HEROES ARE HONORED

IN CELEBRATION AT KINGS MOUNTAIN

Governor Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia, was the speaker for the annual event Saturday—Was introduced by Governor Locke Craig—Speaker Showed the Value of the Battle of Kings Mountain, Stating That It Made Yorktown Success Possible.

—M. D. Abernethy—

Thousands of visitors joined with the people of Kings Mountain Saturday in the annual celebration of the battle of Kings Mountain, which took place one hundred and thirty-six years ago on the summit of the mountain and paid their respects in an appropriate manner to those sturdy North Carolina and Virginia heroes who defeated General Ferguson, turned the tide of the great war and made possible American independence.

Governor Henry C. Stuart, of Virginia, was the speaker for the occasion who, along with Governor Locke Craig, of this State, and their staffs arrived in Kings Mountain about 1 o'clock in a private car. Immediately on arrival the party was escorted to the hotel where dinner was served the guests and the members of the reception committee.

Immediately after dinner the parade, led by the two governors, proceeded through the principal streets of the town out to the speakers stand, which had been erected in a big grove a short distance from the hotel. The buildings and streets were decorated with American flags and bunting, and the town presented a gay appearance. There were thousands waiting in the big grove to receive the speaker when he arrived and hundreds of others followed from the town.

Mr. W. A. Ridenhour, president of the association, welcomed the visitors and called on Rev. W. E. Abernethy, of Shelby, who led in prayer. Congressman E. Y. Webb presented Governor Locke Craig who introduced the speaker.

Governor Craig introduced the speaker while leaning on a sword used in the Revolutionary war and that was welded at the battle of Kings Mountain by William DePriest, who was a native from the mountains of Virginia. "Every State in the Union," declared Governor Craig, "is leaning on this sword for the freedom they today enjoy." This battle-scarred relic is now in the possession of Mr. C. C. DePriest, of Boston, a lineal descendant of the soldier.

Paying a high tribute to Campbell, the commander, Sevier, Shelby, McDowell, Cleveland, Lacy and others who participated in the battle of Kings Mountain, Governor Stuart declared that "This splendid feat of the Virginia and North Carolina backwoodsmen contributed more to the gaining of our independence and the establishment of this great republic than any other single event."

The first meeting of the stockholders of the Gaston County National Farm Loan Association was held Friday afternoon in the offices of the Gastonia Insurance & Realty Company for the purpose of organizing. In order that the people over the county might become acquainted with the benefits and advantages a National Farm Loan Association offers, the members present at Friday's meeting were asked to make it as well known as possible that an institution had been formed in Gaston county and those wishing to secure loans are to be urged to get in touch with the officers and sign applications at once. WAS FOUND DEAD.

Mr. Robert L. McAllister's Death Was Due to Heart Failure—Funeral and Burial at Kings Mountain Sunday.

Messrs. J. E. and G. W. McAllister returned Sunday morning on No. 29 from Richmond, Va., to which place they were called by a message announcing the sudden death of their brother, Mr. Robert L. McAllister. They brought the body back to Kings Mountain, his former home, where the funeral and interment took place Sunday afternoon. The funeral was held at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church, of which he was a member, and burial was in the Kings Mountain cemetery.

Mr. McAllister was found dead in bed at a hotel in Youngstown, Ohio, about 9 o'clock last Tuesday night by the hotel proprietor who became uneasy when Mr. McAllister did not come down to supper. A coroner's inquest was held and the examination developed the fact that death was due to organic heart trouble. It was known that he had been unwell for two or three days prior to his death. Deceased had been in Youngstown about five weeks, having gone there to take a position with a large concern.

Deceased was 39 years old and leaves a widow and three children. His first wife was Miss Katherine Netherton, of Kings Mountain, by whom there were three children. She died several years ago. His second wife was Miss Laura Baker, of Georgia. They had no children. Mr. McAllister moved to Richmond from Gastonia about eight years ago and had resided there since. He had visited his brother here a few times since leaving.

The deceased had many friends here and in nearby towns who will regret very much to know of his death.

Large Increase Shown. Receipts at the Gastonia postoffice for the quarter ending September 30th amounted to $5,154.47 as against $4,071.91 for the same period last year. This is a net gain for the quarter of $1,082.56, the largest quarterly gain ever shown by the local office. The total receipts for the quarter are the largest in its history and indicate a steady growth.

"If it had not been for the new keep-to-the-right ordinance during fair week," remarked an observant citizen, "Gastonia would very probably have had several automobile accidents. There were hundreds of machines on the streets Saturday and had the old way of go-any-way-you-please been in vogue traffic in the business section of town would have been hopelessly tangled. It's a fine thing and the people are realizing more and more the value of it."
