LIBRARIANS ADJOURN

ANNUAL MEETING HERE A SUCCESS

Miss Sarah Askew, of New Jersey, Delivered Splendid Address on "What a Library Means to a Community"—Dr. Fulton Lectured on Shakespeare—Miss Leatherman Wants Library in Every Town in State by 1920—Business Transacted—Concord and Salisbury Both Want 1917 Session.

Miss Sarah Askew, secretary of the New Jersey Public Library Commission, was the feature of the first session of the tenth annual meeting of the North Carolina Public Library Association here Wednesday night. Her address on the subject "What a Library Does for a Community" was intensely interesting, practical and inspiring and she held the audience, small though it was, for an hour or more without the slightest evidence of any ennui or lagging of interest and attention. A magnetic speaker, a thorough enthusiast, a charming story teller, Miss Askew is vitally interested in the extension of the public library work and is devoting her life to this work in New Jersey. A Southern woman, she is not unfamiliar with conditions in this part of the country and hence is able to talk sympathetically and understandingly to a small-town Southern audience. She has the ability to carry her hearers along with her and keep their attention by the hour. Gastonia feels that she has entertained a remarkable woman and her address is expected to bear fruit in the local field in that it will no doubt result in a largely increased interest in Gastonia's public library.

Miss Mary B. Palmer, librarian of the Carnegie Library, Charlotte, presided over the meeting. Col. C. B. Armstrong, mayor of Gastonia, delivered the address of welcome. He told the visiting librarians something about the town and incidentally took a neat turn at the child labor agitators by referring to numerous local concrete instances of men, today among the most successful cotton manufacturers and business men of various kinds, who began life in cotton factories at very tender ages. In his characteristic way he extended a most cordial welcome to the visitors. Miss Palmer responded to the address of welcome in a most happy manner.

Following a violin solo by Miss Lillian Atkins, accompanied on the piano by her sister, Mrs. Claude R. Miller, of Barbourville, Va., Miss Minnie W. Leatherman, secretary of the North Carolina Library Commission, made a brief address on the subject "A Public Library in Every North Carolina Town by 1920." She said that there are 19 towns in the State with 2,500 or more inhabitants without a public library and that there are 34 towns with 2,000 or more without libraries. She made an earnest plea for co-operation on the part of women's clubs, civic clubs, school teachers, city councils and all others who should be interested in this kind of work in bringing about the desired result.

Yesterday morning a round-table discussion of problems confronting librarians was held, followed by an automobile ride over the city and into the country and a luncheon given at the home of Mrs. W. J. Clifford by the Gastonia Woman's Betterment Association.

In the afternoon Mrs. A. F. Griggs, of Durham, talked to the high school pupils of the city on "How to Use Books" and Miss Askew conducted a story hour for the primary pupils. A business session was also held.

Officers for the coming year were chosen as follows: President, Miss Mary B. Palmer, of Charlotte; first vice-president, Mrs. D. A. Garrison, of Gastonia; second vice-president, Mrs. L. D. Coltrane, of Concord; third vice-president, Miss Mary Linton, of Salisbury; treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Griggs, of Durham; secretary, Miss Carrie L. Broughton, of Raleigh.

Concord and Salisbury both extended invitations for the 1917 meeting. The place will be chosen later. Greetings from the South Carolina Library Association were brought by Mr. R. M. Kennedy, librarian of the University of South Carolina and president of the South Carolina State Library Association.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved: First, That the North Carolina Library Association desires to express its appreciation to the Gastonia Woman's Betterment Association for the hospitality of their homes and the refreshing luncheon. Second, That the thanks of the Association be extended to Miss Askew for her inspiring talk on the function of a library and her charming rendering of Uncle Remus and other stories, and to Dr. Fulton, of Davidson College, for his instructive and timely lectures on "Shakespeare and Stratford."

Third, To express its gratitude to the Chamber of Commerce, Gastonia Gazette, the Library Committee and the librarian of the Gastonia Library, the mayor and the citizens of Gastonia for their most cordial welcome. To Miss Mary Frew, Miss Marie Torrence, Miss Lillian Atkins, Miss Janie Morris and Mr. Erskine Boyce and the Gastonia Music Club for the delightful music rendered. Also to the city school board, Supt.

OSARK CHANGES HANDS

SHAKE-UP AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

Messrs. Torrence, Separk and Kendrick Replace Messrs. Rankin, Robinson and Shuford as Officers of Local Mill—Only One Old Man Remains on Board of Directors.

There was quite a "shake-up" in local manufacturing circles today when it became known that Frost Torrence, J. H. Separk and Eli Kendrick had secured a controlling interest in the Ozark Cotton Mill and had, at the annual meeting of the directors held Wednesday afternoon, ousted the entire old board of directors and all the officers.

While this announcement came as a great surprise to the general public it was not a surprise to the officers of the mill. They knew before the annual meeting came off that Messrs. Torrence, Separk and Kendrick had secured the controlling stock and none of the old officers were candidates for re-election. There was no contest for these offices.

The new board of directors is composed of Frost Torrence, J. H. Separk, Eli Kendrick, S. M. Robinson and H. F. Forbes, Mr. Robinson being the only man who was a member of the old board. Mr. Torrence was elected president. Mr. Separk vice-president and Mr. Kendrick secretary and treasurer. The former officers were W. T. Rankin, president and treasurer; S. M. Robinson, vice-president; S. S. Shuford secretary.

The Ozark is one of Gastonia's most successful cotton mills. It was established in 1899, the original mill having 10,000 spindles. Three years ago its equipment was doubled, it now having 20,000 spindles. The capital stock is $200,000, held largely by local capitalists. Combed yarns Nos. 30s to 60s are made and the mill has a demand for every pound of yarn it can turn out.

At yesterday's meeting the regular semi-annual dividend of five per cent was declared and ordered paid.

A rumor current here this morning that the Cannons of Concord had become interested in this mill is unfounded, according to an authoritative statement from the management.

It is understood that Mr. Separk, the vice president, who is also secretary and treasurer of the Gray Manufacturing Company, will buy the cotton and handle the entire output of the mill.

President Rankin's report to the annual meeting showed the Ozark to be in splendid condition. The net profits for the year amounted to $58,397.59 or a little over 29 per cent. In the five years that the mill has been under Mr. Rankin's management it has earned $206,939.63. Of this amount an even $100,000 or 10 per cent a year on the capital stock of $200,000, has been paid out in cash dividends and the sum of $106,939.63 has been added to the undivided profits and surplus account. Five years ago the book value of the stock was $53. At present it is 200. Within the past three years the mill has been doubled, the equipment having been increased from 10,000 to 20,000 spindles and this was done out of the surplus without any increase in capital stock. Mr. Rankin's report Wednesday showed that the mill has real estate, buildings and equipment valued at $319,570.90 and quick assets in the shape of cash on hand, accounts receivable, cotton, yarn, etc., on hand of $182,498.20. These figures are interesting as showing what the Ozark has done in the past five years under the management of Messrs. Rankin, Robinson and Shuford, the retiring officers.

Mr. Torrence, the Ozark's new president, was formerly at the head of the Avon Mill. Mr. Kendrick, a Gastonian, has for several years past, until recently, been with the Wiscasset Mills, of the Cannon chain, at Albemarle. It is understood that the stock purchased to obtain control of this mill changed hands at 150.

COLUMBIA WON GAME

DEFEATED ASHEVILLE YESTERDAY

Score Was 8 to 6 in Favor of South Carolinians—Same Teams Play Again Today—Locals Have "All-Star" Team—Maryville Meets Asheville Here Tuesday—Monday's Game With Rocky Mount Cancelled.

At Loray Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Gastonia will put out an "all-star" team against Asheville. The line-up for this game, which promises to be the most interesting of the exhibition games of the present league season is as follows: Gastonia—Carpenter, c.; Mosley, 1b; Henderson, 2b; Showers, 3b; McDuff, s.s.; Jenkins, r. f.; Harris, c. f.; Hord, l. f.; Gordon, p.; Slaughter, p.; Asheville—Bradshaw, 2b; Corbett, s. s.; Dunning, l. f.; Bitting, 3b; Mack, r. f.; Fenton, c. f.; Burns, 1b; Ferris, c.; Harper, p.; Oncker, p.; Ferris, p.; Lowe, p.

Harris, captain of Gastonia's "all-star" team, was formerly captain of the Alabama Polytechnic team, Auburn, Ala., and all-star Southern collegiate center-fielder. Gordon pitched for the Loray team last year before the league season began. He has been playing in South Carolina since. Henderson is a professional from Cincinnati. McDuff is a South Atlantic League payer while Hord made a reputation in the Georgia-Alabama league with the Griffin team last year. Jenkins is a Gastonia boy and is playing this year with Weaver College. It is hoped that Gastonia will turn out tomorrow afternoon en masse to root for this "all-star" team.

MARYVILLE VS. ASHEVILLE.

Local fans are promised a good game next Tuesday when Asheville will play Maryville College at Loray Park. Maryville has a crackerjack team. It has been the champion college team of Tennessee for the past three years. This season they have played 12 games and won nine. Whitney will pitch this game for Maryville and Mackie will play second base. At Belmont yesterday this team defeated St. Mary's by a score of 4 to 2. Today they are playing Catawba College at Newton and tomorrow they play Davidson College at Davidson.

A. & M. WON.

In a rather slow game which stretched over nearly two and a half hours, A. & M. defeated Davidson at Loray Park Tuesday afternoon by a score of 11 to 7. Lack of team work resulting in nine errors to A. & M.'s two, proved Davidson's undoing. Neither team exhibited much ginger and the game was lacking in sensations. Sullivan's home run was a feature which got the crowd. The attendance was good, with some 900 spectators, including many alumni of the two institutions, within the enclosure.

COLUMBIA DOWNED ASHEVILLE.

By a score of 8 to 6 Columbia of the South Atlantic League, defeated Asheville, of the North Carolina League, here yesterday.

Three home runs two of which went through a crack in the centre field fence, featured Asheville rallied in the ninth and threatened to tie it up, but two hits, a base on balls and two fielder's choices netted Corbett's men only one run.

Asheville went ahead in the very first inning, when Dunning got a lucky home run, but Columbia was just as lucky when Braun's double in the second inning with Nally on second rolled through the same old fence for four bases.

Asheville tied it up in the third on Ancker's home run which cleared the right field fence.

Columbia took a commanding lead in the sixth when three hits, a sacrifice, two errors and Braun's steal of home netted four runs. The Asheville time came back in its half of the same round with two runs on two hits and an error and Columbia two more in the eighth on Braun's single, Lowrance's double and two errors. Asheville's near rally in the ninth has already been mentioned.

Braun got three hits in four times up, including a home run and stole home in the sixth. Jack Corbett got three blows in five trips to the plate.

Score by innings:

Columbia . . . . . 020 004 020—8

Asheville . . . . . 101 002 011—6

Stolen bases, Braun, Nally. Sacrifice hit, Harrison. Two-base hits, Lowrance, Bitting. Three-base hits, Burke. Home runs, Braun, Dunning, Ancker. Hits apportioned, 1 off Ferris in 4 innings; 6 off Ware in 6 innings. Struck out, Ware 5, Atkinson 3, Ancker 3. Bases on balls, Atkinson 1, Ferris 1, Ancker 1. Ware 2. Hit by pitcher, Bitting (Ware). Passed ball, Connolly. Time of game, 2:10. Umpire, Mr. Carpenter.

FOR SCHOOL LIBRARY

Interesting Event at School Auditorium Next Monday Night—For Benefit School Library—Addresses by Mr. A. E. Woltz and Mr. S. J. Durham—A Shakespearean Festival—Interesting Program.

The exercises in connection with "Book Night" will be held Wednesday night, April 19th, at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Central graded school. These exercises are under the auspices of the education committee of the Gastonia Woman's Betterment Association and the hour has been so arranged as not to conflict with the prayer meetings on that night.

The object of "Book Night" is to secure books to replenish the school library which was burned. An interesting program will be rendered. No admission fee will be charged but it is hoped by the committee that each person who attends with either donate a book or books to the library or will contribute money for the purchase of books. A strict account of all moneys donated will be kept and a marker will be placed in each book giving the donor's name.

Surely the welfare of our boys and girls is a subject which interests every home in the town. The children will read something. Let us provide the very best of literature for them. If you feel that you cannot give anything come out to the exercises anyway and thus show your interest in the cause. Any amount, however small, will be acceptable, but the committee hopes that there will be many who will contribute either a book or a dollar in money for the purchase of a book.

Following is the program for the evening.

Address, "The Influence of Books" by Mr. A. E. Woltz.

Prof. John M. Webb Dies in Bell Buckle, Tenn.

Charlotte Observer, 13th.

The announcement of the death of Prof. John M. Webb, co-principal of the famous Webb School at Bell Buckle, Tenn., and one of the best known educators in the South, which was announced several days ago at his home, brought sorrow to many hearts in Charlotte and elsewhere throughout the State. Prof. Webb was an instructor of many Charlotte young men, the Bell Buckle institution having long been popular here. He was a native of Alabama county and a graduate of Bingham School and later of the University of South Carolina. Prior to joining his brother, Prof. W. R. Webb in Tennessee, Prof. John Webb taught at various points in this State. He was a great friend of Prof. C. W. Tillett and other Charlotte citizens.

STILL ANOTHER MILL.

Messrs. W. T. Rankin and Associates Will Build a Cotton Mill in the Near Future—Particulars Not Yet Available.

Gastonia is to have still another cotton mill. This announcement, made here for the first time, will come as a surprise to the public, even of Gastonia, following as it does right on the heels of the announcement a few days ago that Col. C. B. Armstrong and his associates were to build another mill at once. This will be Gastonia's nineteenth cotton mill and is to be built in the very near future by Mr. W. T. Rankin and his associates who Wednesday retired from the management of the Ozark Mill as a result of the change in ownership of a big block of stock in that corporation.

Mr. Rankin has not formulated his plans definitely and particulars as to the character of the mill, its product and exact location are not available today. Further information will doubtless be given out within the next few days.
