Winston-Salem will cut out baseball for a season. The Journal says the local association owes the banks $10,500 and its assets consist of the ball park and fixtures, which cost less than $10,000. The park is to be sold to pay the debt but the proceeds of the sale won't pay out. Baseball is sometimes an expensive luxury.—News Item.

We think the Twin-City fans are wise in their decision to "cut out" the game for a season. In the meantime, while they are recuperating, they might profit by investigating the business methods employed by the Gastonia Athletic Association. The Gazette is informed that the association, now settling up its affairs for the past season, will actually pay a dividend, in face of the fact that it had on its team "Chief" Bender and a few other high-priced big league men.

One disappointing thing about the recent county fair was the absence from the big crowds in attendance daily of the Charlotte delegation. Colonel Wade Harris' ten thousand Charlotteans who were coming along with The Observer's accommodating editor evidently got lost en route, or some where else. True 'tis, they didn't show up. Col. Harris himself came and has coming to him a vote of thanks from Gaston for his presence here and for the many nice things he said editorially about Gaston county's show. He probably did the best he could to bring a crowd but his Charlotte friends fell down on him. There were a dozen or two from the Mecklenburg capital—that was all. The roll of 10,000 admission tickets sent by the fair management to Charlotte and put on sale at Jordan's for the accommodation of the people of that city was returned unbroken—not a ticket sold from it. Wonder if Charlotte really expects Gaston to take in the Mecklenburg Fair?

In Municipal Court.

In Municipal Court this morning Judge Jones imposed a four-months road sentence on Roscoe Gullick, colored, for the larceny of a "wild-cat" whistle from Mr. R. D. Lewis, the bicycle man. Gullick was given an additional month for forcible trespass and his partner, Claude Wood, got 30 days for the same offense. Albert Champion, white, who has been on the chaingang on two or three previous occasions, was given 30 days for beating trains. Tom Hill, colored, was assessed $10 and the costs for being drunk and disorderly, while Labe Hoffman, colored, an old offender, was taxed $5 and the costs for a similar offense.

—His many friends will regret to learn that Mr. L. E. Kincaid has been quite ill at his home on Fifth avenue for several days.

—The latest news from Mr. Marvin L. Cornwell, whose serious illness at Lenoir was noted in Tuesday's Gazette, is more encouraging. The first of the week his physicians had almost despaired of his life but now they have considerable hope of his recovery. His father, Mr. C. C. Cornwell, and Miss Emma Cornwell are still at his bedside. In their absence Miss Georgia Connelly has been in charge of the office of the clerk of the court.

Short Cuts to Fame.

Monroe Journal.
John Paul Jones and Patrick Henry have been voted as unworthy of a place in the Hall of Fame in New York. We fancy that the long rest of neither John Paul nor Patrick will be disturbed by this fact, nor that the school boys will read of their deeds with less interest. Fame has become to be rather a two-bit product anyhow. We noticed the display of a lady's picture on the front page of an important newspaper, and look to see what deeds she has done to bring her to public notice. It turns out that her grandmother's house was robbed of some jewelry. That is all. It seems that this should have caused the old lady who was robbed to get her picture in the paper if any one's was to go in. But, not so, the granddaughter was good-looking and perhaps wanted to have hers go in.

KEEPING YOUNG.

Old Age Is Not Fixed By Any Number of Years.

State Board of Health Bulletin.

There is no scientific evidence to show that late youth and middle age are the periods of commencing decrepitude and "old age". Man grows old because he is injured; because his body cells are poisoned and not because he has lived just so many years. There is no relentless law determining when a man shall grow old. The traditional "three score years and ten" are conditioned mainly on the manner of living and not by any natural law. But man has it in his power to modify these conditions either for better or worse.

Probably a greater luxury of living which is not balanced by proper physical exercise is a primary condition to be reckoned with. But temperance all along the line—in eating, drinking, working, playing and even in resting has been suggested as a wiser principle to hold to. This avoids the possibility of rusting out on the one hand or of wearing out on the other.

Yet there is another way and a more worthy reason for retaining youth and deferring old age—cultivate health for the love and pleasure of it. The monthly letter of the Life Extension Institute says of this suggestion: "It is not a fear of illness or of death that we should encourage, but a love of health, a sense of responsibility for the care of our bodies, a desire for bodily endurance and efficiency and full achievement. If the mind is fixed on these ideals and the already known means of approaching them are utilized, heart disease, kidney trouble, and the needless miseries that embitter the lives of so many may be left to take care of themselves. It is not so much necessary to fight disease as to cultivate health for the happiness, contentment and moral gain that it brings."

FOR HEALTH SCHOOLS.

State Board of Health Bulletin.
Health work in schools will be taken up this fall in a much more thorough and extensive manner in North Carolina than ever before. Physicians specially trained for such work will soon begin medical inspection in Alamance, Northampton and Edgecombe counties. These physicians will spend one day with each school. They will do much more than merely make a careful examination of the physical welfare of each child. They will give health talks and conduct a health day program to be concluded in the evening with an illustrated lecture on general health and sanitation to which the school and entire community will be invited.
