Gazette Bureau, Belmont Drug Store, Belmont, Feb. 12.

Fire which supposedly originated from a defective flue in the kitchen of Dr. G. H. West, early Sunday morning at 12:30 destroyed his residence, all his furniture, personal effects and two adjoining houses occupied by Rev. F. M. Huggins and Ernest Lowe. Most of the furniture in the homes of the two latter was saved by the heroic efforts of volunteer firemen. In addition to the losses already mentioned suffered by Dr. West was a Ford car standing in the yard which was burned.

The total damage, including the three houses, furniture, etc., will amount to about $6,000. All three of the buildings were partially insured.

BANQUET FOR SOLDIERS

CITIZENS ENTERTAIN FOR COMPANY B.

Enjoyable Event at Armington Hotel Saturday Afternoon Followed by Public Reception at Court House Saturday Night—Many Compliments Paid Capt. Bulwinkle and His Men—Capt. Kent Advocates Universal Service.

Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 the officers and members of Company B, North Carolina National Guards, locally known as the Gaston Guards, were the guests of the citizens of Gastonia at a sumptuous banquet at the Armington Hotel. With Rev. J. H. Henderlite acting as toastmaster the hours were filled with wit and good fellowship. There was not a dull moment throughout the afternoon. Mr. Henderlite showed himself a pastmaster in the art of "toastmastering" and the responses that were made indicated that Gastonia's business and professional men can talk and that both entertainingly and instructively.

Speechmaking began while the menu was still being served. The menu was as follows:

Queen Olives	Celery Hearts
Cream of Tomato	Oyster Dressing
Roast Young Turkey	Sliced Pickled Ox Tongue
Beef Croquettes	Horseradish Sauce
Baked Irish Potato	Early June Peas
Waldorf Salad	Tutti Frutti Ice Cream
American Cheese and Crackers	After Dinner Mints
Coffees	Cigarettes

In addition to the officers and members of the company there were present around the board the members of the citizens committee which was responsible for the banquet, the ministers of the city, the fathers of several of the boys and a few other invited guests.

The following gentlemen responded to the call of the toastmaster or the guests, each with something appropriate to the occasion: O. F. Mason, C. B. Armstrong, H. H. Jordan, S. N. Boyce, J. H. Separk, W. C. Barrett, A. G. Mangum, T. L. Craig, Capt. A. L. Bulwinkle, Capt. W. A. Kent, Lieut. C. C. Craig, A. M. Dixon, A. C. Jones, Rev. Dr. J. C. Gallo-way, R. G. Cherry, J. W. Timberlake, W. T. Rankin, Capt. W. E. Christian, A. F. Stroupe. Just at the close several of the boys were called on and responded briefly.

It must have done the hearts of the soldier boys good to hear all the splendid things that were said about them to their faces at this banquet. Every speaker, without exception, commended them for the splendid record the company made on the border. Both Capt. Bulwinkle and Lieut. Craig spoke of the loyalty of the members of the company to a man and their appreciation for the interest displayed by the folks back home.

Capt. Kent made an excellent talk in advocacy of universal service, which he declared was the most democratic thing imaginable. "A great many people have the notion—a very erroneous one—that a big army means the injection of militarism into the life of our nation. It is not so, however. The army does not begin wars. It fights when it is ordered to fight and stops when it is ordered. Wars are made by the statesmen and politicians." Capt. Kent outlined in a general way a tentative plan for training our young men for army service. This plan includes one year of active service followed by three or more years in the reserve forces. He asked his hearers to think over the proposition and, if favorably impressed with it, to take occasion to let their representatives in Congress know that they favored it.

Near the close of the banquet the toastmaster read a letter addressed to Capt. Bulwinkle upon the eve of the company's departure from the border for home from Adjutant-General Lawrence Young in which he gave unstinted praise to the Gaston company for its splendid service and conduct during the entire period it was on the border.

The menu cards contained, in addition to the bill of fare, a roster of the officers and men of the company. Each man's card had his name printed on the title page in gilt letters and these will no doubt be kept as mementos of an occasion which will be looked back to for many years by the members of Company B as a happy one.

GASTONIA AND GASTON

LATE EVENTS IN TOWN AND COUNTY

Recovering from Injury.

Mr. A. E. Moore is able to be out again after having been confined to his home on West Franklin avenue several days with a sprained ankle. He was injured while alighting from a train ten days or so ago.

Mr. Todd is Improving.

Mr. Kenneth Todd, who has been undergoing treatment in the Mercy General Hospital at Charlotte for the past two weeks, returned to the city Saturday and is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Todd, on East Franklin avenue. His friends will be glad to know that he is greatly improved.

Pythians Will Celebrate.

Plans are under way by the members of the local lodge of Pythians to celebrate the fifty-third anniversary of the Order in an appropriate manner on Monday, February 19th. During the week beginning February 19th, thousands of the subordinate Pythian lodges in the United States will hold similar ceremonies. Details of the Gastonia meeting will be stated in Friday's Gazette.

Change in Mail Service.

Announcement is made by Postmaster John R. Rankin that until further notice the hour for closing the mails at night will be 10 o'clock instead of 9. Letters mailed before 10 o'clock will be dispatched on No. 30 for the East and on No. 43 for the West. This gives an additional hour of mail service each day and will be a great advantage to business houses to whom it is important that mail be dispatched at night.

New Building, and Loan.

Gastonia is soon to have a new building and loan association in addition to the two well established institutions of that kind it already has. Sufficient stock has already been subscribed for the organization and application for a charter will be made within a few days. The promoters of the new enterprise are officers of the Price Real Estate & Insurance Company, and the new building and loan will have its offices with that company.

ent at the Franklin hotel.

The bride has for the past two or three years been a city visiting nurse and has won a permanent place in the hearts of a large portion of Gastonia's citizenship. Her circle of friends is limited only by the number of her acquaintances. The groom is a popular young business man, being manager of the local branch of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. He has been a resident of the city about a year during which time he has made a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Birmingham will begin their married life with the best wishes of many friends.

Spoke Here Sunday Night.

Mr. Wyatt H. Taylor, of Greenville, S. C., who is field secretary of the all-south extension movement of the Christian Endeavor, addressed the congregation at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening at the regular hour for worship. He spoke at length of the accomplishments of the Christian Endeavor, its need in every church and how such a society would benefit the young people of the churches in this city. Much interest was manifested and a number of the young men and women stayed after the service had closed and took some preliminary steps towards organizing a society.

WROTE TIME HEALTH OFFICER.

Dr. J. A. Speight Succeeds Doctor Braswell in Nash—The County's Health is in Fine Shape.

(State Board of Health Bulletin.)

"If there are counties that are still doubtful about the whole-time health officer plan, let them ask Nash," says the State Board of Health. This county, according to the Board, has had five whole time health officers. The county is never without a physician whose duty it is to give his full time to looking after the health of the people. When one officer sees fit to change his work and go to another field, another one is employed to take his place, and the health of the county is at no time without a guardian.

Dr. J. A. Speight, of Nashville, was elected to succeed Dr. J. C. Braswell, Jr., who last fall was made full time superintendent of health of Rocky Mount. His services as whole time health officer of Nash began January 3.

Dr. Speight says that the health conditions of Nash are now in fine shape, except an epidemic of measles which he hopes soon to have controlled. His plans for the future are to work mainly with the school children till school closes and then war will be waged on typhoid fever and other summer diseases.

HEALTH COMMITTEE TO MEET FRIDAY.

The regular meeting of the Public Health Nurse Committee of the Woman's Betterment Association will be held on Friday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. H. Separk at her home on West Second avenue.

HELP ALL-DAY MEETING WITH MRS. S. A. WILKINS.

At her home in Dallas Friday Mrs. S. A. Wilkins was hostess at a most enjoyable all-day joint meeting of the William Gaston Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the U. C. Club. The business sessions of the two clubs were held separately and the literary programs were then held jointly with Mrs. G. W. Ragan, regent of the D. A. R. presiding. Immediately after the conclusion of the program an invitation was extended from the Farm Life School to have the visitors go down and inspect their work. The old court house building, which has been given over to this work, has been wonderfully fitted up and equipped for school work, and here Mrs. Wilkins gave her guests the surprise of the day, Miss Thompson and her class of girls in domestic science having been secured to serve a luncheon to the visitors.

The room was charmingly decorated with evergreens and mementos of the Valentine season. The twenty guests were seated at lace covered tables and red carnations with heart-shaped boxes of mints were the favors. The luncheon of five courses was exquisitely prepared and perfectly served by the young ladies. The charming young waitresses wore white dresses and dainty lace caps decorated with red hearts, and large satin hearts formed their aprons. Miss Thompson is to be congratulated upon the skill of her pupils and Mrs. Wilkins, who is noted for her gracious hospitality, has the thanks of all her guests for introducing them to this splendid organization.

Those present as Mrs. Wilkins' guests for the day were Mrs. G. W. Ragan, Mrs. S. A. Robinson, Mrs. G. A. Sparrow, Mrs. S. M. McCoy, Mrs. F. P. Hall, Mrs. Linden Smith, Mrs. Andrew E. Moore, Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, Mrs. T. M. Campbell, Miss Marie Torrence, Mrs. J. H. Henderlite, Mrs. J. W. Timberlake, Mrs. B. F. Dixon, Mrs. Kenneth Babington, Mrs. A. E. Woltz, Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs. M. F. Kirby, Miss Lottie Blake and Miss Ida Pursley.

BIRMINGHAM-PRICE WEDDING.

A wedding of interest to many Gastonians was solemnized last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian church at Iva, S. C., when Miss Eva M. Price, for the past two years a resident of Gastonia, became the bride of Mr. G. V. Birmingham, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rhea, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church was used.

Palms, ivy and rock lilies were used in profusion in decorating the church for the occasion. At the approach to the aisles on each side of the church were arched latticed gates draped in white and green, these colors being used throughout for the wedding. A lattice work of green and white formed a background for the altar where the vows were taken.

Just prior to the taking of the vows Miss Eliza Elrod sang "Oh, Promise Me," with Miss Lula Price, a sister of the bride, at the organ. As the party entered Miss Elrod sang a solo from Lohengrin. During the ceremony Miss Price played a selection and the party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's march.

The attendants were as follows: Gate girls, Louise Hall and Annie Wilson; ushers, Marion Price, brother of the bride, and Clarence Sherard; bridesmaids, Eva Townsend and Carrie Potts; dame of honor, Mrs. L. H. Hall; ringbearer, Dorothy Wakefield; flower girls, Marjorie Leverett and Mildred Ligon. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Raymond Price, who gave her away. The bridegroom entered from the session room accompanied by his best man, Mr. Shock, joining the bride at the altar. The bride was most attractive in a blue coat suit with hat, gloves and boots to match and carrying a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids, gate girls and dame of honor all wore cream serge shepherdess dresses with black picture hats trimmed with pink roses and carried bouquets of pink carnations. The little flower girls wore white dresses with pink sashes and ribbons and carried baskets of pink carnations.

Immediately after the wedding the bride and groom left for Anderson, S. C., Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Miami, Fla. They returned to Gastonia this morning and are at present

The A-B-C of Borrowing Under the Federal Farm Loan Act.

Raleigh, Feb. 12.—All who would apply for money from the Federal Land Bank for the purpose of paying off debts, buying or improving farm lands should give their names to their County Agent or write to the Superintendent of Credit Unions. Some one should give notice to the newspapers of the information of a National Farm Loan Association in the community and state whom those interested may see.

The applicants of a locality should meet with their county agent and determine how large their district must be to form a National Farm Loan Association. The smaller the district covered, the less will be the expense for the loan committee, and the more will the spirit of community cooperation be developed according to the intent of the law.

If at the first meeting there are at least 10 applicants who, together, wish to borrow $20,000, and each of whom has security twice the value of the loan applied for, then the applicants may proceed to form a temporary organization. The members should elect five or more directors. Each member has one vote for each share, but cannot vote more than 20 shares.

The directors at this first meeting, or at a later one, should elect from their own number a president and a vice-president and select a loan committee and a secretary-treasurer. The loan committee may be taken in part or entirely from the board of directors or entirely from members outside of the board. The secretary-treasurer is the only officer who is not required to be a borrower or a member of the association.

After the election of the board of directors, officers and loan committee, the articles of association should be adopted by all the members signing the blank or paper attached thereto, in the presence of the secretary-treasurer, who has to certify to the members' signature and the amount of loans each applies for, either to a notary public or a justice of the peace. (Write for Circular No. 107.)

The articles of association may be mailed to the Superintendent of Credit Unions, who will forward them, along with the rest for this State, to the Land Bank, as soon as it is organized. Nothing more can be done until the Land Bank at Columbia sends out blanks for the appraisal committee and instructions as to abstracting.

The executive board of the city of Charlotte will within the next week purchase an aerial fire truck and several thousand feet of fire hose.
