ANOTHER CONFERENCE IN SOCIAL CIRCLES SITUATION IS SERIOUS SHORT LOCAL ITEMS

Governor Craig Issues Call for a Conference to Be Held in Raleigh Next Tuesday to Consider Latest Proposition of the Railroads -Gaston County Branch to Be Represented-President Craig's Views on the Proposition.

This morning's mail brought to the officers and members of the Gaston County Branch of the Just Freight Rate Association of North Carolina the following letter from President Fred N. Tate: .

I am just in receipt of a letter from his Excellency, Governor Craig. inviting us to meet at his office in Raleigh at Noon next Tuesday, August 12th, for the purpose of conferring together on the report submitted to him pertaining to certain proposed reductions in freight rates.

It is our duty, and it should be our pleasure, to attend this conference, and it is also of the utmost 1mportance that every officer of the County Branch Associations, as well as every other person in the State. whether manufacturer, shipper, farmer or merchant, who is directly tuterested in a fair and just settlement of this question, be in Raieigh on this date and attend a general meeting of our organization in the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce rooms at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for the purpose of conferring together and getting better acquainted with the question and with each other.

It is also highly important that each one come prepared to submit specific data regarding conditions in the different sections of the State, as it is our purpose to thoroughly canvas the situation and be prepared to intelligently discuss the proposition with the Governor and his advisers.

Please arrange to reach Raleigh at an early hour next Tuesday morning and do not fail to bring a strong | ENTERTAINS. delegation of representative business men with you.

Sincerely yours. FRED N. TATE. President. Yesterday President Tate issued

the following statement:

To All North Carolina Shippers: "I have just learned through the that the proposal of the railroads as younger set. There are many vistto reductions in freight rates for tors in town for the week, many of North Carolina does not in any sense them college girls from this and include or contemplate reductions other states and many delightful either on commodities or class rates events have been planned for them outbound, from which I infer that it is still the policy of the railroads to shippers as heretofore.

We will doubtless be called to meet in conference with the governor at Raleigh on Tuesday next, the 12th, and I feel that it is highly 1mportant to the forwarders as well as the receivers of freight in North ing the evening delightful music Carolina to have a full representation at the Raleigh conference, and especially is it important that I be furnished before that date if possible with specific data as to discriminatory freight rates on outbound business of every character.

"Without commenting on the report submitted to the governor vesterday, which proposes some few reductions on inbound business, I do desire to say that the total diste gard in offering no relief on outbound business, to my mind stows conclusively that the railroads are determined to continue their unjust discriminations against the manufacturing interests of the state until absclutely forced by legislative enactment or otherwise to place us on a fair basis with our competitors to adjacent territory.

'Piease do not fail to supply me with the desired information this meek.

"Respectfully. "FRED N. TATE, President ... DOESN'T SUIT GASTONIA.

The fol awing from the Gastonia correspondence of The Charlotte Observer of this morning is of interest in this connection: Following a conference with Executive Secretary Leake Carraway of the Just Freight Rate Association of North Carolina, of Charlotte, who came to Gastonia this afternoon upon the invitation of the officers of the Gaston County branch of the State association, President T. L. Craig tonight declared that according to his opinion the proposition made to the Corporation Commission by the railways doing business in this state will not help Gastonia to any appreciable extent and that as far as he is concerned he is opposed to the acceptance of the prop-

President Craig, Vice President A. C. Jones and Secretary J. W. Atkins conferred with Mr. Carraway for two hours this afternoon, during which time the proposed adjustment offered by the railroads was gone into very carefully and at its conclusion the president declared that to Gastonia the proposdl means little or nothing. "This zone business does not suit us." said President Craig. "What we want is to be in the zone in which Charlotte is located and that will be entirely satisfactory to us. I do not mean the reduction in freight rates which are now offered Charlotte would satisfy us, but I mean that we are willing to accept anything that Charlotte is satisfied with. There

United States Confronted by Most Delicate Situation in Its Relations With Mexico Since Revolution First Began-Wilson Says Republicans Make It Hard to Handle-A Rebuff Threatened-No Action

The following extracts from an Associated Press dispatch sent our from Washington last night and appearing in this morning's papers is of interest:

Till Lind Arrives in Mexico City.

The American Government tonight was confronted by what official Washington regarded as the most delicate situation in its relations with Mexico that has yet developed since armed revolution disturbed the peace of the Southern Republic. The threatened rebuff from the

Huerta Administration to the mtssion of John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, en route to Mexico City to expound the hopes of the United States for a suspension of hostilities and an orderly constitutional election in Mexico, drew from Senator Bacon, chatrman of the Foreign Relations Committee, a declaration on the floor of the Senate to lay that the present situation was the "gravest in years. much graver than confronted ux when the Cuban question was here."

President Wilson realizes the gravity of the situation and mantlested during the day his displeasere at the attitude of some members of the minority party in Congress. telling callers that he believed certain Republicans were making it difficult for him to handle the situation in a peaceful manner.

On this account Mr. Wilson justified the strong and emphatic language of Senator Bacon who, during a debate on the resolution of Senator Clark of Wyoming, Republican, demanding a general investigation of Mexican affairs, had referred to the resolution as "openly disrespectful" and "flouting in the face of the President" while the latter was endeavoring to put into effect, a peace The resolution was finally forced off the day's calendar.

President Wilson was unmoved by advices from Mexico City depicting the Huerta Government as inimical to Mr. Lind's mission. He let it be known too, that so far as he was able to learn, there was not the slightest demand from the American people for intervention and declined to discuss alternatives that might be used in the event that the efforts of the American Covernment to help store peace in Mexico were rejected.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan let it be known tonight that nothing further would be done until Mr. Lind reaches Mexico City and official confirmation of the reported attitude of the Huerta Government reached here.

-His many friends are delighted to see Mr. W. L. Balthis able to be out again after having been confined to his home about two weeks as a result of injuries sustained in a runaway accident.

The Newspaper Job.

The Publishers Auxiliary.

Many people believe that a newspaper falls together without work or concerted action or plan. Rev. Mc-Leod, a Presbyterian minister at Pasadena, was of this opinion, and asked to be allowed to edit an edition of the Pasadena Star. The editor gladly accepted the opportunity to go fishing, and the minister took up his duties in the newspaper office. This is how he felt when he found himself at the end of his task. which it must be said, had been-done quite creditably: "My time is almost up as I pen this last line; my hand is almost paralyzed: my brain is befuddled and I am free to confess that I am right glad to vacate the holy spot. Such rush and riot and disarray. Such a jumble of potpourri: It strikes me as the effort to bring order out of chaos, and to do it lightning quick.

"I am reminded of the memorable words: 'The earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the waters.' Never shall I criticise newspaper men more. I shall pray for them. They will have my heart's forbearance henceforth and forever. They are the hardest worked, shortest lived, poorest paid brain workers on this weary old world of ours."
