A BRILLIANT WEDDING

THE WETZELL-ARMSTRONG NUPTIALS

Marriage of Miss Clara Armstrong and Mr. Will L. Wetzell Tuesday Night Was Brilliant Social Affair—Wedding Reception Immediately After Ceremony Largely Attended—Honeymoon at Atlantic City.

A beautiful home wedding of interest to many throughout this section of the State took place Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mayor and Mrs. C. B. Armstrong, when their daughter, Miss Clara Armstrong, was married to Mr. William L. Wetzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wetzell, both of this city. Rev. J. H. Henderlite, pastor of the bride, officiated and was assisted by Rev. W. C. Barrett, pastor of the groom. The pretty ring ceremony was used.

The ceremony took place in the west parlor before an altar of green and white under a canopy of white tulle decorated with white roses and suspended from three tall white lattice screens festooned with smilax, above which were three white hoops bearing candles and decorated in a shower effect, with bride roses hung from white gauze ribbons. Prior to the ceremony, Miss Marie Torrence sang, "At Dawning," accompanied by Miss Lucy Boyce, who presided at the piano, and Mr. Erskine Boyce, on the violin. During the ceremony Miss Boyce and Mr. Boyce rendered "To a Wild Rose."

As the first strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March sounded the wedding party descended the stairway, carpeted in white, and entered the parlor in the following order: First, the little ribbon-bearers, Misses Mildred Armstrong and Josephine Moore, dressed in dainty white lace dresses and wearing pink ribbons. The dame of honor, Mrs. Clyde Armstrong, came next, wearing a lovely gown of Nile green and carried pink Killarney roses. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Ethelinda Armstrong, sister of the bride, wearing a charming shepherds dress of pink tulle and tulle, and carrying a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas attached to a pink enamelled dretre staff.

Then came the groom leaning on the arm of his best man, Mr. Fred S. Wetzell, his brother. Little Miss Mary Sexton Smyre, dainty in a sheer white frock of organdy and lace with pink ribbons, was the ring bearer and preceded the bride, who came in on the arm of her father, Mr. C. B. Armstrong, handsomely gowned in her wedding dress of white tulle and silver lace, low neck and short sleeves, with pearl ornaments, worn short with a court train of duchess satin gracefully hung from her shoulders. Her veil was caught by a spray of valley lilies, and she carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a handsome diamond brooch, a gift of the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony a brilliant reception was held, those in the receiving line being the members of the bridal party and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wetzell.

The home was beautifully decorated, the dining room color scheme was pink and green the centerpiece on the table was a gold basket filled with pink Killarney roses and fern, garlands of smilax and tulle hung from the chandelier from which was suspended a circle of tiny wedding bells and orange blossoms.

Those serving in the dining room were Misses Blanche Gray, Katherine Mason, Lillian Watson, Katie Lee Lewis and Della Nolen. Receiving in the hall were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins; receiving in the gift room where many handsome gifts attested the popularity of the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, Mr. and Mrs. George Mason; serving party were Misses Lois Torrence, Myrtle Gray, Marie Smith, Nell Blanton, of Marion, Frances Smoot, of North Wilkesboro, and Nell Allen, of Wake Forest. The marriage register was kept by Misses Louise Beeson, of Lexington, Ethel Miller, of Goldsboro, and Mr. Chester Rankin, Miss Nell McLean and Mr. Ralph Armstrong received at the front door and Miss Maud Rankin and Mr. Robert McLean presented the guests to the receiving line. Others assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetzell left on a night train for a wedding trip to Atlantic City, after which they will stop over in Washington a few days returning to Gastonia, where they will make their home.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mayor and Mrs. C. B. Armstrong and is quite popular in social circles here. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wetzell and holds a responsible position with the Torrence Drug Company of this city, being at the head of the prescription department. He is a young man of fine qualities and numbers his friends by the circle of his acquaintance.

A. J. SMITH KILLS SELF

TRAGEDY AT COURT HOUSE YESTERDAY

Register of Deeds Put Bullet Through His Brain in Commissioners' Room at Three O'Clock Yesterday Afternoon—Had Been Talking to Friends Five Minutes Before—Brooding Over Ill Health—Unbalanced His Mind—Funeral and Burial at Belmont Tomorrow.

One of the most tragic deaths in the history of Gastonia and Gaston county was that of Mr. A. J. Smith, who yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock took his life by shooting himself through the right temple. The deed was done as he sat in a chair in the commissioners' room on the first floor of the court house. Mr. Laue

Rankin, county auditor, had just left the room and started to the postoffice, where he had gone to mail a letter for the dead man. Before he had been out of the room five minutes a shot was heard and when friends rushed into the room a revolver was clutched in his left hand and blood was flowing from a wound in his right temple. Apparently he had held the pistol with both hands, and when the shot was fired his left hand held the grip on the pistol.

Those who had been in close relationship with Mr. Smith had known that he was brooding over the failure of his health. Some two months ago he went to Philadelphia to consult a specialist with reference to a wound on the head which he received by falling against a fire grate when a wire laid. Eight years ago he underwent an operation for relief from ill effects from this injury, but in recent months had suffered intensely from it.

Deceased would have been fifty-four years old in October. He was the only son of Andrew Smith, of Belmont, this county, where he was born and reared. He spent two years, 1881 and 1882, under Captain Bell at the old Kings Mountain Military Academy. He won an appointment to West Point Military Academy and spent six months there in 1883. He resigned his place there and returned home. For a time he taught school and later went into the mercantile business at Belmont. For many years prior to his election to the position of register of deeds, 12 years ago he was a magistrate. His term as register of deeds would have expired December 1.

He was a very studious man and was well versed on almost any subject. He was exceptionally well posted on historical matters, especially with reference to North Carolina's part in the Revolutionary War. He had made a careful study of the battle of Kings Mountain and perhaps knew more about it than any other man in this section.

Deceased was a man of the strictest integrity and honor. He was unassuming and was a man who never tried to make a show on any occasion. He never spoke an unkind word of any one and was liked by all who knew him.

Deceased was married to Miss Idell Armstrong, of Florida, seven children being born to this union, six are living as follows: Marie, Bryan, Caldwell, Elenor, Edith and Andrew J., Jr. All of the children live with their mother. Mr. Smith was a cousin of Mr. C. B. Armstrong. Funeral services will be conducted from the First Baptist Church at Belmont Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. W. C. Barrett, assisted by Rev. J. H. Henderlite, and the interment will be in the Belmont cemetery.

LATE EVENTS IN TOWN AND COUNTY

Mr. J. H. Separk Honored.
Mr. J. H. Separk has been informed that on Tuesday he was elected a member of the board of trustees of Trinity College at Durham. This is a distinct honor and is worthily bestowed. Mr. Separk was a member of the graduating class of 1896.

Old-Time Singing.

Tomorrow night the Y. P. C. U. of the Second A. R. P. church will give an ice cream supper and old-time singing at Boyd's school house in West Gastonia. Everybody is cordially invited to come and bring the American Tune Book.

Attended Class Reunion.

Mr. J. P. Reid returned to the city Wednesday night from Due West, S. C., where he attended the commencement exercises of Erskine College. Mr. Reid also attended the 40th reunion of the class of 1876, of which he was a member. There were 10 members of this class, nine of whom are still living.

Opening Tomorrow.

A new business establishment for Gastonia is the branch store of the Columbia Tailoring Company, of Baltimore, which will be opened tomorrow in the Ragan block at 113 East Main avenue. There is a full page announcement of the opening on page eight. Mr. Otto C. Duncan, the manager, extends a special invitation to all the men and young men of the city and county to call tomorrow and inspect his line.

Gaffney's 'Phone Service.

Charlotte Observer.
Some time ago the Piedmont Telephone & Telegraph Co. circulated a petition among its subscribers in Gaffney, asking them to join it in a request to the town council that it be allowed to increase rates on condition that the service be much improved. A counter petition was at once gotten out by the opposition, which was largely signed, and the matter will be taken up by the council at its regular meeting next Friday night. Both sides will be represented by counsel.

Mr. Lloyd at Chester.

The Chester Reporter of last Friday says: "Mr. Alfred O. Lloyd, of Gastonia, N. C., who has been elected secretary of the Chester Chamber of Commerce, spent Tuesday evening and yesterday morning in the city and met with the directors while here and talked over a number of matters. Mr. Lloyd also met a number of other citizens while here, all of whom were highly impressed with the new secretary. Mr. Lloyd plans to come to Chester July 1st to take up his work, and in the meantime will be in constant communication with the local directors, making a trip to Chester every few days, if his presence be needed."

Dokies to Meet in Waynesville.

A number of the Gastonia members of the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, funmakers of Pythianism, will likely journey to Waynesville on Wednesday, June 14th, for the summer ceremonial of Suez Temple of Charlotte. Royal Vezier Nathaniel C. White, of Charlotte, has issued the summons to both the aero and submarine squadrons to advance on Waynesville and round up a band of Tyros, who are hiding in the mountains near that place. The annual meeting of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, of North Carolina is also in session at Waynesville, June 12 to 17. Mr. G. H. Marvin is the delegate from Gastonia Lodge No. 53, and Mr. J. W. Atkins is alternate.

Mrs. Walker's Father Dead.

Mr. D. M. Hartsoe, father of Mrs. S. H. Walker, of Gastonia, died Monday at his home in Kings Mountain. Funeral services were conducted at the Lutheran church there Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. C. K. Bell. Interment was in the Kings Mountain cemetery. He was 80 years old, having been born October 10, 1836. He was married August 17, 1864, to Martha E. Hallman, who survives. To them were born nine children; four sons and five daughters, of whom six are living, namely: Mrs. S. H. Walker and Mr. Ed Hartsoe, of Gastonia; Mrs. J. A. Walker, John L. Hartsoe, James Hartsoe and Miss Mira Hartsoe, all of Kings Mountain. Deceased was a Confederate veteran, having been a member of Company B, Twenty-third North Carolina Regiment. Mr. Walker and family attended the funeral.

HAVE YOU BEEN SICK?

Do you realize the utter weakness that robs ambition, destroys appetite, and makes work a burden.

To restore that strength and stamina that is so essential, nothing has ever equaled or compared with Scott's Emulsion, because its strength-sustaining nourishment invigorates the blood to distribute energy throughout the body while its tonic value sharpens the appetite and restores health in a natural, permanent way.

If you are run down, tired, nervous, overworked or lack strength, get Scott's Emulsion to-day. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

LATEST EVENTS IN WOMAN'S WORLD

EVENTS FOR VISITING LADY.

Several very delightful events have been given this week in honor of Mrs. Stella G. McElhannon, of Washington, D. C., who with her daughter, Miss Roberta McElhannon, has been the guest for the past three weeks of her sister, Mrs. S. A. Kindley. Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock Mrs. P. R. Falls gave a dinner party for her at her home on South York street. The dining room was most attractively decorated with sweet peas. There were eight guests. Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock Mrs. Frost Torrence gave a delightful dinner at her home for Mrs. McElhannon. On Thursday evening at 7 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Garrison entertained a number of friends at dinner complimentary to Mrs. McElhannon. The color scheme was white and yellow and ivy and daisies were used profusely in decorating. Mrs. McElhannon and daughter will leave tomorrow for their home in Washington.

ELABORATE PARTY FOR BRIDE.

One of the loveliest parties of the season was the rook party last Friday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 8 given by Miss Jennie Lillian Watson in honor of Miss Clara Armstrong, a bride of the week, at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Craig on Main avenue. Sharing honors with Miss Armstrong were Misses Mae London, Mary Shelton, Sarah Mellon, of Charlotte, and Elizabeth Hyman, of New Bern, the attractive house guests of Miss Watson, and Miss Ethel Miller, of Goldsboro, guest of Miss Maud Rankin.

Rook was played at twelve tables under the pergolas on the west lawn. The score cards were attractive hand-painted brides and the scorers were miniature brides-bouquets. Dainty white baskets tied with orange blossoms and filled with green and white mints were placed at each table. The prize, a box of candy, was presented to Miss Marie Torrence, who had the highest score. The guest of honor prizes were silver pencils. Delicious punch was served under the summer house, which was prettily decorated with sweet peas and served by Misses Myrtle Gray, Lucy Boyce and Sarah Mellon. Little Misses Jennie Craig Watson, Jennie Watson Peirce, of New Bern, and Master Thomas Craig, of Statesville, kept the tallies.

While the guests were seated at the tables a "colored mammy" appeared on the scene carrying a tub and wash board on her head. She wended her way by the tables, crying "Laundry, Towels! Towels!", etc., and finally presented the bride, Miss Armstrong, with this huge tub full of towels, gifts of the guests.

After this the guests were invited in the house where an elegant supper was served in four courses at individual tables in the dining room, breakfast room and halls, about 35 guests being present. The tables were attractively decorated with silver bud vases holding a single stately bride rose. The place cards were hand-painted brides and grooms and the favors, little china cupid, were in small white boxes tied with orange blossoms. Small white baskets tied with gold hearts and cupid heads held almonds at each place and the refreshments were served in dainty baskets decorated with fern and sweet peas.

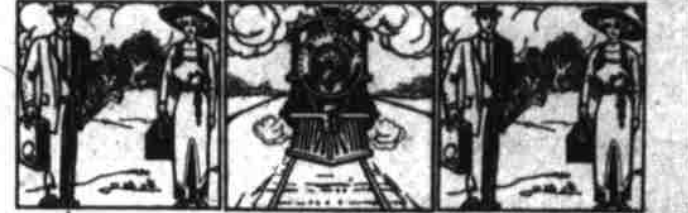

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Atkins Orchestra in the music room. The table at which the bride sat held a lovely white enamelled basket of fern and Easter lilies for the centerpiece and at each place were small bouquets of valley lilies. The guests at this table were the hostess, Mrs. Craig, the bride, and the guests of honor, Miss Nell McLean, a bride-to-be of the fall, and Mrs. C. B. Armstrong, mother of the bride, and Mrs. L. F. Wetzell, mother of the groom. The party was the most elaborate of the numerous parties given for Miss Armstrong, who was wedded to Mr. W. L. Wetzell last Tuesday evening.

Quill Drivers Here.

Gastonia had the pleasure of being host for a brief time yesterday afternoon to the members of the South Carolina Press Association. The annual meeting is being held in York. Yesterday morning the visitors went to Kings Mountain battlefield, making the trip in about 70 automobiles furnished by the good people of Clover and York. Returning they enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at Linwood College which had been provided by the York ladies. Shortly after 3 o'clock, piloted by President T. L. Craig and Secretary A. O. Lloyd of the Chamber of Commerce, the long line of autos came into Gastonia. The party alighted here, posed for a photo on the steps of the postoffice building and spent half an hour looking over the town. They went from here to York for their night session. Tomorrow they go in a special train to Edgemont. Most of the party had never seen Gastonia and they were unanimous in their opinion that it was one of the best towns they had ever seen anywhere.

In a severe hail storm Wednesday, Lindsay Hinkle, a Davidson county farmer, was knocked down by a hail stone which struck him on the forehead. The storm did considerable damage throughout the county.
