Jolly Jack Tars at Play.

The beautiful and novel, new scenic production of a modern fighting dreadnaught, a gala night aboard a Man of War—a deck view of the home, men and accessories of our Navy's line of battleships, as the setting adopted by Manager Copen to present his latest all new minstrel attraction the coming season. Apropos, and right up to the minute, everything in exact imitation of the regulation costuming of Happy Jack and his surroundings, officers, marines, musicians, even the dandy darkey stewards—it is all it is claimed, an all new company, confirming the statement of "Everything New Every Season," which stamps originality, progressiveness, and success for the company and its management. Don't forget the date, Thursday, Nov. 13th. Seats now on sale at Torrence's. Daily street parade. Band concerts at noon and night.

Born. To Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Glass, Monday, November 10, 1913, a daughter.

JUDGE HARDING.

Mr. W. F. Harding, of Charlotte, Succeeds Judge Duls—Began Service Yesterday.

Saturday Governor Craig appointed Mr. W. F. Harding, of the Charlotte bar, a Superior Court Judge for the fourteenth judicial district to succeed Judge C. H. Duls, of the same city, who resigned recently on account of ill health. Mr. Harding took the oath of office in Charlotte yesterday morning and at once took his seat as presiding Judge over Mecklenburg Superior Court.

Eunday's Charlotte Observer says of him:

Mr. William F. Harding, of the Charlotte bar, who was appointed judge of the fourteenth judicial district by Governor Locke Craig yesterday in the place of Judge C. H. Duls resigned, is a native of Aurora, Bertie county, this State, where he was born 46 years ago. After receiving an elementary, intermediate and high school education in the local schools, he entered the University of North Carolina where he was graduated with the class of 1894. After completing the college course, he entered the law school and finished in 1896. Receiving his license he went to Greenville, Pitt county, where he practiced six years with his brother, Mr. F. C. Harding, a leading attorney of that city. Mr. Harding then came to Charlotte, locating here on January 1, 1903, where he has been practicing ever since, achieving a notable success in his own profession.

Judge Harding succeeds Judge Duls who was forced to resign recently on account of ill health. He will hold his first term of court here this week, beginning tomorrow.

TO MEET IN CHARLOTTE.

Sixth Annual Convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association.

There will be held at Charlotte, North Carolina, November 18th and 19th, the Sixth Annual Convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association. Since the organization of this association in 1909 and the passage of the general Drainage Act of the State, about 70 drainage districts have been started. Of these 41 have been completed, representing an area of 417,900 acres of swamp land. About 60,000 acres are now being drained and 91,000 acres petitioned for, covering twenty-three counties of the Coastal Plain Region. Drainage districts have been organized in Piedmont and Western North Carolina in 15 counties representing a total area of 52,471 acres of overflowed land. From data which has been collected it appears that the drainage of these lands has enormously increased their agricultural value, and the money value of these lands has increased from $10 to $150 per acre, with an estimated average value of $65.00. This will give an aggregate increase of land values for those areas, many of which before draining yielded no returns whatever, of $40,000,000; and increases the general healthfulness of those sections from 75 per cent to 100 per cent.

At this Convention there will be addresses from many prominent speakers and engineers will be present, who will be in a position to give information of practical value to those who are interested in the formation of drainage districts. Everyone interested in this form of conservation not only from the standpoint of increased land values but in the conservation of public health is most cordially invited to attend the sessions of the Convention, and will be considered as delegates.

There will be a discussion of the North Carolina Drainage Law, and recommendations made as to any changes in it, which will help to promote the drainage work of the State.
