FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1916.

Gastonia never falls down when there's a call to duty. This was again strikingly demonstrated yesterday when Captain Bulwinkle of the Gaston Guards had 30 or more applications for enlistment within a few hours after he had received orders to get his company together for border duty.

It is gratifying to note the constantly increasing interest Gastonians manifest in their public schools. Commencement exercises draw capacity houses, no matter what else is going on.

McADENVILLE WAS DEFEATED.

Carver's Recruits Showed Marked Ability in Exhibition Game Saturday—Stanton Allowed the Visitors Only One Safe Hit—Gastonia Fans Are Well Pleased.

Manager Carver and his crew administered a severe drubbing to McAdenville's strong aggregation of players in an exhibition game at Lory Park Saturday afternoon, 10 to 1.

McAdenville's team was composed of several ex-leaguers, namely, "Togo" Bentley, Van Pelt and Fred Prim. Manchester, who was suspended from the Charlotte club several days ago for assaulting Umpire Lauzon, was also in the McAdenville line-up and did the receiving.

Gastonia baseball enthusiasts who saw the game Saturday are unanimous in their opinion that Manager Carver has assembled a fast and snappy team that will compete with any of the teams in the circuit.

Home-Owning Mill Hands.

University News-Letter. Some time ago we visited a rare kind of mill village in Illinois, some 16 miles east of St. Louis. The population numbers 670. Every family in it with only five exceptions owns its own home.

There is no civic organization, no mayor, no policeman, no jail, no bar-room. There is no need and no demand for any of these luxuries of civilization.

Only two boys born in the village have ever left it, and one of them has since returned. Only one girl born in the village has ever moved out of it. It is a stable mill population.

There is no more beautiful village in America than the village of LeClaire—and it is a mill village.

The lake, the boat pavilion, the amusement park, the kindergarten, the public school and the common hall, are the property of the mill hands, not the mill owners. They are all maintained in order by a tax paid out of the mill wages according to the amount earned by each operative.

The factory book-keeper keeps the account, and the fairness of it has never been questioned.

GLYNN ON WILSON.

Eloquent Tribute to the President by Ex-Governor.

(From ex-Governor Glynn's Nominating Speech.)

The man who is President of the United States today measures up to the best traditions of a great office.

He has been wise with a wisdom that is steeped in the traditions of his country, with a wisdom that has been disciplined by training and broadened by instruction.

He has been prudent with the prudence of one who has within his hands the destiny of a hundred million people.

He has been firm with the firmness that proceeds from deep conviction, with the firmness that is grounded in a duty well defined.

He has been courageous with the courage that places country above self, with the courage that follows duty wherever it may lead.

He has been dignified with the dignity that is self-forgetting and self-respecting, with the dignity that conserves the majesty of the greatest office in the world.

He has been patient with the patience which believes and trusts that truth crushed to earth will rise again; with the patience that can endure and wait, watch and pray, for the certain vindication of justice, humanity and right.

He has been patriotic with a patriotism that is as pure and strong as the faith that moved the fathers when they made our country free.

No president since the Civil War has had as crucial problems to solve; and no President has displayed a grasp more sure, a statesmanship more profound.

Assailed by the wolves of privilege, he has pulled their claws and drawn their teeth.

Assaulted by partisan envy he has shamed his traducers into silence and made friend and foe go forward together in the paths of national progress.

He has fired our patriotism with a new ardor; he has breathed into our ancient traditions a new vigor and a new life.

He has added strength to America's courage and mingled mercy with America's strength.

He has fastened the brakes of justice upon the wheels of power; he has cleared the mists from the temple where our liberties are enshrined.

And when the history of these days comes to be written, and the children of tomorrow read their Nation's story, when time shall have dispelled all misconception, and the years shall have rendered their impartial verdict, one name will shine in golden splendor upon the page that is blackened with the tale of Europe's war, one name will represent the triumph of American principles over the hosts of darkness and of death.

That name will be the name of the great President who has made Democracy proud that he is a Democrat, and made Americans proud that he is an American.

It will be the name of the student and the scholar who has kept his country true to its faith in a time that tried men's souls; the name of the statesman who has championed the cause of American freedom wherever he found it oppressed; the name of the patriot who has implanted his country's flag on the highest peak to which humanity has yet aspired; the name that carried the torch of progress to victory again; the name of Woodrow Wilson, President and President to be.

SUMMER SCHOOL OPENS.

Special to The Gazette. CHAPEL HILL, June 20. — In both the enthusiasm manifested and the number of students so far registered the twenty-ninth session of the University Summer School, which opened Thursday, June 15th, has surpassed all previous sessions. The enrollment on the last day of registration was 729, within two of the total for the whole of last year. The enrollment passed the 800 mark before Sunday, thus making it practically certain now that over 1,000 students will be enrolled before the summer is over.

In the absence of President Graham, Dean Marvin H. Stacy welcomed the summer students to the University at the formal opening on Friday. He declared that the summer students were here by right of citizenship, right of hospitality and right of growth.—the last right being one which the teacher should by all means exercise. "There has not been in North Carolina this year," he said, "an assembly of men and women that means more to the State than the assembly of men and women here this summer."

The Summer School management has left no stone unturned in providing for six weeks of combined profit and pleasure. Most of the best teachers in the winter school have been retained, and their number has been supplemented by distinguished teachers from other schools.

Miss Emily Rose Knox, of Raleigh, and Miss Dycie Howell, of New York, give the first of the summer musicales on next Tuesday night. Prof. Gustav Hagedorn, of Raleigh, is planning big things in Summer School music and singing this year. The chorus will give a concert on July 12.

The Y. W. C. A. has this summer taken charge of the University Y. M. C. A. building, and will thus be enabled to render help and guidance to the women of the school. Miss Margaret Anderson, of Winston-Salem, is secretary.

R. D. W. Connor starts his series of lectures on North Carolina History Monday. State Supervisor, L. C. Brogden, is also teaching here this summer.

The Gummy That Does Not Affect The Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE GUMMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, 21c.

Comes to Gaston.

The following item from the Spencer correspondence of Sunday: Raleigh News and Observer will be of interest to many Gazette readers.

"After completing four years of effective service as superintendent of the Spencer High Schools Prof. M. L. Barnes has resigned to become superintendent of the Mount Holly school, Gaston county. He is also to be township superintendent at that place. Prof. Barnes graduated from Wake Forest, 1912, is a graduate student of Columbia University, New York. Under his administration the Spencer schools acquired the 11th grade, a new $15,000 building, an increase of 100 in attendance, organized its first athletic association, won four out of six debates with other high schools and took first rank among the graded schools of the State."

Athletic Association Incorporated. The Gastonia Athletic Association, of Gastonia, was yesterday granted a charter to conduct a baseball club with an authorized capital stock of $5,000, paid in $120. Mr. George R. Spencer and 11 other Gastonia baseball fans are the incorporators. So says a Raleigh dispatch to this morning's papers.

The Gazette for $1.00.

The publishers of The Gazette believe that they are making one of the biggest Dollar Day offerings in town in that they propose on that day to accept subscriptions to this paper for $1.00 a year instead of $1.50, the regular price. Tell your friends about it. This is an unusual bargain offer when the fact is considered that paper has recently made a tremendous advance and the natural course of events would tend to bring about an increase in subscription price of all newspapers. Only one year's subscription will be accepted from any person at this price. Don't overlook this big bargain Thursday. Let it head your shopping list for that day.
