Don't Invite Serious Sickness

"A stitch in time saves nine." is an old and trite saying, but it is nevertheless true. Common colds and a constipated condition are the foundation of much serious illness and dread disease that could be avoided if prompt attention were given to the first so-called slight allment.

Every family can provide prompt treatment for these first attacks of ill health—and every family should be prepared for an emergency by having on hand that standard old family cough syrup, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for the relief of coughs, crown whoming cough treitated and croup, whooping cough, irritated and inflamed throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs. Foley Cathartic Tablets are just the thing for constipation and sluggish bowel movement —a wholesome laxa-tive and cleansing cathartic. They do not gripe or cause nausea or in-convenience and are particularly wel-come to stout people.

Stanley Happenings.

Correspondence of The Gazette.

STANLEY, Dec. 28 .- On Wednesday evening, December 27th, in the Presbyterian church, Miss Allie Mason became the bride of Mr. Fred Rhyne. The church was artistically decorated for the occasion, the color scheme of green and white being carried out. The bridal couple took the vows between two screens, covered with evergreens, having open hoops at top twined with green and white and within each a shower of mistletoe was suspended on white rio bons. A double tier background, lighted with candles at top and base was used between the screens. shower of white bells hung directly over the bridal pair The party entered to the strains of Mendelssohns" rendered by Mrs. F. 1. Carpenter. Entering down the center aisle, first the groom with his brother, Mr. R. M. Rhyne, next the bride dressed in a blue traveling suit with accessories to match, carrying bride's roses. Accompanying her was her sister, Miss Edith Mason, handsome in a brown charmeuse and velvet, trimmed in gold with a large picture hat of velvet with shoes to match. Miss Mason's flowers were pink carnations and fern.

During the ceremony, which was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. 1. Cathey, "Humoresque" softly rendered. The bridal party left the church to "Lohengrin's March.

The bride is a daughter of the late M. LaFayette Mason and Mrs. Mary Alice Mason. For several years the bride has been a popular member of the faculty of the graded school here. She is a bright, attractive and winsome young woman of brunette type, numbering her friends by her acquaintances.

The groom is the eldest son of the late Albertus Rhyne and Mrs. Addie Rhyne, of this county. Mr. Rhyne, a business man of sterling qualities. has for some time been cashier of the Bank of Denver, but will soon move to Stanley and continue the same work here.

The marriage of last evening connected two of the oldest families of aston county

Many useful and beautiful girts were received from friends and relatives. The church was thronged with friends and relatives. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Hal McDonald and daughter Estelle, of Charlotte: Mr. Walter L. Mason, of Mebane: Miss Maud Rankin, Mr. Henry Rankin, Mr. O. F. Misses Katherine and Ruth Mason. Messrs. John and O. B. Carpente. Eugene Brittain, of Gastonia: Miss Boulah Yount, of Pineville, Miss Shaster Abernathy and Dr. M. (Hunter, of Huntersville

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Carpenter entertained at dinner on Christmas day. The guests were Mrs. B. F. Carpenter, Messrs, John and Carl 'arpenter, of Gastonia: Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Carpenter and children: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lewis and Mrs. A. L. Bulwinkle and children, of Dallas,

The new Lutheran preacher, Rev. Mr. Bolick, of Catawba county, is moving his family here this weet The people are glad to welcome him to his new charge. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rutledge and hildren. Misses Mary Sue and Willie and Master Jimmie, spent the holidays in Mt. Holly with relatives.

Mrs. L. Smith, of Pineville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Rutledge.

By being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va .- "I suffered for several years." says Mrs. J. B. Whiitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old. I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children teel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.'

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

TO EACH HIS SOUL

Eternal Salvation a Personal Matter Which Cannot Be Left to Others.

Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.-Phil. 2:12, 13, So far as our knowledge goes, Philippi was the first city in Europe to receive the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It was a city of some importance, having the position and the privileges of a Roman colony. It was situated in a fruitful district, near some gold mines, and also near enough to the sea to be a depot for Asiatic commerce. The congregation founded there was made up of earnest and sincere people, and is specially mentioned for its love and care of the Apostle who first brought them the Gospel.

Eleven or twelve years had passed since the founding of this cherch. Paul was a prisoner in Rome. The Epaphroditus arrived from the church at Philippi, after a long and dangerous journey, bringing supplies for the needs and comfort of Paul. He also brought tidings of the condition of the Philippian church, and assured the Apostle of their love and their prapers, This letter was in a sense a response to the message and the gifts brought by Epaphroditus, and it is no wonder that it bears the marks of tenderness and affection for these people who loved Paul so dearly.

Paul begins to think that he will never be able to come again to Philippi, and so he writes this letter to them and tells them to continue the work in his absence as well as in his presence. It is not always well to be under the influence of a commanding personality. The weaker is dominated by the stronger and the cultivation of our own judgment is neglected. So Paul warns the Philippians not to look to him in every difficulty, but to "work out their own salvation in fear and trembling." Does not this seem to contradict some of the teaching of St.

Doctrine of Salvation.

One of the fundamental doctrines of Paul was that salvation is a free gift due to the grace of God. Remember that writing to the Philippians Paul was addressing believers who already possessed this salvation. But while it is indeed a gift of God, every man must appropriate it to himself. That is the work of the Holy Spirit, to work in us that we may "work out" into every fiber of our being, into every activity of life, the salvation which God bestows upon us for Jesus'

A slave is set to work out his freedom. He may be encouraged to do so and even be assisted by his master. But this freedom is to be won by his own exertions, to be paid for by his toll. If that were the sense in which we are to work out our own salvation it would never be accomplished, for we sinful creatures can never merit beaven.

But let us suppose that the slave is given his freedom, and then told that for the sake of his own development he must make himself worthy of that great gift. He is to work out his liberty, not in the sense of buying it, but in bringing out what is in it, by using it well. He is to prove himself free by self-control, by proper employment, and by self-culture. He is to work out a freeman's life. Thus it is that we are to work out our own salvation.

Salvation is a personal matter. It is our own salvation which we are to work out. No one can do it for us. Each man is an individual soul before the throne of grace.

One Law of the Universe. Nothing is of value unless it is individualized. Light is universal, It bathes the world in living spendor. But each optic nerve must transfer the vibrations of light to the brain which interprets it in terms of color, perspective, and proportion. The world is full of harmonious sounds. There is music of the birds, the laughter and the roar of the waves, the whisper of the breeze through the trees; but unless each auditory nerve gathers up these waves of sound and carries them to the appreciating brain, nature might as well be silent as the grave. The air wraps the whole earth round, many miles deep. There is enough for millions more than tread the earth today, but unless each individual pair of lungs draws in this lifegiving air we might as well be in a vacuum. A drowned man is brought upon the shore. The air is pressing upon his body with a pressure of 15 pounds to every square inch. All about him are crowds of people who are breathing the air, but he might as well be in some airless space of the world, because his individual lungs cannot draw it in. It is so with salvation. It is free as air. It folds us round like the atmosphere. It has a positive pressure. It whispers, woos and waits, and listens and longs for entence; but unless it be personally admitted, all its universality will count for nought. It is a great thing in a man's history when he grasps his own individual relation to God, when he realizes that he is indeed the child of a heavealy father just as truly as if he were the only soul in the world.

Remembrance is the only paradise out of which we cannot be driven away. Indeed our first parents were not to be deprived of it.-Richter.

Ter men have failed from defect in morals, where one has failed from defect in intellect.-Horace Mann.
