Has Come Back Home.

Mr. John Nantz and family, who left Gaston county some five or six years ago and went to Virginia where they purchased a farm and settled down, have returned to the old home county to make their home in the future. They arrived several days ago. Mr. Nantz sold his farm when he left but says he is looking for one to buy now and expects to stay in good old Gaston this time. The Gazette likes to chronicle events of this character. We would like to hear of more Gaston countians who have emigrated to the West or any other section coming back. They couldn't do better. Gaston is one of the very best counties in all the Pledmont section of the Carolinas, famed as it is for its fine lands, its manufacturing interests and its industrious and prosperous citizens.

-Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nichols, of the Bethel section, were in town last Thursday, Mrs. Nichols spending the day in Charlotte.

BAD NEGRO THIEF CAUGHT.

Police Department Made Good Haul When It Landed Bus McLean Last Night-Has a Bad Reputation-Had Robbed a Clothing Store and Was Selling Brand New Garments at Less Than Cost-Bound Over to Court.

Chief of Police J. W. Carroll, Patrolmen Hord and Aderholdt and Mr. Clarence Johnson landed Bus McLean, a notorious negro thief, last night near Lowell. From his person they took a .44 calibre Colts revolver and from his hands they took a nice new tan leather suit case which was tightly packed with brand new clothing, which he evidently stolen somewhere in this section. He was brought back to Gastonia and was this morning bound over to the September term of court by Mayor Craig. In de-fault of bond he was committed to the county fail.

The suit case contained four pair of pants, three coats and a quantity of shirts, ties, collars and other gents furnishings," all of a cheap quality. One coat was tagged with lot No. 6610, size 35, and another coat, a gray one, was No. 8525, size 35. One pair of pants was tagged lot No. 825, size 34-35.

McLean did not deny stealing the clothing but said he broke into a store near Greenville, S. C. The officers, however, are of the opinion that the goods came from some country store perhaps not far from Gastonia.

McLean's record is a bad one. He has served several sentences on the chaingang and had only been released about a month ago. About three weeks ago he entered the residence of Mr. Bob McArver and stole a quantity of clothing.

Last night he was offering some very wonderful bargains in clothing in East Gastonia and the suspicions of some were aroused. The police were promptly notified and started in search of McLean. In the meantime he had shaken the dust of Gastonia from his feet. As usually happens, however, the Gastonia officers kept after him till they landed their game.

Gastonia will be repre-sented by a good crowd. The mem-bers of these three locals would be glad to see the people present from all sections of the county.

CHERRYVILLE THE MECCA.

Ten to Twelve Thousand People Attended Celebration Saturday -Governor Kitchin Made Splendid Speech to Large Audience-Burning of the Balloon and a Heavy Downpour of Rain Only Drawbacks-Old Soldiers Treated Royally.

All roads led to Cherryville Esturday; at least all Gaston county roads did and it looked as if a good part of the population of Lincoln and Cleveland counties were there to help swell the crowd and enjoy the occasion. There were visitors also from York, Mecklenburg, Catawba and even remoter counties. The newspaper man saw at least one man who drove 35 miles to get The crowd is variously estimated at from 10,000 to 12,000, none of the estimators placing it lower than the first figure. ernor Kitchin said it was the largest crowd he ever saw in a town the size of Cherryville. It looked like circus day-and a big circus day at that—in the fall of the year when crops have been gathered and folks have more time than now to recreate and look for a good time.

From early morn till the noon hour people poured into the town from all directions, coming in automobiles, buggies, wagons, horseback, on motorcycles, afoot and in all sorts of ways. Main street took on the appearance of a midway at the fall fair. The venders of peanuts and red lemonade, the spielers for the vaudeville shows and the restaurant keepers kept the welkin ringing while the Clara Concert Band, Gastonia's crack musical organization made the air merry with martial tunes. The crowd was out for a good time. Despite its size no sign was seen of drunkenness and there was no disorderliness. In this respect the crowd was one of the very best anybody has ever seen in Gaston county.

Because of a sad mishap one of the principal attractions on the program was necessarily cancelled and good many people were thereby disappointed. It was the balloon ascension. The balloon went up. but in smoke. While the owner and operator of the "sky-buggy" filling his apparatus with gas caught fire from the gasoline light underneath. It was quickly consumed and the fond hope of seeing the air man do stunts high up in the ethereal blue vanished from the hearts of many. The balloon man was the loser by perhaps several hundred dollars. The train on which Governor he began to speak. He addressed the people in the open air form a stand erected on the graded school grounds. He spoke for an hour or more and was heard with the very strictest attention by a large crowd, Most of his hearers had to stand, notwithstanding which fact they remained during the entire time the Governor spoke, an hour or a little more. The Governor spoke on the requisites of good citizenship and his address was a strong, logical. convincing treatment of his subject. The prime requisites for a good citizen are intelligence, judgment, courage and honesty and on these topics he dwelt at length. Mr. Kitchin has been heard a number of times in Gaston during political campaigns and has a large following in the county but it is certain that his address Saturday, on a subject into which he injected nothing of politics, made him more friends. No person could hear and heed his advice without being a better, a broader, a more valuable member of society. At the conclusion of the address the ladies of the town served sumptuous dinner to the Confederate veterans, more than two hundred, on the second floor of the new city hall. - As they emerged from the building after having refreshed themselves at the tempting tables of good things, Governor Kitchin greeted them at the entrance and shook hands with all the greyhaired warriors, many of whom are now tottering on toward the end. He greeted them with a word of cheer and praise for their bravery in defending their homeland and the veterans showed their appreciation of the Governor's thoughtfulness. Shortly after 3 o'clock a heavy rain scattered the crowd somewhat and marred to some extent the last part of a day in every other way delightful and profitable.

The Cherryville people had made ample preparation for the entertainment of their guests and everybody felt free and easy.

The day was in every sense a success and everybody who partook of the town's hospitality will want to go back next year.

Veterans' Reunfon.

Thursday of this week, August 10th, is the date for the annual meeting of William Gamble Camp United Confederate Veterans. It will be held at Dallas. The good Iadies of that town will as usual provide a good dinner for the veterans and they will be otherwise enter-tained. Capt. J. Q. Holland, commander of the camp, is quite ill at his home and will not be able to to attend Mr. Thomas H. White, secretary and treasurer of the camp, requests The Gazette to state that all the veterans in the county who can possibly do so are requested to attend this reunion.

-Mr. C. A. Mitchell, of Bessemer City, was a business visitor in Gastonia yesterday.

EYES ON GASTONIA.

Business Men and Farmers of Other Sections Looking This Way-Tes nessee Man Wants to Start Barrell Factory-Another Wants to Establish Business College-Indiana Farmer Asks for Information About Farms.

Gastonia is a good town; Gaston is a good county. Those of us who live here know this and folks away from here are finding it out. Secretary Robinson of the Commercial Club is receiving a number of inquiries from other sections of the country requesting information as to openings for various kinds of in dustries and also as to farming lands and values.

A few days ago Mr. Robinson received a letter from a gentleman living in a thriving town in East Tennessee which was in part as fel-

"As I am seeking a location for small factory will ask you to give me what information you can concerning your town in the way of water and shipping facilities. Also state the location of your nearest tight barrel factory."

Another letter reads as follows: 'During the past four years I have been conducting an interesting and fairly successful business school at this place but the field here is limited, the demand for work in this line is about supplied and I am closing my work here this summer. I would like to establish a first-class permanent business college in some good live town. Have you such school in your city? If not I might come there and look around. I have been interested in reading something about Gastonia in the interurban edition of The Charlotte Observer. Of course if you already have a business school there it is all right. I am considering several places. I was formerly connected with the Massey Business College and altogether have had large ex-perience in this line of work. Will be glad to furnish testimonials and references if desired.'

Secretary Robinson also received a few days ago a letter from a gentleman in Indiana making inquiry concerning the farming interests here. He desired to know some thing of the crops raised, the kind of soil, markets, etc. Mr. Robinson, in writing, sent this inquirer a copy of the Gaston County Soil Survey recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

A gentleman who has for many years been closely identified with the cigar manufacturing business in Pennsylvania, and who has been successful in that line of business, has recently had his attention drawn to Gastonia as a good place for the location of a factory which he expects to project soon and The Gazette is informed that he will visit Gastonia in a very short time with a view to investigating thoroughly conditions here.

Still another industry which Gastonia may possibly get is a factory which makes bagging. It is already in operation in another town but the owners are very desirious of moving to Gastonia and if the proper inducements are held out it can no doubt be easily gotten.

Gastonia would welcome all of these and more. We have "the town of opportunity" for them. Conditions here are favorable to the op-eration of any number of small plants of most any character. Farmers, and most especially if they desire to engage in trucking and can ning business, would find a rich field here. In the meantime, while the eyes of many are on us from various di-rections it behooves every Gastonian to do his part boosting the ment, and for the purposes of raining the funds authorized by the several acts of the Legislature, author izing special taxes, viz:

A tax of twenty-one (21) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of real and personal property, for the purpose of the general State tax. · A tax of four (4) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of real and personal property and twelve (12) cents on each taxable poll fer the purpose of the State pension tax.

A tax of twenty-one and twothirds (21 2-3) cents on the hundred dollars valuation of real hundred dollars valuation and thirtyeight (38) cents on each taxable po in said county for the maintenance of the poor and for general purpos-

A tax of twenty cents (20) on the one hundred dollars valuation of real and personal property and one and 50-100 ($1.50) dollars on each taxable poll in said county for gen eral school purposes.

A tax of twenty-five (25) cents on the one hundred dollars valu tion of real and personal property and seventy-five (75) cents on each taxable poll in said county for the purpose of special road tax, in ca pliance with Section 464 Laws

It is further ordered by the board of county commissioners of Gaston county that the license or privile taxes mentioned and described in Schedule B. and C. of the Revenue and Machinery Act, in which the countles are permitted to levy a like tax as that levied by the State, be and the same are hereby impe and directed to be collected as the in set out, except under Section CD of said Act, which has been probl
