PRES. W. W. FINLEY DEAD

HEAD OF SOUTHERN PASSES SUDDENLY

Suffered Fatal Stroke of Paralysis at Breakfast Table Tuesday—Apparently in Good Health Before That—Rose From Rank—President Emerson of Atlantic Coast Line Dies Suddenly Same Day.

Brief mention was made in Tuesday's Gazette of the death that morning of President W. W. Finley of the Southern Railway. The particulars of his death, together with a brief sketch of his life, were contained in the following Associated Press dispatch sent out Tuesday afternoon from Washington:

President W. W. Finley of the Southern Railway died suddenly this morning from a stroke of paralysis. He was at his home in this city. He was stricken at the breakfast table this morning and sank rapidly.

Mr. Finley had been apparently in good health and the fatal stroke came without warning. With his family he had recently returned from his country home at Warrenton and re-opened his town house in the Capital. He is survived by a widow, a son and three daughters.

President Finley was stricken with apoplexy and hemorrhage of the brain while he was preparing to leave his home for his office. Before medical attention could be summoned he was dead. Although he was stricken before noon, word of his death did not reach the Southern Railway office for several hours.

William Wilson Finley was born at Pass Christian, Miss., September 2, 1853. He entered railway service as a young man, first serving as a stenographer for the New Orleans, Jackson & Great Northern Railroad in 1873. He afterward became assistant general freight agent of the same system and also occupied a similar position for the Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans Railway, these being his first official positions in the railroad world.

His rise was rapid from his start and after holding various responsible positions with various systems he became third vice president of the Southern Railway in 1895. During the following year he became second vice president of the Southern system and just before the year closed he was made president.

In addition to holding the presidency of the Southern, Mr. Finley was president of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad; Southern Railway of Mississippi; Alabama Great Southern Railroad; Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway; Georgia Southern & Florida Railway; Virginia & Southwestern Railway and Northern Alabama Railway.

Reproduction of this year's Red Cross Christmas seal. Ten thousand of these have been allotted to Gastonia and are now on sale by the sanitary committee of the Woman's Betterment Association at Torrence-Morris Company's. Every cent derived from the sale of these little seals goes to help the fight against tuberculosis, the "great white plague," which exacts every year a greater toll in human lives than any other one disease. A portion of this money remains here to aid in the local fight against this disease. You can help in this great work by buying these little stamps at one cent each and using them on your Christmas packages.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles.

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength.

If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.

Martin Emerson, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, died late tonight at his home in this city, following an attack of acute indigestion yesterday while on a trip of inspection over the system with members of the Board of Directors. Mr. Emerson, attended by his physician and friends, reached Wilmington at an early hour this morning on a special train from the South and while it was announced during the day that his condition was improved, there came a turn for the worse and he died at 11 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Emerson was born in Preble county, Ohio, March 29, 1851, and was, therefore, in his 63rd year of his age. He entered the railroad service in 1867 as a clerk in the freight office at Hagerstown, Ind., and by degrees forged his way to the front rank of railroad men in the country. From clerk he became night telegraph operator and later chief freight and ticket clerk at Marion, Ind., and Fort Wayne, Ind. His next successive step was as general passenger traveling agent of the Detroit & Indianapolis Through Line, coming South in January, 1875, he became clerk in the general freight office of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, and in July of the same year became chief clerk in the general freight and passenger department of the Atlantic Coast Line in which capacity he served until September 1, 1880, when for a year he was assistant general freight and ticket agent of the same road. In August, 1881, and for a year he was assistant general freight agent of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, afterwards becoming general freight and passenger agent, where he served until July 1, 1891. From July 1, 1891, to July, 1902, he was traffic manager of the Atlantic Coast Line later third vice president, and succeeding about five years ago, the late President Erwin of the Atlantic Coast Line.

UNIVERSITY NEWS.

Correspondence of The Gazette. CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 24th.—That the relation of the banking interests to the agricultural interests is such as to indicate that the North Carolina farmer is a thrifty class of people is the observation made by Dr. C. L. Raper, head of the department of economics of the University and official representative of the United States Rural Organization Service for the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Maryland. The government representative of this new bureau of the national department of Agriculture arrived at this conclusion after making a field investigation into farmers' credits in twenty representative North Carolina counties, visiting the rural banking centers in each of the counties. Two divisions of the State were visited—Dr. Raper making a personal tour of the counties in the central section and Prof. W. R. Camp, professor of rural economics in A. & M. College, and in charge of the markets for the North Carolina Experiment Station making investigations into conditions in the counties of the northeastern section of the State. The counties visited by the two economics professors interested in conditions of rural life included the following: Pitt, Beaufort, Washington, Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, Gates, Hertford, Bertie, Edgecombe, Orange, Guilford, Mecklenburg, Union, Anson, Richmond, Moore and Lee. The facts relative to the size of loans made to farmers; the rate of interest; the commission charged; the cost of abstracting the title to land, etc., are furnished the department of agriculture. From the figures gathered Dr. Raper has formed some very definite impressions as to rural conditions, particularly the relation of the banks to the farmer: (1) That the farmer in a number of rural banking centers has become a comparatively important depositor in banks, especially the banks that pay four percent interest; (2) That the farmer in a number of banks are fairly important shareholders; (3) That the farmers in a number of places receive the same banking facilities as the business man as to rate of interest and nature of security; (4) That they can in a number of places borrow from the banks more than they care to borrow; (5) That the tenant farmers are the ones that borrow little from the banks and usually only when their notes are assigned by the landlords; (6) That the farmers especially the one-horse farmers, are not desirous of borrowing from banks as much as they really need for the most effective crops. The greatest obstacle to the farmer in borrowing on farm mortgages is the cost of abstracting the title to lands, is the observation made by Dr. Raper. The average cost for such a service (usually performed by a lawyer) is from $5 to $10, and in a few cases as much as $50 to $80, when the title is complicated. As a remedy for this extortion from the farmer the government representative suggests the adoption of an official survey and registration of every piece of land. The adoption of such a system would work to the advantage of the farmer in that he would always have in his possession an official certificate of his land. Thus he could save at the cost of abstracting the title and could borrow money at a much smaller cost at the regular rate of interest.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING

COMBINATION Publishers, Advertisers and Manufacturers Unite

By HOLLAND. IN union there is strength. Did you ever write this in your copybook? Well, it is true, anyway. One of the effective combinations of the business world is composed of publishers, advertisers and manufacturers. They are united in the effort to see that the public gets value received. Their interests are identical. No one of the trio can make money without the others share it. And they cannot make money for themselves without making money for the public. The interests of all are interwoven so closely as to be practically identical. You should join this combination and enjoy the benefits to be derived from it. Take full advantage of the advertising columns and be sure of getting a dollar's worth for every dollar you spend.

ADVERTISEMENTS WILL KEEP YOU FULLY INFORMED. They will tell you where to buy, when to buy, what to buy. It is true economy to read the advertisements, for they will insure your getting the greatest value when you spend your money.

A Night of Terror. Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the house to relieve it. Many mothers have passed nights of terror in this situation. A little forethought will enable you to avoid all this. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.
