SUCCESSING IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Mr. Lucius J. Holland, an Old Gaston Boy, Has Made Good as Member of the Bar at Bluefield, W. Va.—Here on a Short Visit.

Mr. Lucius J. Holland, an old Gaston county boy now residing in Bluefield, W. Va., where he is one of the leading members of the bar, is here on a week's visit to his brother, Attorney C. D. Holland, and other relatives in the county. He arrived last Saturday and expects to leave for home tomorrow. Tuesday Mr. Holland spent in Kings Mountain attending the big celebration of the 133rd anniversary of the famous battle.

The following concerning Mr. Holland appeared in Sunday's edition of The Bluefield Daily Telegraph which was the twentieth anniversary edition of that paper and, which by the way, is a most creditable exhibition of newspaper enterprise:

"Cities which have sprung into existence in recent years, and backed by such rich natural resources as Bluefield, attract the ablest and best talent in all the professions and trades, and it is but natural that Bluefield should have gained many of her ablest citizens from the states surrounding, while attracting many of her native sons. Particularly attractive has become the legal talent here, not because that our people do not have proper regard for the law, but the locating of so many big mining and manufacturing enterprises in this section have called for the best of legal talent, and the result has been the assembling of a bar in Mercer county that is equal to any county in this or other states. Prominent among the leaders of the local bar is Mr. L. J. Holland, who is a North Carolinian, and his foresight as to the splendid future of this city caused him to leave his old home at Dallas some nine years ago and cast his lot with Bluefield. That his move was wise is best shown by the very large clientele which Mr. Holland has succeeded in building here, and his practice has been largely remunerative and has placed him among those with comfortable financial ratings in this city. Mr. Holland is just in the prime of a vigorous manhood and he is using his wide influence for the development of the city and county along lines of permanence and the higher elevation of our citizenship. He enjoys the confidence and esteem of the business, financial and social world, and among positions of honor held by him is that of director of the First National Bank. He is a man of commendable public spirit, and ready at all times to aid in his adopted city's progress in any way possible."

What Constitutes a Lie.

John Ruskin.
 The essence of lying is in deception; not in words. A lie may be told by silence, by equivocation, by the accent on a syllable, by a glance of the eye attaching a peculiar significance to a sentence; and all these kinds of lies are worse and baser by many degrees than a lie plainly worded. So that no form of blinded conscience is so far sunk as that which comforts itself for having deceived because the deception was by gesture or silence, instead of utterance.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.

Principal Holy Day of the Jewish Calendar, Yom Kippur, Falls this Year on Saturday, October 11.

Greensboro News.
 The Day of Atonement is the holiest day in the Jewish calendar. This year it falls on Saturday, the 11th of October. Its Biblical designation is Yom ha-Kippurim, later shortened to Yom Kippur. According to Biblical tradition it is one of the cycle of holidays instituted by Moses, for we find it mentioned in Leviticus 23: 26-32, in the list of holidays. Its ceremonial is described in Leviticus 16, its sacrifices in Numbers 29: 7-11.

However, the Day of Atonement is not dependent on the sacrificial service prescribed in the Bible. Thus, after the destruction of the temple in the year 70, when sacrifices were abolished, the Day of atonement was able to survive, and of all the holidays of the Jewish calendar it has most completely held its own in the hearts and observance of the Jewish people. Emphasis was laid upon confession, penitence, prayer and good deeds. It became the day of "afflicting one's soul" (Isalah 57: 3-5), which was interpreted as meaning fasting from the eve of atonement until the following evening. As in the Biblical ceremonial, confession continues to be an important feature of forgiveness of sins between man and his Maker, and between man and man are not forgiven until redress is made of the injury. The eve of atonement Day, therefore, becomes the occasion for the cessation of feuds and ill-will. And the Day of Atonement is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths—when we are at peace with all the world.

The service of the Day of Atonement beginning with Kib Nidre service on the eve of atonement is a continuous one throughout the entire day. The prayers in the synagogue are intoned in plaintive penitential tones. The spirit of the mastery sermon of Isalah (Isalah 57: 4-9), which is the prophetic portion of the morning's reading, is manifested throughout.

William Moore, another old player, is captain of the eleven. While the team is minus a number of those who played last year, several new boys have gone into the sport.
