THE SPINSTERS' RETURN.

Play to be Given Friday Night at Belmont-Township Teachers Meet-Breezy Belmont Briefs.

Correspondence of The Gazette. BELMONT, Jan. 27.—The play, 'The Spinsters' Return," to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, will be given Friday night, the 31st. As noted before this is a sequel to the "Old Maid's Convention" given some time ago. In this the "old maids," after a lapse of several years spent in Alaska and the far West on the search for suitable helpmeets come together in a reunion and recite their experiences, trials and mishaps with the varying degree of success that attended each one. The oddity and freakishness of the costumes combined with the ludicrous situations arising in the unfolding of the play make this a laughable and very enjoyable amateur performance. Rehearsals are to be held every night of this week. Mesdames F. P. Hall and W. B. Puett have general supervision of

According to appointment the South Point teachers association met here Saturday. Owing to the inclement weather not more than half the membership was represented. However, a good and enthusiastic meeting was held. The time and place of the next meeting will be decided upon and announced later.

At a meeting of Belmont Camp, No. 217 W. O. W., held a few nights ago the following officers were in-M. W. Sanford, council commander and the following subordinates, B. H. Hartgrove, A. Maier, H. C. Traywick, J. L. West, A. B. Brown, L. A. Welch, N. A. Orr, W. A. Duke and J. A. Leeper.

Misses Melva and Grace Gullick and Edna Rankin, of the Presbyterian College, Charlotte, are spending the week-end at home. Miss Rankin has as her guests three friends, Miss-Ollie Alexander. In their honor Miss Rankin entertained a few of her friends Saturday night.

Misses Johnsie Lore, of Lowell, and Lucy Lore, of McAdenville, were visitors in town over Sunday, the guests of Mrs. F. P. Hall.

Mr. D. P. Stowe was the recipient a few days ago by parcels post of a unique piece of mail sent him by a friend from Texas. The box con-tained a pair of jack-rabbit ears which when exhibited by Mr. Stowe occasioned much comment. Said to be small, the ears measured over 13 inches from tip to tip. Mrs. R. L. Stowe who has been ill for some time is somewhat better and is able to be up.

Cherryville Chat.

The Eagle, 23rd.

Mr. Ed Adams, of Gastonia, was a Cherryville visitor last Sunday. Chief McGinnas conveyed Henry Simpson, the 19-year-old son of Mr. Ralph Simpson, to the asylum at Morganton last Saturday.

The new building being constructed by Dr. W. H. Houser and Mr. M. L. Rudisill is nearing completion. The rooms will about all be occupied as soon as completed.

It is reported here that Mr. John Carpenter, Jr., son of Mr. John Carpenter, of near Long Shoals, is suffering with pellagra. Mr. Ephriam Houser left last Friday for Dania, Fla., where he expects to remain during the winter Mr. W. E. Gardner, who has been at Fayetteville for some time attending to his business interests, was called home to be with Mrs. Gardner who is quite ill.

Henry Simpson, aged 19 years, a son of Mr. Ralph Simpson, of Cherryville route one, has been of unsound mind for several months, but up to last week had been considered harmless, when he became so violent that he was brought here and confined in the lockup until arrangements can be made to get him in the asylum. He was considered a bright boy and had entered school here at the beginning of the term last sum- produced nearly one bale to the acre mer when soon after his mind began to give way.

A dispatch from Elizabeth City dated the 24th says that Mr. James Woodard, who was a member of Peary's expedition to Japan in 1852, when commercial relations were established between the United States and that country, died the 23rd at Hickory, Va., aged 85 years.

With the election last Thursday by the Tennessee legislature of Judge John K. Shields, straight Democrat, to the long term in the United States Senate, that body is found to be equally divided between Democrats and Republicans, there being 48 of each. With Vice-President Marshail, a Democrat, as presiding officer, the Democrats would be able to carry their point on a strict par-

NEWS OF THE COUNTY BIG CULVERT CAVES IN

THIRD AVENUE WATERWAY IN RUINS

Under Weight of Tons and Tons of Dirt the Flat Slab-Rock Top of New Culvert on West Third Avenue Caves in and for the Second Time in Twelve Months That Street is Impassable-Washed Away Last Winter and Was Rebuilt at Expense of $500 to $1,000.

As a result of the rain Saturday and again Sunday night, the big culvert under West Third avenue between South and Marietta streets, caved in, leaving third avenue at that point impassable.

This culvert had been practically having had a section of it fenced off

The walls remain intact and are probably not damaged.

In its construction the top was made simply of straight stone slabs six feet or more long, put down without cement, on too of which were tens and tons of dirt. These stone slabs gave way under the heavy weight, as was inevitable. "Had the top been constructed as an arch out of rock and concrete it would have been as good today as when it was built, doubtless," is the concensus of

It has been a little less than a year since this culvert, which carries the crainage from more than one-half of the town, was washed completely away by a big rain.

It was rebuilt at a cost of upwards of $500-perhaps a thousand - and with the exception of the roof, seems to have been a pretty fair job. Its rebuilding required something like two months with from three to six street Saturday afternoon from 3:30 men working at it all the time.

this culvert was greatly enlarged and tea complimentary to her houseis apparently of sufficient size to car- guest. Miss Ellen Blair Harvie, of ry any amount of water that is ever likely to flow through it.

What plans will be adopted in the renairing of this expensive piece of work we have not learned. "Fince it was first put in some three or four years ago this place has cost the city enough to have built a solid concrete culvert that would have withstood the torrents of years," said a

500 ACRES LONG STAPLE.

Rev. W. E. McIlwaine Will Increase Acreage in Long Staple on His Mecklenburg Farm from 100 to 500 This Spring.

Charlotte Observer. Rev. William E. McIlwaine, who lives at 425 Elizabeth avenue, has announced to some of his friends that he will plant approximately 500 acres of land in long staple cotton this Spring. Last year he cultivated 100 acres of long staple cotton and or 100 bales of cotton. For this he received 18 and 18 1-4 cents a pound, which is just about six cents a pound more than if it had been of the short staple variety. Mr. McIlwaine is one of the largest and most successful farmers and cotton planters in the county, and has been quoted as saying that there is more money in long staple cotton than in anything that grows out of the ground in this section." And Mr. McIlwaine's experience would appear to justify this state-

Hill and Miss Margaret Ellen Hicks which was solemnized vesterday afternoon at o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Barbara L. Hicks, No. 512 East Air Line avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Henderlite, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and was witnessed only by members of the family and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. MRS. ROCKETT'S

SISTER MARRIED. The following from the Mooresville correspondence of The Statesville Landmark of Friday will be of interest to many Gastonians as the bride has frequently visited her sister, Mrs. F. P. Rockett, here: "Yesterday afternoon at o'clock, at the Methodist church, in the presence of a large number relatives and friends, Mr. Lonnie Coon and Miss Juanita Starrette were united in marriage. Rev. C. S. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Just at half past six, as Mrs. G. M. Kipka was rendering the soft and sweet of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride and groom entered the church, preceded by Mrs. C. S.

Stone, of Charlotte, aunt of the bride, who carried a magnificent bouquet of bride's roses. As they advanced to the altar, which was banked with evergreens, and during the ceremony Mrs. Kipka played softly "Hearts and Flowers." Immediately after the ceremony was over a large number of friends of the bride and groom accompanied the young couple to the home of her mother, Mrs. F. S. Starrette, where refreshments were served and congratulations offered. The esteem in which these young people are held was shown by the beautiful gifts of linen handiwork, cut glass, china and silverware. They left on the Charlotte train for Jacksonville, Fla., where they will spend their honeymoon.

"The groom is a son of Mr. George Coon, of Mooresville, and holds a responsible position with the Southern railway. He is a very fine young man. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. F. S. Starrette and is a very talented and an accomplished musician, being the soloist in the choir of the Methodist church. She has a large number of friends."

VERY VALUABLE PATENT SHORT LOCAL

Gastonia Man Has Applied for Patent on a Buggy Shaft Which Promises Big Things for Future-Coffey Wagon Works Will Handle Output -Concern Also Makes Contract for Almost Entire Output of One-Horse Wagons-Makes the Clemmer Sub-Soil Plow Also.

Mr. J. H. Coffey, president and general manager of the J. H. Coffey Wagon Works, of Gastonia, has applied for letters of patent on a buggy shaft which he has recently invented and which has been declared by several of the largest buggy manufacturers in the United States to be far superior to anything of its kind yet manufactured. It has a number of improvements over even the best shafts now being made, all of the new ideas used in its manufacture having as their object increased strength. Instead of the flat iron now used to strengthen the shaft at the large curve on the butt end, the new shaft has a channel of steel. similar in looks to the channels used for rubber tires. The flanges on each side of this channel make the strength of the shaft such that it will not bend under the strongest pressure. The cross piece connecting the shafts are bound to the channel by separate T's of steel. The single tree is not bolted through to the cross piece but has a steel plate on the top and on the bottom, the binding rod or bolt working in a depression in the plates and the plates themselves being bolted through the single tree and the cross piece the long way instead of the old way. The braces are also a great improvement over the old ones and are made of

The steel parts for the shaft are being manufactured by a large Philadelphia firm and the initial shipment has been received. Mr. Coffey expects to sell these in large quantities to buggy manufacturers, shipping direct from the Philadelphia factory, and he will also manufacture here the complete shafts. A contract was closed a few days ago by this concern with one of the largest retail and wholesale firms in the State dealing in wagons, buggies, etc., with establishments in several towns, whereby the Coffey Wagon Works is to furnish them all their Woltz, Mrs. A. J. Kirby, Mrs. George one-horse wagons. This will take almost the entire output of the local plant at its present capacity.

A feature of this enterprising business is repair work, a large quantity of it coming from out of the State. A number of laudeaus are now being overhauled for Neely & Fewell. Rock Hill. Painting and trimming automobiles is also a specialty with this concern.

Mr. W. E. Hall, who has for the past three years been in charge of the painting and trimming department of the Pock Hill Buggy Company, Rock Hill, S. C., has accepted a position as painter and trimmer with the Coffey company and will begin work February 15th. He and his family are expected to move here within the next two weeks. Another article manufactered by this concern is the Clemmer sub-soil plow which is becoming quite popular with the farmers. Application for patent on it is now pending.
