They Pleased Waynesville.
Last Thursday's issue of The Carolina Mountaineer, which is published at Waynesville, has the following to say in an account of the D. O. K. K. ceremonial held there last Wednesday: "The Gastonia Pythian Drum Corps arrived, 20 strong on the 10 o'clock train Wednesday and paraded afterward in their brilliant uniforms. The D. O. K. K.'s had about all gotten here on the afternoon train. At 6 o'clock the Dokies, headed by the Drum Corps and the degree team with their ultra-multi-colored uniforms paraded to the Haywood White Sulphur Springs hotel where they enjoyed their annual banquet. Afterwards they made a night of it at Armory Hall when about 60 victims furnished fresh meat for the Tiger. Many of the would-be Dokies were marched up and down the street tied with ropes and guarded. Occasionally they tried to break away and were caught. They furnished much amusement for the crowd. Our tall Chief of Police headed the column and carried a broom."

Lydia C. Barnes of Lockport, Ill., age 102, is still active in household affairs.

THE STARVING ARMENIANS.
The latest cablegram from Constantinople, received by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, declares that many Armenian exiles are reduced to eating grass and are dying of starvation, by the hundred. Think of human beings reduced to such destitution that they are forced to eat grass! Surely out of our great abundance we can find some little gift to help to meet this appalling need. Money or checks sent to me or left with The Gazette will go directly to these starving ones.

INVITED TO GASTONIA.

Building and Loan League, However, Selects Hickory as Next Year's Meeting Place—Mr. S. A. Robinson Represented Gastonia.

Mr. S. A. Robinson, president of the Gastonia Mutual Building & Loan Association, returned Thursday from Greenville, N. C., where he attended the thirteenth annual convention of the North Carolina Building and Loan League. Mr. Robinson invited the association to hold its 1917 meeting in Gastonia. By reason of a previous invitation, however, the organization was obligated to Hickory and hence that town was chosen as the next meeting place. Gastonia stands a good chance to get it in 1918.

There were about 50 building and loan associations represented at the meeting, which was an enthusiastic and helpful one.

The following members spoke: E. L. Keesler, president, annual address; A. G. Craig, Charlotte, secretary and treasurer; John B. Sparrow, Washington, "Why Women Should Carry Building and Loan stock"; C. D. Talliaferro, Charlotte, "How Citizens of Charlotte View Her Buildings and Loan Associations"; James R. Young, Raleigh, "The Building and Loan as an Asset to a Community and the State"; R. A. Nunn, New Bern, "Why Some Building and Loan Associations Are Not Successful."

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, E. L. Keesler, Charlotte; first, second and third vice presidents, W. E. Sharpe, Burlington; G. R. Wooten, Hickory; J. B. James, Greenville, in order named; secretary and treasurer, A. G. Craig, Charlotte.

Statesville 7, Kannapolis 6.

The following account of the Statesville-Kannapolis game is recorded in this morning's Charlotte Observer:

Statesville was victorious in the game here this afternoon with Kannapolis, which opened the Western Carolina League season. The visitors started off ahead, but the locals soon forged into the lead, winning by a score of 7 to 6. A large crowd witnessed the game, Kannapolis and other towns being well represented.

Home runs by Massey of Statesville, and Johnson of Kannapolis, were features.

Score by innings:

R. H. E.
Kannapolis	300 111 000—6 8 3
Statesville	200 022 001—7 11 8

Batteries: Earnhardt, Zachery and Lefter; Gordon and Thompson.
