when there was an explosion of fuel oil followed by a fire on the battleship North Dakota. The accident happened when the ship was 12 miles from Old Point in the lower Chesapeake Bay.

THE UNIVERSITY OPENS.

President Venable Declares It to Be the Most Critical Year in the Institution's History, It Having Reached the Limit of Expansion.
Charlotte Observer.

Chapel Hill, Sept. 8.—The University of North Carolina formally began the one hundred and sixteenth session of its history this morning. President Venable made his first talk to the students in the Chapel. This is Dr. Venable's thirty-first year of service to the University; he was a professor for twenty years, and has held the position of president for ten years. He stated that this was the most critical year in the University's history, as the institution had reached the limit of its expansion under its present means, and that unless something was done to increase its capacity, a retrenchment must be made. He asked for the co-operation of the students in building up the institution.

Mr. Frank Schell, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Schell, of Conover, Catawba county, was killed at Mount Savage, Md., Wednesday when a "dinky" engine which he was running ran wild down a mountain side, turned over and crushed him to death. He recently went there to work for a railroad construction company.
