WILL NOT GET SHOPS. Carolina & Northwestern Turas Down Gastonia's Offer Because of Refusal to Purchase and Donate Additional Lands—Believed That Shops Will Remain in Chester—Disappointment at the Outcome. Gastonia will not get the Carolina & Northwestern Railway shops. This fact was definitely determined Monday afternoon as the result of a conference between Mayor T. L. Craig, chairman of the committee having the matter in hand, and General Manager L. T. Nichols of the road. Mr. Nichols, for the road, declined to accept Gastonia's offer unless our citizens would purchase and donate to the road some land adjoining the site of six acres tendered and was told that the road would have to take the offer as it was made or decline it. He did the latter. Even had the committee handling the matter felt disposed to purchase this additional land—and they were not—they could not possibly have secured it as the owners refused to sell and the railroad folks had been so informed. Monday's action was a direct result of a meeting held at the city hall last Thursday night, at which the majority of the subscribers to the fund of $8,500 offered the railway were present. At that meeting it was decided to notify the officials that they would be given five days within which to accept or reject the offer of Gastonia and that, should the same be accepted, they should put in writing what they proposed to put in Gastonia in the way of shops and people. There was considerable discussion at this meeting pro and con. Quite a number of citizens, believing that we had been very badly treated, were insistent that Gastonia's offer be withdrawn. The sentiment that we should not take snap judgment on the road, however, prevailed and it was decided to give them five days to reach a decision. It is the consensus of opinion here that the shops will remain at Chester, despite the fact that officials of the road insist that such is not their intention. There is a feeling among the people here, and there is apparently good foundation for such belief, that Gastonia and other North Carolina towns were largely used as levers to prize up Chester, which has during all the past practically knifed the road in the matter of giving it business. It has been understood here all along that the offer of Chester contained, among other items, an agreement from practically all the business men of Chester that they would in the future give the C. & N. W. a large part of their business. There is a general feeling of disappointment on the part of Gastonian's that the town failed to land the shops but all feel that Gastonia did her part in offering considerations totaling in value about $20,000 and giving the road more than two months in which to consider it. It is not putting it too strong to say that a large number of people in Gastonia feel that the railroad gave the town somewhat of a raw deal in the manner in which it handled the proposition. Gastonia has in the past given this road a large amount of business, more by far than any other town on the line in fact and, if anything, was entitled to the best of treatment which she did not get.
