Correspondence of The Gazette.

GASTONIA, Route 3, June 12. — The home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Warren was saddened Thursday morning, June 8th, by the death of their infant daughter, Jessie Adams, aged nine months and four days. Death was due to stomach trouble from which the little thing had always suffered. Funeral services were conducted Friday morning by Rev. J. J. Beach at Sandy Plains Baptist church after which the little body was tenderly laid to rest in the Sandy Plains cemetery. The little one was taken seriously ill Saturday. All that medical aid and loving hands could do was of no avail. She is survived by a mother and father, who have the sympathy of their many friends. Those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wright, of Gastonia; Mr. W. M. Wright and daughters, Misses Ella and Florence, of Lowell.

The Orphan Class.

This Singing Class from the Oxford Orphanage has started on its second tour. The demand for the splendid entertainment which these children give has grown so much that it has become necessary to have the tour of the State divided into three trips instead of two, as has been the case for some years past. This enables them to take two resting spells instead of one which makes the work much easier on them. The first trip, which was confined to the north-eastern and piedmont section of the State was a most successful one, and the children's entertainment received most flattering compliments at every point visited. In fact we are informed that the invitations which come in, begging for a visit of the children, are so numerous as to make it, at times, not a little embarrassing to the management to know how to accept all of them. This is so much the case that after every effort is made by the management to show their appreciation of these invitations, some places have to be left out. This is a noble cause and worthy of the help of all good people, but we feel sure that all who attend these concerts will get value received for all they pay to hear them.

Efforts are being made to secure the release from the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, of W. J. Nichols, a North Carolinian and a former member of the Legislature of this State, who is serving a two-years sentence for using the mails to defraud.

A resolution has been adopted by the business men of Salisbury recommending the Statesville route as more preferable than the Landis-Mooreville one in the great central highway through the State. Salisbury will thus be the junction point between that route and the New York-Atlanta National Highway. The central highway aims to connect the county seats from Raleigh to Asheville. From that point it is to be taken up by Tennessee and extended to Memphis.

MRS. A. R. ANDERS DEAD.

Good Woman Passes After Severe Illness of Two Months—Funeral and Burial This Afternoon—Mr. J. R. Kincaid, Aged Citizen, Dies—The Grim Reaper Busy With His Relentless Scythe.

There were hundreds of sorrowing hearts in Gastonia and elsewhere last night when the news went out about 7:30 o'clock from the City Hospital that Mrs. Jane E. Anders, wife of Mr. A. R. Anders, was dead. Though the news was not unexpected this fact did not lessen the grief which the announcement brought to relatives and friends. Throughout yesterday it was known by the physicians and family that the end was fast approaching and loving eyes watched at her bedside and loving hands ministered to her every need in the last hours. She was conscious most of the time up to the end and gave to her loved ones full assurance that she was ready to pass from earth to the great beyond and that the future held no terrors for her. For two months or more she had suffered greatly but bore her suffering with patience and fortitude. Some two or three weeks ago she underwent an operation but this failed to relieve her trouble and she grew gradually weaker until the end. Death was due to gastritis.

Deceased was, prior to her marriage to Mr. Anders, Miss Jane E. Gaston, of this county and was 53 years and five months old. To this union were born three children, only one of whom, Dr. Frank R. Anders, survives. Commodore died in infancy and Mrs. Eula G. Jenkins died several years ago. She is also survived by her husband and four sisters, Mrs. Puett, of Dallas; Mrs. T. N. Williams, of Gastonia, and Misses Dorcas and Margaret Gaston, of Dallas.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Main Street Methodist church, her pastor, Rev. G. D. Herman, officiating. Interment followed in Oakwood cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. Lee Robinson, W. B. Morris, W. Y. Warren, J. H. Separk, B. T. Morris and W. L. Balthis. Mrs. Anders had been a loyal and consistent member of the Southern Methodist church since she was 12 years old. She has for many years been a member of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Main Street church, being one of the most active and loyal members of these organizations, the members of which attended the funeral in a body.

The heartfelt sympathy of many friends goes out to the bereaved family.

AGED CITIZEN PASSES.

Mr. J. R. Kincaid, one of the oldest, best-known and most highly respected citizens of this county, died Sunday afternoon, June 11th, at his home near Olney church a few miles south of the city. Had Mr. Kincaid lived until August he would have been 84 years of age.

Mr. Kincaid was a native of South Carolina, but came to Gastonia county in early life and settled. He married Miss Susan Glenn from which union came a large family, several of whom have died. The children who survive, in addition to the aged mother who was older than Mr. Kincaid himself, are Messrs. J. J. M. G., W. F. and Emmett Kincaid and Mrs. S. J. Huffstetler, all of Gastonia. Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid had been married sixty-two years.

Rev. G. A. Sparrow conducted the funeral yesterday afternoon at Olney church in which congregation the deceased had served as an elder for the greater part of his life.

DAVID CARPENTER.

A peculiarly sad death was that of young David Carpenter, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Carpenter, of High Shoals. Young Carpenter was brought down on the C. & N-W. Thursday afternoon, suffering intense pain from an acute attack of appendicitis. He was taken to the City Hospital where an operation followed. He was not benefited, however, and all that tender skill and loving hands could do ministered unto him in the hope of saving his life, but all in vain. Sunday afternoon in the midst of a terrible wind and rain-storm he breathed his last.

JAMES J. SAVAGE.

Mr. Jas. J. Savage, of Lowell, a former resident of Gastonia, died Sunday morning about 11 o'clock. Death was due to a chronic stomach trouble. The death of this man is peculiarly sad, in that he leaves a wife and seven children who feel most keenly the loss of husband and father.

The deceased was 53 years old and a member of the Junior O. U. A. M. The funeral was conducted yesterday afternoon at Lowell, and the burial was solemnized by the Junior Order rites.

MRS. D. C. BOLICK.

Mrs. Delphia C. Bolick, of 402 Poplar street, died Saturday night at 12 o'clock. The deceased was a native of Catawba county and at the time of her death was 53 years old. The funeral was conducted from the home Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. J. Beach and the interment was in Hollywood cemetery.

This from Saturday's Charlotte Observer is of interest to Gastonians. The following invitation has been received here by friends of the popular young couple to the marriage of Miss Martha Elizabeth Caldwell to Mr. Herbert Livingston Wright, both of Clover, S. C.:

Dr. and Mrs. James Wallace Campbell request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their niece Miss Martha Elizabeth Caldwell to Mr. Herbert Livingston Wright on the evening of Wednesday, June the twenty-first at half after eight o'clock Presbyterian church Clover, South Carolina. Both prospective bride and groom are well-known in Gastonia where each has visited frequently.

EDDLEMAN-ROSEMAN WEDDING.

The following from Friday's Lincoln County News will be read with interest in Gastonia:

Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock a beautiful marriage was solemnized in the Presbyterian church when Miss Nellie Holland Roseman gave her hand in marriage to Mr. William P. Eddleman, of Shelby. On this occasion the church presented a scene of entrancing loveliness, being artistically decorated in spreading ferns and evergreens.

As the hour approached for the plighting of the troth, Miss Marie Torrence, of Gastonia, sang in a sweet soprano voice, a beautiful vocal solo, "All for You." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Karl Detter, of Charlotte, who at the conclusion of the song began the skillful rendition of the time-honored Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," to which the bridal party entered. The first to come up the wide center aisle were the ushers, Messrs. R. M. Roseman, Jr., and F. B. Hambrick, of Shelby. They were followed by the bride's maid, Miss Neal Roseman, who wore a beautiful dress of white messaline and carried in her arms a bouquet of delicate pink carnations and asparagus fern. She was followed by the third usher, Mr. Stacy Boyce, of Gastonia, who took his place near the altar. The next to enter was Miss Porney Roseman, the maid of honor, attired in a lovely gown of white messaline and carrying a bouquet similar to that of her sister. The groom and his best man, Mr. John Holland, of Mount Holly, next came up the center aisle and awaited the bride at the hymeneal altar. Following them were the two lovely little flower girls, Misses Margaret Wright and Sarah Costner, who carried baskets of flowers which they gracefully scattered in the pathway of the bride, who entered upon the arm of her brother, Mr. R. M. Roseman. She wore a beautiful costume of white crepe meteror with trimmings of pearls and handsome Irish point lace. Her lovely shower bouquet was of Bride's roses and lily-of-the-valley while her veil was caught with orange blossoms. She

NEW PHONE SYSTEM.

Piedmont Telephone & Telegraph Company Will Install New System at Gaffney—Great Improvement Over the Old Way.

The following excerpt from The Gaffney (S. C.) Ledger's account of the meeting of the board of trade of that town Friday night will be of interest to many Gastonians:

The last, but by far most important matter that was discussed by the board was the telephone situation in Gaffney. This matter was taken up some time ago by a committee appointed by the president, with the telephone people. Mr. R. B. Babington, general manager of the Piedmont Telephone Company, appeared before the body at the May meeting and made them a proposition to install the Bell system in this city. The cost of this new system will be about $10,000 and will be borne by the company, while the rates will be slightly increased. At the meeting on Friday night the committee appointed to look into this matter reported favorably upon it and advised that the telephone company be permitted to make the change from the old system to the new. This caused considerable discussion and for some time the matter was pro and coned but it ended by the body approving of the committee's recommendation and accordingly Gaffney will have an entire new telephone system probably by next fall. This will be quite an improvement on the old system and will help the town materially. Following this discussion and the approval of the report the meeting was adjourned.

A destructive wind, rain, hail and electrical storm swept over the lower end of the Virginia peninsula yesterday afternoon leaving death and destruction in its wake. Reports are as yet incomplete but it is believed that the list of dead will number at least fifteen. Many small boats along the James river and at Hampton Roads went down in the storm. Property damage was also heavy.

Purchases Entire Stock.

The entire stock of Mr. J. D. Morthe 5 and 10-cent dealer in the Davis block, who voluntarily closed his doors some days ago has been purchased by Mr. W. H. Dellinger who has re-opened the store and will continue the business. Mr. Morton with his family moves in a few days to Lilesville. Gastonia regrets that such action is necessary, but wishes him every success in his new field.

Hail Does Damage.

Yesterday's rain was accompanied by a severe hail storm which started in the vicinity of Crowders Mountain and moved eastward over the Pisgah section and on south of Gastonia. It hailed some here but not enough to do any real damage. A gentleman who was in the Pisgah section at the time informs The Gazette that crops in that part of the county suffered very much. It was his opinion that practically half of the corn and cotton in the section which suffered most was destroyed. The hail stones, he says, ranged from the size of a guinea egg on down. Cotton was beaten to pieces and corn was torn into shreds. In and around Gastonia there were several pretty good showers which moistened the dry earth and imparted life and energy to the parched vegetation.

Comes to Gastonia.

The following item from the report of the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Western North Carolina Conference, in session for the past several days at Lexington, taken from the Lexington correspondence of The Greensboro Daily News of Sunday will be read with interest by many Gastonians: "The question of the selection of the place for holding the next annual meeting was called. Mrs. J. H. Separk nominated Main Street church, Gastonia, and this nomination was seconded by Mrs. S. T. Morris, district secretary of the Shelby district. The choice of Gastonia was made unanimous. Mrs. Robertson referred to the very pleasant meeting held in Gastonia two years ago and said that she was confident that all of the women who attended that meeting would be glad to go there again."

took her place beside the groom in front of Revs. W. R. Minter and R. A. Miller, of Lowell, who, in beautiful language, made them husband and wife. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the bridal party left the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus."

The newly-wedded couple left on the afternoon train for Norfolk from whence they will go by boat to New York city. The bride's going away gown was a becoming suit of green cloth with hat and gloves to match. Among the out-of-town guests who were present at the wedding were: Miss Gertrude Hambrick and Messrs. F. B. Hambrick, L. A. Gettys and L. P. Holland, of Shelby; Mrs. Sloan Robinson, Miss Virginia Robinson, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Miller, of Lowell; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holland and Miss Ada Dunn, of Mount Holly; Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Todd, Meadames S. F. Grier and D. P. Stowe, Miss Beattie Cox, and Mrs. Thompson, of Belmont; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Detter, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hand and Rev. C. E. Little, of Charlotte; Mrs. Frost Torrence and daughter, Miss Marie, Mrs. Wash Ragan, Miss Mary Ragan, Mr. Stacy Boyce and Dr. H. M. Eddleman, of Gastonia.
