BALDHEADED MEN.

Ignorance of the Hair Causes Much Baldness Among Men.

Early plety doesn't cause baldness, neither does any kind of plety. Some baldheaded men console themselves with the idea that baldness is caused by a superabundance of gray brain matter, and would have the world believe that a baldhead is a sign of great intellect.

Such, however, is not the case. Ninety-nine times in one hundred, baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down deep into the roots of the hair, destroy its vitality and cause it to fall out.

All this may come gradually and take time, but as an up-to-date humorist would say "what's time to a dandruff germ?"

If you have dandruff, the little invisible, persistent devils called dandruff germs are at work. Destroy them at once, or sooner or later they will cause your hair to fall out and you will be compelled to take your place in the baldheaded class.

In France baldheads are few because men understand how to care for the hair. Parisian Sage is a hair grower and invigorator that is guaranteed by J. H. Kennedy & Co. to grow hair if the hair root is not already destroyed, to eradicate dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, or money back.

50 cents for a large bottle at J. H. Kennedy & Co.'s and druggists everywhere on money back plan.

LIFE OF A WATCH.

Depends Largely on the Timekeeper and the Man Wearing It.

The life of a watch, jewelers say, depends largely on the person carrying it and the care taken of it. As to the care of a watch some jewelers say that it should be oiled once a year, some once in two years; perhaps once in eighteen months would be about the right thing.

All jewelers say that a watch should always be wound at the same time daily. This is essential to make it give the best and most uniform results. If a watch is permitted to run down it may on rewinding keep different time and require regulating. With the watch wound regularly and kept running there is set up and established in the mainspring a certain tension. If this strain is wholly released by letting the watch run down the spring may on rewinding take on a somewhat different tension. This difference may be extremely slight, but it may be enough to affect the running of the watch.

While some watches are long lived, many are short lived, the long lived watches being of course those of fine quality that are also well cared for. But there is a limit to the life of any watch that is kept constantly in use. The best of watches, like the best of anything, will wear out in time.

A watchmaker had lately brought in to him for repair a watch 125 years old that had been running practically continuously. It might be difficult to say of just what duration its intervals of rest had been, but it was supposed to have been run practically continuously, and, though it had stopped at least once, it was still in fairly good condition and good for some future use. But this was an extraordinary case. Most watches, however excellent they may have been originally, would with constant use wear out in far less time.

Sometimes there are brought in to jewelers fine old and once valuable watches whose owners, desiring now to buy a new watch, wish to offer the old watch at some price in exchange, but it is of no value except for the weight of the metal contained in its cases. Every jeweler has an accumulative collection of such old works, which are of no value whatever, except that at long intervals there may be found among them a wheel or a part that may serve in some other old time watch brought in for repair.

So watches do wear out, and as to the life of a watch, a jeweler said, a good average watch with fair care ought to wear from thirty to forty years and a fine watch fifty years; it might last seventy-five, but fifty years would probably be nearer the figure.

It may be thought that a superior watch would last longer than that, but really the wonder is that this delicate piece of mechanism running year after year ceaselessly should run so long.—New York Sun.

A Matter of Opinion.

"Mary!"
Father's voice rolled down the stairs and into the dim and silent parlor.

"Yes, papa, dear!"
"Ask that young man if he has the time."

A moment of silence.
"Yes; George has his watch with him."

"Then ask him what is the time."
"He says it is 11:48, papa."
"Then ask him if he doesn't think it about bedtime."

Another moment of silence.
"He says, papa," the silvery voice announced impersonally—"he says that he rarely goes to bed before 1, but it seems to him that it is a matter of personal preference merely and that if he were in your place he would go now if he felt sleepy."—Harper's Bazar.

Fruitful Florida.

Of the states east of the Mississippi, Florida is second in area by only a very small margin, being over 59,000 square miles in extent. She has over 1,500 miles of sea coast, embracing what is probably the most wonderful system of land-locked harbors in the world. Her whole surface is dotted with wide rivers and broad lakes, guaranteeing her, in conjunction with a network of state canals, cheap transportation for all time to come. Her soil can produce practically every known fruit of the earth, most of it in abundance.—National Magazine.

Cautious.

A member of the faculty of a New England university tells of a freshman who was asked by one of the professors whether he had proved a certain proposition in Euclid. "Well, sir," responded the freshman, "'proved' is a strong word. But I will say that I have rendered it highly probable."

Chatham a Natural Rabbit Farm.

Charlotte Chronicle.
It is no joke about the Chatham county rabbit. For years the rabbit has been one of the chief articles of commerce of Chatham. It is a natural rabbit farm. Chatham county is. Rabbits breed best in the cover of broomseed and the thickets along the streams, and the four large streams flowing through Chatham and going to form the Cape Fear furnish fine cover for the rabbits. Furthermore, the rabbit is a most prolific breeder. What we cannot understand, however, is that with rabbits retailing at 20 cents in Greensboro and 39 cents in Richmond, the Chatham county dealers are not getting a better price than 10 cents for their crop.
