Will The Shelby Aurora accept Senator Simmons' challenge? We hardly think so.

Senator Simmons says that the decent Republicans, including the leaders of the party in the State, do not endorse Butler. Come to think about it, we don't recall having heard anybody defend Butler except Mary-ann himself.

Insurgency, rebellion, revolution
that is the order of things as history will record them in this country, according to Senator Simmons, unless Americans get relief from the oppression and misrule of the Republican party. Insurgency is here, rebellion is in sight—and so is the downfall of the Republican party.
The country's salvation lies in the Democracy.

The tribute which Senator Simmons paid our Congressman, Yates Webb, was a very high one but one richly deserved by that hightoned Christian gentleman and able statesman: "One of the most prominent and promising young men in Congress" means something when said
by a United States Senator of Mr.
Simmons' standing and reputation.
Keep him there and when Congress is Democratic, which will probably be at its next session—the House, at least—he will take front rank in that great body. The voters of the Ninth District believe with Senator Simmons and they're going to send Webb back with the biggest majority he ever had.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt's star of destiny is falling! While he was in the South dickering for the support of Republican delegates to the 1912 convention, a vigorous movement was started among the "genuine" progressives of the West and Middle West looking toward the withdrawal of all support from the former president.

Some of the leaders of the Congressional delegation of progressives quietly talked the situation over and decided not to permit Roosevelt to run away with the leadership of the national progressive movement. If necessary, to prevent the ex-president from using the progressive movement for his own personal advancement, these real progressives will publicly repudiate Roosevelt. They will direct public attention to the gross duplicity Roosevelt practiced on the people by proclaiming himself a progressive and then straight-away turning about and allowing the New York State convention—over which he had absolute control—to adopt a platform indorsing the Payne-Aldrich tariff jugglery and the reactionary Taft administration.

The New York platform squarely describes the Payne-Aldrich law as a fulfillment of Republican promises, because it states there was an average reduction of all duties of 11 per cent, which, if true, would constitute revision downward.

This in contrast to the Wisconsin Republican platform which states unequivocally that "the Payne-Aldrich tariff is not a compliance with the pledge of the Republican party." LaFollette, Clapp, Bristow, Cummins and Dolliver are on record as saying the Republican promise of downward revision was not carried out. Therefore, if Roosevelt was right, the progressives who declared otherwise are members of the Annapolis club, which they emphatically deny, and which the public does not believe.

The Roosevelt-made platform contains still another paragraph which makes T. R. impossible as leader of the genuine progressives in 1912, to-wit: "We enthusiastically indorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft."

The genuine progressives "enthusiastically" do NOT indorse the Taft administration. Progressives like LaFollette condemn Taft for having filled his cabinet with representatives of the special interests; for having indorsed Cannon as another Lincoln, Aldrich as the greatest living financier and the tariff law as the best tariff bill ever passed; and last but not least, for having through out his administration sought counsel from men like Aldrich, Guggenheim, Stephenson, Dalzell and Fordney, while at the same time refusing to give even respectful notice to the suggestions of progressive Republicans.

Through indorsing the tariff and Taft, Roosevelt has queered himself with the progressives. They will not permit him to enter the 1912 progressive movement, much less to bring in with him Mr. Taft and Elihu Root, the messenger boy of Wall street.

Roosevelt declares that had he been in absolute control of the New York Republican convention he "would have written the tariff plank differently." He was in absolute control. He named the platform committee himself, in violation of all precedents. As temporary chairman of the convention he removed four members of the committee and substituted delegates personally acceptable to himself. He had made a rough draft of the platform before he left his home at Sagamore Hill. He made a speech on the floor of the convention in behalf of the direct nominations plank, but he said never a word about the tariff. Query: If he had pronounced views on the tariff why did he not air them? It would have been an opportunity to reveal his much-boasted courage and fearlessness. Mr. Roosevelt could have prevented the platform from indorsing the tariff, or could have made it say anything he wished on that subject.

PITY THE MANUFACTURERS.

"We must have more protection! Otherwise the foreign manufacturers will drive us out of our home markets!" This was the cry that went up from the lobbies of the manufacturers in Washington while the tariff was being revised. The fact is, however, that instead of being in danger of being driven out of home markets, our manufacturers are competing successfully with the manufacturers in nearly every country on earth by selling their goods cheaper abroad than to home consumers. During the eight months ended with August there were exported in all $1,027,000,000 worth of goods. Manufactured products composed more than 52 per cent of that, valued at more than $542,000,000. Exports of that class represented $2,500,000 for each business day. Twenty years ago they were only a little more than $750,000 a day.

LLOYD DID EXCELLENT WORK.

Nearly all of the 391 Democratic congressional candidates have been nominated. To James T. Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman of the National Democratic Congressional committee properly belongs a large share of the credit for the high character of the men selected to make the race in the name of Democracy. From the moment he took charge of the campaign Mr. Lloyd concentrated his efforts upon seeing that men of high moral character and recognized integrity were named. "We can win, but only if we present men of proven patriotism and integrity, to the voters," declared Mr. Lloyd over and

PLAN TO SPEND A MILLION.

Tuberculosis Association Shows How Money from Red Cross Christmas Seals Would Provide Needed Hospitals.

What "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals" will do in the checking of consumption, is explained in a bulletin issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Counting every available bed for consumptives in the United States, even those in almshouses, penal institutions, and hospitals for the insane, there are at the present time accommodations for hardly 30,000 tuberculosis patients. This is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculosis persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every twenty-five or thirty. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment, fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis would be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed.

These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross Seals.

The National Association cites one illustration of the way in which a small sum spent in education has secured large appropriations. The New York State Charities Aid Association in the three years, 1908, 1909 and 1910 has spent in the up-State portion of New York about $55,000 in arousing the people to the dangers of tuberculosis. As a direct result of the public sentiment produced by this outlay, the State, county and municipal authorities have already appropriated for tuberculosis work $1,500,000 and appropriations for hundreds of thousands of dollars are pending. Hundreds of hospital beds have been provided, and the Association already aims for "No Uncared for Tuberculosis in 1915."

Thus, the National Association says if a million dollars is realized from the sale of Red Cross Seals, millions more will be added to it from the public treasuries. Last year 25,000,000 stamps were sold. It is aimed this year to sell four times as many.

over again to the Democratic leaders throughout the country. This was practically an ultimatum, because Chairman Lloyd saw to it personally that his wish was carried out.

A TARIFF EXAMPLE.

The plate glass trust, made possible by the higher tariff wall, has added 100 per cent to its selling prices in about two years' time, and of this advance it gave one-sixth to the workmen and five-sixth to the stockholders. This trust makes the American consumer pay nearly $2 for ever $1 worth of glass he buys. It will be noticed that the ratio of 1 to 5 is about the usual proportion in which the Republican party protects the laborer and rich manufacturer,
