ARLINGTON MILLS ITEMS.

ARLINGTON MILLS, Oct. 12. — Mr. Frank Summerlin and Miss Grace Lee, of this place, took a midnight drive to Bowling Green, S. C., Saturday night and were married there at one o'clock Sunday morning. They were accompanied by Mr. Tom Baker. The bride is sixteen and the groom eighteen, and the parents of both live at this place. The young couple will live at Belmont, where Mr. Summerlin has been employed for some time.

It is learned that a Gastonia woman has left her family to join an "unknown tongue" preacher and another man's wife in South Carolina. The preacher is reported as having a wife, who is living with her parents. This preacher and these two women, it is said, will take a trip over into Georgia, where they will hold a meeting to influence others to join the unknown tongue band. We hope some good will result; but also hope it will not be necessary for all the wives to leave their husbands and children.

The night class is improving. In connection with mathematics they have taken up spelling, reading and writing. We wish this class success.

Mr. E. W. Hicks has gathered his pumpkin crop and finds that he is in possession of forty nice pumpkins, grown from four vines.

Mr. C. C. Trull is known as the champion opossum hunter of this section. He has fourteen on hand that he has caught so far this season.

HOW IT ORIGINATED.

The Double Red Cross International Tuberculosis Emblem Adopted in 1902.

Although the double red cross has been used in America for more than four years as the international emblem of the crusade against tuberculosis, few people have known how it originated until announcement of the history of the symbol was made public today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

It has been ascertained that the double red cross was first suggested as the symbol of the International Anti-Tuberculosis Association in Berlin in October, 1902. The proposer of the symbol was Dr. G. Sersiron of Paris who is now Associate Secretary of L'Association Centrale Française Contre la Tuberculose. Dr. Sersiron's proposal was adopted at the Berlin meeting and a movement was at once started to secure official recognition and protection for the double cross from European governments.

The double red cross is similar in shape to a cross used frequently in the Greek Catholic Churches, and also to the Lorraine Cross of France. The National Association for the Study and prevention of Tuberculosis in the United States has adopted the proportions of nine for the length of the cross to five for the width of the arms, with a space one-ninth of the length between the arms.

In 1902, when the double red cross was adopted, there were not more than a half-dozen associations for the prevention of tuberculosis organized on a wide basis. Today under the banner of the anti-tuberculosis crusade, associations have been formed in almost every civilized country in the world. Even China is beginning to take action along this line, while in Turkey, India, Japan, the Philippines, South Africa, Australia, Iceland, and all of the European countries active societies are at work. In the United States, from four independent associations in 1902, the double red cross now enlists a carefully organized national movement under which are affiliated more than thirty State bodies and 420 local societies. If to these agencies are added the local, State, and national governments enrolled in anti-tuberculosis work, the double red cross becomes the symbol of the greatest organized campaign for the prevention of disease that the world has ever known.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

In Pretty Marriage at First Presbyterian Church Miss Clarice Knight Becomes Bride of Mr. A. Hengeveld, of Waycross, Ga.—Reception at Bride's Home Afterwards—To Natural Bridge, Va., on Honey-moon—Will Reside in Georgia.

One of the prettiest and most elaborate weddings ever celebrated in Gastonia was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church when Miss Clarice Knight, one of Gastonia's most popular and charming young ladies, became the bride of Mr. Abram Hengeveld, a prominent young business man of Waycross, Ga. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity by the friends of the contracting parties.

The interior of the church was handsomely decorated with ferns, palms and other plants. A large number of pink and white candles were arranged along the chancel railing and the choir-loft railing and a number of silver candlesticks were placed on and around the altar. The myriads of lights from these shed a soft glow over the church while the ceremony was being said. White cloth and trailing ivy were profusely used in the decoration of the chancel and choir-loft.

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party the waiting audience was entertained with a number of appropriate selections rendered on the pipe organ by Mrs. R. J. Sifford. Mrs. H. B. Moore sang sweetly "As Long As The World Rolls On." At the appointed hour the bridal chorus, constituted as follows, entered from the pastor's study and stood on the pulpit platform: Mrs. H. B. Moore, Mrs. John F. Love, Miss Marie Torrence, Miss Mary Whitesides, Miss Hattie Taylor, Miss Eliza Lindsay, Mrs. Frost Torrence, Miss Lowry Shuford. As they sang "Faithful and True" from Lohengrin's bridal chorus, the bridal party entered in the following order.

Miss Johnnie Adams down the left aisle with Mr. Frank Costner down the right; Miss Marie Hardin down the left aisle with Mr. Harry Ruff down the right; Miss Ida Lee Hill down the left aisle with Mr. Ed Pegram down the right; Mrs. Joseph T. Abernethy down the left aisle with Mr. Joseph T. Abernethy down the right. These took their positions on each side of the altar. Next came the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Pamplin down the right aisle and Mrs. Harry Ruff down the left. They were followed by little Miss Elizabeth Love and little Miss Josephine Moore, the flower girls, who came down the center aisle. Then came the bride down the center aisle accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Knight, as maid of honor; the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Robert Hunt, entered by the right aisle and met the bride at the altar.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Galloway, pastor of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, met the bride and groom at the altar and spoke in an impressive manner the beautiful words which made them husband and wife, the ring ceremony being used. As the officiating minister began to speak the electric lights were turned out and only the glow from the many candles around the altar was in evidence, the effect of which was to add beauty and solemnity to the occasion. While the ceremony was being said Miss Lillian Atkins played softly on the violin "Hearts and Flowers." The party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white messaline satin trimmed in pearls and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a handsome lavalier of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor, Miss Mary Knight, was dressed in pink silk, trimmed in pearls; she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. William Pamplin, dame of honor, wore a gown of pink chiffon over satin, with pearl trimmings, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Harry Ruff, dame of honor, wore a gown of cream chiffon over satin, trimmed in pearls, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Johnnie Adams, Miss Marie Hardin, Miss Ida Lee Hill and Mrs. J. T. Abernethy, all

DEATH OF P. R. LONG.

Highly Esteemed Citizen of Kings Mountain Died Yesterday in Charlotte Hospital—Funeral and Burial at Kings Mountain This Afternoon.

Mr. P. R. Long, one of the most prominent and highly esteemed citizens of Kings Mountain, died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a hospital in Charlotte, aged 76 years. Mr. Long became ill on last Friday less than one week before his death and was taken to a hospital in Charlotte on Monday, where he underwent an operation. For several days there was hope that he would recover, but he grew rapidly worse, and the end came yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The body was taken to Kings Mountain last night, where the funeral services will be conducted at the Methodist church, of which the deceased had been a loyal member since early life, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. D. Frank Carver, the pastor. Mr. Long had been a steward in the Methodist church for many years. The remains will be laid to rest in the Kings Mountain cemetery.

Mr. Long was a native of Gaston county, but had made his home in Kings Mountain, just across the Cleveland county line, for a number of years. He was a man of most excellent character and will be greatly missed by the people of the community in which he had so long been a valued citizen. He is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Melissa Lackey, of Gaston county, and the following children: Messrs. Oscar, William, Jake and Robert Long, of Texas; Mrs. John Thomas McGill, of Kings Mountain; Mrs. Ab McGill, of Columbia, S. C.; Misses Sallie and Ellen Long, of Kings Mountain. Mr. Long was a brother of Mr. L. H. Long, Sr., of Kings Mountain, and an uncle of Messrs. V. E. and L. H. Long, of Gastonia. Among those who went from Gastonia today to attend the funeral services were Mr. V. E. Long and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Long, of Gastonia.

—Mrs. L. C. Eury went to Kings Mountain yesterday to be with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Eury, who is ill.

wore gowns of cream lace over cream satin, trimmed in pearls, and carried bouquets of pink roses. The members of the bridal chorus wore white lingerie over pink.

Immediately following the wedding the bridal party and a few invited guests were entertained at an informal reception for the bride and groom at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Knight, on South Broad street. The receiving line in the parlor was constituted as follows: Mr. and Mrs. A. Hengeveld, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hengeveld, Mrs. Jack Hargraves, Mrs. E. V. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruff, Mrs. Sallie S. Frew, Mrs. William Pamplin. In the hall Misses Louie Fry and Essie Lindsay served punch, while cream and cake were served by Misses Susie Love, Annie McLean, Lolie Long. In cutting the bridal cake Miss Hattie Taylor got the thimble, Miss Mary Knight the button and Mrs. William Pamplin the ring. The bride threw her bouquet from the steps in the hall and it was caught by Miss Marie Torrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Hengeveld left on No. 40 Wednesday night for Natural Bridge, Va. While away they will attend the wedding, at Trinity Episcopal church in Washington, next Wednesday, of Mr. Robert Hunt, Mr. Hengeveld's best man. They will make their home at Waycross, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Hengeveld were the recipients of a large number of handsome and costly presents.

Among the out-of-town persons here for the wedding were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hengeveld, parents of the groom, of Waycross, Ga.; Mrs. Jack Hargraves, of Waycross, Ga.; Mrs. William J. Pamplin, of Waycross, Ga.; Miss Hattie Taylor, of Linwood College; Miss Ida Lee Hill, of Chlora College, Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. Sallie S. Frew and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ruff, of Rock Hill, S. C.; Miss Lela Newell and Mrs. E. V. Erwin, of Charlotte; Mr. Robert Hunt, of Waycross, Ga.; Mr. W. M. Hoke, of Fort Mill, S. C.; Miss Mattie Caldwell, of Clover, S. C., and Miss Rose Lindsay, of Yorkville, S. C.

KILLIAN-WINGET.

In Pretty Home Wedding Miss Annie Lee Winget Becomes Bride of Mr. Guy Coleman Killian—Ceremony Performed by Groom's Father Assisted by Rev. R. C. Anderson—To Washington on Bridal Trip.

One of the prettiest home weddings seen in Gastonia in a long while was that celebrated Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Winget, No. 621 West Airline avenue, when their daughter, Miss Annie Lee Winget, became the bride of Mr. Guy Coleman Killian, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. C. Killian. The vows were taken in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the young people.

The parlor, where the ceremony was said, had been most attractively decorated in a unique manner with cotton streamers and trailing ivy suspended from the ceiling together with potted plants, ferns, roses, etc. The color scheme, carried out in all the details, was pink and white.

Before the ceremony Miss Mary Whitesides sang, "Beloved, It is Morn," the accompaniment being played by Miss Carrie Morris on the piano and Miss Jane Morris on the violin. As Miss Morris played Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party entered the parlor in the following order. First came the little flower-bearers, Master Lindsey Rutter dressed in white and Little Miss Virginia Huss dressed in pink carrying a large basket of white and pink carnations. They took their stand beside the place where the bride and groom were to stand. Next came the bridesmaid, Miss Mary Spencer, of Pineville, who wore a handsome dress of suseine silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses and asparagus ferns. Then came the bride and groom together. They entered and stood in front of a large bank of ferns under a large wedding bell made of white and pink roses. Here they were met by the officiating minister, Rev. W. L. C. Killian, father of the groom, who was assisted by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. C. Anderson. According to the ritual of the Methodist church, the officiating minister impressively pronounced the words which joined their lives together. During the ceremony Miss Carrie Morris at the piano and Miss Jane Morris with the violin played softly "Love's Old Sweet Song." The bride looked winsome and attractive in a white rose.

Following the ceremony a brief informal reception was held, during which the bride and groom were the recipients of many hearty congratulations and good wishes from the large crowd present. The receiving line was constituted as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Winget, Misses Annie Gray and Mamie Davis. In the room where the presents were displayed were Misses Myrtle and Zoe Jenkins, Itara Wilson, Margaret Whitesides and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Huss. Mr. Dean Rawlings and Miss Grace Gray had charge of the marriage register. Misses Lula Whitesides and Lois Adams presided at the punch bowl assisted by Misses Minerva Jenkins and Isabel Killian.

Mr. and Mrs. Killian left on No. 38 for Washington, Baltimore and other points. Upon their return to Gastonia they will go to housekeeping.

The esteem in which both are held by a large circle of admiring friends was attested by the large number of handsome and costly presents which they received, consisting of cut glass, silverware, rugs, fancy linen, cutlery, furniture, etc.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were the following: Miss Annie Brandon, and Mr. Berry Brandon, of Clover, S. C.; Mr. Ed Killian, of Atlanta; Miss Mary Spencer and Miss Johnnie Fisher, of Pineville; Mr. Charles Boyd, of Pineville, and Miss Essie Wilson, of Dallas.

The bride is a young woman of many charms of person and character while the groom is a prominent young business man, being a member of the wholesale firm of W. L. C. Killian & Son. Both have a large circle of friends who wish for them a long and happy wedded life.

Following the rehearsal on Tuesday night the wedding cake was cut

SPEAKING AT LORAY.

Congressman E. Y. Webb Detained by Illness in His Family but Hon. Clyde R. Hoey Addressed Large Audience — County Candidates Present and Made Good Talks — Much Enthusiasm.

(Reported for The Gazette). There was a large crowd at the Loray Mills Wednesday night to greet Congressman Webb, who on account of sickness of his wife was unable to be on hand. This large and enthusiastic crowd, composed of about 400 men, women, boys and Republicans only goes to show the esteem in which the popular National Representative is held by the good citizens of Gaston. Much regret was felt on his failure to come.

But as to the speaking there was not so much disappointment after all for he had sent a good hand, Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, who is well and most favorably known in these parts. Mr. Hoey delivered one of his best speeches and held the attention of the audience for an hour and twenty minutes. Both Republicans and Democrats were well pleased with his logic and eloquence. It was indeed good Democratic gospel that no one could gainsay and it will have its effect. They can be relied upon to do their part in the fight at all times but the good reasoning that Mr. Hoey gave them shows more clearly their duty to the nation, State and our own county, and likely they will roll up even a better vote there than in the past. They have promised to do no "scratching," which they learned is not good policy.

All the county candidates were present and made pleasing announcements, and asked for the suffrage of the people, promising the best service possible. Indeed Carpenter for the Senate and Kendrick and Stroup for the House of Representatives all made good short speeches, pledging themselves to stand by the laboring people and to do the best possible for the county at large.

The Clara Mill Band furnished the best sort of music, which added to the pleasure of the occasion.

GEN. ARMFIELD DEAD.

Adjutant General J. F. Armfield of North Carolina Guard Passes at Statesville After Brief Illness.

A special dispatch from Statesville to The Charlotte Observer of yesterday morning says that Adjutant General Joseph Franklin Armfield of the North Carolina National Guard died at his home there Wednesday night after a two-weeks illness from nephritis. The funeral service will be held with military honors this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Presbyterian church at Statesville, interment to follow in Oakwood cemetery there.

General Armfield was born January 23, 1862, at Yadkinville. Early in life he took an interest in military affairs, and while young joined the old Iredell Blues, starting as a private and working on up to the captaincy. In 1892 he was elected as colonel of the First Regiment of North Carolina National Guards. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he was appointed colonel of the First Regiment of North Carolina Volunteers and served under Major-General Fitzhugh Lee through out that war. General Lee selected Colonel Armfield and his regiment to lead the attack on Havana during that war. Toward the close of the war he served for five months as brigadier-general commanding the second division seventh army corps.

Recital Monday Night.

On next Monday night, October 17th, Misses Mazie Schmidt and Rena Austin, of Charlotte, will give a recital in Expression at the Central school auditorium for the benefit of the Woman's Betterment Association. These young ladies come highly recommended as artists in their line, and the entertainment promises to be an exceedingly enjoyable one.

and the cutting afforded much enjoyment for the bridal party. Miss Annie Gray got the ring, which was engraved "K"; Miss Jane Morris got the thimble and Miss Lula Whitesides got the dime. The button was not found.
