Farmers Institute Draws Good Crowd Despite Cherryville's Celebration— Talks by Messrs, Kirby, Gray, Roberts and Holland—A Progress sive Community.

Cherryville didn't have all the crowd Saturday by any means as those who attended the farmers institute at Sunnyside school house, about half way between Bensemer City and Cherryville, can testify. Because of the proximity of the two places, those in charge of the inititute were dublous as to whether they would have any crowd to talk to. They were agreeably surprised to find considerably more than a hundred farmers and their wives on hand to listen to them. Prof. S. J. Kirby, of the Farm Life School, Farm Demonstrator Gray, Secretary Roberts of the Gasto Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. J. M. Holland, secretary of the Gaston County Fair Association, made practical talks to the farmers. Mrs. Stella Shetley and Miss Ruth The asson talked to the women a canning club work, home economics, etc. Mr. Gray and Mr. Holland also made short talks to the ladies.

The picnic dinner was such as or rarely finds on such occasions. The was plenty to eat, not only of the substntials but of dainties as well. Everything was cooked in a most excellent manner and was served splendid style.

Sunnyside is one of the county's progressive communities. Her peo-ple are making great progress. Farmers Institutes have been held at this point for several years past and the results are apparent in the condition of the farmers.

Cherryville's Celebration. Probably 4,000 people attended Cherryville's big annual celebration Saturday. There was no outstanding feature of the day, but plenty of amusement was furnished and the folks seemed to have a good time. There were midway features such as the merry-go-round, snake eater, al-ligator, rope-walker, etc. Included in the program were contests of various kinds indulged in by the young men of that section. In the after-noon on the school diamond lovers of the National sport had the opportunity of witnessing a ball game between Cherryville and Maiden. So far as learned there was no rowdyism though there was apparently some drinking. The only serious ac-cident occurred when Frank Long, of Gastonia, who operates a litner bus, ran into a pole, receiving pain-ful injuries himself and causing two or three passengers to receive slight wounds. Long was brought to the hospital here and was able to be out
